Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

New Year Day Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cox had been married for 56 years. He said he told Mrs. Cox they'd try it for a hundred years and then if it was o. k. they'd go on for another hundred. We congratulate them and wish for them many more happy anniversaries and many more happy New Years.

We really got caught stealing groceries Monday at the A & P Tea Store. We couldn't carry all the odds and ends that the wife had sent us for so we put a big box of Ritz crackers under our arm. When we got to the checker and he had added the items he said: "Mr. Tucker, do you want to buy that box of crackers under your arm?" And there we were, caught flat footed as a monkey, trying to steal a box of crackers. Just one of life's little embarassing moments.

They keep asking have the Richard Lawrences a girl or a boy—well it's a boy.

A passerby stopped to watch an old man in his garden weeding "Which are the easiest weeds to kill?" he was asked. "The widow weeds," the old man answered. "All you have to do is say 'wilt thou,' and they wilt."

Very fortunate was Chilton County during the Christmas and the New Year holidays. The State Highway Patrol investigated only one wreck which was minor, and the local police investigated only one wreck. The wreck within the city caused damages estimated at about twenty-five dolalrs. No lives were lost. However, when statistics are released we are afraid that it will be shown that more lives were lost in 1956 in highway accidents than in any other year.

The man who planned to accomplish something worthwhile in 1956 but failed can now turn his thoughts to 1957. Only this year put your words into action and lets get things moving around Chilton County.

Well the kids started back to school yesterday and now the mothers get a vacation.

Daddy said he didn't see the stork that brought the baby but he sure did see his bill.

Dallas Little won the TV set given away by Ray and Nell Miller at their self-service grocery on Lay Dam Road on Christmas Eve. Ray and Nell have enjoyed a good business since opening their new store and invite more patronage from those who wish to shop wrere parking space is free and plenty. Their specials will be apreciated also.

Dr. Lawrence went fishing Tuesday afternoon. Now that as a rule wouldn't be news but that isn't the whole story. On his third cast he caught a three pound bass, and you just can't hardly get them no more. Must have been a beaut. After all that rich Christmas food a fish dinner sounds real good.

Now Ben Studdard will growl no more about the fellow who calls him early in the morning or late at night wanting kerosene. It must be an oil man's pet peeve. But Tuesday morning early it was cold and Ben Studdard jumped out of bed to find he was out of oil and had no heat. Now there is a warm spot in the heart of Mr. Studdard for the poor fellow who runs out of oil on a cold night—or morning.

MT. PISGAH NEWS

Our Sunday services were well attended and our pastor, Rev. Cletis Ingram, gave a wonderful message from the word of God.

MYF was also well attended. Next Sunday night, Marilyn Smith will lead the program entitled "Adoniram Judson in Burma."

Prayer meeting was led Thursday night by Jeanette Duren.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis in our midst again.

Mr. Stanley Davis, hospitalized recently, is doing better.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. DeVaughn were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. DeVaughn Friday.

Mr and Mrs Alton Harris visited Mr and Mrs. R. A. DeVaughn Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeBardelaben visited Mr. and Mrs. Leon DeBardelaben in Wetumpka Sunday.

Exams Open For Job As Verbena Postmaster

An examination for Postmaster at Verbena, Ala., $4190 a year, will be open for receipt of applications until Jan. 22, 1957, the Commission announced today.

The Commission is taking all possible steps through special publicity to civic and other community organizations to encourage well qualified persons to apply for the examination.

Competitors for the postmaster vacancy in this city must show that they can deal with the public agreeably and effectively and that they are reliable citizens who would command the respect and confidence of patrons of the post office. They must also show that their background will enable them to maintain simple records of accounts or that it has given them a knowledge of postal procedures.

Applicants must take a written test. Those who pass will be assigned final ratings on the basis of this test and on their experience, ability, and character. There is a 1-year residence requirement and applicants must have reached their 18th birthday on the closing date for receipt of applications. Persons over 70 years of age may not be appointed.

Complete information about the examination requirements and instructions for filing applications may be obtained at the post office for which this examination is being announced. Application forms must be filed with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., and must be received or postmarked not later than the closing date.

Pine Seedlings Added To Local Hospital Grounds

During the past week 2,000 seedlings were planted on the grounds of the Chilton County Hospital, according to a statement given this newspaper today by C. L. Walton, Chairman of the Chilton County Hospital Board. The addition of these seedlings brings the number of seedling pines to 10,000 trees, the first planting was made several months ago.

The planting of these seedlings is in line with the policy of further beautifying the grounds of the hospital and otherwise add to the overall value of the hospital properties. The second planting of last week was made possible through the cooperation and services of Mr. O. G. Fields of the Chilton County Agent's office, Mr. Knox Davis, County Project Forester, Mr. A. R. Taylor of the Chicago Sales Co. and Mr. James Dennis, local seed and feed merchant.

Sardis News

Happy New Year to everyone. May this year be a prosperous and happy year for each of us. We urge everyone in our community and especially each member of our church to attend every worship service.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family, friends and relatives of Mr. Tommie Deason. May the Lord bless each of you in this hour of bereavement.

We had a number of visitors for our Christmas program. We always welcome visitors and invite you back at any time. We were happy to have Bro. Batson's mother, brother and sister visiting with us. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson (Ruth Dean Bray) and son, Gary, who are out of the service now and will be making their home at Auburn where Mr. Thompson will attend school. They have been in Africa for over two years. We certainly welcome them home.

Several of our boys and girls from various schools and jobs were home for the Christmas holidays with their parents.

Sunday morning and night is our regular preaching day. We invite every one out for each and every service of our church. Come and hear the wonderful messages Bro. Batson has for us.

Many farm accidents are caused by careless handling of machinery and equipment, but even a careful operator can be injured using equipment with worn or broken parts.

March Of Dimes Drive Begins Here

March of Dimes Gives Hope To The Stricken

The Salk Vaccine can't undo what polio has done to our fellow humans who live in iron lungs. Have you ever wondered what those people think about now that a way to prevent polio paralysis has been found. Is it too late for them?

If you couldn't breath without an electric motor and air bellows; if you had to lie motionless for weeks, maybe months or years; if you knew you could never use your arms or legs again—how would you feel?

You would be glad, of course, to know that future generations are to be spared your own ordeal. But your hopes would go beyond that—as do the hopes of thousands of polio patients today.

Why are they hopeful? Because the March of Dimes is aiding them and will not let them down. Financing the care and rehabilitation of these people is part of the job of conquering polio and it intends to finish the job.

That's what polio patients are thinking today. When you give to the March of Dimes, that's the hope you are holding out to them.

The 1957 March of Dimes campaign for funds started in Chilton County this week. All community workers have been chosen and various activities will be sponsored throughout the county.

Please cooperate with your neighbor who has volunteered to help in this campaign. Our citizens have always done their part. Now let's help finish the job.

Miss Martha Tracy, president of Chilton County High School student body, will work with the high school students throughout the county in promoting group activities for this great cause.

Crusader Castles Are Great Sights Of Bible Lands

Among the Bible Lands most fascinating attractions are some thirty Crusader Castles which dot the countryside from the northern borders of Syria as far south as the Gulf of Aqaba in Jordan. Built by the Crusaders in two hundred years of tireless activity (1097-1291 A.D.), these castles sometimes stand on almost inaccessible mountain peaks 6,000 feet high, sometimes are lapped at their foundations by the waves of the Mediterranean.

Crusader Castles once guarded the pilgrimage route to the Holy Places of Jerusalem, defending mountain passes and the coastal plains from the Moslems, offering hospitality and succor to pilgrims and sheltering neighboring villages when wars threatened the countryside. The most famous castle-builders of the period were the Knights Templars and Knights Hospitalers, two powerful monastic orders of the 12th and 13th centuries. The base city for the northern castles is Latakia, Syria's seaport on the Mediterranean. From here Sahyoun Castle can be visited in a half-day trip. It is distinguished by its dramatic rock-needle which once supported a drawbridge across a rock-cut channel 90 feet deep and 60 feet wide. In a day both the Castle of Markab, on a basalt mountain ridge overlooking the Mediterranean, and the Templars Castle and Crusader Church of Tartus can be visited. The Crusader Church, which is Gothic and very beautiful, should not be missed.

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

We are a little confused by some of the explanations of US policy given to the press by Secretary of State Dulles on his return from the NATO Conference in Paris.

Asked whether the present Russian uncertainty over the loyalty of satellite troops suggests any revision in NATO forces, the Secretary appeared to be saying that Soviet forces are still far too large to consider NATO reductions.

If the satellites were to "become genuinely independent nations," he said, "that would justify a general review of the situation." But he went on to say that, as both he and the President had previously made clear, "the United States has no purpose at all to turn these satellite countries into our allies; in the sense that we have no desire to surround the Soviet Union with a band of hostile states . ."

This statement would seem to raise once more the question of just how did we expect the satellites to interpret the verbal pep-talks and encouragement that the Voice of America and Radio Free Europe have been lavishing upon them? And further, if—as Mr. Dulles says he hopes—satellite nations should achieve "genuine independence," is the free world to ignore them, or welcome them into the grand alliance against the Communist menace?

Mr. Dulles quoted "one of the leading figures of Europe" as saying: "It's very important that this satellite should develop in such a way that the Soviet Union is surrounded by friendly countries." We can not quite harmonize this theory with "genuine independence." Or would a satellite, after finally throwing off the Russian chains, lose such long-smoldering hostility as drove Hungarians to desperate rebellion — and proclaim its friendship for the late oppressor?

As India's Premier Nehru told newsmen at another press conference—in Washington's National Press Club "The policy of the United States is a flexible policy adapting itself to circumstances. How it will adapt itself, I can't say, but it is not as rigid as I thought."

But we are happy to report that the Secretary reiterated that: "The United States stands firmly opposed to the admission of Communist China to the United Nations." That, at least, we can get our teeth into.

"GRASS-ROOTS DIPLOMACY" WORKS

In France, Christmas of 1956 marked the fourth anniversary of one of the most remarkable and successful experiments in international understanding ever undertaken by anyone anywhere.

This is the "Friendship Chain," or Chaine D'Amitie, as the French call it. The Chain, which makes it possible for American GI's to discover the true nature of the French people by being invited into their homes, is the idea of a courageous American woman, Therese Bonney, a distinguished former war correspondent and for six months, an OSS agent behind the lines in Finland.

During the past four years, more than 3,500 young American draftees have been welcomed into French homes as a son of the family. Many have gone again and again to visit the same family. And those who have returned home brought a little of France with them in close personal ties that are nourished by correspondence and will remain for life. And in France they have left an understanding and regard for this country that we know by now can not be purchased. This interchange is what Miss Bonney calls "grass-roots diplomacy." And it is succeeding in establishing affectionate regard for each other among ever-increasing thousands of French families and young Americans—where bureaucratic efforts have been notably inept.

But the Chaine D'Amitie is still very much a one-woman operation. Since its inception Miss Bonney has given her full time to this crusade and paid her own expenses, year after year out of her own pocket. French businessmen and Frenchmen in many walks of life have rallied to her support with gifts in cash and cooperation that would be the equivalent of $170,000. Considering the billions America has lavished on foreign aid, it would appear that Uncle Sam might take an interest in this brilliantly successful work. Despite unanimous endorsement of American commanders and chaplains at the base level, the policy-bound Defense Department finds no formula for assistance for the Friendship Chain.

But Miss Bonney, who is carrying on a gallant fight to match the contributions of the French, is not downhearted. She has expanded the Chain into eight other European countries where already, American GI's have spent their Christmas leave and looks forward to the day when it will be extended to include students, professors (on sabbatical leaves and young business executives who travel abroad for the first time and who can pick up the good-will crusade where the GI's leave off. Washington, we think, should find the answer.

Letters to the Editor

IN APPRECIATION

We, the patrons of R. F. D. No. 5 of Clanton, living immediately below Lay Dam, appreciate very much the work done by our County Road Department, on the mile of road connecting Woody's Camp Road and the Mims Ferry Road.

This piece of road has been closed since 1950 when the bridge across a small creek was washed out. By getting this road rebuilt, we have been able to get an extension (to) our mail route, which benefits some fifteen families, putting their mail at the door of some that have had to go more than two miles to their mail boxes. We have been notified that the extension in our mail route will become effective January 12. We also wish to thank our Post Master, Mr. Bean for his cooperation.

New Law Makes FHA Re-financing Possible

A new law make it possible for the Farmers Home Administration to lend a farmer funds to refinance an existing debt. An applicant must have adequate real estate security and be otherwise in sound position. The new type of loan is designed for the farmer who owns a farm but whose present mortgage terms call for repayment within a shorter time than his farm income will allow. Farmers Home Administration loans to buy, enlarge, develop, or refinance are repayable over periods up to 40 years at 4½ percent interest.

PARENTS AND FOOD HABITS

"My child will just not eat the right food." This is a common complaint. But how do you as a parent measure as a pattern for your child's eating habits? When your youngster is very young, you supervise the daily menu; but while you are providing the basic needs, you are forgetting that Junior is watching your every move.

The young mother, careful and thorough in supervising the food supply of her baby as directed by her physician, will forget that the same principles apply to herself. For breakfast the baby has fruit, cereal, milk, egg, bacon and supplementary vitamins and minerals. But mother has toast and coffee. And dad oversleeps; so a cup of coffee, gulped hastily, must sustain him, at least until the ten o'clock "coffee break." And then he has another cup of coffee and possibly a sweet roll.

Meanwhile Junior is growing up, physically and psychologically. He is beginning to observe people and things about him, particularly his parents. And when he arrives at the age of reason—that wonderful age when curiosity is satisfied only by replies to the myriad questions—how can you answer his need by saying "you must eat this." He knows you don't and tells you so.

Your job as a parent holds many responsibilities, one of which is example. You must be a model of good conduct, and this includes good eating habits.

Plan your meals so they are adequate in balance and attractiveness. And plan, too, that your meals are enjoyed leisurely in family happiness.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Parent, check your eating habits. Remember that your child looks to you as a model. Be a good one. His early years are the habit-forming ones, and the good habits will carry him on to a productive and healthy life.

Enjoy your child. Plan your daily food intake wisely so that you get the essential body-building fuel. Your child can follow the same pattern. He will be healthier and certainly a greater joy to you.

Soil Tests Are Stressed For Better Cotton Yields

Annual soil tests on Alabama cotton lands will help growers maintain a high average yield year in and year out.

API Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery declared this week that cotton farmers have so much at stake that they should have soil tests made each year to discover just what needs to be added to make the best possible annual yields. Most cotton growers have tests made only once every three years, but soil needs can change in just a year's time.

Lowery pointed out that many Alabama cotton growers do not make the money they should simply because they are not using enough nitrogen and lime. And only a soil test can reveal just how much lime is needed for each crop.

He added that under normal growing conditions, the 1957 state-wide cotton yield average would easily go well over a bale per acre, if growers would add the right amount of nitrogen and lime.

These two are the big items needed in Alabama soil for good cotton yields. Many farmers over the state are not using enough nitrogen, and more than one-third of the state's cotton land needs liming. Lack of lime in the soil can lead to "crinkle leaf" in cotton plants. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture this condition is increasing in Alabama.

Soil tests will not only reveal the need for lime, but phosphorus and potash, as well.

Lowery recommended that every farmer, who has not yet had a soil test made for spring crops, contact his county agent immediately for information on nitrogen needed. Samples of the soil can be taken and sent to the soil testing laboratory in Auburn, and each farmer can condition his soil to produce the best possible crop.

Pertinent Information Given On Farm Housing Loan Program

1. What is the purpose of these loans?

To provide decent, safe, and sanitary farm dwellings and other essential farm buildings to farm owners who cannot obtain the credit they need from other sources.

2. How can a farm owner use his loan funds?

A farm housing loan may be used to construct, improve, alter, replace, or repair a house or other building essential to operating the farm. The loan may be used to provide water for farmstead and household use.

3. Who may borrow?

To be eligible, an applicant must: (1) Own a farm which (a) will produce a substantial part of the operator's annual cash income and (b) is large enough to be considered a farm.

(2) Have sufficient farm and other income to pay farm operating and family living epenses, and meet payments on existing debts including the proposed farm housing loan;

(3) Be without sufficient resources on his own acount and unable to obtain credit needed to finance the construction, repair, or improvement of homes and other farm buildings.

(4) Have the ability, and experience necessary to carry out planned farming operations and other housing loan requirements;

4. Who determines the eligibility of applicants?

The county committee of the Farmers Home Administration must certify in writing that an applicant is eligible for a loan. This committee also certifies the normal market value of the farm after the contemplated improvements are made.

5. What are the loan terms and interest rate?

The interest rate is 4 percent per year on the unpaid principal. Loans are scheduled for repayment within the shortest time consistent with the borrowers' ability to repay. In no case will the repayment period exceed 33 years.

6. What security is required?

Each loan will be adequately secured by a mortgage on the farm, subject to any existing prior liens, and by such additional real estate security as the Farmers Home Administration deems necessary to reasonably protect the Government's interest.

7. When can construction be started?

After the loan is closed. Construction work should not be started and debts for such work or materials should not be incurred before the loan is closed.

8. Does it cost anything to apply for a loan?

No. However, an applicant must pay for legal services necessary to make certain that he has a satisfactory title to the farm and for recording the mortgage.

9. Where does an applicant apply for a loan?

Application for a farm housing loan is made at the county Farmers Home Administration office serving the area in which the applicant owns and expects to improve, his farm.

The Chilton County FHA Office is located in the Higgins Building, Clanton, Ala.

Thomas W. Martin, Chairman of the Board of the Alabama Power Company was today named Chairman of Brotherhood Week for Alabama, the annual observance sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Thomas W. Martin

The announcement was made by Donald Comer, Chairman of the Executive Committee of Avondale Mills, and Regional Chairman of the NCCJ, who said: "Tom Martin, lawyer, industrialist and humanitarian, has all of the leadership qualifications needed to place strong emphasis on Brotherhood Week.

"A personal friend, a builder of the new industrial South, he is, in every aspect, an outstanding and capable chairman for this national observance in our state," he concluded.

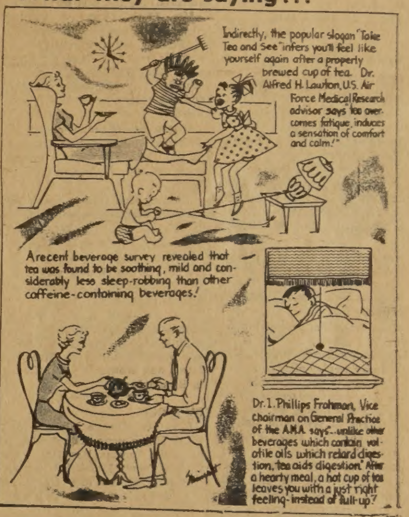
For many years one of the South's foremost business leaders, Mr. Martin has distinguished himself in the fields of industry, science, agriculture, history and education. His honors and awards in these fields of endeavor are too numerous to mention. His accomplishments have been recognized by honorary degrees from Cumberland University, the University of Alabama and Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Now Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Research Institute, Mr. Martin was largely responsible for the organization of this non-profit laboratory of technology which serves the South, and the nation, with much needed scientific research.

As Chairmon of Brotherhood Week, which this year is February 17-24, Mr. Martin will direct observances in Alabama communities large and small. On a national scale it is anticipated that observances will be held in more than 10,000 communities.

Materials for Brotherhood Week and other information, may be obtained from the Alabama Regional offices of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, 1109 First National Building, Birmingham. William A. Stewart is the Executive Director.

What they are saying . . .



Indirectly, the popular slogan "Take Tea and See" infers you'll feel like yourself again after a properly brewed cup of tea. Dr. Alfred H. Lawton, U.S. Air Force Medical Research advisor says "tea overcomes fatigue, induces a sensation of comfort and calm!"
A recent beverage survey revealed that tea was found to be soothing, mild and considerably less sleep-robbing than other caffeine-containing beverages!
Dr. I. Phillips Frohman, Vice Chairman on General Practice of the AMA says "...unlike other beverages which contain volatile oils which retard digestion, tea aids digestion." After a hearty meal, a hot cup of tea leaves you with a just right feeling - instead of full-up!

Mulberry Church—

Rev. Charlie Haggard of Maplesville preached a very inspiring sermon at Mulberry Sunday morning, to a good congregation.

Next Sunday, Jan. 6, Rev. W. W. Clifford of Autaugaville will bring the messages.

Following regular worship service Sunday morning the monthly business meeting will be held.

The deacons, including the three new deacons, will have their meeting at the church Thursday (tonite) at 6:30 p.m.

Now since the holidays are over it will be a good time to catch up on that reading you have been wanting to do. Check a book out of the Mulberry library, read it and enjoy it.

Make a special effort to attend both services at Mulberry Sunday. Start the New Year by attending Church services the first Sunday of the year.

Mrs. C. C. Gay

The Christmas holidays have been very quiet in this part of the county.

Truly the slogan, "Keep Chilton County Green" has come to our minds many times this season, for never have we seen the countryside greener than it is now for this time of the year.

Mr. C. C. Gay was injured last Thursday when he and several colored boys were cutting logs. A tree, falling out of line struck Mr. Gay on the shoulder. Witnesses say had the tree not struck another tree, breaking the fall, Mr. Gay would have been seriously injured.

Spending the Christmas holidays at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Harris, is Horace Lee Payton, who is attending school at Auburn. Horace will return to his studies on New Year's Day.

Spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gay Sunday were their sons, J. D. Gay, wife and daughters of Centreville, Ala., Miss Sylvia Johnson of Maplesville, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gay, Jr., wife and daughter, and Mrs. Rena Griffon, mother of Mrs. C. C. Gay, Jr., of Lawley, Ala.

Those calling in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fulford of Plantersville and Mrs. Fulford's sister, Mrs. Vera Green of Bessemer, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Harris and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robinson and Mrs. Marie Little of Plantersville.

During the evening, Mr. Frank Preston Batton and his father, W. M. Batton came by. Mr. W. M. Batton had spent the past week with his son in Fairfield, Ala.

Miss Esther Mae Harris and sister Paulette of Stanton, Miss Mary Ruth Smith and Mr. J. T. Crowe of Lawley were guest singers on Station WKLF in Clanton Saturday afternoon, on the Variety Time Program from 3 to 4 p.m. These girls are known as the Joy Trio and specialize in gospel singing.

Spending Sunday afternoon with the Jesse Harris family was a cousin, Franklin Moore, of Burnsville.

Mrs. Marie Little of Plantersville visited her brother and sister-in-law near Berlin, Ala., Monday.

Mr. Harvey Barnes of Joppa spent the week ebofer Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Ollie Gay.

Cox Chapel News

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Ratliff had as their dinner guests Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson and children attended a Christmas dinner and Tree with their mother and all the family Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson have moved into the John Wilson home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson had as their guests Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nichlos, formerly of this community, now residing in Selma.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cox visited the George Wilson Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cox spent Christmas with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watkins, in Birmingham.

Mr. Clifford Stough and grandmother, Mrs. Nora Lovelady, spent a few days in Birmingham last week.

Miss Sue Ann Wilson spent a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Houston, last week.

We are glad to report that Mrs. George Wilson is feeling better at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Moore spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson.

Western Style Burger

Plan a whole meal around hefty Western Style Burgers— eat them indoors or out during Sandwich Time this August.

Hearty Western Style Burgers are a dandy way to fill up the "wide-open spaces" of your family's appetite. Serve them during August, Sandwich Time.

Like all sandwiches celebrated this month, Western Style Burgers are quick, easy and economical. You'll want to serve them from your company buffet table as well the family dinner table. The aluminum foil wrapping in which these sandwiches are baked keeps them toasty hot while you serve the rest of the meal.

Inside that wrapping is a tangy ground beef mixture with onion, ripe olives and melty Swiss cheese. Spread this filling on enriched buns before baking.

Make all your sandwiches the year around with enriched or whole grain bread and rolls. Enrichment gives you three nutritionally important B vitamins and food iron at no added cost.

WESTERN STYLE BURGER

1 teaspoon salad oil
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
½ pound ground beef
½ cup chopped ripe olives
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
4 enriched hamburger buns
Butter or margarine

Heat oil in skillet. Add onion and cook gently about 5 minutes. Add meat and cook until all red color disappears. Blend in olives and mustard. Remove from heat. Stir in cheese quickly. Split buns. Spread with butter or margarine. Spoon meat mixture on bottom halves of buns. Cover with bun tops. Wrap in aluminum foil. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 20 minutes. Remove from oven and cool 5 minutes. Unwrap. Serve hot. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Good Workers Sunday School Class Met

The Goodworkers Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met on Thursday, Dec. 20, in the home of Nelda McKee for their regular meeting and Christmas party.

The McKee home was very lovely decorated with the Christmas theme.

The devotion was given by Charlotte Blackmon who read the Christmas story from Luke. The group prayed the Lord's Prayer.

They enjoyed singing Christmas songs and a Christmas pie contest which was very interesting.

Mrs. McKee and Mrs. T. R. Burdette served delicious refreshments to the following: Ann Thompson, Emily Stewart, Linda Burdette, Charlotte Blackmon, Linda Bulger, and their teacher, Mrs. Willie Bean.

Gifts were exchanged and it was announced that the January meeting will be with Emily Stewart.

Miss Gray Weds Lt. Theis By Candlelight

LT. AND MRS. JOSEPH THEIS

Miss Bobbie Bretta Gray and Lt. jg. Joseph V. Theis were united in marriage Thursday, Dec. 27, by Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson. The ceremony was performed at 8 p. m. in the First Baptist Church, Clanton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Zebbie Gray. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Theis of Pawhuska, Okla.

Mrs. John Patterson of Birmingham served as matron of honor. Other attendents included Miss Joan Dunn, Atlanta, Ga., Miss Jean Thompson and Miss Nanette Nivens, Clanton.

All wore identical dresses of Christmas red taffeta, styled elongated bodice pointed at the hipline with a ballerina length flared circular skirt. The neckline featured a velvet drape of matching red. They wore petal head bands of matching red velvet studed with pearls with nose length veils. They carried bouquets of white feathered carnations.

Bill Mattingly of Pawhuska, Okla. served as best man. Ushers were La Don Phillips, John Patterson, Birmingham, Ens. Wallace Neeley of Clanton and Lt. jg. Jim Collins of Pensacola, Fla.

Candlelighters were Ann Thompson and Becky Gray, sister of the bride. They wore identical dresses of emerald green velveteen featuring princess empire waist with full skirts.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of Chantilly lace over blush satin with scoop neckline and long sleeves forming points at the wrist. The fitted bodice was studded with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The full length bouffant skirt featured a lace overskirt with back fullness. The finger-tip veil of silk illusion was caught to a pearl and lace tiara. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centred with a white orchid.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace over taffeta dress trimmed with bands of beige satin. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of toupe satin with crepe. Their corsages were of pink rosebuds.

Music for the wedding was presented by Mrs. Erle Ellis, organist, and Mrs. La Don Phillips, vocalist, of Birmingham.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlor. Assisting were Mrs. W. W. Thomas Miss Juanita Thomas of Birmingham, Mrs. Beatrice Bryan, Miss Jeanette Crew, Mrs. Joseph Popwell, Miss Donna Klinner and Miss Elinor Warr, Miss Alice Deramus had charge of the bride's book.

After a wedding trip to Tennessee Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Orleans, the couple will reside in Pensacola, Fla.

Miss Bobbie Gray Complimented

Saturday, Dec. 23, Miss Gray and her bridal attendants were honored at Joy Youngs in Birmingham by Mrs. John Patterson, matron of honor and mother, Mrs. H. G. Crew.

The table was beautifully decorated with pink snapdragons and blue iris.

The bride was presented with a piece of silver in her pattern. Those attending were: Mrs. La Don Phillips, Birmingham, Miss Joan Dunn, Atlanta, Miss Nanette Nivens and Miss Jean Thompson. Invited guests were Mrs. Zebbie Gray, mother of the bride and Miss Myrna Crew.

Watch Party Enjoyed By Local Young Folk

One of the lovely holiday parties was given by Miss Carolyn Tucker on New Year's Eve.

A group of young people gathered at the City Hall for a round of games, singing and dancing, to watch the old year out and the new year in.

The hall was decorated to suit the occasion, with greenery, mistletoe and balloons.

The refreshment table was covered with a linen cut-work cloth centered with a crystal punch bowl and burning tapers. Delicious sandwiches, punch, cup cakes, nuts and candies were served.

At the stroke of twelve the hostess presented each guest with horns and confetti to help them usher in the new year.

Each guest was also presented a good luck wishbone tied with ribbon and other favors.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tucker were assisted in chaperoning the group by Mr. and Mrs. J P Lawrence, Jr.

Sodalitan Sunday School Class Met Recently

Members of the Sodalitan Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met for their regular December meeting and the annual Christmas party in the home of Mrs. J. M. Calloway.

As the guests arrived their gifts were placed under the Christmas tree which centered the dining table. Other lovely Christmas decorations made the house more beautiful.

The president, Miss Elizabeth Barton, called the meeting to order and the usual business was attended to. It was decided that the class would give Christmas gifts to two shut-in families.

Mrs. B. F. Williams gave the devotion taken from the 13th Chapter of I Corinthians and her subject being "Love." Prayer was led by Mrs. Reuben Wyatt.

After several contests with nice prizes were enjoyed, delicious refreshments were served and gifts exchanged.

We enjoyed the message brought by our pastor Sunday morning and the devotional he gave in Sunday School also. We are happy over the work Bro. Glidewell is doing, so we extend a special invitation to everyone to come and worship with us.

As the New Year comes in, let us resolve to work harder in this year than in the past. We need you in our Sunday School every Sunday morning.

We have some sickness in our community — Mrs. John Boswell is home from the hospital. Let us remember her in our prayers. Mrs. H. J. Taylor is slowly improving. We miss her in church and hope she can soon come back.

We have had quite a few visitors and relatives home for the holidays. We were happy to see them back in our community.

Visiting Rev. and Mrs. Glidewell from Howard College was their daughter, Martha Glidewell, and Mrs. Glidewell's sister and boys.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper were Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Jones and son, Glenn.

Home for Christmas Day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Driver and baby, Chris, of Smyrna, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCrory and baby, Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones and boys, Mark, Michael and Myron from Selma, Mr. and Mrs. Doster Gruber and Ronnie of Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. Sara A. Jones.

Miss Mildred Nelson was home for the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson.

Sgt. J. C. Latham of Tuscaloosa visited his sister, Mrs. J. C. Jones and family this past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cagle visited their parents this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Littleton and sons visited her father, Mr. Jim Arant. They are from Mobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Davis and son of Montgomery visited Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper this past week end.

Mr. Gilbert Jones of Chicago visited his parents during the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Fate Courtney spent Christmas with their two daughters in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Calloway visited his mother, Mrs. Essie Calloway. They are from Prattville.

Mr. John Cooper spent Christmas in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Courtney, Ralph and Ruth spent Christmas in Birmingham with his sister.

Mrs. Nettie Robinson has returned from Chicago where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Addis Duke.

Mr. Bobby Duke spent Christmas with friends in Cooper. He is from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cagles and two boys spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cagle.

Miss Evelyn Latham spent the week end with her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Jones and Jimmy.

Miss Mary Jo Morgan spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morgan.

Miss Inez Vance spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Vance.

Mrs. J. C. Jones and Jimmy spent the week end with her brother, Rev. and Mrs. Grady Latham at Gorgas, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Jones visited her mother in Corinth Community Sunday afternoon.

Don't forget to come to church Sunday.

Wishing for all a happy and prosperous New Year.

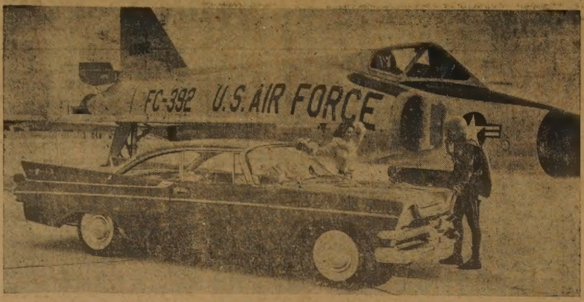
Lancer Meets Lancer at Air Force Base



AMERICA'S two famous "Lancers"—the Air Force's new F102A jet plane and Dodge's trim 1957 hardtop—stand poised for action at the Duluth Air Force Base, where the world's first supersonic all-weather interceptor plane guards the northern air frontier. Similarities in styling of the Convair F102A Lancer with the new Dodge Royal Lancer are pointed out by Capt. Earl Weaver, jet pilot, to Sue Wagoner, Hollywood starlet. The F102A Lancer's name was picked from 5,000 entries after a Duluth newspaperman suggested the "faster-than-sound" fighter plane should have an appropriate name.

Year-Round Good Judgement Is Required To Make Your Farming Profitable

As the New Year unfolds, every Alabama farmer holds in his hand the key to more profits. This key —greater efficiency—unlocks the secret door on how to make farming pay.

And API Extension Service Director P. O. Davis this week called on farmers throughout the state to use greater efficiency in every way during the year. Most farmers, according to estimates, could boost their 1957 net income 25 percent above that for 1956 by increasing operating efficiency.

"The welfare of everybody depends upon profitable farming," Davis declared. "Farming is our one basic and essential business; and good farming, for the good of our country, must produce satisfactory returns in money."

Each job needs labor efficiency—no wasted manpower. Each acre must produce a high yield; and each animal must produce either meat, milk, or eggs at a high rate, but low cost.

Productive efficiency must continue all year. And Davis pointed out that productive employment half of the year can't lead to a high annual income.

He stressed the need for enough of the right kind of fertilizer for each crop on each acre of land, describing fertilizer as a good buy for those who use it right.

Davis advocated planting only good seed of the best variety and cautioned against insects and diseases of both plants and animals. A good seedbed is a must. Poor ones have cost Alabama farmers untold millions each year in poor stands, late germination, slow growth and reduced yields.

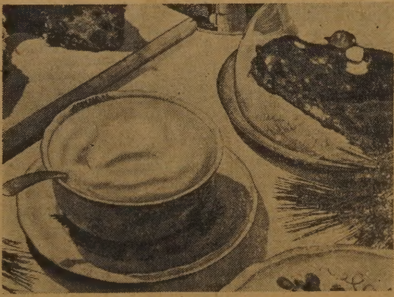
A Pudding Makes Holiday Sauce



IT IS A REAL PLEASURE TO ENTERTAIN these days because of the amazing "convenience" products now available. For instance, in the photograph Jell-O's Vanilla Instant Pudding is shown made into the most delicious eggnog sauce to spoon over fruit cake or plum pudding. Here's an ideal "quick and easy" dessert idea to treat the "unexpected" guest, or for anytime during the holiday season. This is only one of the many desserts and sauces that can be made from these basic instant pudding mixes which now come in strawberry, chocolate, butterscotch, coconut cream, lemon and banana flavors—in addition to the vanilla suggested here.

EGGNOG PUDDING SAUCE

1¾ cups cold milk
¼ cup rum
1 package vanilla instant pudding mix
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Pour milk and rum into mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and nutmeg. Beat slowly with egg beater just until well mixed, about 1 minute. Let stand until set—takes about 5 minutes. Serve over fruit cake or plum pudding. Makes 2 cups sauce, or enough for 6 to 8 servings. (ANS)

NEW SALEM BAPTIST

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord's," Psalms 122. "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." Psalms 133.

How sad it is that in many hearts today these great words of David have no meaning. How sad to see people who have frozen their hearts to God because of a sinful pride that has been hurt. God's house should be full on Sunday morning, evening and Wednesday night, but how vacant it really is.

Our attendance for both services was lower than usual Sunday due to illness, however we welcome the visitors that were with us and invite them back.

We are happy to report James Bean and Otto Burnette are home from the University Hospital in Birmingham.

We at New Salem, welcome you to attend all our services. We solicit your prayers for our church. We look to 1957 with great hopes for the richest of God's blessings.

Good Samaritan

REMNANTS OF ANCIENT SECT: About 200 of the last remaining members of a unique sect of Samaritan Jews still live peaceably in the town of Nablus, 40 miles north of Jerusalem, in Jordan, one of the Bible Lands. They are strict adherents to one God, believe only in the Pentateuch or first five books of the Old Testament and make three pilgrimages a year to Mt. Gerezim, their sacred mountain, for sacrificial rites. They pitch their tents and carry out ceremonies enjoined upon them since the time of Moses, including the sacrifice of a sheep for each person present. Their Patriarch, dressed in red turban and flowing white surplice, is shown here pointing to the words of the Torah of Law of Moses. The Good Samaritan who came to the rescue of the stranger on the road to Jericho, (Luke 10:33) was a member of this sect.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

For there stood beside me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and Whom I serve.—(The Acts 27, 23.)

The wonderful, all-enveloping presence of our Heavenly Father, His love and protection, His never-ending good, are ever with those who love and serve Him, whose surrender to His will and guidance are complete, without reservation.

A great many truck crop areas in Alabama are badly infested with nematodes which seriously limit production. Several farmers in the state have increased yields greatly through soil treatment.

Impossible to find a nourishing food that's good, but not fattening? Not at all—just take a look at poultry products.

Roast turkey tops all other cooked meats in proteins—that well-known body builder—with young roast chicken running a close second. Both, however, stand at the bottom of the list of meats in calories. And to round out their advantages, they are both good meat buys now.

API Extension Poultryman Hoyt M. Warren said this week that research proved that roasted turkey breast and leg meat is higher in protein content than any of the other cooked meats. Chicken falls into second place.

This research on meats was done at Cornell University and supported by the National Turkey Federation. Results have been published in part in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association.

Warren pointed out that if our meats are to fit in perfectly with today's trend in human diets, the number of calories are important, too. Of all the meats compared, young roast chicken was lowest in calories. Turkey had the same number of calories as veal and round steak, but was lower than all the other meats except roast chicken.

In terms of the number of calories per each one percent of protein supplied—called the calories-protein ratio—the young roast chicken and turkey showed lower ratios than any other meats, Warren termed this ratio more significant in choosing foods for healthful reducing diets than just the calorie count.

He said, "We can point with pride to our industry's products—economical sources of desirable nutrients for the human diet."

MT. CREEK NEWS

Due to the holiday activity, prayer meeting was called off last week. We hope and trust that everyone had a quiet, safe and happy holiday.

The Sunday School attendance is rising to its normal height. We're glad to have all our visitors and old friends and members. Everyone who has not enrolled, please do so.

Also, we are glad to have Mrs. Alston back in our services. Mrs. David Hudson, although a visitor, is like one of us.

The Training Union attendance is also increasing. We are so glad that more people are becoming interested in the church and its activities.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

ANOTHER WAY YOU CAN SAVE MONEY. Your paintbrushes will last longer if properly cared for. Before storing, experts advise, rinse brushes used for oil paint, or for varnish or enamel, in turpentine; those used for shellac, in denatured alcohol; those used for water-mixed paints, in soap and water – and don't use a brush for more than one type of paint.

DEAR DIARY: "Rained cats and dogs today. Cold, too. Since the only business that would take me out of doors was a trip to the bank, and since the postman was going there anyway, stayed snug and warm at home" . . . "Busy all day, 'til well after close of public banking hours; but deposited checks, as planned, none the less" . . . "Still out of town—and still in as close touch with the bank at home as though I were able to walk right up to a teller's window!" These items might be found in a diary kept by any of our depositors who make use of our helpful banking-by-mail service!

SEEN ON A SAMPLER, one of those old embroidered pieces bearing mottoes: "How [illegible] how swiftly he ascends . . . Who holdeth fast to proven friends." When this verse was repeated to us, we were struck by the timelessness of its common sense Today it's still true that a friend proven dependable in one situation is the sensible one to call upon when help is needed in another. If we are serving you well in connection with, say, a checking account, why not turn to us for help with all of your other money matters?

Former Pastor To Speak To PTA

The Chilton County Parent-Teachers Association will meet next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the High School for their regular monthly meeting. It will be the first meeting since November as the December meeting was postponed due to the many other obligations by the members and officers.

Rev. Don Esty, former pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, will be guest speaker. The membership and visitors are cordially invited to attend this meeting. A social hour will be enjoyed after the meeting.

Chilton County ARC Chapter Meets

A county-wide annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chilton County Chapter, American Red Cross, will be held on January 15, at 7:30 p.m., at which time a meal will also be served, in the Dixie Cafe private dining room.

All members of this chapter are invited and especially all board members are urged to be present. Board of Directors for another year as well as a new chapter chairman and fund campaign chairman for 1957, will be officially appointed. A guest speaker is expected for this occasion.

Farrell Gibbons Is Awarded Trip To New York

Farrell Gibbons, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gibbons of Thorsby, left Sunday from Columbus, Ga., on a trip to New York by train, accompanied by the senior class of the school of pharmacy at Auburn. The trip was awarded by Squibbs and Lederle Laboratories. A tour and study of the pharmical goods of these laboratories will be made.

This opportunity affords a better knowledge in the advancement of his profession in the study of medicines and their manufacture while in New York. Farrell is in the 1957 Fall graduating class of the school of pharmacy at API.

While in New York the seniors will visit Radio City Music Hall and a banquet will be given in their honor at the Abbey Hotel. While there they will dine at the Stockholm Rest. They will also be honored by Squibbs and Lederle Laboratories at a luncheon.

Courtesy Council Of HD Clubs Meet And Elect Officers

A luncheon was given the Chilton County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs recently at Bob's Drive-In in Clanton.

Guests included 48 members of the county clubs. Mr. M. R. Glasscock and Mr. Albert Pitts were honor guests.

The business meeting was opened by the outgoing president, Mrs. San[illegible]. Clubs of the year were [illegible] Springs, first place; Thomas Junior, second; and Cedar Grove, third. There were 23 members in the county with perfect attendance records.

The following officers were installed for the year: President, Mrs. R. R. Young; vice-president, Mrs. L. T. Grant; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. J. M. Boles; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. O. V. Cost; secretary, Mrs. Frank Mastin; treasurer, Mrs. S. A. Jones; reporter, Mrs. Harry Higginbotham

Included in plans for the current year is sponsorship of a project to secure a community recreation center for the county.

Valuables Taken--

Bridges Grocery Burglarized Friday

Last Friday night or early Saturday thieves entered the Bridges Grocery near the high school and took merchandise valued at more than one-hundred dollars.

They first tried a window in the rear of the building after cutting the screen but failed to gain entrance. Then they went to the front door and pried the hasp and lock off the front door.

Alvin Bridges stated that the biggest loss was an Elgin watch valued at $60.50, however other items taken were pocket knives, a ball-point pen, a hundred or so pennies and a cigarette lighter. Several desk and file drawers were ransacked. Local police are investigating.

Music Appreciation Club To Meet

The Music Appreciation Club of Clanton will meet January 15th at 3:30 p.m. at the Veterans Club.

The Club yearbook lists the City Hall as the meteing place and members are asked to note the above change for the January 15th meeting.

VFW Meets Tonight

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Clanton Post 3193, will hold its regular meting tonight at 7:00 at the Veterans Club.

Each member should make a special effort to be present at this meeting. There is much business that needs to be dsicussed and handled.

Come and bring someone with you.

GRUDGE MATCH TO BE FEATURED IN ARMORY BOUTS

Promoter Gus Gulas has really out done himself for this match at the Clanton Armory this Saturday night. As promised there will be a return grudge match between Prince Omar and Jack Dunnavant.

Those of you who saw the last match here know that these two went at each other with every thing but the ring and according to what can be learned, they plan to use that this time. In the last conversation this writer had with Dunnavant he said that Omar had talked too much and too long and he was out to shut him up for a while, and he added that it was a good thing the armory was located close to the hospital. The only thing left to be said is—this will be a whale of a fight.

The other match on the evening's card is another main event. It will be between the man with four feet, Farmer Jones and his pet pig, and Charlie Keene. Farmer Jones needs no introduction to anyone who has watched any wrestling at all. Keene is a judo expert. This should be an intersting match of scientific wrestling vs. "Texas" wrestling.

Now for an important correction—the posters that are out have several erors which were caused by changes that came about after their printing. First, there will be no time limit on the grudge match between Omar and Dunnavant; Second, the advance tickets are on sale at Morrison's Furniture Co., not at the Armory; Third, there will be no ringside admission for this match. The promoter and sponsor want as many of you to come as can so they have dropped the prices for this match to general admission tickets for 99c and children under 12, 50c, on a first come, first served, basis.

See you Saturday night, Jan. 12, at the Armory.

JayCees Install New Officers

Installation ceremonies for new officers of the Clanton Junior Chamber of Commerce were held last Thursday evening, Jan. 3. Attended by members and their wives the meeting took place in the Dixie Cafe dining room.

Houston Fulmer was installed as president of the JayCees for the first six-month term of 1957.

Other officers for this term are, Charles Wade III, who will serve as first vice-president, William Thomas as second vice-president, Charles Klinner as secretary, and O. F. Wood as treasurer.

This present term of the JayCees is expected to be a very busy one. The JayCees have pledged $1000.00 on the Comunity House project which Clanton expects to build in the near future. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has taken an active part in community activities in the past year and looks forward to taking an even greater part in the coming year with an acellerated program of community projects.

Mt. Nebo To Hear Lay Speaker

Lay speaker during the 11:00 o'clock services Sunday will be Mr. L. M. Yeargan.

This Sunday is also our Building Fund Day.

A cordial invitation is extended everyone to attend.

Funds Campaign For Baptist Health Center Underway

A meeting will be held at the Baptist Church at 7 30 p.m. on Thursday, January 17, for the purpose of organizing a campaign to raise funds for the construction of Baptist General Hospital and a Crippled Children's Center in Montgomery that will serve 17 counties surrounding Montgomery.

All people who are interested in seeing this much-needed hospital and rehabilitation center are urged to attend this meting for all information concerning the project.

Please try to attend.

Revival To Be At Northside Mission

The Northside Baptist Mission will have 5 days of revival services January 16-20. The services will begin in each night at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. Rev. Leonard Hand, former pastor of Northside and the present pastor of the Carrville Baptist Church will be the evangelist. Rev. Hand loves the Lord and is a wonderful man of God.

You will certainly receive a blessing by attending the January Revival.

Everyone is invited to attend all these services.

Rev. James Jones is pastor of the Northside Mission.

Chilton Sees 1956 Without Polio Case

Alabama reported 103 cases of polio during 1956, the State Health Department announced today. Sixty of the cases were paralytic.

The Department added that there were 185 cases in 1955 and 370 in 1954.

No new polio cases were reported by Chilton County during 1956.

Egypt Pioneers In Human Welfare

In olden days men dreamt of turning base metals into gold, but in present-day Egypt government planners are working to turn desert sand into fertile soil capable of supporting the nation's overcrowded peasantry.

Already the Nasser government has created a new province, aptly called the "Liberation Province," on an oblong tract of erstwhile desert land a few miles south and west of Alexandria. This land, 1,250,000 acres in area, is destined to be populated by one million peasants within the next 15 years. The new population, which will be siphoned off from the most crowded provinces of the Nile Valley, will enjoy a ratio of land per inhabitant four times greater than that of any other Egyptians.

The location of the new province was carefully chosen after a technical survey of all Egypt. Scientists discovered subterranean water which could be tapped by wells, and the parched land was adjacent to the fertile Nile Delta. Two years ago 100 engineers and 5,000 laborers descended on the area, boring wells, constructing buildings and digging a 50-mile canal to feed the Nile's waters into irrigation channels for the newly reclaimed land.

Already 5,000 acres of this desert area are under cultivation, producing strawberries, vegetables, fresh milk and eggs from imported stock. A total of 216 villages are planned to accommodate the new inhabitants who, for the first time in their lives, will possess their own plots of land

Since the Liberation Province is a pioneer land, the government has established high physical and mental qualifications for new residents: they must be military veterans between 24 and 30 years old; married, but with no more than two children; able to read and write and pass a stiff physical examination, and farmers with some previous knowledge of agricultural methods.

One of the first things they are promised—and this brings a laugh in Egypt as all over the world—is that they will have no "mother-in-law trouble," since older people are not eligible. These pioneers are to become a new race in the new land, bringing the vigor of youth face to face with their country's most challenging task. Several hundreds of the lucky young have been already settled in this model farm.

Accumulated at Jail--

Officers Destroy Confiscated Booze

Sheriff O'Dell Payton and his deputies destroyed several hundreds of dollars worth of whisky at the county jail Tuesday about noon.

In all 14 5-gallon demijohns of moonshine were destroyed; 7 1 gallon jars; 21 cases of beer; 3 gallons of homebrew and 65 pints and one-half pints of assorted gin, whisky, "corn", etc.

The destroyed spirits was an accumulation of confiscated liquor over the past several weeks, that had been taken by the Sheriff's forces.

Saturday, 12th, Is "Blue Crutch" Day

Saturday, January 12th, is "Blue Crutch" day and students from the various schools in the county will be selling blue crutches for the purpose of aiding in the March of Dimes drive in the county. County Chairman, Charles Patterson urges all to support the drive by buying a "Blue Crutch" next Saturday.

VPL Charged---

Law Officers Make Five Arrests, Illegal Liquors

Yesterday ABC and ATU men moved into Chilton County and made five more arrests for violating the prohibition law. Those arrested were Edgar Leach of Jemison, Rt. 1; Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Chapman of Clanton, Rt. 1; Urschel Mims of Clanton, Rt. 4; and Joe Austin, a negro. All arrested were released with the exception of Austin who was unable to make bond. They were bound over to the Federal Grand Jury by U. S. Commissioner Charles R. Hughes at Montgomery.

Howard Extension School To Complete First Semester

The Howard College Extension Division for Christian Training will close its first semester at the West End Baptist Church Frdiay night of this week. The school is usually held on Tuesday night, but because of other important services, classes will be taught this Friday night.

The second semester of the school will begin next Tuesday night, Jan. 15. You are invited to attend the classes this week and next and just simply sit in on the lesson if you have any thought of registering for the next semester.

The cost for the entire semester is only $11.00 plus books, even if both courses are taken. The registration is $2.00 and the courses are $4.50 each. Preview of the Sunday School Lessons and the New Testament are taught. Refreshments will be served on the opening night next week. You have a special invitation to attend and bring some one or more along. The classes begin at 7 o'clock and close about 8:45. It will be a little different schedule on opening night, however.

M. Lockhart is director.

Singing At Pleasant Hill

There will be a singing at Pleasant Hill Church next Saturday night beginning at 7 o'clock. Everybody is invited to come and help make it a great singing.

Earl Tucker Will Speak To Men's Club At Methodist

Mr. Gordon Robertson, president of the Men's Club of First Methodist Church, today announces that Mr. Earl Tucker will be the guest speaker for the regular monthly meeting on January 22. Mr. Tucker is a writer for South Magazine and for his own newspaper in Thomasville, Ala., and is gaining wide recognition for his wit and homespun philosophy in public speaking engagements.

The Men's Club is making this affair open to all that are interested and tickets for the evening meal and the program are being sold at the regular price of $1.00. Tickets can be purchased from the Club members and officers.

Youth Rally At Northside Saturday

The Northside Baptist Youth Rally will be held Saturday night, Jan 12, at 7:30. Bill Vessels, who is the minister of husic at the First Baptist Church, will bring the special music. The speaker for the service will be Billy Dobson, pastor of Center Hill and a Howard ministerial student

Chilton's Farmers Benefit Greatly From FHA Services

Farmers in Chilton County are utilizing Farmers Home Administration loan funds in various ways. A total of 120 are buying farms, improving their farm buildings, enlarging their farms to adequate acreage, or in other ways are developing their farms into more efficient units. In addition 100 farmers are going ahead with operating loans with practices set up that are recommended for better farming. These farmers are operating their farms with betetr equipment and livestock than they would otherwise have, and are able to make recommended adjustment in their farming operations.

FHA OPERATING LOANS—

Farmers Home Administration loans for farm operating purposes average about $3 500 each, the country over. This varies, of course, by areas because the average operating costs vary according to the prevailing types of farming. The limit for [illegible] operating loan indebtedness is $20,000. The interest rate is 5 percent. Operating loans are repayable from 1 to 7 years at 5 percent interest.

SMALL FARM LOANS—

The Farmers Home Administration now can make real estate loans to farm owners to enable them to develop their farms, even though the farm being developed is not large enough to require the full time of the owner and his family. To obtain a loan to develop a farm that is smaller than family-type farms, the owner must be an established farmer, carrying on substantial farming operation and spending the major portion of his time farming. He must have income to repay the loan and provide for regular farm and home expenses. Such loans are repayable over periods up to 40 years. The interest rate is 4½ percent.

Building To Begin

Board Appropriates Health Clinic Funds

It was voted by the Board of Revenue & Control at the Monday meeting to appropriate $17,500 for the purchase of property for the new Health Clinic to be constructed in the near future.

The property that the Board contemplates is the lot and a half directly across the street from the Lee Smith home on Second Avenue and 5th Street.

It was stated the reason for the purchase of this property for the Clinic site was that Federal stipulations were that the Clinic must be in walking distance of the courthouse.

VFW Auxiliary To Meet

The VFW Auxiliary will meet next Tuesday night, Jan. 15, at 7 p.m. at the Veterans Club.

Gas Corporation To Sponsor TV Show

Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation has joined with other companies in the gas industry to co-sponsor a television show from January 10 through September 26, 1957. "Playhouse 90" is one of the best and most entertaining shows on television today. In addition, Julia Meade, TV's most successful saleslady, has been selected as the one who will tell the American Public of the advantages of automatic gas appliances.

"Playhouse 90" is on the CBS network each Thursday at 8:30 p.m., Central Standard Time. The first program co-sponsored by the gas industry will be on the night of January 10. The play will be "Mr. and Mrs. McAdam," starring John Kerr, Piper Laurie, Sir Cedric Hardwick, Victor Jory, Mary Astor and Elizabeth Patterson.

"Playhouse 90" is viewed in Chilton County on Chanel 6 each Sunday night at 10:00 p.m.

As this program enjoys one of the highest audience ratings in the entire television industry, Transco is sure you and your family will enjoy it.

Singing At Chestnut Creek

Beginning at 1:15 p.m. Sunday evening, Jan. 13th, the evening singing will be held at Chestnut Creek Church near Coopers.

Visiting singers are expected in addition to our own home talent.

A cordial invitation is extended everyone to attend and enjoy the singing.

THE DRAG-TRACK BLUES—

For several weeks the grape-vine, the street corners and the bull sessions have had one common topic of conversation; that being the possibilities and probabilities of a drag strip in the vicinity of Clanton.

Now, there are those of us who, at the first mention of, for insance a drag strip, immediately think of the irresponsibilities of youth and the recklessness of our modern young people. There are those who think thus, who do not, will not, give the youngsters a chance to prove their point.

Of late, certain adults have shown enough interest in the young peoples' problems in this particular line of thought to cause public attention.

They are being organized . . . properly and under adult supervision, with participation being offered to anyone interested. We have talked with a few of them. All adults interested, seem to be pre-occupied with only one thought . . . that being to keep the 'kids' off the highways; to give them a place to show off, to blow off extra steam and above all, the idea behind the program is to save lives and bring from us to our youth, something besides a bad time.

STILL TRUE

"The Russian political regime would not last twenty years if there were free communication between Russia and the West . . . In Russia, the masses are led only by fear and by force . . . This nation dreams of dominating the world . . . . Russia sees Europe as prey which sooner or later will, by its own dissentions, betray itself to her . . . she foments anarchy among us in the hope of profiting from our decay."

It is doubtful if any reader of the above paragraph knows the author of these statements. However, they were quoted not so long ago by a speaker, who revealed that the statements were written by the noted French traveler, Marquis de Cusine, who journeyed in Russia over a hundred years ago and wrote the above paragraph.

Apparently, the gap between the Russians and the rest of the world has been in existence for many, many decades. Moreover, the basic objectives of Russian foreign policy have not changed, despite the overthrow of the Czar and the institution of a Communistic government.

FRIGHTENED NEHRU

Prime Minister Nehru, of India, recently announced that he hesitated to believe the Russians were deporting Hungarians. On the same day, a Government spokesman in Budapest, Hungary, admitted for the first time that Hungarians had been deported to Russia by Soviet police.

The Hungarian spokesman tried to sugar-coat the admission by saying that Russian police were deporting Hungarian citizens to Russia only in "isolated cases," but he could not deny the deportations since the story has leaked out of Budapest and is front-page news all over the world.

Prime Minister Nehru, speaking in a Foreign Affairs debate in Parliament, made his frightened remarks about the situation. It seems obvious that Prime Minister Nehru is deathly afraid of the Communists.

At the same time Nehru made his "innocent lamb" remarks about the deportations from Hungary, he also declared that a recent resolution passed by the U. N. General Assembly—calling for Hungary's admission of U. N. observers—was worded so that it seemed to "humiliate the Hungarian Government."

If we have ever seen a more weaselly example of weak pacificism, we cannot remember it. Nehru is obviously incompetent to lead India in the field of foreign affairs, and with such a dupe in this position, we fear that someday India will wind up on the wrong side of the world line-up.

Crawford Williams tells us that Nedford (Buddy) will be coming home within a very few weeks and he says it certainly won't be too soon for them. Buddy has been serving with the U. S. Army in Korea for the past year or so and from what we gather, he's as ready to come home as those at home are ready for him. The old peach orchard just ain't the same

Don't know when we've enjoyed anyone opening Christmas packages like we did Christmas Day. Grandpa Yeargan opened each gift with such meticulous care and attention to each one individually, we couldn't help but take notice. Most folks are interested only in what's inside the wrapping, but not Grandpa; nope, he took his own good time to see just who each gift was from and he opened each one as ceremoniously as you would a choir book. It was fun to watch. Wifey says that he'll remember just who gave what to him too, when the necessity arises. You know, we don't doubt that for an instant. One thing about that anyway; it's a whole lots more fun to give and watch something like that than it is to get a gift yourself.

By George, that fruit cake that we had for Christmas has durn nigh worn out its welcome. Man, at the fruit cake. Every time we ask for dessert the "maid" plops the fruit cake onto the table. One thing's certain, one of us is gonna have to go, and the fruit cake sure ain't makin' much progress.

New Year's Eve night when everyone was making merry 55 representatives of the C.C.H.S. Class of '52 gathered at Bob's Drive-In in the dining room and had a jolly time of it. This was the Class' five-year reunion. They plan another get-together during the Holiday Season of 1960. We didn't make the one this year, but we're sure going to try for the next one. Reports we received were to the effect that everyone had a bang-up time of it. It apparently had been a prosperous five years for the members of the Class who were present. Among them there were 21 children. We don't know whether this is indicative of prosperity or not, as a matter of fact, but it indicates that there had better be some prosperity somewhere . . . that's for sure. Find a complete write-up on the New Year's Class Reunion on the Society Page of this issue. Thankee kindly.

Wonder what Mr. Robert M. Tucker of 131 Parkway Drive, Trussville, Alabama does with his spare time. Yep, we found out, purely by coincidence, that there is another one of us. Welcome to the fold, feller, but you'd better straighten out Sears, Roebuck etc. 'cause we'll bet Robert to M. that your status with them is considerable better than our'n. You've heard of 'I led three lives' . . . well.

The word CAN has many possibilities. For instance it can be the key to a person's success. CAN used ahead of the word DO could mean that a person has abilities above and beyond the average. But, the average fellow, yes and even the below-average, can come along and make the above average fellow look like a nincompoop merely by taking away the CAN. CAN DO can't hold a candle to just plain, everyday, run-of-the-mill DO.

Chilton County's "Good Citizenship" Girls

Miss Moates of Verbena was drawn as Good Citizenship Girl of Chilton County.

COX CHAPEL

Services at our church were well attended this past week.

Also, on the third Sunday, we will have worship services and wish to extend an invitation to everyone to attend.

Mrs. Morgan Ratliff entertained several members of her Sunday School Class last week. Those enjoying the occasion were Sue Ann Wilson, Mr. Larry, Roger and Billy Ray Lovelady.

Mrs. George Wilson has been real sick but is improving at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Mayfield were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. —(St. John 14, 18.)

Christ Jesus, Son of God, gave up His life to redeem us, to save us. Still, as He promised, He is with us today, close beside each one of us every moment; for He is immortal, He is Spirit; He is ever forgiving us of our sins and weakness, ever ready with His love and compassion to help and comfort us.

Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Worship services 7:30 p. m., 11 a. m.
Training Union 6:30 p. m.
Prayer services 7 p. m. Wednesdays

Our quarterly business meeting scheduled for last week was postponed because of illness of some of the deacons. This meeting will be held at the next prayer meeting.

We're glad to have our usual number attending church again. Due to the inclement weather and illness our attendance has been off some.

Our pastor preached a wonderful sermon last Sunday, based on the theme, "Living for Jesus."

We are glad to have visitors and friends visit our church. We extend a cordial invitation to the people in our community who do not attend church somewhere to come and join in all our services.

The Training Union attendance was off last Sunday. Those who came, however, enjoyed a wonderful devotional on the theme, "Consecration." The pastor presented a sermon on the theme, "Behold the Lamb of God."

Our prayers and sympathy are extended to the family and friends of the late George W. Heath. May God comfort their hearts and bless them.

We are glad to report that Mr. C. T. Stephens is home from the hospital. We hope he will continue to improve.

Rev. Billy Batson, pastor

Read your Bible daily and pray that God will give us a glorious year in his name.

Our attendance was good over the week end. Our pastor, Rev. Batson, delivered two very inspiring sermons. Let's all pray and strive to live by these good New Year mesages during the entire year of 1957. If we, the members of our church will do this we will make our church one that our Community will be proud of.

Bro. Batson is starting a Youth Choir in our church. We invite all the young people to meet at the church each first and third Sunday evenings to practice.

Come to Sunday School every Sunday and attend BTU on Sunday nights.

Cereal Apples-on-a-Stick

Big, ripe apples dipped in syrup and covered generously with honey-flavored wheat cereal make intriguing, tasty place-cards for a children's party. Place a wooden skewer in each apple. Then stand the stick in a small flower frog holder. Tie a ribbon bow on the stick and place a name card in the frog holder for a gala double-duty party favor.

CEREAL APPLES

6 medium sized apples	1 cup maple-blended syrup
6 wooden skewers	1 cup sugar
4 cups honey flavored wheat sereal

Wash and dry apples. Insert wooden skewer in each apple. Put cereal in large bowl. Mix syrup and sugar in small deep saucepan. Stir over heat until sugar is dissolved. Cook, without stirring, until candy thermometer registers 270° F. or small amount of mixture dropped in cold water forms a hard ball. Meanwhile, put cereal in large bowl. Dip apples quickly in hot syrup, twirling to coat apples completely. Roll at once in cereal. Cool. Makes 6 cereal candy apples.

Sanitation Officer Shows Needs And Uses Of Proper Sanitation

New Ideas Being Tested For Future

by C. C. Gay, Jr.

Sanitation is a way of life. It is the quality of living that is expressed in the clean home, the clean farm, the clean business, the clean neighborhood, the clean community. Being a way of life it must come from within the people; it is nourished by knowledge and grows as an obligation and ideal in human relations.

Sanitation in its breodast meaning harkens back to that time which "The memory o. man runneth not to the contrary." In the history of early peoples, the health of the population was of serious concern. The Egyptians filtered the muddy water of the Nile. An object lesson in obtaining pure water was Jacobs Well which was dug to a depth of about 100 feet in an attempt to secure a safe water supply. The Mosaic Laws incorporated specifications for maintaining sanitary conditions within and without dwellings and camps. In the 23rd chapter of the book of Deuteronomy are found the first known contributions to military sanitation. A consideration of the physical environment is noted among the early Romans and Greeks. The value of ventilation and fresh air did not escape their notice. They brought fresh water down from the mountains, and built underground drains for the disposal of sewage. All this occurred several hundred years ago. A natural question is, "What caused the collapse of these early efforts at sanitary improvements?" Many factors enter into the answer, but centuries of war and aggression constitutes one o. the most fundamental reasons why the then civilized world forgot cleanliness and sanitation. The lust of conquest is inconsistent with a high regard for human life and welfare. A callous hardening of the fine sensibilities of human nature can lead but to depravity and degradation. Debased public life contributed to depraved private life, and the decline of earlier civilizations began. Another cause of the lapse in sanitary improvements was that true medical science was not born until germ borne diseases were discovered by Kock and Pasteur in the 1880's.

The history of mankind is largely an account of a struggle for existence. It seems that mother nature demands that all living things must be constantly striving for protection and improvement. The world in which we live surrounds us with many influences, forces, and conditions, some of which are favorable, many of which are unfavorable. We build houses to protect us from cold and storms; we provide lamps to overcome darkness; we develop a police force to protect us against our human enemies. Constant effort and all mans ingenuity and knowledge must be applied to overcome the forces and things which tend to destroy the conditions which are favorable and helpful. Among all the natural enemies of mankind, disease and ill health can be the most destructive. With good health men are able to work out the other difficulties they may encounter. But the various human diseases are always lurking in the background, awaiting an opportunity to destroy health and happiness and life itself.

The objective of public health work is to provide the necessary protection against disease, and to provide any improvement in the conditions which promote good health. A health department whether federal, state, or local directs its activities to the prevention and control of disease and to the promotion of higher standards o health, rather than to the treatment of disease. To accomplish this a health department must make use of many avenues of approach. The individual must be informed and encouraged to do the things which will protect and promote his own health; outbreaks of disease must be anticipated, studied, and controlled; records of disease and death must be collected, analyzed, and preserved; special attention must be given to the health of mothers and young children; and certain diseases must be considered as special problems. Constant study and accurate knowledge of local conditions as well as of all available methods of procedure are essential.

The term sanitation in its broadest sense may be considered to include all phases of public health work. However as generally used it refers to the control or adjustment of mans environment for the protection or promotion of public health. Sanitation is concerned with the community or group rather than with the individual himself. It includes all the factors of the environment which have a relation to human health. This is one of the largest and most fundamentally important phases of public health work. To illustrate the role of sanitation, the control of typhoid fever or malaria serve as good examples. Typhoid fever is caused by a particular germ which is discharged from a person with the disease. To cause disease in another person the typhoid organism must be carried alive in some manner to another person and be swallowed, usually in water or food. It is possible for every individual in a community to protect himself against typhoid by boiling all his drinking water, by being careful that all food is well-cooked and protected from flies and insects and by doing everything necessary to be sure that no typhoid germ is in the food or water. A person may also be vacinated against the disease. But these are only temporary measures, and besides it is practically impossible to induce all people in a community to do these things regularly. A more practical method is by sanitation which would control the environment so that these individuals will not be exposed to the danger of swallowing typhoid germs. This is done by providing a safe water supply, supervising the milk supply, requiring safe methods for the disposal of sewage, inspection and control of food supplies, prevention of flies, and so forth. In this way the environment in the entire community can be changed so that all persons have been protected against typhoid forever and at the same time many other diseases which are spread in the same manner. Malaria [illegible] by an entirely different organism which finds its way into the human body in an entirely different manner. Since a particular type mosquito is the agent for the transmission of malaria, a health department must direct its attention to the elimination of this [illegible]. To apply sanitation m[illegible] effectively requires knowledge o[illegible] the cause of the effect of various conditions upon health. [illegible] environment [illegible] practical methods [illegible] these changes, selection [illegible] cheapest and most eff[illegible]od, and painstaking ap[illegible] the methods selected.

The outstanding re[illegible] tation up to the p[illegible] in the control of certain communicable diseases. Largely due to sanitation, malaria and yellow fever have been practically wiped out, and typhoid fever is approaching the vanishing point, and a spectacular decrease in the deaths of infants from filth borne disea[illegible] has been obtained. Many of the [illegible]eases transmitted through the medium of food and milk have been completely controlled, or have been greatly reduced.

Only a beginning has been made, however, toward changes which are directed toward the promotion of health as distinguished from the prevention of disease. Some examples are: smoke abatement, control [illegible] ventilation, lighting, and industrial sanitation. In connection with industrial sanitation it might be added that at present there are under consideration by the Alabama State Legislature additional bills prohibiting the pollution of our streams. These are ad[illegible] toward the promotion of better health.

We are more fortunate than any preceding generation, for [illegible] environment that [illegible] that [illegible] mental [illegible] ard at th[illegible] it by a vast group of doctors, [illegible] scientists, bacteriolotists, [illegible] statisticians, etc., to [illegible] case.

"... and the reason I'm mad is that we're paying more for taxes than we are for food!"

Income that is--

Mr. Farmer: Here Are The Facts On Tax

Farmers should keep adequate records of all income and expense from farming operations in order to file complete tax returns, George D Patterson, District Director of Internal Revenue, advised today.

Records should be kept up-to-date by recording all sales and expenses. Personal living expenses such as food, clothing, and the like, are not considered farm expenses.

Tax returns for farm income in 1956 should be completed and mailed to the District Director of Internal Revenue at Birmingham as soon as possible after the close o the year. Early filing will be a big help to Uncle Sam and will put behind a detail that becomes a bigger headache the longer it is put off.

An income ax return with accompanying Schedule is required o every farmer who nets as [illegible] $400 from [illegible] farming [illegible] even if no income tax [illegible] payable. Tax return forms for farmers [illegible] be secured by writing to the Distri[illegible] Director of Internal Reve[illegible] Birmingham.

The 9-passenger Country Squire

The 6-passenger Country Sedan

The 9-passenger Country Sedan

The Del Rio Ranch Wagon

The Ranch Wagon

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

If your choice is the Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. It has almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, about Ford's popular Ranch Wagon. This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, and smart interiors which defy muddy little shoes and drippy chocolate cones.

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim.

Better take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweetheart . . . for work and power, it's an obedient slave!

New '57 Fords have toughest shakedown cruise in history!
The '57 Ford broke 458 national and international records from 1 kilometer to 50,000 miles at Bonneville, Utah. For 50,000 miles, two '57 Fords averaged over 107 and 108 mph respectively. This time included all pit stops . . . the greatest endurance feat of all time!

Humble Things—

The things I think of greatest worth
Are just the humble things of earth
The trees, the shrubs, the flowers, the grass
These humble things will always last.

Clouds to sail and sun to shine
On prairies, deserts—these are mine
The song of birds and the hum of bees
Are riches none can take from me.

My God is here on every hand
Upon the seas and on the land
And hour and hour, my thanks I give
That, with these humble things I live.

Sudden death will strike over 40,000 men, women and children in traffic accidents in 1956, unless all of us do something about it!

Here's How You Can Help Stop Traffic Tragedies

1. Drive safely and courteously yourself. Watch traffic and pedestrians carefully. Observe speed limits and warning-signs. Where drivers stay alert and obey the law, deaths go DOWN!
2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws in your community. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you. Wherever traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

"Main Dish With a Difference": Crispy American Chop Suey

Looking for something different—and delicious—to tempt the family's mid-winter appetite? Here's a hearty new meal-in-itself dish with an Oriental accent that's sure to be welcomed on luncheon and dinner menus this season. "Crispy American Chop Suey", a blend of ground beef and a variety of other tasty ingredients, gets its good crunchy texture and extra flavor appeal from the crispy saltine cracker crumbs used in making it. Special "plus" for busy homemakers: you can bake this new family treat ahead of time, whenever most convenient, and simply set it aside—even freeze it, if you like—to pop in the oven for re-heating just before it's served. Easy does it! Try it this way and see:

Crispy American Chop Suey

½ lb. ground lean beef
2 tablespoons shortening
⅓ cup diced onion
½ cup diced celery
1 10½-oz. can tomato puree
1 8-oz. can spaghetti sauce
2½ cups coarsely crushed Krispy Saltine Crackers
1 egg, beaten
1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt

Heat oven to 325° F. (moderate). Brown beef in shortening breaking it with a spoon into small bits. Add onion, celery, tomato puree and spaghetti sauce. Cook, uncovered, over low heat for 20 minutes. Combine crushed cracker crumbs, beaten egg, grated cheese, milk, parsley and salt. Stir cracker crumb mixture into tomato mixture. Pour into a greased 1½-quart baking dish. Bake, uncovered, at 325° F. for 40 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 generous servings.

Celebrate "50" During Christmas Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Martin of Union Grove Community celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on December 23rd, with an all-day affair, when members of the immediate family gathered at the home for dinner. Other relatives and friends called in the afternoon.

Enjoying the food and fellowship at the noon hour were the daughters, Mrs. Dalton Champion, her husband and children of Jemison; Mrs. Carl Bean and Mr. Bean of Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin and children of Jemison; Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Martin and children of Birmingham; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mims of Bessemer; Mr. and Mrs. Bart Williams of Birmingham; and Rev. and Mrs. Mitchell and children.

Each year the children meet at the home for the annual family Christmas dinner.

The Martin home was decorated in Christmas greenery and the Yule motifs. A lovely arrangement of snapdragons was on a living room table.

Open house was held in the afternoon, when approximately 75 relatives and friends called during the hours of 2 to 4 p.m.

Guests were welcomed at the door and presented to the honored couple.

Mrs. Glenda Martin registered the guests.

In the dining room the bridal table was marked with the tiered white wedding cake, hand embossed in gold roses and topped with a golden bell and the figures "50" in gold.

The cake was mounted on a mirrored plaque and encircled with a ruffle of gold maline. White lighted candles in crystal candelabra and the crystal punch bowl completed the table appointments.

Misses Patricia Champion and Shirley Martin served punch and cake.

The couple received many nice gifts, among them were gold wedding bands from the children.

A fitting climax to the gala affair came in a gift of $50.00 to each of the children from the parents.

Report From Washington

By ARMISTEAD SELDEN

The first session of the 85th Congress began last week with a burst of activity. On Thursday the members were sworn in and the officers of the new Congress were elected. Already having served longer as Speaker of the House of Representatives than any man in our country's history, Rep. Sam Rayburn was elected Speaker for the eighth time. Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts was chosen as majority leader.

Lyndon Johnson of Texas will again serve as Senate majority leader, and Sen. Carl Hayden of New Mexico will take over as President Pro-Tem.

Democratic Margin—

In the House, there are now 233 Democrats and 200 Republicans. Two vacancies exist, one Republican and the other Democratic. These vacancies were caused by the deaths since the November election of two members-elect. Forty-nine Democrats in the Senate hold only a two seat margin over their Republican colleagues.

Assignment of members to the various committees will not be completed for [illegible] week or ten days. However I will continue as a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. [illegible] Congress [illegible] last week, my committee [illegible] with Secretary of State Dulles [illegible] summarize [illegible] the members [illegible] the President's proposed Middle Eastern [illegible]

Unlimited Senate Debate—

The [illegible] of a group of bipartisan liberals to change the rules o the Senate in order to limit Senate debate were defeated last Friday by a vote of 55 to 38. Had the Senate voted at the start of the session to wipe out existing rules and write new ones, it would have struck down 169 years of precedent. It is generally recognized, however, that the effort that was made last week to limit Senate debate is only the first round in a drive to pass so-called civil rights legislation during the 85th Congress.

President's Request—

President Eisenhower spoke to a joint session of the House and Senate on Saturday afternoon. In his message he asked for advance authority to use American troops in the Middle East when requested by nations of that area that are threatened by communist aggression. He expressed the belief that, if Congress would join with him in laying down this new policy, it would "serve to halt any contemplated aggression."

The President's request, submitted to both the House and Senate in the form of a resolution shortly [illegible], has been referred [illegible] Committee on Foreign Affairs [illegible] Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. Hearings be[illegible] resolution and [illegible] reports are anticipated. [illegible] reports are favorable [illegible] reason to believe that [illegible] immediate consideration by [illegible] the House and Senate will undoubtedly follow.

Another Tax Booklet Has Been Issued To Aid On Returns

It's Federal income tax-paying time again, and to help Chiltonians to execute their returns properly, the United States Government has re-issued its booklet "Your Federal Income Tax" in biger and better form.

The booklet, published for the last decade, is one of the government's best sellers. Each year, thousands of taxpayers over the Southeast have looked to it for information in making out their return so that they would give Uncle Sam what was due him, yet not overpay, according to word received here from Merrill C. Lofton, manager of the Atlanta field office of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Distribution of the booklet, entitled "Your Federal Income Tax, 1956," as usual, is under the supervision of the Commerce Department in Atlanta. According to Mr. Lofton, those wishing it should send 30 cents to the United States Department of Commerce, Atlanta Field Office, 604 Volunteer Building, Atlata.

Poplar Springs

We are still working on our goal of sixty present in Sunday School and training union.

Rev. Roy Hornsby brought two wonderful mesages again Sunday. We hope that all of those who heard them will take heed to them and try to do God's will more fully in this new year ahead of us.

We are happy to report that several of our members went to the Youth Rally at Bethsalem last Saturday night and brought the banner back to us. We hope to be able to keep going to the rallies and bringing the banner back with us. We were also glad that our pastor, Rev Hornsby, was the speaker. We appreciate his interest in our church and associational work.

Next Wednesday night will be Family Night. This will follow prayer service. We hope more of our people will start coming to the prayer services on Wednesday night. We welcome visitors in all our services.

Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby and Bob spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore and Gladys. They had dinner with the J. P. Traywicks. Rev. Ralph Hornsby and Mr Kelly of Wadsworth Church also visited the Traywicks Sunday afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Muller visited Mrs. J. M. Cox and Lee during the week end.

Let's remember to pray for the sick of our community and others. Also remember to say a prayer for those in service.

Johnson Family Holds Reunion In New Cedron

A reunion of the family of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Johnson was held at their home in New Cedron Community December 30th.

"Doing nothing is the most tiresome job in the world, because you can't quit and rest!"

Barnyard "WHOOdonit"

The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens . . . and should be shot.

Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.

The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!

From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject — just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say . . . and be thankful we live where that's possible.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

HOW TO AVOID OVERDRAFTS. An overdraft means that you have asked us to pay out more money than you have in your checking account. You can best avoid this situation by keeping careful records of deposits and withdrawals; but we recently heard of an ingenious extra precaution used by one depositor. This man made out a check for $25 to himself and tore it up — but entered the amount on the stub as a withdrawal. Thus, the balance shown on his records is less than his actual balance; so the likelihood of his making an actual overdraft is small.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF It was in the 1800's that the manuscript of a great work of history, representing years of work by Thomas Carlyle, was accidentally thrown into a fireplace and burned to ashes. It was just a few weeks ago that a bundle of important personal papers, representing years of work by an American householder, was thrown out with the trash. . . Carlyle simply set to work and rewrote his book; but how readily can the householder — how readily could you — replace the deed to a home, securities, a Will? Don't let history repeat itself in your case. Safeguard your treasured possessions against loss in a low-rental Safe Deposit Box in our vault.

The Performance of the Past
[illegible]d
The Promise of the Future

Alabama Power Company is in its fifty-first year. The viewpoints which have characterized its objectives are stated in this policy:

"Our progress is inseparably bound up in the progress of Alabama. Realizing the need for balancing agriculture with industry, we will always work wholeheartedly for the development of Alabama, supporting every movement to build and expand industry in the State . . .

"We recognize that it is a duty and a privilege to participate as a good citizen in the development of every community within our service area . . .

"We recognize a triple responsibility—to the public, to our employees and to investors—and our obligation to try to maintain a just balance among these three interests."

These viewpoints will continue during 1957 and the years to come.

As we think of the future, our thoughts naturally turn to the young people whose opportunities should be greater in Alabama and the South in the years ahead. We believe that the South will continue to grow at a rate faster than that of the rest of the nation. We are backing our belief by planning now to have ready within 10 years the power plants and other facilities necessary to supply more than twice as much electricity as is now being used. And we believe we'll have to more than double again in the 10 years after that.

We Believe That "The Last Half of the Twentieth Century Belongs to the South"

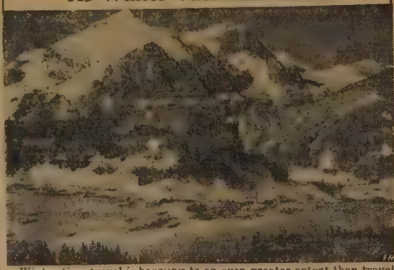
Travel Goes On Year-Round Basis As Winter Vacations Boom



Winter-time travel is booming to an even greater extent than travel in general. A new record both for overseas and domestic travel during the 1956-57 season is predicted by travel authorities. Increased winter vacations and the economy of "off-season" trips are the principal factors in the unprecedented rise in travel during the Fall and Winter months, say the experts.

Escorted Winter tours of Europe, for example, now are being offered for the first time by American Express Company. Six, six-week long Winter tours have been planned by the travel organization with stops at such fabled — and warm — places as Gibraltar, Seville, Madrid, Palma de Mallorca, Barcelona, Nice, Monte Carlo, Rome, Athens, Istanbul, Naples and Capri.

Guided by travel experts who know the countries, languages, and customs well, the tours probably are the most profitable way to see strange lands. In addition, they are a boon to the single traveler—the lone woman who may not wish to be completely on her own.

These special tours will leave on October 15, January 10, November 15, December 13, February 13, and March 27.

But these Winter tours, unusual as they may be, are only one aspect of the increasing travel that is taking place during the Fall and especially the Winter months.

Skiing, for example, has become the favorite sport of 4,000,000 Americans and a billion dollar industry to boot. Thousands of skiers, reports American Express, the world's leading travel agency, soon will be heading for the Swiss, French, Italian and German ski resorts, not to mention the many thousands more who will slalom off for nearer places at home.

On the basis of present bookings, the travel service predicts the largest season yet for sunlovers taking advantage of warmer climes in both hemispheres. The Caribbean, including the lesser known islands of the Lesser Antilles, undoubtedly will have the biggest season in its history in 1957.

Speedy air transportation has made this area south of the United States a haven for the one and two-week mid-Winter vacationist.

Rev. Herman Lowery, pastor
Sunday School 10:00 a.m.
Worship services 7:30 p.m., 11 a.m.
Training Union 6:30 p.m.
Prayer services 7 p.m. Wednesdays

Our quarterly business meeting scheduled for last week was postponed because of illness of some of the deacons. This meeting will be held at the next prayer meeting.

We're glad to have our usual number attending church again. Due to the inclement weather and illness our attendance has been off some.

Our pastor preached a wonderful sermon last Sunday, based on the theme, "Living for Jesus."

We are glad to have visitors and old friends visit our church. We extend a cordial invitation to the people in our community who do not attend church somewhere to come and join in all our services.

The Training Union attendance was off last Sunday. Those who came, however, enjoyed a wonderful devotional on the theme, "Consecration." The pastor presented a sermon on the theme, "Behold the Lamb of God."

Our prayers and sympathy are extended to the family and friends of the late George W. Heath. May God comfort their hearts and bless them.

We are glad to report that Mr. C. T. Stephens is home from the hospital. We hope he will continue to improve.

For all the cheese lovers in the family, here's a new and unusual main-course dish that's full of good flavor and good nourishment. "Crispy French Toast Rarebit" features tangy melted cheese, rarebit style, served piping hot over golden-browned crispy saltine crackers. Worcestershire sauce and onions sharpen the cheese sauce while the crackers provide a rich, crunchy texture. Busy homemakers can prepare it quickly and easily and still be sure of satisfying the heartiest appetite. Here's how:

Crispy French Toast Rarebit

- 1-8 oz. package process sharp cheese
- 6 tablespoons milk
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ cup shortening
- 1 egg, beaten
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 24 Sunshine Krispy Crackers broken into 2-cracker oblongs
- ⅛ teaspoon grated onion

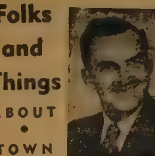
Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN



—By Ben

Honest, we thought that was a Democratic Primary we held last M[illegible]. It's never turned out Republican before.

The wife and ourself are deeply appreciative of the many flowers and cards of cheer sent her while she was in the hospital. Her many friends were very thoughtful. She will be in bed for a few weeks yet but she will be at home after today. In her behalf we want to thank each and every one of you for your kindness.

A man and a girl charged around a corner from opposite directions and bumped into each other. They stepped back, apoligized, and bumped once again. Step, back, bump, apology, side-step in the other direction and bumped again. This time the man stepped back, raised his hat and gallantly remarked: "Just once more, lady, then I really must go."

About this time of the year we begin to think of all of us who work for the government but don't have to pass any civil service examination.

What we like most about people is that they are so human. Take the average fellow and he has his dreams, his hopes, his fears, his joys and his sorrows, but each in his way tries to play a part. He tries to hide from the world his real self and makes a bold attempt to show one and all that he is independent, self-sufficient and strong. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we all just worked at being ourself. No sham, no put-on, no pretending, just being us. Course there would be a bunch of stinkers among us but the good would outweigh the bad by a whale of a margin.

How do you like that new efficiency program at the post office? If you hadn't noticed, they close all but one window and you have to line up at that one to get waited on. Seems like a pretty good idea to us. Heretofore it had the man on the window pretty groggy when six o'clock came just dodging from one window to the other. Most of the time he couldn't tell who was first or next to be waited upon so he would just make a wild guess and take the consequences. And that's what he usually got—consequences. But now he can go home tired but he at least won't be accused of being drunk, even though it was caused from ducking from one window to the other.

Gotta go down to the Doris Beauty Salon this week to their "Open House" and get our hair prettied. Understand Mrs. Smyer has some new furniture and some new machinery for pretting hair and that sort of thing. Speck just about everybody will be there so if you need a little hair doing go early or you won't get in on the refreshments. And that's the best part.

Bob's Drive-In Cafe closed this week so every one of his employees could take a vacation. He left a sign hanging out front telling everybody not to eat until he returned the latter part of this week. Folks around here are going to get powerful hungry if they do wait, and too that would make the Dixie Cafe and Clanton Lunch Room and Bob's City Grill, not to mention the drug stores, mighty mad. A drug store, you know, is a place you can get indigestion and a remedy for it at the same time.

Well this page is running out and we're running out so we'll see you next week.

Egg Producers To Meet At Jemison

All farmers interested in egg production and marketing program are encouraged to attend the poultry information and egg sales meeting at the Jemison High School next Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m.

An information program involving outlook for egg markets and financial plans for those interested in starting new commercial egg production will be handled by local feed representatives and county agricultural workers.

Please make a special effort to attend this important Jemison area farm meeting.

30-Month Old Murder---

Sheriff's Forces In Cleanup Campaign

Praiseworthy Two Year Record

Records from the office of Sheriff R. Odell Payton show a record number of arrests and stills destroyed in the two years he has been chief law officer of Chilton oCunty.

From the record in the office of Payton there has been 421 arrests for violating the prohibition law; 280 arrests for public drunkeness; 315 arrests for highway drunkeness; 153 arrests for driving while intoxicated; 46 arrests for manufacturing whiskey and 11 for transporting whiskey. This is just the arrests concerned with the manufacture, selling, drinking and transporting whiskey Sheriff Payton explains. To this add thousands of papers to sign and serve plus the general office work and the arrest for various crimes such as burglary, grand larceny, fighting, vagrancy, and many others and you get a vague idea of the work being done by the Chief Law Officer of the county.

Three-hundred and twenty stills have been destroyed since the present sheriff took office two years ago this January.

Last Wednesday night a large 600 gallon copper still was confiscated four miles south of Clanton off the Enterprise Road. One arrest was made. Robert Holley brought the still to the jail and it is there now for exhibition according to Sheriff Payton for anyone who has never seen such a still. According to Payton it was a first-class outfit with wooden barrels instead of the usual metal drums. Seventeen gallons of alcohol was confiscated.

On Saturday afternoon 20 miles north west of Clanton the Sheriff's Forces knocked-off two 300 gallon tank type stills. No whiskey was found but the mash was poured out. No arrest has been made but the Sheriff knows the owner and will arrest him as soon as he can find him.

The records show that Sheriff Payton and his men have also made arrests in a murder that was committed some two and a half years ago. One white man has been arrested and is out on $5,000.00 bond and four negroes are under bond in the killing of Ernest Rasberry who was killed West of Maplesville in 1954. One of the negroes involved is serving time in the penitentiary on a burglary and grand larceny charge, sent up from Dallas County. All of the others are free on bond.

The Grand Jury will convene on Tuesday, Jan 29, and Sheriff R. Odell Payton requests anyone who has evidence to go before the Grand Jury to please get in touch with him. Sheriff Payton stressed that the cooperation of the public was needed for a clean county and he would appreciate any cooperation that the citizens of the county could give him.

Group Meets To Organize Hospital Auxiliary Here

A meeting was held on Tuesday, Jan. 15, at the local hospital to begin organizing an auxiliary.

The purpose of this organization will be to get all county ladies who possibly can to donate one hour of their time three days a week—Monday, Wednesday, and Friday—as a free service to the hospital and the community.

The meetings will be from 2:30 until 3:30.

Those ladies present for the first meeting were Mrs. Emmett Blankenship, Jr., Mrs. C. C. Carlton, Mrs. Howard Buckner, Jr., Mrs. Milton Diefenderfer, Milton Diefenderfer, Mrs. Dent Williams, Mrs. H. J. Christiansen, and Mrs. P. D. Ellison.

If you would like to attend the next meeting, scheduled for early February, contact one of the ladies previously mentioned.

Your time and talents are needed for this important task. If you have any free time, think seriously about joining this auxiliary and for further information on the matter, contact Mrs. Emmett Blankenship, Jr., immediately.

C. W. Ballard Died Suddenly Tuesday

Mr. C. W. Ballard who came to Clanton several years ago and was founder, along with his brother, of the Clanton Fertilizer Company, died suddenly We[illegible] ftern[illegible]. He has had a heart condition for a long time, having suffered several strokes before his death. [illegible] He had eaten lunch with [illegible] Jack and returned home about 3 o'clock when he was stricken.

Burial will be at Selma, Ala., Thursday afternoon but complete funeral arrangements have not been made.

Surviving is the widow, Mrs. C. W. Ballard; one daughter, Mrs. Sue Smith of Selma; a son, Jack Ballard and a brother Dent Ballard, both of Clanton; two brothers living in Texas and a brother at Laverne, Ala.; also two sisters at Montgomery, Alabama. Complete funeral notice will be published next issue.

County Council Of PTA's Meets 21st

Enterprise School will be host to the Chilton County Council of PTA next Monday night at 7:00. Cooper School will give the devotional and Jemison School will have charge of the program. We urge all schools in the county to please have representatives at this meeting.

Concord PTA To Sponsor Supper

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Concord School will sponsor a chicken super Thursday evening, Jan. 17th. Plates will be 75c and serving will begin at 5 o'clock. The public is invited.

George Skidmore Killed In Cafe At Birmingham

George Skidmore, formerly of Birmingham, but recently working at several places in Clanton, was killed Monday night in a Birmingham cafe. James W. Robinson has been arrested and charged with his murder. The report did not say what the quarrel was about but the cafe owner said that Robinson entered the cafe after Skidmore and went back to the booth where he was sitting. After a short quarrel, the proprietor said, shots followed and Robinson fled.

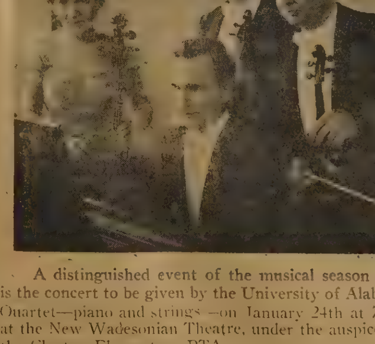
String Quartet In Concert Here, 24th



A distinguished event of the musical season here is the concert to be given by the University of Alabama Quartet—piano and strings—on January 24th at 7:30 at the New Wadesonian Theatre, under the auspices of the Clanton Elementary PTA.

Successor to the University of Alabama String Quartet, ranked by critics as among the foremost chamber music organizations of the country, the Quartet continues in the tradition as "eloquent ambassador of chamber music." Chosen because of their unique musical gifts, the members of the Quartet are artists, dedicated to the highest standards of performance.

Roland Johnson, violinist of the group, holds two degrees in music from the Cincinatti College of Music, with additional graduate study at the Julliard School of Music in New York Berkshire Music Center, and in Europe as a pupil of Herman Scherchen. A dynamic and indefatigable musician, he fulfills the duties of conductor of the orchestra, chorus, and the opera workshop at the University, in addition to his teaching and to the heavy schedule of the quartets activities.

A prophet with honor in his own state of Alabama, Mr. Barrett has become one of the leading violists in the South, and has been solist and principal violist with the Birmingham and Mobile symphony orchestras. Preceeding graduate study at Columbia University, he earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Alabama, where he now teaches theory and chamber music. Mr. Barrett has studied with Conrad Held at the Juilliard School and with Ottokar Cadek, outstanding violinist and authority on chamber music.

Miss Christy, a graduate of the University of Minnesota and the Juilliard School, has studied with such celebrated teachers as Roentgen, Graudan, Willeke and Silva, and more recently with Pablo Casals in Prades, France. In the summers she teaches cello at the Transylvania Music Camp and serves as principal cellist with the Brevard Festival Orchestra in North Carolina.

Mr. McAllister, a native Alabamian, and a graduate of the Birmingham Conservatory of Music, is a pianist of outstanding accomplishments, both as soloist and chamber musician. He has studied with such well known teachers as Whittington, Hughes, and with the great Russian pedagogue, Isabella Vengerova. Head of the Piano Department at the University, he divides his time successfully between teaching and performing.

Dissension mounts --

Board offers no excuse For wholesale ousting

Long-time employees of County Fired; more in line for 'boot'

The Chief Clerk Mrs. Nola S. Hunter, and Attorney Joe Mullins were disch[illegible] the regular Monday meeting [illegible] Chilton County Board of Rev[illegible] & Control, along with 15 oth[illegible]. No reason was given by the new Board for the wholesale discharge of the old employees.

The Board named Bob Fullen to replace Mrs. Hunter and A. B. (Buster) Foshee to replace Attorney Mullins.

Among those discharged were: Russell Lewis, shop foreman; Charlie Moore, machine operator; Fonzie Bates, motor grader operator; Thur Bates, truck driver; Lamar Blalock, shovel operator; David Baker, truck driver; Max Hayes, foreman; Pete McGraw, motor grader operator; F. C. Gibson, bridge foreman; Berney Davenport, utility laborer; Aaron Scott, truck driver; Edgar Samples, truck driver; William Satterwhite, shovel operator. Among those men hired to replace those released was Edgar Leach, hired as a highway worker.

The action of the Board in the wholesale discharge of employees is unpresedented in recent years when new members take their seat on the County's Governing Body. It is reported that further dismissals will follow.

JUDGE TINGLE MAKES STATEMENT

"I bitterly oppose the [illegible] actions of the Board of Revenue & Control at their meeting Monday, Jan. 14.

"Instead of firing 17 county employees, including Attorney Joseph J. Mullins and Mrs Nola S. Hunter, Chief Clerk, their action should have been made to praise them for their fine work for Chilton County. I believe that the good people of Chilton County will wake up to the fact that a grave error has been made."

Noted Editor Speaks To Men's Club On Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men's Club will be held next Tuesday night beginning at 6:30 p.m. with dinner to be served at 7 o'clock.

This is an extra special affair largely because Mr. Earl Tucker has accepted an invitation to serve as after-dinner speaker. Mr. Tucker is editor of the Thomasville (Alabama) Times and is one of the South's most widely quoted editors. His column is entitled, "Ramblin' Roses and Flying Brick Bats" and is noted for the Flying Brick Bats especitlly. He also writes for South Magazine.

In recent years, Mr. Tucker has gained wide-spread recognition as a speaker; being especially remembered for his dry humor and homespun philosophy.

Even though he is also in the newspaper business, he is not related to the Tuckers of the Chilton County News.

The Methodist Men are inviting the public to this special occasion. Tickets are available from the club members and officers at the usual rate of $1.00, but ticket sales will be stopped on Monday, January 21, so that final plans can be made for preparing the dinner.

Band Boosters Offer Chance To List Your Birthday

"An adventure in Friendship to make a community more friendly." This project is bein gsponsored by the Band Booster's Club. This will be most interesting and informative calendar you have ever seen in your life.

Every one living in Clanton and surrounding area may have their names printed on the calendar on the date which your birthday falls. Every one in the community will know when your birthday comes (but it doesn't tell how old you are) and you will know when everyone else has a birthday.

The calendars will also show the anniversary of the married couples in our community.

It's going to be a lot of fun for everybody.

On the front of the calendar will appear a picture of our Chilton County High School Band.

The meeting dates of our local clubs and organizations will be listed. We will know in advance what's going on in our community.

Be sure to get your name listed on the Birthday Calendar. If you are not contacted, phone 330-W. Mrs. Marcus Polk, Jr., is chairman of calendar listings.

Rev. Standifer To Speak At Temple

Rev. J. H. Standifer, Alabama State District Sunday School Director, will be the speaker during the 11 o'clock and 7 p. m. services Sunday.

Rev. Troy Helms, pastor of the Temple Church extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend these services.

The Temple Church is located on Temple Road.

Garden Clubs To Sponsor Dance, Fashion Revue

The Garden Clubs of Clanton are sponsoring a dance and fashion revue at the Clanton City Auditorium on Friday night, Jan. 25, at 7:30 o'clock. Dancing and modeling pupils of Mrs. Jaque Brazil, from Chilton County and Birmingham, will take part in the program. Clothing from local stores will be modeled. Proceeds will go toward buying a piano and the Civic Center project. Tickets can be purchased from Garden Club members and mothers of the dance group.

Fund Campaign Being Planned For Medical Center

On Thursday, Jan. 17, at 7:00 p. m. plans will be made for the capital fund campaign in Chilton County for the Crippled Children's Rehabilitation Center-Baptist General Hospital. The meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church, Clanton. All interested persons are urged to attend.

This joint fund campaign is being conducted by the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the Montgomery Baptist Association, with the help of Central Alabama Baptist Associations, to construct a 200 bed Baptist General Hospital and Crippled Children's Rehabilitation Center in Montgomery. These facilities will serve 20 counties in Central Alabama.

The Alabama Society will own and operate the Rehabilitation Center and the Baptist Association will own the Hospital, which will be operated by professionally trained personnel. The two facilities will be adjacent to each other on the Southern By-Pass.

"There is a great need for a comprehensive Rehabilitation Center to serve the crippled children and handicapped adults of Chilton County," said Mr. I. S. Leviac, Chairman of the Chilton County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. "Chilton County will be fortunate to be able to obtain service for our people at this center in Montgomery, the logical location for such a facility to serve Central Alabama," he said. Through the years, the Society has [illegible] many services, at a [illegible] to our crippled, but with the construction of this new Center, we can expect even more results and brighter futures for many severely crippled children.

Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson, pastor of the Clanton First Baptist Church, who is taking active leadership in the organizing of the fund campaign in Chilton County stated that he felt confident all Baptists in the county would want to have [illegible] in this campaign to build a Baptist Hospital to serve the people of all faiths and no faith, in Central Alabama.

Leaders of the fund campaign will be named at the meeting tonight and solicitation of pledges will begin at an early date.

Dr. J. G. Hutchinson Heads ARC Drive

At a meeting of the County Chapter of the American Red Cross Tuesday night Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson was named County Campaign Chairman. The fund raising campaign will start in March.

Hear about the Texan who rushed up to the airlines ticket office and demanded a ticekt on the next plane? "Where to?" asked the clerk. "To anywhere at all," boomed the tycoon. "I got business all over, son!"

Rev. Brookshire Writes On Result Of Christmas Chest

(The following is an open letter to every person who assisted the Chilton County Christmas Chest in any way. It is an official report from the president, Rev. L. D. Brookshire).

Dear Friends Of Chilton County

May I take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you for your wonderful spirit of brotherly love as expressed in our recent Chilton County Christmas Chest Campaign. As president of the Chest, I [illegible] that this year [illegible] the most successful drive we have ever known. Through your contributions of food, clothing, toys and money we were able to render assistance to 120 Chilton County families, or approximately 1,246 individuals. I know you will be glad to know that you played such an important part in this great Christian endeavor.

I wish it were possible for me to thank each one of you personally. We owe such a debt of gratitude to the workers in each community and to each individual man, woman or child who gave so generously. I would especially like to thank the schools of Chilton County who did the finest job of collecting that they have ever done before. Also their teachers and principals deserve a great deal of credit for their cooperation. Special thanks must [illegible] to Mr. Watson Yeager for his [illegible] work in collecting the boxes, and to Mr. W. A. Lecroy for his assistance in delivery of the boxes. The many individuals who brought their trucks and cars to help with the delivery have likewise [illegible] fine job that deserves a vote of thanks. The civic clubs must also receive special mention ... those that contributed money and clothing, those that helped with the collections, and the ones that repaired the toys. And above all, I would [illegible] to thank the First Methodist Church of Clanton for allowing the Chest to use their basement as headquarters for storing and packing, and I thank the church members of all denominations who aided in the

Which Weed Is Witch?—

FARMERS ARE PUT ON THE ALERT FOR NEW TYPE WEED PEST

Alabama farmers are asked to watch for a new weed in their cornfields this year. This parasite—witchweed—could steal most of the state's 52 million bushel corn crop.

Reports have it that the weed has not yet been found in our state. However, the pest was found in 40 places in the Carolinas last growing season—its first appearance in the Western Hemisphere.

Alabama farmers are asked to keep a sharp eye on their corn fields. If any unusual wilting occurs or a strange weed appears, they are urged to report it to their county agents immediately.

The weed does its damage below the ground it is reported. In the Union of South Africa, the weed's native home, witchweed damages more corn than fungus diseases and insects combined.

Witchweeds penetrate the plant's roots taking all its nutrients and water. [illegible] within a few weeks.

For about a month after its seed [illegible]

[illegible] week [illegible] seriously cut vegetable crop yields. For this reason, irrigation could be profitable to more Alabama growers.

2,000 YEAR OLD SKYSCRAPER

Long before Manhattan Islan was purchased from the India —at a time when the word "skyscraper" had not yet been coine —a magnificent twenty-story palace dominated the skyline o Yemen's capital city of San'a.

This regal structure, known as the Palace of Ghamdan, was as great a tourist attraction two thousand years ago as New York's Empire State Building is today. Many historians have described the wonders of the famed palace which had a ceiling of transparent alabaster so clear that its inhabitants [illegible] could distinguish the [illegible] different birds as they [illegible] the roof or [illegible]

[illegible] of Ghamdan and other [illegible] thirty stories in [illegible] the Yemenites can justly claim that they were the first people to erect skyscrapers. Only traces of the palace of Ghamdan remain in present-day San'a but the capital contains many seven- and eight-story buildings with the same type of original architecture. Even today the upper windows of some Yemenite palaces are made of translucent alabaster instead of glass, and the lower stained-glass windows beam forth at night in multi-colored splendor.

Although San'a is situated on a flat plateau, some of its buildings are so tall that from a distance it seems as though the city is built on elevated land. The average Yemenite, accustomed to climbing his country's rugged mountains, is undaunted by long flights of stairs and instinctively seems to prefer tall buildings. Foreign visitors have noted with amazement that the Yemenite of the plains, when unable to live on high ground, erects a tall house—and chooses the top floor to live on!

Finding a way to live a simple life is today's most complicated job.

ALABAMA PRISON POPULATION UP DURING 1956

There was a slight increase in Alabama's prison population last year. On December 31, 1956, State penitentiaries held 5,286 inmates, as against the 5,216 in prison at the end of the previous year—or a gain of 70 convicts.

These figures include both men and women convicts, State Prison authorities said, and the ratio between whites and negroes for the two years was as follows:

In 1955 there were 2,090 white prisoners as against 3,126 negroes. On December 31st last year, the figures were: 2,165 white prisoners against 3,121 negroes.

Will Coker Dies In Gadsden

by Mrs. C. C. Gay

The Stanton Community was saddened this past week to hear of the death of Mr. Will T. Coker. He passed away January 8th in Gadsden and was buried Jan. 9th. He was 91 years of age.

Many will remember him as the operator of a store in Plantersville in the early 1900's. If this writer remembers correctly, his store was robbed and then burned.

After losing his store, he and his wife (nee Miss Sarah Chandler) moved to Gadsden and lived there until his wife died. She is buried in Gadsden, also.

Surviving relatives in this community and Clanton are Mr. R. A. Harris, a cousin, and Mrs. Ernest Davis and Mrs. Sally Jo Bearden of Stanton.

After Mr. Coker lost his wife he moved back to Perry County and lived with his neices for many years.

Mr. Coker enjoyed going to church and attending the annual Homecoming at the Old Fellowship Church eight miles west of Plantersville on the first Sunday in June. He was always there.

On the first Sunday of this past June, this writer remembers having the privilege of helping to fix his plate.

About two weeks before his death, he became so restless, his relatives carried him to a rest home in Gadsden where he died. He believed that if he were not in Gadsden when he died that he would not be buried beside his wife.

The heartfelt sympathy of this community is extended the family of this beloved pioneer.

SERVICES HELD FOR MR. LUTHER T. GRANT

Mr. Luther Thomas Grant of 209 Augusta Street, Clanton, died at his home January 12, 1957, at 10:10 p. m.

Mr. Grant, age 84, was a native of Coosa County, born October 31, 1872.

Surviving is the widow, Mrs. Rosa Grant of Clanton; eight daughters, Mrs. Caludie Tell and Mrs. Margie Messer of Clanton, Mrs. Gresham Smith of Thorsby, Mrs. R. B. Johnson of Jemison, Mrs. N. A. Smith of Alex City, Mrs. Lawton McDowell of Bessemer, Mrs. John Messer of Bessemer and Mrs. Earl Culpepper of Phenix City, Ala.; 4 sons, Lee Grant of Coppers, Ira Grant of Birmingham, Ralph of Montgomery and Lewis of Prattville; five sisters, Mrs. Nettie Robinson of Selma, Mrs. J. W. Rockett of Clanton, Mrs. Vena Cagle of Clanton, Mrs. Eva Jones of Phenix City and Mrs. Rosa Wilson of Bessemer; two brothers, Preston Grant of Clanton and Leonard Grant of Tampa, Fla. There are 40 grandchildren, 18 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Pallbearers were the sons-in-law and flowers ladies were the granddaughters.

Funeral services were conducted from Chestnut Creek, Cooper, Ala., on Sunday, Jan. 13, at 3 p.m. with Rev. Glidewell and Rev. R. E. Wilkins officiating.

Internment was in the Chestnut Creek Cemetery with Spigener Funeral Home of Clanton directing.

Isabella School News—

The Isabella PTA met in the school auditorium on Monday night of this week.

Following a devotional by Rev. Vester Bice, the business meeting was held. Plans were discussed to have a talent show in the near future to raise funds to help in purchasing new gas equipment for the lunch room.

Winfred Lecroy introduced Lt. Boles of the Highway Safety Education Department who gave an impressive talk on safe driving. A film on safety titled, "The Book is Closed," was shown also.

This community is glad to see the construction of a new paved highway from Isabella School to Highway 91 by Mulberry Church. Work began last week.

Mrs. Avoleen Pate and son, Jimmy, of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Quinton White and daughters of near Wetumpka were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Jeanette White and Mitchell.

Mrs. Emma Manning returned home Monday after spending a week in Birmingham.

Mrs. Lee Lecroy will return home next week end after spending some time with her daughter, Lorene, in Gadsden.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells Sunday guests were Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Lucas and Johnny of Collins Chapel Community and Mr and Mrs. Oscar Davenport.

Rev. R. W. Stuckey was the over night guest of the E. C. Lecroy's on Monday night of this week.

Meat Pies Are The Family's Choice

The stores are loaded with convenience frozen and packaged foods today. Many of them probably already have a place on your shopping list. If not, make a resolution to really tour your grocery store next visit.

Take the rather familiar frozen chicken, turkey and beef pies, for instance. They are the closest product, this side of homemake. The chicken and turkey pies nestle happily in golden gravy, bound to set your taste buds tingling. The beef pies contain meat in flavorful gravy, nicely mixed with potatoes, carrots and peas. All three pies are cloaked with the flakiest crust ever to challenge your cooking skill. Each pie comes from the icy-cold boxes in their own all-purpose pie pans. Just throw away the pans after every morsel is downed . . . no dishes.

Add a surprise occasionally by making a few easy-mix sauces. Give the family their choice, western style, by branding a pie with their favorite topping, right in the kitchen. Each pie is 8-ounces . . . just right for one. A few sauce suggestions, enough for 2 to 3 pies, are given below:

Spicy Sauce: In a saucepan, over low heat, blend 2 tablespoons butter with 2 tablespoons chili sauce and 1 teaspoon mustard. Spoon over baked frozen meat pies.

Scallion Butter: Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a saucepan over low heat. Add 2 tablespoons chopped scallions (some of the green tops too) and cook slowly for about 5 minutes. Spoon over baked frozen meat pies.

Apple Butter-Butter: Combine ¼ cup apple butter and 1 tablespoon lemon juice in a saucepan; heat. Spoon over baked frozen meat pies.

Note: While the pies bake, the sauces may be heated in the oven. Pop them in during the last 5 minutes baking time.

SERVE CHICKEN FAR EAST MODE

Easy as can be . . to take a trip to the Orient via the dinner table with convenience canned foods. Canned boned chicken is the way. In 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, cook 1 cup coarsely chopped celery until tender, but still crisp. Stir in 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup, 1 can (5-ounce size) boned chicken, 1 teaspoon vinegar and dash of black pepper; heat. Heat 1 can fried Chinese noodles as directed on the can; pour chicken mixture over noodles. Serve to 4 eager people.

Mr Cost offered the following resolution for adoption; which was duly seconded by Mr. Motley.

WHEREAS the Board has plans for the construction of the county road commonly known as the Oak Hill Road and designated as Project SACP 3185-A,

AND, WHEREAS, B. E. Little appeared before the Board stating that he was the owner of all the property adjacent to the dirt road hereinafter described and whereas H. J. Lewis, County Engineer made known to the Board that by the plans for the construction of Project SACP 3185-A said dirt road was to be abandoned,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED. That that portion of the present dirt road passing through land owned by B. E. Little and lying north of and not embraced within the right-of-way for said new road as shown by maps of said project of record in the office of the Judge of Probate, Chilton County, Alabama, be, and the same is hereby abandoned as a public road effective immediately upon completion of Project SACP 3185-A.

The above stated resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote and the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted.

Mr. Smith offered the following preamble and resolution for adoption; which were duly seconded by Mr. Dunlap.

WHEREAS, Jeanette White, Herman E. White, Melvin W. White, Mitchell White, Quinton White, Vera White Griffin, and Wm. B. Williams have appealed from the Probate Court of Chilton County Alabama to the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama from an order of condemnation entered against them with reference to acquisition of rights-of-way by Chilton County for project No. SACP 326-D.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That Joe Mullins, as Attorney at Law, be, and he is hereby employed to defend said suit and prosecute said appeal on behalf of Chilton County, Alabama, and to do all Acts and things necessary to protect the interest of Chilton County in said suit.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED That said Attorney be paid a reasonable fee for services to be rendered in said suit.

The above stated preamble and resolution were adopted by a unanimous vote of all the members present and the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted.

Mr. Cost offered the following resolution for adoption; which was duly seconded by Mr. Motley.

WHEREAS, the following petition was filed with the Board:

County Board of Revenue
Clanton, Alabama

In view of the fact the right-of-way for the new paved road by Collins Chapel School has taken a major portion of the front playground of the school there by creating a possible dangerous playground hazard. We the undersigned hereby petition your honorable body to close the little spur loop or road directly behind the school; and further petition you to enlarge the school's playground by grading and leveling the closed road above mentioned and the new plat of playground which we have recently obtained from Mr. J. MISS EDNA SMITH, VIDA RESIDENT, DIED RECENTLY

Miss Edna Earl Smith, age 37, of Route 1, Vida, Ala., died at St. Margaret's Hospital in Montgomery January 9, 1957, at 1:05 a. m.

A native of Coosa County, Miss Smith was born October 25, 1919.

Funeral services were held from Indian Grave Church Thursday, Jan 10, with Revs. G. G. Williams and Julion Clinkscale, officiating.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith of Vida, survive in addition to three sisters, Mrs. D. W. Raines, Mrs. Pearl Hughes and Mrs. J. D. Weldon, all of Vida; three brothers, Raymond, Ancil and Ivan Smith all of Vida also survive.

Interment was in the Indian Grave Cemetery with Spigener Funeral Home of Clanton directing.

Damp litter in poultry houses is often a problem during January. To correct this, use deep litter and keep the house well ventilated.

Soil tests show that lime is greatly needed in the Highland Rim area of North Alabama along the Alabama-Tennessee line.

Favorable Effect On Prices --

Large Decrease In Cotton Surplus Is Expected

Exports of cotton from government-held stocks already has reached 6,230,000 bales during the current market year with six months to go, according to Walter L. Randolph, President of the Alabama Farm Bureau, Federation, which organization originated the legislation providing for the export program.

Randolph said the increased exports, together with a reduction in cotton acreage as a result of the soil bank program, should bring about such a large decrease in the cotton surplus as to have a healthy effect on prices. Reports of authorities vary as to the probable acreage to be diverted to the soil bank.

Meanwhile, the Alabama FBF chief reported that the American Farm Bureau Federation's board of directors had adopted another Alabama-sponsored resolution relating to the cotton problem. This policy statement recommends:

"That we seek to further improve the cotton export program, effective for exports in the 1957-58 marketing year, so that insofar as practicable cotton sold for export will come from private stocks, and that competitive bids for a subsidy in kind be continued as a means to this end."

The American FBF also has approved another recommendation from a special beltwide cotton conference headed by Randolph, for parity and price supports for cotton based on average grades and staple. An Alabama resolution calling for recognition of "split grades" in the CCC cotton marketing program also has been adopted.

Randolph said other matters relating to cotton would be taken up at further conferences.

New 1957 Plymouth

The new 1957 Plymouths are low, wide, ground-hugging and powerful. They have a revolutionary new Torsion-Aire ride, said to be the most important advancement in automotive design since the introduction of independent front suspensions. The parking-turn signal light is positioned parallel to the headlight to give a dual headlight effect.

Have you paid as much as $100 to a farm hand during 1956?

Farm operators who have paid as much as $100 in cash wages to any farm employee in 1956 should file an employer's tax and information return for agricultural employees. George A. Holman, supervisor, Internal Revenue Service, announced today. This tax return must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue at Birmingham accompanied by payment of the social security tax.

Deadline for filing this annual report of wages paid for agricultural labor is January 31, 1957. The return must show the name, social security number, and wages paid every employee whose cash wages amounted to $100 or more.

Tax return forms are mailed out about January 1 to those who have previously registered with the District Director as agricultural employers. Farmers who must make these tax returns and have not yet written for the proper forms should write immediately to the District Director of Internal Revenue at Birmingham in order to be sure of getting the report filed before the January 31 deadline.

NEW COTTON HANDBOOK IS OUT FOR FARMERS

Alabama farmers are busy laying the groundwork for a profitable 1957 cotton crop—deciding what variety to plant, preparing land, checking acreage allotments, and the like.

Alabama had less than a million acres of cotton in 1956, but the crop brought in almost half of the state's total farm income. However, continued reduction of Alabama's cotton allotment makes it necessary for a farmer to help fit cotton into a balanced farm program.

To assist farmers in this, [illegible] Jernigan, Auburn, has [illegible] a "Cotton Handbook For Alabama Farmers", available through your county agent. [illegible] cock.)

Tailored to teen tastes are Formfit's "Bobbies" in white cotton touched with pastel embroidery. Convertible bra can be worn strapless, regular, halter or off-the-shoulder. Matching "Bobbie Britches" of wisp-weight nylon elastic net have high-cut leg bands for comfort in action.

For the first time teenage girls are calling for a touch of color in their underpinnings.

This was the consensus of the 1956 Bobbie Fashion Board, composed of junior and senior high school girls, which acts as a fashion advisory panel to The Formfit Company, creator of "Bobbies" foundationwear.

Although white is still their first choice for bras and girdles, the 1956 Board said they would like to venture into pretty pastels.

Formfit's stylists heeded the Board's opinion and have turned out several new "Bobbie" styles for Fall which are just what the girls ordered color-wise, fabric-wise, style-wise, and price-wise, too.

The "Bobbie" classmates are a coordinated group of white cotton bras and girdles spattered with tiny embroidered flowers in a rainbow of soft pastels.

The upper sections of the bras are of plain white cotton broadcloth with the multi-hued embroidery on the lower half. They are carefully cut for gentle support and smooth fit across the back and under the arms.

Bobbie Board members asked for a convertible bra to wear with their party dresses, so Formfit is introducing the first convertible bra tailored to teen proportions. With an underwired bust, it can be worn as a regular, strapless, halter or off-the-shoulder bra.

The new "Bobbie Britches" are of soft, light nylon elastic net with a cotton broadcloth front panel embroidered to match the bras. High cut criss cross leg bands are trimmed with tiny rosettes. There is also a matching girdle. All are designed to slim and smooth young figures with complete comfort.

New Choirs Being Organized at Baptist

Donna Faye Daniel Celebrates 5th Birthday

On Saturday afternoon, Jan. 12, Mrs. W. C. Daniel entertained with a birthday party in honor of her little daughter, Donna Faye.

As the little guests arrived they were met at the door by the honoree.

Games were directed by Faye Williams, Sherrill Davis and Glenda Daniel, sister of the honoree.

After Donna had the thrill of opening each lovely gift-wrapped package, the candles were lit on the beautiful three-tiered birthday cake, which was white, embossed in pink and bearing the inscription, "Happy Birthday, Donna." As she blew out the candles, the little guests sang the birthday song to her.

Mrs. Daniels, assisted by Mrs. Eddie Edwards served birthday cake, ice cream and punch to the following: Judy Edwards, Cathy Wyatt, Belinda Brookshire, Betty Gail Turner, Sherill Davis, Faye Williams and Glenda Daniel.

Each little guest who helped Donna celebrate this happy occasion received a colorful balloon as a party favor.

Baptist Carol Choir To Meet Saturday

Boys and girls of the Junior Department are urged to be present for this rehearsal and registration.

Choir mothers are also invited to attend and assist in registering members.

Graded Chairs To Organize At Baptist

A meeting of the Carol and Primary Choir sponsors was held at the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon.

Purposes, membership and meetings of the choir sponsors were discussed.

The nominating committee, chosen at this meeting will meet later for the election of officers and the forming of various committees.

All parents and others intersted in the organization of the Graded Choirs are invited to attend the choir rehearsals and sponsors meetings.

New Tricks with Cereal

Though budget we often must, it's still possible to keep meals high in nutrition and flavor. And to prove our point, here are "Creamed Tuna Crumbles" . . a delightful combination of tuna fish, hard cooked eggs and a well seasoned cream sauce served over crispy corn flakes.

CREAMED TUNA CRUMBLES

- 2 cups Post Toasties Corn Flakes
- 2 tablespoons melted butter

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 cup (7-ounce can) tuna
- Tuna liquid
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Place corn flakes in moderate oven until heated. Then add 2 tablespoons butter and toss lightly to distribute butter evenly.

Melt 3 tablespoons butter in saucepan, add flour, and stir until smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, green pepper, lemon juice, tuna, tuna liquid, and eggs and heat thoroughly. Serve on buttered corn flakes. Garnish with paprika and sprigs of parsley, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Gift Corner

Breakfast Time will be a gay time for youngsters who have a new bowl and mug cereal set. A coin and one box top from their favorite corn flakes makes this possible. Check the cereal label for complete details of these sturdy plastic sets that come in bright color, bear and clown designs.

Russet Potato Dish Has New Flavor Secret

The extra special flavor of this new casserole makes it a perfect choice for family meals or party service, with ham, turkey, meat or fish. The secret of its success is the delicious, mealy fluffiness of the Washington State Russet potatoes, enhanced with combined cheeses, and you can transform this into a one-dish meal by adding sliced, halved frankfurters. Russet potatoes grown in Washington State are all-purpose so you can bake them and use in all your favorite potato dishes.

LORRAINE POTATO CASSEROLE

6 Washington State Russet potatoes
1 cup cream style cottage cheese
1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
½ cup sharp grated cheese
⅓ cup milk
½ cup green onions, including tops, chopped
¼ cup parsley, chopped
Salt and pepper

Peel and slice potatoes thinly. Combine cottage cheese, softened cream cheese, sharp grated cheese, milk, chopped green onions and parsley and mix thoroughly. In a greased baking dish put a layer of potatoes, sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper and a layer of the cheese mixture. Repeat until all is used, topping with cheese layer. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour. Uncover and bake 30 mins longer or until potatoes are tender and browned. If desired, sprinkle additional grated cheese on top during last few minutes of baking. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Cheery B[illegible] [illegible] Features Soup

Junior-styled breakfast that looks like fun—and is—features cream of celery soup topped with the new junior-sized shredded wheat, cheese-flavored biscuits, and a saucy apple-faced clown! The cream soup, made with milk, forms the basis for a breakfast that's nutritious and quick as a wink to fix—so it's easy on Mother! And it's sure to appeal to even the fussiest youngsters, for it presents the foods children like, just the way they like.

Blend the canned condensed soup with an equal amount of milk and heat as usual, then top with the Shredded Wheat Juniors. To make the clown's face on a rosy-red apple, cut away a crescent-shaped piece of skin for the mouth and add cloves for the eyes and nose; perch an ice-cream cone on top for the hat.

Quick Cheesy Biscuits

1 pkg. (8 oz.) refrigerated biscuits
2 teaspoons butter
2 tablespoons grated cheese (about)

Open package of biscuits and arrange on baking sheet. Place a small sliver of butter on the top of each one and sprinkle with some of the grated cheese. Bake in preheated oven as directed. Makes 8.

The experts have already forgotten the last election. Now they are telling us what will happen in 1958.

Nothing is more rediculous than a man who happens to guess right once and then gets the idea he is an expert.

THE MARCH OF DIMES

Always new, never old. Every year at this time comes The March of Dimes. Dimes to fight polio and help those who cannot help themselves.

While it is true that the fight against polio has made great progress in the past few years and medical experts expect that the new drugs etc., will help in the fight against the disease, we should not overlook the fact that the fight is ours. It can only be accomplished by each of us doing our part.

This fact alone should spur us on in this year's "March of Dimes," for the purpose of securing funds to carry on the fight against polio.

Remember that when you, a resident of Chilton County, contribute to the March of Dimes, you are contributing just that much to this great humanitarian undertaking—to fight polio.

OLYMPIC DEFEAT

It is with chagrin that we swallow the pill of Russian victory in the recent Olympic Games in Australia. All sorts of excuses are being offered for this failure—for only the second time since 1896—of U. S. athletes to outscore, unofficially, the Russian athletes.

Yet we have no good excuse. The Reds showed in 1952 that unless we got a move on, in certain fields of competition, it would be only a matter of time before they overtook us. We didn't do much about it.

We contented ourselves with the hope that Japanese athletes would hold down the Russian scoring gymnastics, and that one or two other countries would keep the Reds from sweeping most of the honors in women's events, shooting, and other fields. But we ourselves did not prepare to stop the Russians.

True, we took the greatest track and field team to Australia we ever assembled. But Russia took the greatest team. Our women have failed miserably to keep the pace with the Reds. Our gymnasts have failed, and our shooting team also.

We were wrong about the outcome. We were wrong, along with most other Americans, in thinking we'd somehow win. Even after the games began it was hard to believe we'd lose the unofficial title for the first time in 20 years. But the Russians beat us handily, scoring over 700 points while we were scoring less than 600.

Track and field is not enough. We must have top gymnasts, top women competitors in all fields. We now have four years to get ready. In Russia state planning assures the Reds that their athletes will be ready. Some new measures, new enthusiasm and wider competition in the so-called unpopular sports must be created in this country.

In 1960 when the Olympics are again held, we hope the United States will not be so deficient in gymnastics and other fields and that our women will measure up. A major effort in this direction is certainly in order.

things we See and Hear

By "TUCK"

Received a much appreciated birthday card from our 'big' sister the other day. Just want her to know that 'everything's O.K.' but we hope she doesn't think that the card takes the place of that letter she owes us. Two different categories entirely. You know, we can so seldom claim that someone owes us correspondence, we just have to hold them to it. It's generally just the other way 'round.

Someone said to us the other day that what we needed on this Segregation-Integration business is a publication that would reach all over the world. That would be some publication, and we feel certain would not solve the problem on this subject. The only thing that will solve (or begin to solve) the problem, is cooperation on both sides. And when WE say cooperation, that does not necessarily mean giving up things that you believe to be right. No, not by a long shot. Cooperation means solving the problem, sanely, satisfactorily. We cannot and will not believe anything to the contrary that the party or parties which are right, in all respects, will win out. That includes a lot of long-range thinking. You can't eat a green apple without wondering what's going to come of it. By the same token, we cannot accept anything, that might be harmful to us or ours in the future, without considerable thought. Determined thought, we might add. There is a right side, a right way, what we have to do is find it. Intelligently.

Speaking of a certain political figure (of high office) a speaker asked another; "well, you believe what the man says don't you" "Yes," replied the wise gentleman, "but, I also believe that his political ambitions have something to do with what he says. Truer words...

The Chilton County News has older friends than we had even hoped. Mr. J. M. Williams of Verbena, Rt. 1, came in and re-newed his subscription the other day and said he had been subscribing to our paper ever since he was 22 years old. Well, we don't want to rush Mr. Williams any so we won't guess his age, but he's getting up in years. We appreciate his loyalty and faith in us. He asked only that we never take him off the mailing list, "I'll get by to pay it somehow, just don't take my name off." Well, brother Williams, you may rest assured that your name won't come off...not if we can help it. We appreciate you as much as you apparently appreciate the Chilton County News.

When we can afford cigars, which is very seldom, we don't apprecaite folks taking one from us before we even get our hands on them. Other day, we had someone pick us up some from the drug store and when he returned he had less cigars than we sent him after and less change also. Explanation followed however; it seems that killing two birds with one stone cost us a ceegar. We sent the fellow on two errands, and he went on ours first and then went to Dr. Joe Gowan's office which proved to be our undoing. Under the impressiin that the cigars were someone else's the good Doc helped himself (they were his brand). Anyhow, he called the boss to tell him how much he enjoyed the cigar and the boss told him he didn't smoke cigars and "good grief" says he, "whose cigar did I take then?" Well Doc, that's what we've been tryin' to tell you. It was our'n. Howsomever, we feel no ill will towards you; in fact, if you enjoyed it as much as you claimed to, we're glad you helped yourself. Maybe we'll get the same opportunity some day. Just be careful who you send after your cigars from now on, they just might be a col'aborator of ours. By the way, that's a good brand, huh Doc. Especially for those who enjoy the best, but can't afford even the middle class. Not cheap cigars, just cheap tobacco.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

THE STROKE VICTIM

The outlook today of a person suffering from apoplexy, commonly called "stroke," is brighter than ever before. Unless the srtoke is very severe, causing extensive brain damage, today's victim can be rehabilitated to a self-sustaining state, independent of constant care.

Medically a stroke is a cerebral vascular accident. A blood vessel ruptures, producing a cerebral hemorrhage. The most common underlying cause is arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries within he skull. This causes a narrowing and weakening of the blood vessel. If the narrowing is too marked, then blood flow is slowed down, resulting in inadequate nourishment to the brain. Then again the blood supply might be completely cut off by the formation of a thrombus or clot inside the vessel.

Strokes vary. They may be severe, resulting fatally, or they may be severe to the degree that the patient is unable to move and talk. The patient is helpless in that he cannot care for himself; he cannot speak because the communicating centers of the brain have been temporarily disconnected. For the latter patient, the outlook is more promising today; for with care and understanding he can be helped to normalcy and independence.

Strokes occur most often in persons beyond the age of fifty, although they can occur in a younger age group. But more advanced techniques are now available to help the person who incurs a stroke. Laboratory tests of the spinal fluid reveal information of great importance for diagnosis, as does the x-ray film, called angiogram or arteriogram, in which certain material has been injected into the head through the neck artery.

Once the medical aid has been accomplished, the road back to independence must come from the patient's family. There must be understanding because of the personality changes so often encountered in a person suffering from a stroke. A happy disposition is apt to become querulous. A neat person may become untidy and slovenly. In fact all characteristics are apt to undergo opposite transition. A sincere understanding of the patient's helplessness will do much to calm the troubled atmosphere.

Latest bulletin: The Doc's trying to ruin our paragraph; he sent our cigar back. Thanks, Doc.

You know, say anything you will about the younger generation, but no matter how young, they fear the Lord. Was having trouble with a young feller in Sunday School the other day and we weren't getting along too well. He wouldn't mind anyone an djust raised cane all over the place. Sentence prayers came around and not a person in the room spoke with more sincerity than did this lad. So, we say again, no matter how much spunk, vinegar, or whatever you want to call it, a bay has, when it comes to just himself and the Lord, somehow he knows exactly how to act and what's expected of him. When he gets right up colse, he knows where he is. How about you, do you?

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In his second appearance before a joint session of Congress in less than a week, President Eisenhower last Thursday delivered his annual State of the Union message. The President's speech, with a few exceptions, was general in nature.

Possibly the most notable exception was his specific request for a four-point civil rights program. He called for the creation of a commission to investigate asserted violations of civil rights; the creation of a civil rights division in the Department of Justice; the enactment of new laws to aid in the enforcement of voting rights; and amendment of the laws so as to permit the federal government to seek from the civil courts preventive relief in civil rights cases. Also mentioned specifically by the President, was the school construction bill. He urged it be given "high priority" and stated that it should be "uncomplicated" by desegregation riders.

In his address, the President described inflation as the "principal threat" to our nation's prosperity and called on businessmen and labor leaders to avoid excesses that might be inflationary.

He referred only briefly to agriculture, pointing out that legislative recommendations in that field would be sent to Congress in his budget message. However, he specifically endorsed an overall rather than a piece-meal development of our river valleys and asked state, local, and private groups to participate with the federal government in such undertakings on a "partnership" basis.

Middle East Proposal

In his State of the Union message, the President reiterated his appeal for swift action on a resolution pledging assistance to Middle Eastern countries attacked by the forces of international communism. The resolution to which President Eisenhower referred is presently being considered by the House Foreign Affairs Committee of which I am a member. Last week the committee was in session for some 20 hours and received extensive testimony in favor of the proposal from Secretary of State Dulles and Admiral Arthur Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The committee also heard former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Mr. Acheson recommended that Congress pass a simple resolution outlining American policy in the Middle East instead of giving the President the legislative grant of powers he has requested.

The committee resumes the consideration of the Middle Eastern resolution this week. A number of witnesses have already asked to be heard which indicates that hearings will continue through the week and possibly into the next. Although some opposition to the President's proposal has developed and may delay final action, it is generally conceded that a resolution stating this country's Middle Eastern policy will eventually receive both committee and congressional approval.

Day Set Aside—

THE FOUR UNFORGOTTEN WW II CHAPLAINS

Four valiant World War II Chaplains, who gave their lives in order that four other men might live, will be remembered throughout Alabama on February 3rd.

That is the day which Gov. James E. Folsom has proclaimed as "Dorchester Day" for the State.

On February 3, 1943, Father John Patrick Washington, Catholic, Rev. Clark Vandersall Poling and the Rev. George Lansing Fox, both Protestants, and Rabbi Alexander David Goode, Jewish, gave their life jackets to four comrades, and were drowned when the torpedoed S. S. Dorchester sank.

In his proclamation, Governor Folsom has noted that "this act of brotherhood has served to inspire the creation of the Chapel of Four Chaplains, an Interfaith Memorial, a sanctuary for brotherhood, and a symbol of the unity of our peoples of many faiths under one God."

"Greater love hath no man. . ."

Week Down; Work Up

When our patriots of 1789 put away their guns and turned to production, the average work week was 65 hours. At the outbreak of the Civil War, it dropped to 60 hours. In the early 1940's, the 40-hour week was conceived. . . and in the last 50 years, output per man has increased 200 per cent.

Congregational Church News—

Wednesday night, Jan. 9, the church met in the fellowship room for the first of our quarterly suppers and business meetings. Excellent attendance, good fellowship around the table, and fine reports from the various committees. We have begun the year with enthusiasm and faith.

Sunday we observed a most impressive Communion Service after the morning sermon. At the close the members present joyously made their pledges for the year 1957. In recognition of the truth that God has given us the responsibility of carrying on the work of the church, we are glad to assume this care both with our time and means. Reports of the Every Member Canvass will be made later.

At 7:00 p. m. a group of the young people met to organize a Pilgrim Fellowship Society. Mr. and Mrs Homer Weaver gladly consented to sponsor this group. Certainly we could find none better for the task. Meetings will be held each Sunday, 7:00 p. m. in the fellowship room. To all young people who are not members of a Youth Group we extend a most cordial invitation to join with this group and help make it one of real worth. Barbara Pratt and Helen Johnson will be in charge of program Sunday evening.

Your pastor is truly proud to have the new mimeograph purchased recently. Extended thanks to the church for assuming cost of the machine.

At a Board meeting in Atlanta, Ga., last November our convention superintendent, Rev. Erston M Butterfield, gave his resignation effective Feb. 1, 1957. The entire convention is much grieved at his going, but wish him Godspeed in the new work, Superintendent of the Cleveland, Ohio, City Union Congregational Churches. At another Board Meeting Dec. 4 Rev. Joe French, Lanett, Ala., was elected Superintendent but word came last Saturday to your pastor, who is an elected member of the Board, that Rev. French had already accepted call to a church in Virginia, so could not accept the superintendency. A call was given for a special board meeting in Atlanta on Monday, Jan. 21. It is our prayer that a suitable man will be found to undertake this most responsible position. In the meantime an interim committee was elected to carry on during the time without a superintendent.

Thorsby Institute News—

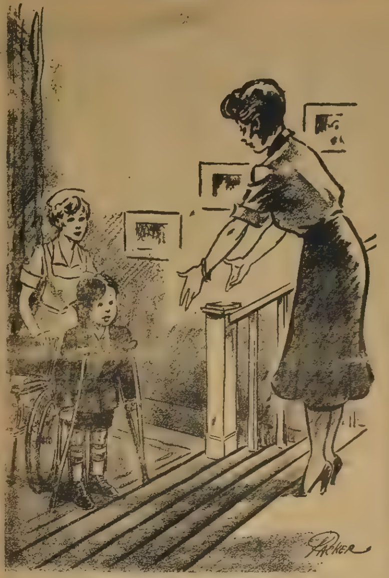
Semester examinations will be Thursday and Friday of this week. The second semester will begin Monday, Jan. 21.

Mrs. Peterson has been ill since returning from the Christmas vacation, but is much better at this time

Mrs. Harding asks that all people having books checked out of the Thorsby Institute Library to return them as soon as you have finished reading them.

Mr Williams will be here Monday to start teaching. We are all very glad to know that he will be here, but we regret losing Mr. Lucas.

He Still Needs Your Help!



Join the MARCH OF DIMES in January

Community workers are active—contacts are being made—group activities are being sponsored—let's each and every one do our part toward providing treatment for those unfortunate victims of this paralyzing disease. Almost one-third of a million polio patients have received treatment, paid for by your March of Dimes, since this program began in 1938.

Your contribution will assist some polio victim in his effort toward rebuilding his life and assuming a useful place in his community.

Cedar Grove HD Club Meeting Held

The monthly meeting of the Cedar Grove Home Demonstration Club was held Monday afternoon, Jan. 7, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Smith.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. E. Williams. Minutes of the last meeting were also read by Mrs. Williams.

The Objectives Chairman gave a list of club projects for the year, asking the members of the club to decide on the ones they consider most important and make their report at the February meeting.

After the business session, Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Jean Porter, gave the demonstration on parliamentary procedure.

Delicious refreshments were served to: Mesdames J. E. Williams, Amos Smith, F. E. Mastin, Mattie Hayes, Leslie Thornton, Lee Hayes, J. B. Parrish, Green Melton, Turner Eiland, H. H. Moore, J. R. Collins, Miss Jean Porter, W. M. Mastin and Miss Mattie Payton, a guest.

The February meeting will be a spend-the-day in the home of Mrs. F. E. Mastin. Members will meet at 11:00 a. m.

Friday, Jan. 11, was a lucky day for little Randall Chandler for on that day his mother, Mrs. J. A. Chandler, gave a birthday party for him.

It was Randall's seventh birthday.

Games were enjoyed for a while, then the little guests were invited into the dining room. The party table was centered with a birthday cake, decorated in pink, holding 7 candles and the happy birthday inscription. As Randall blew out the candles, the guests sang the birthday song.

The honoree was so thrilled over [illegible] many gift-wrapped packages [illegible] opened them and passed them around for all to see.

[illegible] favors were hats and balloons.

Hot chocolate, candy, ice cream and individual decorated cakes were served to these friends and playmates: Diane Garrett, Patricia Vines, Velera Nell Pate, Sarah Johnson, Judy Lewis, Charlotte Reynolds, Harry Hale, Brenda Moore Joe Brasher, DeWayne Thornhill, Roger, Micky and Donna Crowson, James Sidney, Larry and Michael Chandler, Darlene Collins. Mothers present were Mrs. Milton Crowson, Mrs. Lester Pate and Mrs. L. L Hale.

Br'er Coon, Brier Rabbit Still Ducking—

ALABAMA HUNTERS SOON TO CLOSE OUT SEASON ON MOST WILD GAME

Hunters this week went into the last few days of Alabama's major hunting seasons, with the mourning dove, rail, gallinule and sora seasons closing Thursday, Jan. 10th and the duck, goose, coot and snipe seasons closing Tuesday, Jan. 15.

Legal shooting of deer, turkey and squirrel ended in all areas of the State on Jan. 1. Seasons remaining open after Jan. 15 will be woodcock ending Jan. 20, quail ending Feb. 15, possum and coon ending Feb. 20 and rabbit ending Feb. 15.

The season for trapping furbearers also will terminate on Feb. 20.

Although final estimates of hunting results have not been received by the Alabama Department of Conservation, incomplete reports indicate excellent hunting success during the 1956 hunting seasons. Hunters had especially good deer, quail, and dove shooting, the Conservation Department reported.

After the closing of the possum and coon hunting seasons on Feb. 20, the next chance hunters will have for legal shooting of game animals will be opening of the spring gobbling season on wild turkeys. Turkey hunting will open in most areas on March 20 or March 25 in seasons which will be announced later, the Conservation Department statement said.

HIGH FEED PRICES ARE FORECAST FOR ALABAMA

Feed prices will be higher the rest of the winter and this spring than they were last year

And, Extension Economists point out that this means the farmer who has to buy livestock feed will have a hard time making money. Thus, every farmer should immediately begin taking all necessary steps to produce enough feed for his own use.

In Alabama, unlike other parts of the country, more grain and hay could be profitably grown for livestock feed. But right now, feed in Alabama has become the limiting factor in profitable livestock operations.

For the rest of the country supplies of feed-stuff are large compared to the number of farm animals. The supply appears to be big enough to meet all domestic and export requirements and boost the carryover stocks up another one percent.

Prejudice limits the boundaries of clear thinking.

18.17 miles per gallon on North America's toughest truck run!
That's the gas mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier after covering the entire length of the Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! All six new Task-Force trucks that made the run turned in top scores for performance and economy!

Supervised and certified by the AAA

New Task·Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks

Six heavily loaded Chevy trucks ran all the way up the rugged Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! That's cutting more than a full day off the normal running time! They ran right around the clock, stopping only to refuel.

But the important fact about this run was that it proved new Chevy trucks through and through. The Alcan Highway is a supreme test of every truck component. Engines had to prove their power up high-climbing grades and through washouts. Frames and suspensions flexed their muscles over axle-deep ruts and miles of pounding gravel. "And not a single truck turned back or dropped out due to mechanical failure," states the official AAA report of the test. Every model proved its over-all economy by its ironclad ability to stay on the job! Stop by; we'll talk about it.

Proved on the Alcan Highway
Champs of every weight class!

Choose your model from among Chevrolet's famous economy-proved Alcan Champs! Short-stroke V8's are standard in all heavyweight truck models and in many of the middleweights. They're loaded with modern features and built to take it!

There Is Still Time To Pay For Your Christmas Seals

A good thing for you to do this week—while the new year is still young—is to answer the Christmas Seal letter you forgot during the Christmas rush. No, it isn't too late to help in the fight against the dreaded disease of TB. This fight goes on every month during the year—and your contribution is needed to help the County TB Association to provide the medication needed for indigent patients, to help provide periodic chest X-rays, and to help with needed funds to carry on research to stamp out the disease.

To date, Mrs. Mabel Bean reports we are still short more than $300.00 of the amount needed to carry on the constructive work of the Association for another year.

This is the only time you are asked to suport this fight—please do your part! Answer your letter with a contribution today. Make your home secure from the killer TB.

MT. CREEK NEWS

Last Wednesday night the church held its quarterly business meeting. Three new deacons were elected at this meeting, Mr. Eliza Hayes, Mr. G. E. Grant and Mr. Lloyd Mims.

The Sunday School attendance last week was very good. Our pastor delivered a wonderful sermon, "Be Not Deceived."

We are thankful for the visitors who worshipped with us last Sunday. We hope more will be with us next Sunday.

Next Saturday night the Unity Association will hold its quarterly Youth Rally at Bet[illegible] at 7:30 p. m. Everyone come and bring cookies. The evangelist will be Rev James Jones of the Northside Mission.

We are happy that our pastor is moving to our church community this week. A pounding was given for him last Wednesday night.

We would like to request that everyone pray for Mrs. J. H. Johnson.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

. "Greater Love Hath No Man"... Bravery and heroism are found in many places and under strange circumstances. No one can say how he, or she, would act under any given circumstance. Surely love was the motive that drove Mrs. Lamont Rhal back into a burning building early last Saturday morning to save her husband—and it may cost her life. It was told to us by Doyle McRae for whom the Rhals work. He said that Mrs. Rhal and the children were all out of the burning house when she discovered that her husband was not with them. She ran back into the biulding and helped him to safety after finding him overcome by smoke. If you are interested in helping this family get in touch with Eddie Waters at CCHS or some of the members of the Senior or Junior Class.

Red Smith doesn't even know what he has got in his store. Now Mrs. Smith knows—but Red don't know. Last Saturday afternoon a customer asked Red for an item which isn't too ordinary and it really got him jumping. He wound up in the drug department of his emporium and finally came up with what his customer wanted. But the joke was that when he found what he was looking for he was more surprised than the cusomer.

A friend told us the other day that his doctor had advised him he probably had a lot of miles left but he would have to stay on a paved road.

Father was furious. His shaving brush was missing. "Doesn't anyone know where my shaving brush is," he thundered. "No," answered a small voice from the nursery, "but Willie's wooden horse has grown a new tail."

Mrs. W. C. Golden contends she lives in the best neighborhood in town. Everyone in her district bought a calendar and have listings in the new community birthday calendar that the Band Boosters Club is having published in the near future. Now the thing is, this gives you other Band Boosters something to shoot at. Are you going to let this neighborhood outdo your neighborhood? We want to congratulate Mrs. Golden and all those good people living on the northwest side and all the Band Boosters in general for really getting behind this project and putting it over. That was a job well done.

Turner and Parrish may not be the best two law officers in the state but they are stomp down good ones. There's very little goes on between dark and daylight that these officers don't know about. And if they go after something or somebody they get 'em. They sure don't fool around. It gives a fellow a safe feeling to have two men of this calibre "watching the store" while we sleep.

A reporter was interviewing a man that was a hundred years old. "To what do you owe your old age." the reporter asked. "Well, I don't rightly know, yet," returned the old one. "You see, I'm dickering with two medicine companies right now."

January 28th Is Closing Date On Band Calendar

Monday, January 28th, is the last day to get your name listed on the birthday calendar. Phone 330-W if you have not been contacted.

You're going to miss lots of fun if you are not listed on the calendar.

For instance, did you know that today, Jan. 24th, is the birthday of Mrs. Gordon Robertson? It's also Bobby Cox and Wayne Headley's birthday.

Everyone will know that April 1st, is Bing Leeroy's and Mrs. Clarence Cox's birthday and April 12th Mr. and Mrs. Zebbie Gray's wedding anniversary. April 14th, Mrs. J. Gilbert Hutchinson will have a birthday.

Everyone will know because they are listed with many others on the birthday calendar.

Come on, join the fun and get your birthday listed.

COULD GET CROWDED

More than 65,000 Navy planes have landed aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier, the USS Valley Forge.

Two Seriously Injured In Early Morning Blaze

Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Rhal were seriously burned last Saturday morning early when their home was destroyed by fire. They were tenants on the farm of Doyle McRae. The home and all clothing and household furniture was destroyed in the early morning blaze.

Mrs. Rhal is the more seriously injured. Both are in Chilton County Hospital here.

Three of their four children were at home when the fire occured but all escaped without injury. It is reported that Mrs. Rhal also got out of the house in time but when her husband failed to follow she returned to the burning building and saved him, receiving severe burns because of the heroic act.

Local Peach Trees Lack Sufficient Dormant Hours

An official Montgomery Weather Bureau report indicates only 495 chilling hours have been accumulated from October 1, 1956, through January 15, 1957. Most Chilton County varities of peaches require approximately 800 hours below 45 degrees Farenheit to come through wiht a normal bud development. Several varieties need 1,000 or more chilling hours. According to peach research officials, all hours below 45 degrees F. from first killing frost through mid-February will fluence bud development.

Recent extended periods of low temperature may have been disagreeable to many, but to our peach growers the chilling weather conditions have been quite welcome, and they are hoping that similar conditions will prevail through the remainder of January and the first half of February.

Lions "Road Block" For Dimes March

This Saturday, Jan. 26, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. the Lions Club will have a road block set up on U.S. 31 south of Clanton.

All proceds from this roadblock will go to the March of Dimes to help in the fight to lick polio. If you go thru this area on Saturday remember it is for a very worthy cause and all money collected will go directly into the fight against polio.

Be generous to help your neighbors and be thankful that it is not you laying up in that hospital crippled and possibly completely helpless to help yourself.

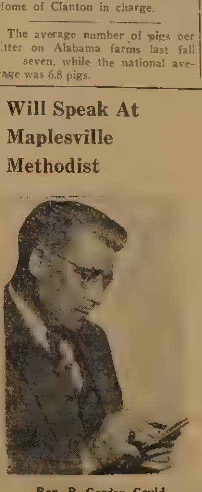
Will Speak At Maplesville Methodist



Rev. P. Gordan Gould

Rev. P. Gordan Gould, associate secretary of the division of National missions of the Methodist Church will speak at the Maplesville Methodist Church on Thursday, Jan. 24, at 7 p.m. Dr. Gould is a native of Alaska and will be speaking on the needs of Missions in regard to the establishment of a four year accredited college in Alaska, which would be the first college in this great land.

Dr. Gould was born in Unga in the Shumagin Islands, and spent his early years in the Jesse Lee Home at Unalaska. He is Alaska's first native son to become an Ordained minister in the Methodist Church.

In 1948 Rev. Gould became a member of the staff of the Division of National Missions and was appointed as Superintendent of the Alaska Mission Conference.

In 1954 Rev. Gould was elected as an associate secretary in the division of National Missions in charge of Methodist Work in Alaska.

In 1955 the work of helping to build a college in Alaska became his main job.

Rev. Gould will be assisted in the meeting at Maplesville Methodist Church by Dr. James Tate who is District Superintendent of the Selma District of the Methodist Church, Rev. Robert Wilson of Graceville, Fla., who is the Missions Secretary of the Alabama-West Florida Conference of the Methodist Church and Rev. Henry F. Eddins, Secretary of Missions of the Selma District.

The public is invited to attend these meetings.

Soil Bank Opens For Applications February 4th

Monday, February 4th, is the opening date for Chilton County farmers to place cotton land in the Soil Bank's acreage reserve program. Applications [illegible] the program will be taken a[illegible] payments made on a first come, first served basis.

Although the deadline for filing applications is March 1, county funds will probably be exhausted long beforehand. The current acreage program is for 1957 only. A farmer can have in the acreage reserve no more than 10 acres or 30 percent of his cotton allotment, whichever is greater.

The Federal government has allocated $13,322,400 to pay Alabama cotton farmers who elect to use the acreage reserve. The aim of the program is to reduce the acreage of those crops now in surplus.

This county's share of the acreage reserve funds for cotton, to be announced later, will be determined by its cotton yields of the past 10 years, adjusted upward for poor crop years. Individual rates within the county will vary according to farm yields.

When a farmer goes to his local ASC office to file application he must be prepared to designate the particular areas of his farm that will be put in the acreage reserve.

Verbena Soldier Killed In Wreck

Sgt. H. . Wilson, 27, of Verbena, was killed in a car crash near Ft. Meade, Maryland, when their car ran off the highway, skidded, sheared off a utility pole and landed in a ditch. It is reported the top of the automobile was sliced off.

Sgt. Wilson was assigned to the Second Armored Cavalry Regiment at Ft. Meade.

Mulberry To Have New Pastor

A new pastor, Rev. J. B. Lucas, has accepted the call to serve Mulberry Church for the coming year.

Rev. Lucas will preach both services next Sunday.

The Mulberry Community welcomes the new pastor and his family who are now living in the pastorium.

A special invitation is extended everyone to attend the services at Mulberry Sunday. With the obtaining of a new pastor it is hoped that the work of Christ in this community and the expansion of the church and its programs will be possible through better attendance.

All members are requested to attend.

Clanton Wins Invitational Basketball Meet

THE WINNERS! Clanton Tigers won the invitational cage meet at the Montgomery Coliseum last Friday night by outplaying the Lee Generals of Montgomery by a score of 66 to 56. Two all-tournament teams were announced at the end of the game when Lanier won over favored Selma by a score of 48 to 38. Osbon Mims and Thomas Minor were named on all-tournament teams. Minor was said to be the most outstanding man on the floor scoring 29 points in the Tiger win.

Tuesday night Clanton Tigers met Selma in a hotly contested match at the local Gym. The Clanton "Fire Balls" won by a score of 50 to 36.

Safety Patrol Receives New Dress Uniforms

The Safety Patrol of the Clanton Grammar School have just received new caps, belts, badges, and identification cards from their sponsoring organization. The Clanton Lions Club has sponsored this patrol for a number of years. Chester Miller is chairman of the safety committee for the Lions and Leonard Traywick and Bruce Barze are members of the committee.

Pete Johnson is Captain of the [illegible] this year and Roy Maha[illegible] is the Lieutenant. Other members of the patrol are Lowell Johnson, Mike Dennis, Dent Williams, Bobby Martin, Butch Carter, Joe Powell, Jimmy Boockholdt, Guy Ray, Wayne Headley, Wayne McCullar, Douglas Coe, and Ray Cox.

The Safety Patrol is set up under the supervision of Mr. U. H. Abrams and the members are selected because of their qualifications of leadership and responsibility.

The Lions Club has several outings planned for the patrol again this year including movies, weiner roast, and a special meeting with the members of the State Highway Patrol who will offer suggestions to help them function even more efficiently.

Marbury FFA-FHA To Hold Family Banuqet March 8th

by Millard Manning

Marbury will hold their annual Mother-Daughter, Father-Son Banquet on March 8th. We hope to have about 200 at the banquet. Some guests who have been invited are: Ronald Rogers, George Guess, [illegible]r, Johnny Jenkins, Lawrence Lipcomb, Jacky Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Faulkner, all the mothers and fathers of the boys and girls and other guests.

Some of the activities of the meeting will be the presentation of awards to honorary members we have selected. They will be fathers and friends who have helped or are helping the FFA chapter or some member of the chapter.

We will also honor our FFA Sweetheart, Miss Melanie Richardson, and will present her with a Sweetheart Jacket. It is believed that she is looking forward to the banquet.

There will be a fine program presented by some of the local talent: The Cook Sisters, the FHA Quartet, the FFA String Band and others.

A spring dress will be awarded as a door prize to some lucky person present. This is a donation by Mrs. C. C. Fiquette, honorary member of one of the garden clubs.

City And County Church Calendars Are Requested

Pastors of all churches in the city and county are invited to send their church calendars to the Chilton County News for the purpose of presenting to the public a complete church directory.

Whatever space is needed for this feature will be donated by your Chilton County News.

The only requirement is that you send your church program to us and report time changes as they are made.

We believe this information would be helpful to all church members and especially to anyone interested in visiting your church.

Woodmen Circle Meets Tonight

The regular meeting of the Woodmen Circle, Grove No. 439, will hold their regular meeting Thursday evening, Jan. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Barker. All members are urged to be present as there will be several guests from out of town.

To Resume Bible Quiz In This Issue

Through popular demand we are resuming the Bible Quiz in this issue of Chilton County News.

Many requests were received to continue this popular feature and we are doing so with the hope that all who were so interested will join in the game. Deadline for getting your answer in to the News office is Tuesday noon following issue of the paper. Regardless of whether you win or not you will learn much about your Bible if you follow this weekly feature.

To The Citizens Of Chilton

I am meeting and visiting with you in this manner, for the purpose of clarifying my actions during the last "Spring" Political Primary and as a Party to the Court Procedure to restrain action against what seems to me an unwise action with reference to the building of a new Courthouse in our County.

First, let me suggest that I am constantly reminded of the wonderful truth of abiding by the vote of the majority at the Polls, which I was taught some few year past at a time when I was a contestant for nomination to Public Office. I was of course defeated, however, out of my defeat at the polls, I am still reaping rewards as I deal with mankind and am firmly convinced that any person who cannot suffer defeat in an honorable way at the polls cannot serve honorably if he or she should become elected.

A good number of you people expected me to qualify to run for membership on our County Board of Revenue a year ago. I did have certain interest and aspiration, but some persons, who had sponsored the move to get me to run for the nomination chose to get a candidate qualified and on the field at an earlier date than I could arrange to meet. "They" as you know chose Mr. Hilyer, who was nominated and later elected to the office. A friend

To The Citizens Of Chilton County

I wish to state that the wholesale firing of the County employees on January 14th was not the unanimous wishes of the entire Board but by a majority of the members and if given an opportunity I would have bitterly protested the act, and I wish to go on record that I oppose the wholesale firing. As I feel they were all reputable citizens and very efficent workers. They are the people that put the new road program over in Chilton County. They are the ones responsible for taking Chilton County out of the mud and placing the County on a progressive and prosperous basis.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank each one of you. My hat is off to you. Thank you for having done a wonderful job.

Sincerely,

ANOTHER FEBRUARY BIRTHDAY

During February, America observes the birthdays of several of its illustrious sons—Washington, Lincoln, and Thomas Edison. Another birthday celebration of national proportions in which all America can properly join is that of the Boy Scouts of America.

Scouting in the United States reaches its 47th anniversary during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12. ..It is difficult to recall when our nation did not have this character-building, leisure time program for its boys and young men.

Since February 8, 1910, more than 26,000,000 American boys and men have been influenced by the Scout Oath and Law. They have had the benefits of Scouting training, fellowship, handicraft skills, and high adventure.

America is all the richer for it. Many men in high places in American affairs today proudly credit Scouting's influence in their lives.

Today over 4,500,000 boys and men are actively enrolled in 540 local councils with a membership of 111,000 units. Fortunate indeed are communities where Scouting flourishes.

American adults of good character give generously of their time in giving leadership. Others help by raising funds, or in serving as members of local Boy Scout councils which in turn provide: training for leaders, camp facilities, worthwhile year-round activities, personal advancement, and opportunities for Scouts to render community service.

This summer there will be a "mountain peak" experience for more than 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and their leaders when they gather at historic Valley Forge in Pennsylvania for their Fourth National Jamboree. We earnestly hope our community will be well represented when Scouts from all over the nation camp together.

It will be a gathering of youth who will be among the nation's top leaders a few decades hence.

WHY LOCK YOURSELF IN A PRIVATE PRISON?

by Ilka Chase, courtesy Spadea Syndicate, Inc.

This is published in the interest of Brotherhood Week, February 17-24, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Since life itself will always impose restrictions upon us it seems foolish to go about creating needless limitations of our own. And yet thru ignorance, superstition and fear, and the angry rationalizing which we all resort to to defend our weaknesses, we voluntarily narrow our horizons, enclose ourselves in prisons of our own manufacture.

Probably we don't think so. When we create districts of any kind for peoples of other races, creeds, or colors, we shrug off the obvious fact that it is hard on them. So what? The answer is that we do a far more subtle damage to ourselves for it is we, as much as our victims, who are cheated out of the joys of a full and colorful life.

We suffer from the same kind of claustrophobia besetting those who are forever denied a magnificent view of a great city because they cannot bring themselves to go above the third floor.

When we find Catholics or Jews, Protestants or Negroes, French, Germans, or Chinese "peculiar"—when it's a case of "You can't deny it, theyre just different from us, thats all'—we are on our way to a very small cell in our private small dark prison.

Whether all these groups are fundamentally different from one another I'm not sure. Different philosophies, different religious tenets guide the human race. But if a basic difference exists, that's the fun. That is what should whet our curiosity, provoke us into wanting to know more about these people. Maybe we are more similar than we think; possibly not, but why put on blinders and plug up our ears instead of finding out?

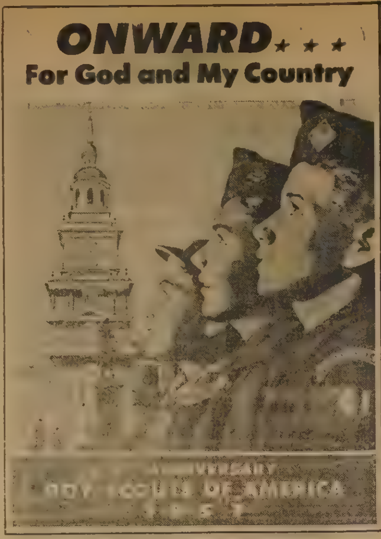
I do not mean that to know people is automatically to love them. Indeed, many people when you first meet them seem very nice; they deteriorate on acquaintance. Like the time I said to a frined of mine about a man whom he knew and whom I had recently met, "Why I don't think so and so is bad at all." "Ah," said my friend, "you have to know him to dislike him."

Let's not erect high walls saying, "Here's me. Everybody stay out." Solitary confinement isn't much fun.

We have enough built-in hurdles and obstacles to overcome as it is without shouldering huge outside prejudices. We have already curious limitations of the mind that are hard to master and that pretty well confine us anyway. I speak of the phobias and allergies that sway our behavior.

Boy Scouts Mark 47th Birthday



OFFICIAL BOY SCOUT WEEK POSTER

More than 4,500,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders throughout the nation will observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 47th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Since 1910, Scouting has served over 26,000,000 boys and adult leaders.

Through its Four-Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," the organization seeks to train more boys in patriotism and character so that they will become intelligent citizens with an appreciation of the free way of life and a dedication to high spiritual ideals.

Boy Scout Week observances will feature preparation for the Fourth National Jamboree, which will find 50,000 Scouts and leaders camping where Washington camped at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, next July 12 to 18. The nation's 111,000 Scout units will feature rededication ceremonies on February 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in America.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

While President Eisenhower was recommending to Congress last week a record peace-time budget, Treasury Secretary George Humphrey warned that the amount requested in the budget was too high. Mr. Humphrey offered no suggestions, however, as to where cuts should be made.

The President estimated that federal expenses during fiscal year 1958, which begins next July 1, will total $71.8 billion. He predicted that revenue for the same period will be $73.6 billion, leaving a $1.8 billion surplus. However, he said there should be no tax cuts this year and that the anticipated surplus will be used to help reduce the national debt. Secretary Humphrey also stated that the Treasury Department will fight any tax reductions that will mean a substantial loss of revenue.

The total budget estimate for fiscal year 1958 is $2.9 billion more than the estimate for the current fiscal year. Approximately $2 billion of the anticipated increase will result from additional military expenditures.

Changes in Military—

In the military budget, the President calls for the reduction of an Army division in 1958 but advocates an increase in atomic support commands which are particularly suitable as back-up for the ground forces of allied countries. The number of Air Force wings, which was expected to reach 137 by next summer, is now scheduled to be reduced by the end of fiscal 1958. However, our first guided missile wing will be formed and the B-36 bomber fleet will be replaced with all-jet B-52's.

The Marine Corps will continue to maintain three divisions and three air wings and will be equipped with atomic weapons. For the Navy, the President has earmarked funds for the world's first nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, and additional atomic submarines will also be built.

In spite of these recommended changes, the total personnel of the armed forces will remain at approximately 2,800,000.

Other Recommendations—

In addition to the military requests, the President has recommended for national security a $600 million increase in the amount of foreign aid actually appropriated for the current fiscal year and $400 million additional for the Atomic Energy Commission.

President Eisenhower also asked Congress to appropriate $451 million for the first year of the four-year school construction program recommended by him, and to increase postal rates in order to bring about $654 million of additional revenue for the Post Office Department. Annual expenditures for the veterans of this country are scheduled to remain at approximately $5 bliilon. For the soil bank program, the President estimated that expenditures will be $1.3 billion in fiscal 1958.

District Projects—

Recommended specifically in the President's budget is the sum of $2 192,000 for the Warrior Lock and Dam. According to Corps of Engineers' estimates, this amount will be sufficient to complete this important Warrior River project by early next year.

Also recommended is the sum of $30,100 for the Marion (Alabama) Fish Hatchery. If approved by Congress, this amount will augment $5?,000 appropriated last year to improve this Sixth District installation.

At the proper time, I shall urge the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives to approve funds for both of these projects.

Soybean is a fully mechanized crop. It takes good land to make good yields. It is a good crop to follow early truck crops, winter grazing, or to grow on good bottom land. But soybeans won't pay on thin uplands.

SOME THINGS TO THINK ABOUT, AND SOME TO DISCARD AS USELESS

We like the story told on one, Gabby Tiffin. It seems that during the most heated time of the debate on whether or not smoking was good for you, our Mr. Tiffin felt the sterling urge to give up the habit. This came over him, understand, as he was making his way to the drug store via the alley. Well, it seems that between the drug store and a certain spot along the way, he had time to think and he threw his cigarets away. Right then and there he vowed he'd quit smoking. No doubt he told himself all the reasons why he should quit. Howsomever, on the way back, he must have told himself about all the slogans on TV and all the good he got from them, cause when he got back to where he threw them down, he picked them up again. The moral of course, is, if you want something from the drug store...go and [illegible]. Boy, that's william power, huh?

Profit by the other fellows mistake: it won't make you perfect, but it'll sure make you look a darn sight better.

Now there was a Mrs. Mary Caton. And do any of you remember the big tornado we had in these parts about 20 odd years ago? Well, Mrs. Caton, who lives in the Mt. Pleasant community was in this storm and her home was completely blown away. According to our information, a gentleman from Childersburg returned an insurance policy to her later on, that she had been in possession of at the time of the 'big blow.' Will wonders never cease? (Let's hope not.)

Prof. Robin M. Williams, in the Birmingham News states that, "... eventually a lot of Southerners are going to say, 'let's stop beating our heads against a stone wall." We will not agree that anyone, who believes himself right, will admit that he is beating his head against a wall of any type. The Southerner believes he is right on the segregation issue, as he sees it; and he is to a degree. We contend that the North and South are beating their heads 'together' because they are disagreeing on something they basically agree on...that being, to keep the white race just that, white. If those who would 'damn' the Southerner for this belief would look a few years ahead, they could see the possibilities that he obviously can already see. On the other hand, the North is arguing for the private and public rights of every man. To us, this is plainly two different arguments; one of mongrelization and the other of human rights. These two discussions have been so intermingled that it is hard to discern one from the other. When the North and South realize that they agree on these basic things, then we will be making some progress. As for the Southerner to admit that he is 'beating his head against a stone wall'; is no more ridiculous than to say the Northerner is doing the very same thing.

Ever thought how well of you'd be if you could sell back every little doo-dad and knick-knack in your home for the price you gave for it. Trouble is, the darned things are worth so much when you buy them and wouldn't be worth a plug nickle if you tried to sell them. Just goes to prove what having plenty will do for a person. Next time you start to buy some silly piece of junk for ornamentation, consider sending a like amount to some worthy organization. You know, if we all practiced that, there'd be less soliciting for funds. Maybe that would help your feelings some, huh?

PLAN AHEAD FOR RETIREMENT

The compulsory retirement plans of industry today pose a problem for the millions of people reaching older age. Many of the persons face a rather empty future, for it is difficult to stop suddenly the mental and physical machinery that has been geared to business competition.

Taken away from his job, whether it be manual or mental, the individual finds too many hours in the day and too much time to do nothing. Wise is the person who foresees this inactivity by preparing himself with an avocation.

It is not good to lose interest, and a satisfying hobby will not only keep curiosity and zest alive but very often will create a field of financial return.

Age is more or less an individual problem, just as it is a normal growth pattern. Many persons at thirty suggest physical and mental characteristics of aging. Others at seventy may reveal a wrinkled skin which is offset by a sprightly walk and a mental agility.

Preventive medicine, through its control of many diseases that formerly took lives, is responsible for extending the life span. Today there are more than nineteen million people over fifty-five years of age. With a greater aging population, new factors develop for their care because this group faces such degenerative diseases as high blood pressure, arteriosclerosis, cancer and arthritis.

Perhaps one of the greatest problems of growing old is the feeling that one is no longer needed, that usefulness is over. Everyone wants to be a contributing power, whether it be in business, the home or the community. The end of a long life of service and activity needs a compensatory substitute.

That is why the development of a hobby is encouraged. Accept the challenge of retirement by getting ready for it now. Maybe the younger years are the more productive ones, but wisdom and experience come with emotional maturity. There is great satisfaction in pursuit of an interest that will keep you happy mentally and occupied physically. If your hobby is salable, you will again be gainfully employed.

Enlistment—

Navy Announces New Program

It was announced recently by Lieutenant Commander Mason E. Thompson, Officer in Charge, of the Alabama Navy Recruiting Activities that the Navy now has a new Re-enlistment program.

LCDR. Thompson says that men who now re-enlist within 90 days of discharge date will be paid their re-enlistment bonus within two days, can be granted up to thirty days leave in advance, and will be paid travel pay to a receiving station of their choice on the East or West Coast. Men with broken service who re-enlist can be granted up to thirty days leave and may be paid advance travel pay to a receiving station.

Weeds Cost Farmers Millions

Weeds are costing Alabama farmers millions of dollars each year.

O. N. Andrews, API Extension agronomist, said this week that weeds not only steal water and fertilizer from farm crops, but also crowd them out of growing room and sunlight. Weeds will lower the quality of many farm products, and large infestations may even reduce land value.

But Andrews pointed out that weeds can now be controlled by chemicals known as herbicides. Different chemicals are used on different weeds in many ways for various crops.

And to help the farmer rid his land of these expensive, unwanted pests, Andrews has recently written a bulletin entitled "Chemical Weed Control on Alabama Farms." A copy of this bulletin may be obtained from any county agent.

NAVY PLANES TAKE TO SKIS AT SOUTH POLE

There's going to be skiing in a big way at the South Pole. Four Navy jet-equipped P2V-7 Neptune patrol bombers are being fitted with Bunyan-size skis for duty in the Anartic. Provisions are being made for the wheels to remain stationary while the skis can move up or down, thus permitting landings on either skis or wheels.

Festival of Arts offers prizes to photographers

An exhibition of the best work of Alabama photographers will be a part of the annual Birmingham Festival of Arts. Professionals and amateurs are invited to submit prints, starting immediately. The Birmingham Camera Club, affiliated with the Photographic Society of America, is sponsoring the contest.

There will be eight categories: Landscapes, news and sports, agriculture, industry, architecture, portraits and people, children and pets and general pictorial. Color prints are not eligible.

First, second, third prizes and honorable mentions will be awarded in each classification. From these will be selected the best-in-show, second and third best. Cash prizes for these will be for purchase by the Festival of Arts, for the permanent collection of the Birmingham Art Museum, the top winner receiving $65 for his picture.

Each entrant may send in a total of four prints with one entry fee of $1, which includes cost of return postage. Size of prints is optional but all must be mounted on 16 by 20-inch standard mounting boards, either vertical or horizontal. Title of print, class and name and address of maker must be on back of mount. The Birmingham Camera Club committee may reassign classes. Prints are to be sent parcel post to Festival of Arts Photo Contest, Room 700, City Hall, Birmingham. They must arrive not later than Feb. 4.

Sent separately by first class mail must be a list of the prints, with classifications and name and address of the maker. Included shall be a check or money order for $1 payable to the Birmingham Festival of Arts.

A distinguished panel of judges will evaluate the prints and make selection, which shall be final. The chosen prints will go on display in a prominent location in Birmingham Feb. 10.

Mr. Farmer—

To Qualify For Social Security You Must Pay Income Tax

Most farmers are now under social security and must pay a self-employment tax of three percent of their net earnings from farm income, George D. Patterson, District Director of Internal Revenue Service, said today.

If you are a farmer and your gross income from farming for 1956 is not over $1800, you may, if you wish, treat two-thirds of your gross income from farming as your net earnings from self-employment.

If your gross income from farming is over $1800, you must figure your net, but if your actual net is less than $1200 you may report $1200 for social security purposes [illegible]

Don't Sit Out A Cold! Try This!

What causes a cold? That's a baffler. Men of science have been trying to solve the mystery for centuries. At one time or another it's been unjustly attributed to decaying leaves, face powder, the influence-of-comets, night air and damp churches. And just as much of a mystery as its cause is a cure. There have been some pretty strange cures advanced during the past hundred years ...wearing an asafetida bag around your neck, eating sugar moistened with coal oil, drinking aconite tea or garlic juice and rubbing the chest with goose grease.

There's only one remedy that has survived all competition past and present and that's drinking lemon juice and baking soda . . . the juice of one fresh lemon, a half teaspoon of soda and a half glass of water two or three times a day. In this day and age when it's generally agreed that you can treat a cold but you can't cure it, this remedy makes sense. It's inexpensive, costing little more than the price of a lemon, and since you can't expect to cure a cold overnight you might as well treat it as economically as possible.

Another advantage to this remedy is that you can turn it into a very pleasant drink by adding a teaspoon of sugar, honey or maraschino cherry juice. Even children who balk at anything resembling medicine will down it cheerfully.

A most entertaining program was held at the Chilton County Training School last Friday night. Old-fashioned school fashions were the highlight of the program. The 'Totter Hollow School, Stop Out, Alabama, with Prof. Beatrice McGee as principal, provided the imaginary geographical background for this amusing array of talent.

Consisting of readings and songs by the children (adults dressed as children of olden days) this lively program even had the old-time spelling bee. Students of the old school were Master Otho McKinney, Master George Parker and Wilson Bryant; the girls were little Mable Williams, Luella McKinney, Annie and Isabella Barber, Bertha Bryant Effie Watson, Amie Pearson, Gladys L. Stone and Laura Parker Estara Wright and others. A selection from the Billingsley parents and little Miss Eugene Craig. Remarks were given by Prof. E. D. Sledge

Committee sponsors were Miss Elizabeth Lawrence, Mrs. Gladys Stone and C. H. Smitherman.

HOME BUILDERS—

FLOOR JOISTS RECOMMENDED TO DISCOURAGE TERMITES

Homes built on concrete slab invite termite attacks through the tiny cracks that develop in the concrete.

But, API Extension Forester Ivan R. Martin said this week that prospective home builders can discourage the invasion of these unwelcome guests. The first thing to do is to build their homes with the conventional wooden floor joist construction.

He pointed out that approved floor joist construction makes it easy for the home owner to wage a successful battle against termites Getting under the house to use termite control measures is a simple matter. But in homes built on concrete, termite control measures—once the house is constructed—are almost impossible and quite expensive.

Martin [illegible] conventionally constructed homes is much cheaper [illegible] der the floor leads to less expensive plumbing repairs and wiring m[illegible]fications. In addition, these homes permit "out of the way" placem[illegible] of water heaters and furnaces.

Floor joist construction also give inexpensive storage space. Martin said that every man needs [illegible] space for gardening tols, law[illegible]niture, and most of the so [illegible] junk that his wife wants th[illegible] away.

Homeowners, struggling w[illegible] nightmarish thoughts of ter[illegible] may inspect their own homes t[illegible]termine if the unwelcome gu[illegible] are present. The most obvious [illegible] is the swarming of term[illegible] the first real warm sp[illegible] year. An[illegible] sign is term[illegible] built of mud and about the size of a pencil, on either the inside [illegible]side of foundation walls.

Rev. Hornsby again brought us two wonderful messages from God's Holy Word. The topic for the morning message was, "Ye Must be Born Again." Then Sunday night he preached on, "Growing Spiritually."

We are proud of our good attendance in Sunday School, for we had 70 present which is a little more than our goal, and we like it that way and want to keep growing.

We were happy to have all our visitors and invite them back again.

The attendance for Training Union was also better than usual, but we still must work to reach our goal of 60.

You are asked to remember the Wednesday night prayer service and come if you possibly can. We have a wonderful time together as we pray and worship the Lord.

We wish to express our thanks to our members who attended the Associational Youth Rally at the Northside Mission last Saturday night and won the banner again.

We believe the Youth Rally is an important and worthwhile organization and we hope that our church will continue to support it.

Nine of our WMS ladies met with Mrs. Evie DeVaughn and Ora last Monday afternoon and had devotional and prayer with them. We appreciate the good works the ladies are doing and pray that they will be able to do more for God in the future.

Remember that the WMS meets on Wednesday nights after the second and fourth Sundays, after the prayer services. The Brotherhood, RA's, GA's and Sunbeams also meet at that time. Therefore, there is a class for every member of the family.

Visiting Mrs. John Cox and Lee over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Williams of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mueller of Montgomery.

Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby and Bobby were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wells and Donald this week end.

Miss Patty Patterson visited Miss Barbara Traywick during the week end.

Mulberry Baptist Church—

A large crowd attended Sunday School at Mulberry this past Sunday.

Following the Sunday School, a business meeting was held, with Mr. Gordon Conway acting as moderator. Rev. J. B. Lucas was called to serve Mulberry as pastor for the coming year.

Bro. Lucas will be with us for both services this Sunday. He will be bringing the messages at both the morning and evening services. He and his family have moved into the pastorium.

It was announced Sunday night that due to the construction of the new road which might become unpassable in the event of too much rain, that church services would be held in the Isabella High School.

A letter of dismissal was granted to Bro. J. B. Mizzell. He has joined Mt. Carmel Baptist Church in Adams where he is serving as pastor. He is preaching there on the second and fourth Sundays. We miss him in our church but wish for him much success and happiness there.

Help PREVENT FOREST FIRES

CARL H. KRAUSE, Hancock, N. Y., is pictured with a spike buck brought down on the second day of the hunting season, near Deposit, N. Y. Using a Plyflex fiber glass bow with a 45-lb. pull, Carl made his kill at 40 yards. The 125-lb. buck fell dead after a run of less than two yards. The powerful pressure molded Plyflex bow, its accuracy assured by thousands of glass fibers fused into a mighty spring, propelled the shaft through the neck of its quarry, severing the spinal cord. Carl Krause, like all good sportsmen, joins with Smokey the Bear, in urging caution to all entering the woods this time of the year to prevent forest fires.

Sunday, Jan. 20, Mrs. Beatrice McGhee made her mission visit to the Buluah Baptist Church of which Rev. E. W. Burt is pastor. Each one enjoyed the trip.

A collcetion sponsored by the church will be made Sunday, Jan. 27, at the Union Baptist Church for Rev. Parker.

Rev. Parker has given of his time and efforts to help us in our drive and other services of the church and we hope all our members and friends will remember him and show their appreciation by making a donation this Sunday to help Rev. Parker further his studies in the ministry at Selma University.

Rev. S. W. Wilson was the Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Davis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixie Wilson and son, James, had as their dinner guests on Sunday Mrs. Lillie Mae Gunn and Miss Martha Moore.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later for Mrs. Fannie Cooper of Verbena, Ala., who passed away at her home.

A banquet sponsored by the Union Baptist Church Men's Group, honoring the ladies of the church was held Monday night at the Clanton City School.

Several weeks ago, it was agreed that the group that lost in the church drive would entertain the other. The men's group, being the loser, entertained most graciously.

The church wishes to say they are grateful for the use of the school and the fine cooperation of everyone there.

Keep in mind the coming event of the Franklinite Savings Club. Their annual program, "Woman of the Year," is expected to be bigger and better than ever before.

As you know, all donations raised in connection with this program go for a worthy cause, so let us help to make some one very happy.

This column will carry the program date next week. Mrs. Gussie Saxon is president.

County FHA Group Met On Thursday

by Patricia Champion

The Future Homemakers officers, representatives, and advisors from the five county high schools met on Thursday, Jan. 17, at the Chilton County High School for our first county meeting of this year.

The most important thing we discussed and decided upon were: To have a County Miss FHA; to have a County FHA Speaking Contest with the topic based on our State Theme, "Better Homes Today—A Better World Tomorrow;" and to have our meetings in different schools so that we might visit other schools and see the work they are doing.

Our secretary and president will be elected from Chilton County High, the vice president from Isabella High, and the reporter from Jemison High. They were elected from these schools in this order, because we voted to get them from the schools as they come in alphabetical order.

After the meeting adjourned we were served delicious refreshments which consisted of home-made cookies and Coca-Colas.

Jemison FFA Boys Made Tour Of Experiment Station

Sixteen members of the Jemison FFA visited the Horticultural Experiment Station at Collins Chapel last week to learn more about the work being done at the station

Mr. C. C. Carlton, Superintendent of the Experiment Station, first carried the group to the grape vineyard where he explained the type of work being done with grapes. He said that several new varieties are showing up well in the variety tests. He also told he group that he was pleased with a new clover variety he was using in the vineyard. Mr. Carlton showed the group the proper methods for training grapes. He was using the four-cane system.

Next the group went to the peach orchard where they saw trees being pruned properly. Each member of the group pruned some to get the "feel" of pruning.

The last stop by the group was the strawberry field. Here Mr. Calton told the group about the varieties being tested and also about the chemical weed control in strawberries.

Coffee Parties, New Feature For March Of Dimes

The March of Dimes is introducing a new feature to its campaign this year. It is the Diminishing Coffee Party. The manner in which this type of coffee party is held is both simple and appealing.

The Coffee Party is started by one hostess who invites ten guests to her home for coffee and refreshments (cookies or a slice of cake) The hostess may charge a small fee for the coffee or she may ask the guests to make a small contribution to the March of Dimes. She then informs each lady present that she in turn is expected to have a Coffee Party at her home and invite nine women. The same pattern will be followed, as those ladies in turn will be expected to invite eight guests to their home, etc., as the number of guests diminishes each time.

The Coffee Parties are not to be elaborate or formal and can be held any time it is convenient. All coffee and refreshments are furnished by the entertaining hostess.

Suggestions for each hostess:

1. Invite friends, neighbors, club representatives, polio patients, etc
2. Discuss polio work and the vaccine.
3. Collect for the March of Dimes
4. See that Contributions reach the County Coffee Chairman. (She turns them over to the County Campaign Director).
5. Give instructions to each guest for her Coffee Party
6. Follow up to see that each guest holds a party

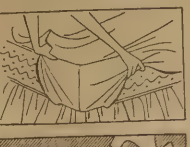
How to Put a Fitted Sheet On a Mattress

By Ruth Leigh, Director of The Cannon Homemaking Institute

A FITTED SHEET IS A GARMENT worn by your mattress. Think of it this way and you'll have an easier time slipping it on and off. You know from experience that when you put on a blouse or a dress, it's important not to strain seams. Any pulling or tugging may cause rips. It's the same with slipping your fitted sheet on or off the mattress.



1. Slip on one corner at a time. Use both hands. Stretch each corner as you slip it over mattress. Pull against side binding for greater elasticity. Set each corner seam of sheet snugly over mattress corner.

2. With all three corners fitted snugly, smooth out any wrinkles from sheet. Now you're ready to put on the fourth corner. You'll do this quickly and effortlessly.

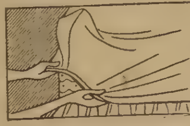
3. Grasp the sheet firmly at corner binding, using two hands or two thumbs. Slip it down over the corner. You'll find that it goes on so easily that no mattress lifting is required.

• • •



4. To take sheet off, use both hands. Pull away tuck-under from all sides. Take hold of each corner, lifting up and out. This eliminates strain, makes process quick and easy. (ANS)

$25 Investment On Irrigation Can Net $122 Increase

Irrigation will pay generous dividends to farmers in both money and peace of mind. And informed Alabama farmers wanting to cash in on irrigation this year are busy drawing up their plans.

This week, API Extension Engineer Lawrence Ennis said that several weeks are required to get a good irrigation system properly engineered and installed. Farmers who wait until their crops begin to suffer from lack of water will find that an irrigation system cannot be installed in time to help.

Ennis says that the initial investment for sprinkler irrigation equipment will run between $50 and $250 per acre, depending on the lay of the land and the water supply. Telephone Service In County Growing Fast

Clanton Alone Has 2,755 Telephones

Whether it's about statehood or the weather, telephone users in Hawaii and Alaska out-talk all others on the globe.

And telephone users in Clanton rank high on the world's conversation list.

These and other facts are reported in "The World's Telephones," an annual survey released by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

At the beginning of this year there were 2,755 telephones in Clanton or 59.3 for every 100 of the city's 4,640 population, the report says.

"This represents a gain for Clanton over 1954, a gain which has been added to this year," Mr. O. W. Norton, Clanton Manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company here said. "This increase is a part of the company's service expansion and improvement program which has brought the total of telephones in its territory to over 5,340,000."

At the beginning of 1956, the survey shows there were 101 million telephones in the world, or two phones for every one in service 10 years ago. The total reflects a record increase of 6½ million over the previous year.

When it comes to using the phone, Hawaii was the world's most talkative spot. The United States island territory reported 547 conversations per capita during 1955. Alaska was the second with 572, Canada, third place with 446, outranked the 409 averaged for the United States.

Each of these was among the 11 countries or areas reporting 15 or more telephones for every 100 inhabitants. The United States headed this list with 33.7 telephones per 100 population, or about 1 phone for every three persons. Sweden, which for many years has been second only to the United States, was next with 30.4 per 100 population.

These figures are for the year 1955—it takes almost a year to gather the information from some 250 governments and companies thruout the world.

Telephones in Spain reached the million mark during 1955. Statistics of the Democratic Republic of Germany (East Germany) show that that country, too, had more than a million telephones. These two additions bring the number of countries reporting more than a million telephones to fourteen: United States, United Kingdom, Canada, West Germany, Japan, France, Italy, Sweden, Austrialia, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Spain and East Germany, in that order.

In the United States as of January 1, 1956, there were 56,243,000 telephones (now there are more than 59,000,000) operated by some 4,700 private companies. Most of the telephones in European countries were operated by government agencies.

A person in the United States could pick up a telephone and call any of 97 million other phones—41 million of them located in more than 100 other countries or territories.

34 Families In Billingsley Area To Get Service

Telephone service is another step closer for 34 families adjacent to the Billingsley Road in the Western section of the Clanton telephone exchange, as pointed out by Mr. O. W. Norton, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company. The following are the families who will receive telephones service in this area: Julius Payton, Isaac A. Culp, W. W. Culp, Virgie Willis, Mrs. S. L. Broadhead, C. O. Smith, Hollis Smith, Hershell W. Patterson A B. Culp, Charles E. Mims, Clyde Foshee, J. T. Williams, W. D. Warren, Henry T. Smith, Leslie E. Robinson, Mrs. Zora Kendrick, W. C. Mims, Ethel Smith, W. M. Nelson, Milton L. Cleckler, Elbert Bone, Audis Littleton, J. A. Littleton, J. T. Franklin, James M. Owens, Julian Baker, I. E. Johnson, J. M. Moates, Davis Missildine, Mrs. Myrtle D. Wilson, Charley Mumpfield, C. C. McCary, Doyle Smitherman, W. M. Pairrett.

This service according to Mr. Norton will require 32 circuit miles of wire at an expenditure of $8,873.00. It is expected that this will be completed by July 1957.

New Laws, Better Service--

Social Security Representative To Work In Chilton Each Wed.

A change in the schedule of the field representative serving Chilton County was announced today by J. W. Overstreet, Jr., District Manager of the Birmingham Social Security office. Effective January 23, 1957, the representative will meet with the people of Chilton County at the City Hall in Clanton each Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. Mr. Overstreet stated that this change was made in order to give better service to the people of Chilton County. He added that 1957 is the effective date for several provisions of the new Social Security Law.

The first cash benefits for disabled children over 18 will be payable under the old-age and survivors program in January. The child must have been disabled before age 18, must be unmarried and dependent on a parent entitled to old-age benefits or dependent on a parent who died insured after 1939.

By the end of January, the second annual wage reports on farm workers will be due from all farmers who paid at least $100 cash in 1956 to one or more farm workers.

Beginning January 1, a new test of coverage for farm work goes into effect. In 1957 farm workers are covered if they earn $150 cash from one farmer or work on 20 or more days for the same farmer and the pay is figured on a time basis. Farm operators, including owners, sharecroppers, and tenants, were brought under social security beginning in 1955, and their second annual self-employment reports will be due in January. Farmers who have land farmed by someone else will make their first self-employment reports when filing 1956 income tax returns provided they took an important part in the production or management of the crop.

Mr. Overstreet said the first cash benefits for severely disabled workers between 50 and 65 years of age will not be payable until July 1957. Disabled workers of any age who have worked under social security before becoming disabled for work should contact the Social Security Administration if they have not already done so to inquire about protection of benefit rights.

Mr. Overstreet emphasized the representative will be available to answer questions and give assistance to anyone wishing to file claim for old-age, death, or disability benefits.

They show you why the new kind of Ford is worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it!

The secret of Ford's nationwide success is this: it's a new kind of Ford . . . new from the wheels up . . . more than a last year's model with a few "face lift" changes. In a Ford the chassis, engine and body are individually engineered into one spacious rock-solid unit.

If you're a careful car-buyer with whom features count, count the new features of the '57 Ford. Then drive it! There's only one conclusion: the liveliest car in the low-price field is the completely new Ford. For the decisive facts see your Ford Dealer.

Indicates Abilities, Needs—

'56 Progress Of Chilton's Health Dept. Reported

by Dr. G. M. Taylor

Modern public health work may be defined as the organized, sustained effort on the part of the community, a state, or a nation to promote health and to prevent disease. The activities of your Health Department are complex, but fall roughly into two groups.

For the protection of the health of the public it is necessary to deal first with "things." Environmental factors such as water, milk and food supplies must be rendered free from infection. Thus sanitation and related control measures—for example meat and milk inspection—become the first objective in achieving community health.

Back of the milk you drink, the foods you buy at the grocery store and the market, the meals you eat at restaurants, even the roadside stand where you pause for an ice cream cone, there were in 1956 more than 500 inspections made. There are 40 cafes, 23 school lunch rooms, 14 Grade A dairies, 7 soda fountains, 2 ice cream establishments, 22 meat markets, and 1 quick freeze plant; all of which were issued permits for operation during 1956-57. In the school lunch rooms only Grade A pasteurized milk is served.

New septic tanks installed during the past year numbered 90, serving approximately 330 persons. This in comparison to the 58 of 1953 gives us an idea of the growth of our county. A public sewage disposal plant looms as a necessity in the very near future for Clanton.

The second activity of Public Health is fundamental, but more difficult. This must be done by people and not to them only. This step involves the promotion of the use of those weapons of medical science which distinguish the modern age; DPT (diptheria, whooping cough, tetanus), and typhoid immunizations, smallpox and polio vaccinations; adequate nutrition and modern maternal and infant care. All these must be achieved largely by education.

In the individual homes, in the Health Center, and in the class rooms, the Public Health Nurse is a teacher; teaching the arts and science of protecting and promoting health and the prevention of illness.

Service and instruction for expectant mothers, who plan to use a midwife, is provided in Maternity Clinics as part of the activity of the Public Health Nurse, Health Officer and Clinician. In 1956 there were 64 expectant mothers who made 270 visits to the 36 clinic sessions. There were 164 visits to clinics and conferences by infants and children. The objective of the child health conference is "keeping well children well." These conferences are held to give supervision to children from birth through high school age. It includes nutrition, habit formation and immunization. The clinician and nurse advises regarding weight, food problems and health problems of all kinds. Child health is numerically our greatest concern. There are more deaths in the first year than any other year of life. By giving health education in infancy and childhood, we can improve all the rest of the years. There were 495 home nursing visits made in the interest of infants and children in the past year. Of course life begins nine months before birth. Education for maternal and child health should begin at that time. A total of 100 home nursing maternity visits were made before birth of child and 49 after delivery.

Dental health is still of great concern in Chilton County. The Health Department continues to urge good brushing habits, the drinking of milk, reduction of sweets in the diet and beginning dental care at the age of three years.

Tuberculosis is increasingly the concern of the public health nurse with a total of 185 home visits made to teach patient and family the care of the patient and the protection of the family. There were 931 chest x-rays made at the Health Department the past year. The x-ray film is read by a chest specialist in Montgomery and copy of the report is given to the family physician.

Perhaps these facts will be of interest to you:

3,388 persons received first and second polio vaccine injections.

1,180 persons received third polio vaccine injections.

649 persons completed basic series of DPT, plus 500 receiving boosters.

171 persons completed typhoid series, plus 381 receiving boosters.

536 smallpox vaccinations given.

These were some of the laboratory services rendered to the people of Chilton County last year:

233 water samples examined.

125 milk samples examined.

6 diptheria smears examined.

30 smears examined for gonorrhea.

419 stool specimen examined for intestinal parasites.

656 blood specmen examined for syphilis.

615 sputa specimen examined for tuberculosis.

10 blood specimen examined for typhoid and undulant fever.

9 animal heads examined for rabies.

One of the most time consuming phases of our work is related to vital statistics: registering new births, registering deaths ocurring in our county, and assisting numbers of people who apply for delayed birth certificates.

In the personnel of Mrs. Carrie Woods and Mrs. Myrtle Lowery, Public Health Nurses, Mr. C. C. Gay, Jr., Sanitation Officer, Mrs. Nell Simms, Secretary, and Mrs. Doris Gay, Health Attendant, we have five capable workers and all credit to them for accomplishments noted.

Cotton, peanuts—

Pre-Measurement Service Offered Area Farmers

Chilton County cotton and peanut growers and farmers participating in the acreage or conservation reserve can arrange for official measurement of their 1957 farm cotton and peanut allotments, as well as Soil Bank Acreage Reserve and conservation reserve areas, prior to planting time the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced this week.

To get the pre-measurement service, which is being provided on a cost basis, a farmer must [illegible] written request with the County ASC office prior to Feb. 15, 1957, says Mr. Eddie Owen, [illegible] Chairman. The rate [illegible] for the service in Chilton [illegible] has been established [illegible] each farm, plus 50 cents per [illegible] for each acre or fraction thereof in excess of 5.0 acres, and [illegible] based on this rate must [illegible] the time the request for pre-measurement is filed.

"The pre-measurement [illegible] optional," says Mr. Owen, [illegible] offered as a service to farmers [illegible] prefer to have an official measurement to use as a guide."

The chairman explains that all cotton and peanut acreage, as well as the acreage reserve and conservation reserve areas, in the county will be measured as soon as possible after the crop is established to determine compliance with the acreage allotment-marketing-quota and Soil Bank Programs. When compliance is checked, the farmer will be considered [illegible] within the [illegible] allotment [illegible] if the crop is [illegible] within the premeasured area.

Alabama Power Co. Gives Quarterly Dividend

At a meeting held January 18, 1957, the Board of Directors of Alabama Power Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.05 per share on the 4.20% preferred stock of the company and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.15 per share on the 4.60% preferred stock of the company for the quarter ending March 31, 1957, payable April 1, 1957 to stockholders of record on March 15, 1957.

"Tree"-mendous Idea!

Time was when [illegible] town's streets were shaded by fine big elms. But the trees grew old — every year storms took a toll — and finally there began to be big stretches without any shade at all.

What's more, the town's been expanding—and no one seemed to think about trees in planning the new neighborhoods.

So we're going to do a little reforestation. From now on the parents of every child born here will be invited to pay half the cost of a young tree—to be planted in their offspring's honor. The town treasury will foot the rest of the bill.

From where I sit, it takes a little effort to keep a town or a business attractive ... but it's effort well spent. Ask Andy, proprietor of the Garden Tavern. He works continually — in voluntary co-operation with that Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors — keeping his place neat and "spruced up." And he gets a steady reward in the form of increased patronage and good will.

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

Wouldn't you say that most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away?

What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—feel less strong and solid? Compare the quality and construction of the bumpers and headlights, the fit of the chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish . . . that only Chevrolet Bel Air models give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

We'll be glad to give you a close-up, comparative look at this new Chevy any time you care to come in. This week, maybe?

To The Citizens

of mine called me and advised me of the switch, however I, of course, knew that Mr. Hilyer had properly qualified and was on the field at work.

I immediately contacted Mr. Hilyer and had a conversation with him, after which I felt that if he were elected by a majority of the people of our County, he would go in Office and remain for his Electorate, a free man, never at any time being a party to any faction or clique to enforce revenge.

Now, after the first meeting of the Official Board after Mr. Hilyer's inauguration as a member, I came in contact with good friends who advised me that I had helped to get them fired from their daily bread jobs.

On my first hearing of the action of Our County Board of Revenue last Monday I could not get around to believing what I later was convinced to be the actual facts. I am therefore, asking the forgiving pardon of any one who may have been harmed as a result of what has happened and am also taking this opportunity to ask members of our County Board of Revenue to rescent the action they have taken in the repetition of political revenge by cruel mistreatment of laboring people who were only doing what they were hired to do.

We all know beyond a reasonable doubt that we live in America and in doing so it is our Constitutional right to vote for who so ever we may choose to vote for. We also know that honest labor being paid for by Public Tax Funds has an equal right to expect honorable respect both as an employee and as an honorable citizen.

Now, in respect to my being named as a party to one of the many citizens who argued to restrain the building of a new courthouse at the present, I have this to say.

First, I have at no time, or now have any personal feeling against any member of the Board, neither do I belong to any faction or clique as a combining effort to retard progress in County Government.

I was at the beginning and am still of the opinion that for any citizen to question our Governing body on this particular matter, would have been encouraging disregard of Democratic Government which, as you know is, of the people, for the people and by the people. All of whom are to abide by the votings of the majority.

In conclusion I maintain that my interest in Democratic Government proper, has not been retarded in the least and am looking forward to the day when all our County Government will think first of every one else, then of self; also to the day when all citizens vote independent of any faction or clique, but for or against the qualification of the candidate.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Received a telegram from Senator Lister Hill, John Sparkman and Congressman Armistead I. Selden this week which stated: "Happy to advise that Department of Health, Education and Welfare, today have given preliminary approval to Chilton County Health Center for Hill-Burton assistance. Estimated total cost $92,500.00 and Federal share $50,000.00. Glad to send this favorable word. Regards," signed Lister Hill, USS, John Sparkman, USS, Armistead Selden, MC. Now whether that will ever come to pass depends on our governing body in Chilton County today. Let's hope they make the best of the opportunities that come our way.

Mrs. J. E. Easterling, Mrs. Ruth Driver, Miss Willie Easterling, Mrs. Cecil Murrah, Mrs. Kate Easterling and Mrs. Mildred Bridges have just returned from a trip to Texas and down in to Old Mexico. They were taken to a Night Club and restaurant in Monterrey, Mexico, where they were to dine one night and everything was fine until our friends saw the menu, Steak $18.00. That killed their appetite right then and there until their host explained that it would only be about $1.50 in American money. All of a sudden their appetites returned and a swell time was had by all—except the steaks. Reports are that a wonderful trip was enjoyed by the group.

Clanton's airport is not going without notice. Probate Judge M. D. Tingle received this letter the other day, which speaks for itself, and makes us proud of the things accomplished so far by the County Administration.

Judge Dave Tingle
Clanton, Alabama

Dear Judge:

A few nights ago I had an occasion to fly over Clanton and it was certainly a friendly sight to see those run way lights blinking at me. You progressive people in Clanton are to be congratulated on the wonderful job you have done in providing an airport, despite all the tough luck you have had in the past.

Judge, you are going to find that airport is going to be one of your main selling features for your Chamber of Commerce in encouraging industries to locate in your city. Very few industries now will consider a location that does not have adequate landing facilities.

Looking forward to seing you in Tuscaloosa and in Clanton, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Clanton and Alabama cannot afford to lose citizens like L. C. Warr, who was killed in an automobile accident at Cedartown, Ga., late Sunday. Mr. Warr was dearly beloved by thousands of Chilton Countians and he will be missed both for his spiritual leadership and in his business life. The crowds attending his burial Tuesday attested to his popularity as a citizen and as a friend. Our sincerest sympathy goes to his family.

A father returned home from his usual day at work and found his small son sitting on the front steps looking mighty unhappy.

"What's wrong, son?" he asked.

"Just between you and me," the lad replied, "confidentially, I simply can't get along with your wife."

What's all the hullabaloo about a medical doctor being on the Chilton County Hospital Board? In our opinion their advice and suggestions as to the hospital operations would be invaluable. The point is to work and pull together for the betterment of all. Certainly they know more about what is needed than the average layman. And too, when you place your life in a Doctor's hands, he knows, and you must know, that the uppermost thought in his mind is saving that patient's life. That also is the prime interest of the Administrator, the nurses, and all hospital personnel—why not work and win together.

On New Building--

Board of Revenue and Control Rejects Plan for Courthouse

by Vernon P. Payne

Discord was openly the mood of the day as the Chilton County Board of Revenue & Control met in regular session at the courthouse last Monday morning. This was the second regular session held since new office-holders took office in January.

The meetings was held, as is usual, in the office of the Probate Judge and the small room was packed to capacity with Board members, delegations, reporters, and citizens who had gathered to witness the proceedings.

Courthouse Construction Is Blocked—

A resolution made by Sherman Motley early in the meeting answered fully the question which has been prevalent as to the building of a new courthouse for Chilton County.

Motley resolved to withdraw the warrants which were originally to be issued as a means of financing the construction. These warrants were not validated within the legal date specified by the bonding company and had become null and void.

In this same resolution it was proposed that if the warrants were withdrawn, the case against Chilton County pending in the Supreme Court would be likewise withdrawn. The resolution was passed with an Aye vote from Lonnie Cost, Sherman Motley and Reedie Hilyer. Harold Smith cast a vote of Nay.

Three Appointed To Hospital Board—

A resolution adopted with the same dissenting vote as the first one appointed Doctors Joe Moore, William C. Golden, and C. O. Lawrence to fill open seats on the Chilton County Hospital Board.

This resolution, whereby one Board Member apointed three Hospital Board Members, necessitated a reversal in the original set-up which stated that each Board of Revenue Member would appoint a Hospital Board member on the rotation system, with the Chairman of the Board of Revenue appointing the ninth hospital board member.

Smith Asks Reinstatement Of Fired Employees—

At this point in the meeting Harold Smith, Member representing District 2, asked that the Board resolve to re-hire Max Hayes, F. C. Gibson, Barney Davenport, Pete McCraw, Russell Lewis, William Satterwhite, Fonza Bates, and five other County employees who were released last week.

In his resolution Smith cited the law as to reading that a county employee may be fired at any time, only if just cause is evident or the job for which he is employed is no longer in being. Of the above twelve cases cause was shown in only one case when Lonnie Cost arose to give evidence.

It was further resolved by Smith that the Board re-instate Joseph J. Mullins as County Attorney.

A resolution by Smith asked that publishing of the minutes of the Board be done by the Chilton County News since it is, as prescribed by law, a newspaper published in Chilton County.

None of Smith's resolutions were put to a vote as he was unable to get a second to any of the motions.

Minutes Receive Dissenting Vote—

After the minutes of the last meeting were read they were passed upon with a vote of three to two. Mr. Smith declined their adoption on the validity of one of the resolutions made at the previous meeting.

It was brought to light in these minutes of the previous meeting that Smith had been able to get a resolution seconded at that first meeting. The resolution made by Smith which was met with a second was for adjournment at the end of the session.

Replacements Hired—

County Engineer Harold Lewis presented the Board with a list of employees which he desired to hire to fill the jobs made available with the release of a number of County workmen last week.

Local Guard Unit Offers Opportunity To Serve At Home

If you are 17 to 18½ years old you have until April 1st to decide whether to serve your military obligation at home or in the active armed forces.

Under the present Draft Law all eligible men between 18½ and 26 are required to serve their military obligation either in the active forces or by a combination of active duty of 6 months and the remainder until age 26 in the reserve.

In the past, any physically qualified young man who enlisted in the National Guard between the ages of 17 and 18½ and served satisfactorally would not have to serve in the Army, but could serve his military obligation at home and continue in his civilian job or schooling.

In a recent regulation published by the Secretary of the Army this policy was changed to add 6 months of active duty to the 17-18½ year old Guardsman in order for them to have draft exemption for the remainder of his military obligation.

This regulation becomes effective April 1, 1957, unless changed. Until that time all young men between 17 and 18½ who enlist in the National Guard can remain at home and serve their military obligation rather than being drafted.

It is important that all men between 17 and 18½ understand this information so that they can decide whether to serve at home or be drafted.

"The local Guard Unit meets each Monday night from 7 to 9 p. m. If you desire information, visit the Armory any week day between the hours of 8 and 5, on Monday nights or call Sgt. Martin at the Armory during these hours. The Armory Phone is 831.

Willis Martin Died Wednesday

Willis Martin, of Clanton, Route , died a this home early Wednesday. He lived in the Mineral Springs Community. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Martin Funeral Home.

Proper housing for laying hens or broilers promotes a high rate and quality of egg production or meat conversion, results in economy of feed, and helps insure freedom from disease.

ON POLIO!

The Mothers' March this coming Thursday night (tonight) 6 to 7 p m. will terminate the 1957 March of Dimes Campaign. Please leave your front porch light burning as an aid to the workers. Remember, polio is definitely not licked and there remains great need for financial assistance.

The mother that knocks on your front door is, in addition to being a contributor, a volunteer worker contributing her time and effort to this great cause.

This is a county wide activity. Chilton County has always done its part toward furnishing financial support to those who may have become afflicted with this terrible disease.

Last fall Alabama hog growers set an all-time record in saving an average of seven pigs per litter. The widespread use of farrowing jackets is credited with helping to make this high average possible.

ASC Seeks Manager For Local Office

The Chilton County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today that applications for appointment as office manager will be accepted at the county office in Clanton, Alabama, through Wednesday, February 6.

Spectators Invited To Attend Free Basketball Games

Acording to V. L. Bulger, the independent basketball teams are improving their game and are now playing good ball before large crowds.

Bulger also stated that since there is no admission charge, everyone is invited out each Thursday night to watch the teams compete.

Present standing in the independent league shows:

Team	Won	Lost
National Guard	4	0
Standard Oil	4	1
Liberty Hill	2	3
Ala. Mfg. Co.	1	4
Independents	1	4

The State boys working here have a fine team and play in the league but the managers voted for them to be omitted from the standing since they were late in entering and are not residents of Clanton.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

IT'S DONE CURLED

President Eisenhower sent to the Congress the other day the most remarkable recommended budget in the history of this nation.

It constituted the largest demand ever made in peacetime. It totaled, on the face of it, $71,807,000,000, or $146 for every man, woman and child in the United States. But, after adding social security, special highway taxes, and other odds and ends not included in the figures, will boost the collective obligation of us all to a total of more than 85 billion dollars.

The Secretary of the Treasury, who is presumed to have a good deal to do with the formulation of the budget, is unhappy with it. He told a news conference that the upward spiral of Government spending, "should promptly be stopped."

If "terrific" spending and taxing is not stopped, he said, "I predict that you will have a depression that will curl your hair."

"I think there are a lot of places in this budget that can be cut," said Secretary Humphrey, and indicated he expected cuts would be made. "I think we will do so in the Treasury," he said. But Mr. Humphrey denied that he had been overruled in his economy ideas, and defended the budget as the best that our planners could do at this time.

"There has been no division or difficulty in the Administration at all," he said stoutly.

So, as has been hinted around the Capitol, perhaps President Eisenhower doesn't like it either. It doesn't jibe with pre-election promises. Nor does it reflect that "firm resolution" mentioned by the President in his State-of-the-Union message of a week earlier, "that the Federal Government shall utilize only a fair portion of the Nation's resources, that it shall live within its means, carefully measuring against need of alternative proposals for expenditures."

Thus, we may wonder just whose budget it is. But the important fact is that this staggering tome is today in the hands of Congress—which must shoulder final responsibility to the people for the terrifying possibilities it presents.

IMPORTANT CITIZENSHIP SERVICE

We find the Boy Scouts of America at its peak of membership as it celebrates its 47th anniversary during Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12.

Today 3,300,000 boys are enjoying the "game of Scouting" through its three distinctive programs—Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring.

This great work is made possible largely through the active sponsorship of churches of all denominations, schools and other community institutions. Perhaps of greatest significance is the fact that 1,200,000 adults serve as leaders, all volunteers except for the handful of 3,157 men who are full time career Scout Executives.

In no other country in the world do we find so many men and women of good character willing to share their time as volunteer leaders with the boyhood of their nation.

Theirs is a devoted service.

"Recognition Day" during Boy Scout Week has been designated as the time to honor the Cubmasters, the Scoutmasters and the Explorer Advisors and their assistants—who bring Scouting directly to boys.

During the Recognition Day ceremonies these leaders will be honored with presentations of the Freedom Foundations unit award plaques. These record the contribution Scouting has made to the nation last year thru its Get-Out-The-Vote Campaign.

"The tremendous task of distributing over one and a quarter million posters and thirty-seven million Liberty Bell doorknob hangers," says Dr. Arthur A. Shuck, Chief Scout Executive, "Fulfilled a responsibility of vital importance to our country and in so doing, provided hundreds of thousands of young Americans with a citizenship training opportunity both challenging and worthwhile. There is probably no more important citizenship service that that in which our Cubmasters, Scoutmasters, Explorer advisors and their assistants are engaged."

Taxpayers Careless In Filing Income Tax Returns

George Holman, Supervisor of the Montgomery Internal Revenue Office said today that many Federal Income tax returns being received in the Birmingham office contain errors. He indicated that most of the errors were caused by carelessness.

"Failure to sign the return heads the list of errors again this year" Holman said. "The next item in frequency is failure to attach all withholding statements."

Mr. Holman recommends that all returns be reviewed for completeness, legibility, withholding statements and signatures prior to filing.

"Each spouse must sign his own name—one cannot sign for the other," Holman emphasized. He reminded farmers and businessmen that farm or business schedules should be attached to income tax returns and not filed seperately.

Federal income tax returns should be mailed to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Birmingham 3, Alabama. State of Alabama income tax returns should be mailed to the State Department of Revenue, Income Tax Division, Montgomery 2, Alabama. Holman said that thousands of Federal and State returns are sent to the wrong address each year.

CONTINUOUS INFLATION
ORDERLY GROWTH
DANGER AHEAD! PROCEED AT YOUR OWN RISK
GREATER PRODUCTIVITY LOWER PRICES
BETTER RETURNS TO INVESTORS
BETTER WAGES TO LABOR

We're at the crossroads—especially small business—and just how long the small businessman can hang on is a vital question to our country. As has been often said the small businessman is the backbone of our economy but he gets less and less attention. He must compete in every department with big business but in return he gets none of the advantages.

Prices on everything be buys has gone up, wages have increased, production costs have skyrocketed, taxes are increasing regularly, but when help is suggested for the small businessman the limit is placed at business employing 40 or 50 men—business that the small town considers "big business."

We believe that what the small business needs today is not help but a leveling off on production costs, wages, and materials, where he can compete in the markets of the world and still make a fair profit on his labor.

things we See and Hear

By "TUCK"

The things we see, believe. The things we hear. . . think about 'em first.

Success is what we make it by the means through which we attain it.

And success is a multitude of things. To some it is wealth, to others it is prestige and position, but to some it is simply, the simple life. Happiness and all that goes with it, without any loose ends. Success is certainly what we make it, and some of us surely make a mess of it by thinking success is something we can touch or see.

Nothing is more amusing to us, in a serious sort of way, than the voter who, after casting his ballot, immediately (or soon thereafter) begins to belittle, find fault with and otherwise condemn the man for whom he cast his vote. Though we would agree with the voter that the man was unfit for the job, we would also agree that he, the voter, made a choice and thus give "his" candidate the benefit of the doubt. . . at least until he is out of office. You know, down by the brass tacks, the voter is responsible a great deal for the corruption of a political office for being irresponsible enough to put the wrong man at the helm. It is hypocritical to say the least, to place the faith of your vote in a man and then turn against him at the first gossip corner. It's almost as if you, the average fellow, were just waiting for a chance to drag the man through the mud. What sort of citizen is that? The slogan that says, "Think, Then Vote" has more merit than most of us are inclined to credit it with In the first place. . . look up the word "think" and gain a new outlook on things, a positive outlook You may be surprised and find that you've been doing it wrong all along.

Johnny McKinney, a first-string banker, related to us the other day, that his pride and joy (by name of Paul) has finally realized that the object in this game of life is to sleep when it gets dark and play (and otherwise express himself) daylight hours. Now, we realize Johnny needs that old beauty slee goodness knows he needs it). Maybe that will give him some idea of why we're so gosh awful homely.

We've got a leetle feller, who for two years now, has prided himself with the debatable achievement of not sleeping a full night in some seven hundred. His sister, realizing the extent of her old man's capabilities, sleeps when the time comes and seems to enjoy it. It would seem that our eldest is trying to start some sort of crusade amongst the "night owls". We got nothing against night owls, it's just that we're an ole rooster and when the sun goes down "roosting" is our primary objective. Aw, Johnny, we might as well admit it; we're just [illegible] as the very dickens. Ain't that about it?

He who brags about his capabilities usually has very few.

Profit by the other fellows mistakes, and maybe yours won't look so bad.

Noticed an article recently, voicing the pro's and con's as to whether or not undesirable literature should be banned from certain places where teen-agers can obtain them. We don't see any reason why youngsters should have access to some of the "filth" that is on our newsstands, but rather than try to hide it from them, it seems that the better solution lies in doing away with this material. In our opinion, it is no more enlightening for the adult mind than it is for the teenager. Sometimes even less. It will be printed as long as people buy it and vice-versa. If, however, the government controlled or set out to curb this misguiding literature, therein would lie the solution. As the article we read pointed out that certain states and cities banned this sort of literature from youngsters through "cooperative" dealers, by the same token, this undermining literature could be done away with entirely. No one, net even the publishers would be the worse off. On the contrary, it might give them an opportunity to print something instructive for a change. And those who would call the decent fellow who tries to do something about this "a prude" are not looking ahead. Have a good time now, don't deny them their fun, they say. What sort of fun is it that deprives our youth of the really great literature and replaces it with the imagination of some twisted soul who doesn't seem to know what literature is in the first place. He does however, know a great deal about sex and brutality. He sees nothing beautiful (at least in his writing) except in dirty pornography. What's beautiful in that? All he can possibly feel from writing this "stuff" is guilt. All you can feel from reading it is the same thing. So really, what's the use in it in the first place?

IT'S MY OPINION

THE OLD STREET CLEANER

What's on his mind?

By BOB TUCKER

It's a bleak, cold, wintry night in January. The fog is rolling in thick as it grows later in the evening.

Down the block, barely discernible in the dreary, grey light an old man is making his last rounds, cleaning up after the usual messy Saturday crowd that have littered the streets inconsiderately with everything imaginable. He has to stop occasionally for an "I come first" automoile.

Elsewhere in the city, one who is prone to alcohol is tanking up for the usual "lost week-end".

A cafe owner is bidding his last customer of the day good evening before closing its doors to the public after a busy day.

A delivery man is making his last call of a long and dreary, run-of the mill day.

Some of the stores are taking inventory, behind closed doors. The local doctor is leaving his office, finally.

Couples have gathered here and there for the usual Canasta or Gin Rummy or Bridge games.

Clanton! That's the city in mention. Our city. Now. Where are our young people?

Well, let's just see.

Is there a skating rink in the vicinity where they can indulge in teen-age pleasures. No.

Maybe a teen club or canteen of some sort around the corner where they can escape the every-day world into a world of their own; where the only cares of the moment are the juke box in the corner and two sodas on the table in front of them. No, not one of those either.

A bowling alley perhaps, supervised by the grown-ups, open only to couples, except maybe one or two nights a week when the "stags" take over. Don't know of one of those either.

A game hall of some sort, a carpet golf course, that's it. A place which caters to the teen-agers and which has the facilities that please, most of all, the teen-agers themselves. Where's one of those?

Get right down to the core and what have you? A growing city, our city; with a growing teen-age population, where the only recreation the teen-ager can hope for is through city park facilities or his local church groups. Both limited by lack of cooperation and interest.

That old man on the corner; we'll bet nothing would please him more than a public recreation hall of some description for the teen-agers of his community. Get them off the streets, out of parked cars. Give them something to do on a bleak, wintry night.

That cafe owner, the "doc", all the mothers and fathers playing their quiet games of cards or watching TV. Why it's what they've all dreamed of. The catch is, they're waiting for someone to come in and say "well, it's done. . ." And then they'll pat him on the back, "great news, just what we've been needing." But where is this miracle man? Perhaps, some few are making attempts at this sort of thing; if so, they should openly and publicly appeal for help. Over and over again, until if nothing else, we're shamed into helping our youth.

There are some few establishments which make efforts in behalf of the younger folks. They cannot, however, cater exclusively to teen-agers. . . they have to live too. The desired achievement cannot be gained through individuals, who are civic-minded. It must be a cooperative thing, something that will appeal to all teen-agers.

The scope of the need is such that it will take all peoples of the community in order to gain the desired end.

Cooperation of the teen-agers themselves is of the utmost importance. Without their enthuiasm and interest, such an undertaking would be destined to a bleak fadeout. It has been proven.

The oldsters capabilities and direction coupled with the youngsters ambition and energy is the key. The ingredients by which we can attain this necessary dream.

Dream that it is, attainment is possible.

Think on it. Talk it over with the people you meet tomorrow (and the next day, and the next), appeal to civic organizations. Then, act on it, as one, by cooperating with your neighbor.

Help the old man out. If you're a parent or a plain good citizen, you can help yourself.

If your generous, you'll think about it to help others; if you're selfish, you'll want to help yourself. That leaves but one thing. . . Do it, now.

HOME ACCIDENTS

Did you know that more accidents occur in the home than anywhere else? Falls lead the list of those accidents. They stem from rickety guard rails, unstable stairs, throw rugs on highly waxed floors, unsteady ladders and chairs, stairways cluttered with toys, dust cloths, brushes and what not, as well as slipping in a gleaming bath tub without a protective rubber non-skid mat.

The medicine chest should be a storehouse for useful aids, but are you careless with its contents? Do you leave medications lying about within easy reach of children? Do you reach for a bottle or box of medication without turning on the light to read the label, or do you grope in the dark for what you think is the right one? And do you save medicines no longer required instead of discarding them?

What about the kitchen? Do you turn pot handles in so they can't be bumped or pulled by children? Severe burns may result from the hot contents of an overturned utensil. Is your floor so highly polished that you invite a fall?

Do you smoke in bed? If you do, stop this bad habit which places your own life in jeopardy as well as those of your loved ones and other tenants in the building. Another way to prevent a fire is to store oily rags in a covered metal container.

How about your shelves? Do you store things on top of each other? If you do, you may be the victim of a severe thump on the head. Cans, jars and bottles have a way of toppling when a closet door is opened.

Are disinfectants, detergents and insecticides stored in a utility closet inaccessible to curious litle hands? Caustics, such as lye, have been responsible for numerous tragedies to tiny tots.

These are just a few reminders to help you keep your home safe. Perhaps thus far your home has been free of accidents, but there is always a first time. And it is better to prevent one than to be remorseful once it occurs.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

I have introduced a measure in the House of Representatives which, if enacted into law, will compensate the cotton farmers of our district and state for cotton acreage lost to other states since 1950. The other 8 members of the House of Representatives from Alabama [illegible] ed with me in introducing identical bills.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the period during which the greatest number of acres were in cotton cultivation in Alabama was the five year period beginning in 1946 and extending through 1950. Although Congress last year froze the 1957 and 1958 cotton acreage allotments at the 1956 level, Alabama's 1957 allotment still falls far below the amount planted during the 1946-50 period.

At the present time cotton allotments are based on the average acreage planted over the three preceding years. Any failure to plant all of the alloted acreage consequently results in a decline in the following year's allotment. While the large cotton farms of our Western states almost always plant every foot allotted to them, the small cotton farmers of our Southeastern states often fail to do so. As a result, the loss of acreage in Alabama and other Southeastern states has been much greater than in the West. In the case of Alabama, the loss of acreage since the 1946-50 period is 1[illegible]5 percent greater than the national average.

The purpose of the legislation I have introduced is to make restitution through the soil bank program [illegible] Alabama cotton producers, [illegible] other states similarly situated [illegible] excessive losses sustained in cotton acreage since 1950. [illegible] the national average, the Secretary of Agriculture must establish for each old cotton farm a [illegible] base acreage." The farm's [illegible] allotment plus an increase [illegible] 20 percent will constitute [illegible] "farm base acreage." Producers [illegible] through the Soil Bank Program for reducing their acreage of cotton below their "farm base acreage." Such a plan of restitution would accomplish a twofold objective. First, it would compensate through Soil Bank payments cotton farmers in states like Alabama who have suffered excessive losses of cotton acreage since 1950, and second, it would not add another bale of cotton to the already burdensome surplus of cotton now stored in warehouses thruout the country.

To illustrate, let's suppose that Mr. Richard Roe of Chilton County has a 1957 cotton acreage allotment of 6 acres. Should this proposed legislation be enacted into law, the Chilton County ASC Committee could then notify Mr. Roe that he has been assigned a 1957 "farm base acreage" of 7.2 acres, an increase of 20 percent. He would then be paid for the difference between the acreage he plants and the total of his "farm base acreage." For example, if Mr. Roe actually planted the maximum of 6 acres alotted to him, he would then draw compensation under the Soil Bank plan for the 1.2 acres which he has left under his 1957 "farm base acreage." Should he decide to plant only four acres, he would then be compensated for the remaining 3.2 acres.

Accurate Measurement

Another important [illegible] the proposed legislation directs the Secretary of Agriculture to provide, through the County ASC Committee, for the measurement in metes and bounds of acreage planted in cotton provided the grower requests such measurement in writing from the County Committee. A measurement policy, as set forth in this bill, would fix and make certain from year to year proper acreage measurements and eliminate inconsistent measurements that have been common in years past.

Every effort will be made by the members of Congress from Alabama to have this legislation considered by the House Agriculture Committee at the earliest possible date.

ARBOR DAY—

ALABAMA TREES MEAN MONEY IN YOUR POCKETS

Governor James E. Folsom hopes that all Alabamians will recall on February 8, the importance of the State's great forest lands to the family incomes of all our people. He has proclaimed that day as Arbor Day throughout Alabama.

It is estimated that about six acres in every 10 are forest lands in Alabama. The Governor points out in his proclamation that "one fourth of Alabama's people depend on the forests and wood products for economic support." Also, that "much of the State's growing industrial system depends on the raw materials supplied by the large variety of trees in our forests."

The Governor says, therefore, that on Arbor Day, all should remember that our forests need "wise management, protection from fires, diseases and insects, and the proper replanting of trees that are harvested in order to perpetuate and increase of forests" and our incomes from Alabama's trees.

The Chief Executive, therefore, calls on schools, civic clubs, conservation organizations, the press, radio and television companies of the State, to originate and organize appropriate programs on February 8.

GERMAN SHEPHERDS SAVE TAXPAYERS $2000 A MONTH

The Navy employs German Shepherd dogs to help guard more than two million dollars worth of government motor vehicles and equipment at the Naval Air Station, Miramar, California. Previously, thefts amounted to more than $2,000 a month, but after the dogs began acting as guards, the loss decreased to zero dollars. It costs an average of only $15 a month to care for one of these dogs, including food and medical care.

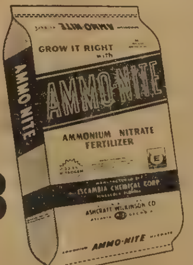
SAVES YOU ALMOST 1/3



AMMO-NITE—with 33.5% Nitrogen—contains more than twice as much N as 16% Nitrogen materials. So by using "hard-working" AMMO-NITE, and liming occasionally, at a small cost, you get a better fertilizer that saves you money and work! See how you save in the chart below.

Based on a use of 2,000 lbs. of actual Nitrogen, here's a cost comparison example of AMMO-NITE (33.5%) and 16% Nitrogens.

	For 2,000 lbs. actual N you need	Cost	YOU SAVE
16% Nitrogen	12,496 lbs.	$374.88 (@ $60 ton)*
AMMO-NITE (33.5% Nitrogen)	5,968 lbs.	$262.56 (@ $88 ton)*	$112.32

GOOD TRUCK CROPS WILL CHALK UP NICE PROFITS THIS SEASON

Good fresh garden vegetables can always find takers on the market, and the grower usually pockets a nice profit for his work. But saleable truck crops require hard labor, good land, and effective control of insects and diseasese.

API Extension Horticulturist John Bagby said this week that high production costs call for big returns per acre to show a profit. But he pointed out that Alabama farmers did all right with such crops last year. They sold approximately $22 million worth from 127,400 acres, averaging a few cents over $102 per acre. Of course these figures do not include vegetables for home use., Farm gardens numbered 174,000 with an estimated value of $200 each or a total of $34 million.

Bagby said the first thing necessary for a sucessful truck crop is suitable soil, preferably a well-drained, sandy loam soil with high organic content. Yields may be increased by using 10 to 12 tons of stable manure or five tons of poultry per acre. If manure is not available a cover crop of vetch, clover, or rye will help.

Preparation of land calls for deep plowing four to six weeks prior to planting. The land should be disked three or four times to form a well pulverized, firm seedbed and help control weeds and grass. Vegetable crops require relatively high rates of fertilizer, including nitrogen. And as they mature, they need more plant food.

Truck crop growers cannot afford to take a chance on losing a crop because of insects or diseases. In Alabama nematodes especially pose a serious problem. Insect and disease control measures are usually preventatives rather than cures.

Lime Added To Soils Boosts Cotton Yields

Sufficient lime applied to cotton land may mean the difference between profit and loss for the Alabama cotton farmer.

In fact, API Extension Agronomist Jasper Jernigan this week described the dollar invested in lime for cotton land as one that will pay big dividends in the farmer's overall cotton production program.

And he added a warning to farmers who do not use enough lime in the soil that a cotton disease called crinkle leaf is increasing thruout the state. This disease is caused by insufficient lime in the soil.

Jernigan advised all cotton farmers, who have not had soil tests made this year to hurry and do so. And he stressed the necessity of liming and fertilizing the land according to soil test recommendations, thus giving their cotton crops the best possible chance to be profitable this year.

Over one-third of the soil samples sent to the testing laboratory at Auburn have revealed that lime is a needed addition to the soil for producing good cotton crops. And then too, the other fertilizers called for in soil test recommendations will help improve yields.

Jernigan cited experiments at five locations in the state in 1955, where the addition of one ton of lime to the soil gave an extra yield of 108 pounds of seed cotton per acre.

He said that a liming program would aggravate other deficiencies in the soil if the farmer was using low levels of fertilizer. On most state soils cotton should be fertilized with 50 to 60 pounds each of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash per acre.

Chicks, Trees Given To Jemison 4-H'ers

by Franklin Johnson

Our 4-H Club meeting was held Jan. 21, at the Jemison High School. The meeting was called to order by the president, Raybon Ellis and the Pledge of Allegiance and 4-H Pledge were given.

We decided that the baby chicks given away by Sears, Roebuck and Co., in connection with their poultry chain, would go to Jerry Wayne Jackson.

The fruit trees given by Commercial Nurseries are to go to Erle Davis.

Mr. Sellers led the group in a discussion on the proper pruning of fruit trees.

We wish to thank Commercial Nurseries and Sears, Roebuck and Co. for the fruit trees and baby chicks.

MR. FARMER: Here Is Help On Your Income Tax

All farmers who have a net income of $400 or more must file tax returns to report their self-employment income, according to George Holman of the Montgomery office of Internal Revenue Service.

Mr. Holman pointed out that the requirement to file a self-employment return is based on the farmer's net earnings or profit. He added that filing a return does not necessarily require a person to pay income tax although he might be required to pay social security tax. He stated that a tax return cannot be filed until the end of a taxable year. For most farmers the taxable year ends December 31.

Farmers are required to pay social security tax if net profit from farming is $400 or more. Mr. Holman said. This provision of the law is compulsory. The law also provides a special method of figuring net earnings from farming operations for social security purposes only. Farmers who gross not more than $1800 in any taxable year ending December 31, 1956 or later may report two-thirds of their gross even though net profit is less than $400. Farmers [illegible] report [illegible] calendar year basis may exercise this option in reporting their income for 1956. If the farmer's gross income is more than $1800 and net profit is less than $1200 he may report $1200 as net profit. If net profit is over $1200 there is no option and the farmer must use his actual net.

In order to report earnings properly, a farmer's social security number must be shown on his return.

Forms for reporting farm income and instructions for completing them may be obtained from the Montgomery office of Internal Revenue Service. This office is located at Bibb and Church Streets in the Post Office Building. Telephone number—37521, Extension 301.

Applications for social security account number cards may be obtained from the Montgomery social security office or the nearest post office.

GUARANTEED MARKET ON "PICKLE CUKES" OFFERED LOCAL FARMERS

By M. R. GLASSCOCK
County Agent

W. W. Pickle Company, Montgomery, Alabama, again plans to use local cooperative as receiving point for "pickle cukes" Chilton County growers can produce up to 300 acres under price guaranteed contracts.

A cash market for cucumbers F.O.B. Chilton County Fruit and Truck Growers' shed in Thorsby, is an opportunity for many growers to replace income lost from reduced cotton allotments.

"Cuke" production has proven of most value to larger farm families needing an early summer cash earner.

Details on prices offered and securing seed and contracts will be announced at an early date.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

"WHEN I WAS YOUNG," a friend recalled, "I wanted to give up smoking at one point in order to save money. I decreased my smoking a little each day—and was successful. Then it occurred to me that the reverse process might help me to be successful at saving. Instead of starting out too ambitiously, I determined to increase my bank balance a little each week—with a modest but regular deposit. That worked, too: Before long, I had a substantial backlog of money in the bank." It usually does work. Try it, with us!

MANY A MOTHER has been brought to the belief that all medicines have one property in common: The ability to stain indelibly clothing and upholstered furniture. The convenient bathroom cabinet is sometimes just a trifle too convenient for small children. Of course there is always the grave risk that youngsters will swallow dangerous drugs, when medicines are within easy reach of little hands. Why not, suggests one mother, a medicine chest in the old-fashioned sense—a box with a lid and lock—for all but toiletries and the like? An ordinary metal strongbox will serve the purpose admirably. It may be stored within the bathroom cabinet, if it will fit, or on a high closet shelf.

NO WONDER Most Guesses are Hundreds Too High!

If you think this Chieftain Pontiac looks out of place in the low-price field, you've got plenty of company. But there it stands . . . in solidly with the so-called low-priced three—a big, bold, beautiful eye-opener with not a thing to remind you of its very modest cost. Start with looks. Here's the distinction of clean, unfrenzied, straight-to-the-point Star Flight lines that are built in, not improvised. But it's in the performance department that the price guesses really run wild! Drive it and see for yourself. Pontiac's big 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio V-8 doesn't know what strain is, no matter what you demand of it. New precision-touch handling makes "driving effort" a term only for your memory book. And the Chieftain's 122-inch-wheelbase Level-Line Ride is so smooth that only the passing road signs remind you that you're earth-bound. In fact, nothing in the low-price field even comes close in power, wheelbase or features! If you think all this is beyond your reach, a visit to your Pontiac dealer for a talk about price will put you in that wonderful club of Pontiac owners who have discovered that it's rewriting the book in the low-price field!

HERE'S A MAGIC SAUCE FOR CHOCOLATE SUNDAES

ISN'T IT AMAZING what a little chocolate sauce poured over ice cream does to turn a good-enough dessert into something really festive? Chocolate Sundae for dessert or for party refreshments is a general favorite, made with vanilla, chocolate or coffee ice cream, and garnished or not with whipped cream, cherries, nuts or marshmallows.

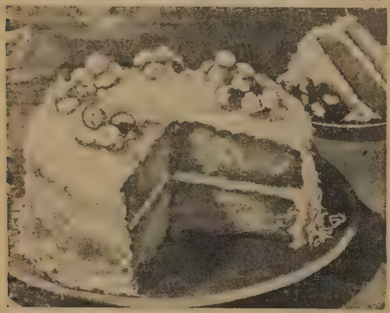
There's an easy-to-make chocolate sauce, a combination of cocoa and sweetened condensed milk, that can be kept on hand in the refrigerator [illegible] or put together on the spur of the moment to add a touch of magic to puddings and cake as well as ice cream. It is a smooth, creamy sauce that's sure to tempt eye and appetite, glossy rich brown [illegible] and flavorful.

MAGIC CHOCOLATE SAUCE

1⅓ cups (1 15-oz. can)
sweetened condensed milk
½ cup sifted cocoa
2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine the ingredients in a [illegible]. Stir until well blended. Keep covered when stored in refrigerator. Makes 1¾ cups sauce. Pour as it is over ice cream, pudding or cake. For a luscious milk [illegible] add two tablespoons to one cup milk. (ANS)

Try a Frosty Snow Cake For a Winter's Feast



HERE'S A SPARKLING BRIGHT, UTTERLY DELICIOUS CAKE to serve at any winter gathering, holiday or everyday. It's a snow cake, easily made with a white-cake mix and a sweetened condensed milk frosting, then spread with coconut and garnished with pale green-grapes, dipped, when moist, in powdered sugar and allowed to dry with a frosty coating.

The frosting is one of the magic kind made with sweetened condensed milk that needs no cooking. The sweetened condensed milk thickens to smooth-spreading creaminess when mixed with lemon juice.

MAGIC LEMON BUTTER FROSTING

(Makes 2 cups, enough for top and sides of two 8-inch layers)

4 tablespoons butter
⅔ cup (½ 15-oz. can)
sweetened condensed milk
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
3½ cups confectioners' sugar
1 to 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Cream butter. Gradually stir in ¼ cup sweetened condensed milk. Add lemon rind, mixing well. Add sugar gradually, alternately with remaining sweetened condensed milk, beating until smooth. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons lemon juice and beat well. Spread on cooled cake (ANS)

IN API YEARBOOK

Local Miss Chosen API "Favorite"

Miss Ann Spicer has been chosen one of twenty Alabama Polytechnic Institutes coeds to appear as "Favorites" in the Glomerata, student yearbook.

The girls, picked by members of the Glomerata staff, were named on the qualities of service to the college, general personality, beauty and honors received during their careers at Auburn. Pictures of the "favorites" will be run in a special section in the annual.

Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Spicer of Clanton.

Mrs. Mims Hostess To Business Women's Circle

Mrs. Francis Mims was hostess to the Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist Church when it met in her home on Monday night, Jan. 21, for their regular meeting.

The president called the meeting to order and presided over the business session.

Mrs. Ruth Waters gave the devotion and the program on "Home Mission Works." She was assisted by Mrs. Laura Little, Mrs. Clara Lecroy, Mrs. Elsie Sexton.

Following the program the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following: Mesdames Laura Little, Ruth Waters, Alpha McRae, Mollie Minor, Nan Taylor, Clara Lecroy, Thomasine Lecroy, Odell Lewis, Elsie Sexton, Dorothy Yeager.

Laura Carlisle Celebrates Birthday With Dinner

Miss Laura Carlisle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Carlisle celebrated her seventh birthday on Monday night, Jan. 28, when her mother invited several of her friends to have dinner with Laura.

As the guests arrived for dinner they were greeted at the door by Laura and her mother, after which they all enjoyed a most delicious meal by candlelight. The table was centered with the large birthday cake of white embossed in pink, green and yellow. The cake was surrounded with pink camelias.

The following guests helped to make this a happy birthday for Laura: Bo and Danny Eiland, Sherrell Davis, Sherrie Searcy, Fara Payne, Leigh Easterling, Barnet Gowan, and the honoree's brother, Jack Carlisle.

Each child received a party favor before leaving.

-BIBLE QUIZ-

Last Week's Question—

In the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, we read of the rich man's death and torment in hell. What two requests did this rich man make of Adraham? Give the three verses of scripture which relate these requests.

Answer—

Luke 16: verses 24, 27, and 28.

Last Week's Winner—

Mrs. L. L. Parnell, 1728 McMillan Ave., Birmingham, Ala. Other contestants were: Mrs. C. C. Gay, Stanton; Mrs. W. E. Burkhalter, Verbesna; Mrs. Andrew Nelson, Rt. 4, Clanton; Mrs. Bernice Warren, Rt. 3, Clanton; Mrs. Lois Lucas, Maplesville; James M. Short and Josie Short of Rt. 2, Maplesville; and Linda Graham, Box 125, Maplesville; Mrs. A. W. Williams, Billingsley; and Mrs. Dan Little, 311 Range St., Selma, Ala.

NEW QUESTION—

What was the final purchase made with the 30 pieces of silver paid to Judas for Christ? What property did the priests buy and what was it to be used for?

Rules—

1. Anyone may enter except employees of the Chilton County News and their families.
2. Answers must be clearly written and must be complete. Postal cards are preferred, however, letters will be accepted. All entries must be postmarked not later than 10 a.m. each Tuesday. This method will be used so that our rural subscribers will have an equal chance to win.
3. No answers will be accepted by telephone.
4. All correct answers will be dropped into a large box provided for this purpose and will be kept in the News office.
5. One entry will be drawn from this box at noon on Tuesday of each week.

The person whose name appears on this entry will win one dollar ($1.00) in cash. Judges deicsions will be final.

6. Names of all persons sending in the correct answer will be published, however, only one prize will be awarded.

PROMPT DIAGNOSIS and assignment for treatment of large numbers of attack casualties would be the function of the "triage," or admitting room in a Federal Civil Defense Administration 200-bed emergency hospital. Because first aid training programs have been expanded, it is expected that most victims—like this simulated casualty—would have received some first aid before they reached the hospital for actual professional treatment. Wesleyan Service Guild Met With Mrs. DeLoach

Mrs. Lamar DeLoach was hostess to four members of the Wesleyan Service Guild on Tuesday, Jan. 22, when they met in her home on 4th Avenue.

The president, Mrs. Ed Blackmon called the meeting to order.

Miss Virginia Murphree gave a most interesting program in the form of a discussion on the problems of groups of people not reached by the churches.

During the business session ideas for their new project were discussed. Mrs. Griffin Lloyd, who has met with the Guild for the past two meetings, gave several helpful suggestions.

During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The next meeting will be Feb. 19 in the home of Mrs. Ed Blackmon.

ISABELLA NEWS

MRS. J. H. WELLS

Mulberry Church News—

There were large congregations for both services Sunday. Rev. J. E. Lucas brought two inspiring messages. The subject of his morning message was, "Between the Cup o Blessing and the Traitor's Kiss." For the evening message, his theme was, "Salvation, Impossible with Men."

Rev. and Mrs. Lucas and Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Short were welcomed into the church as new members.

Both services were held in the Isabella School Auditorium as the road from the school building to the church was impassable.

Watch for announcements concerning the services in the school or church while the road is under construction.

Cherries Are Red for Winter Holidays

FEBRUARY'S A MONTH FOR PARTIES . . . and this easy-to-make cherry coconut pie may be decorated with hearts for Valentines . . . with cherries or hatchets for a Washington's Birthday party . . . or with cut-out pastry flags for Lincoln . . . which make this pie as versatile as it is delicious!

In addition, this excellent cherry pie lives up to the familiar rhyme "She can bake a cherry pie, quick as a cat can wink her eye"—and with tender-thin coconut flakes to enhance both flavor and color, it's sure to be a holiday favorite.

CHERRY GLAZED COCONUT PIE

1 cup Baker's Angel Flake Coconut
2 tablespoons butter
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
2 cups milk
1 baked 9-inch pie shell
2 teaspoons gelatin
1 cup cherry juice and water
¼ cup sugar
1¾ cups drained canned red sour pitted cherries, packed in heavy syrup
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Saute ¾ cup of the coconut in butter in saucepan until golden brown, stirring constantly. Add pie filling mix and milk; blend well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Cool only about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Pour into pie shell. Chill.

Combine gelatin and ¼ cup of the cherry juice. Heat remaining juice and dissolve gelatin and sugar in hot juice. Add cherries and lemon juice. Chill until thick, but not firm. Turn onto chilled pie filling. Sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup coconut Chill until firm.

Valentine Pie. Use recipe for Cherry Glazed Coconut Pie. Cut small hearts from leftover pastry. Bake hearts in hot oven (450° F.) about 10 minutes, or until done. Arrange mounds of coconut on cherry topping to resemble lace and place hearts on coconut. (ANS)

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

HINT OF THE WEEK— A button sewed to one corner of the dishcloth is a wonderful aid to scrape off stubborn particles of food that have dried on plates or stuck to pens.

Sugar added to fruit before freezing will retard the loss of Vitamin C and help the fruit retain its natural color.

If furniture drawers stick, rub the edges with wax, preferably a paste wax.

Use a paper plate underneath a paint can when painting. It provides a place for the brush and prevents paint from dripping on the floor.

Dust, pencil shavings, and other loose dirt won't collect on the bottom and sides of a metal or wood wastebasket if the basket is waxed with any good polishing wax.

To prevent the bottom button on a coat-style dress from tearing off, sew it to an inch-long piece of elastic. Then sew the elastic flat to the dress with the button in its proper place. The elastic will give the button enough stretch to prevent tearing and the elastic won't show when the dress is buttoned.

When going to movies with children, a shopping bag can save you a lot of worry, and possibly expense It will hold all the mittens, h[illegible] scarves and trinkets likely to be lost.

Paul Reveres Today

Attack Warning Net New 'First Line'

Twentieth Century Paul Reveres may some day play a vital part in saving your life and that of the nation just as the original Revere's timely warning helped preserve the life of the American Colonies.

In this age of nuclear weapons, intercontinental bombers and some day, perhaps, long-range guided missiles, hours and even minutes of attack warning time can be of vital importance.

AN ARMY of professionals and volunteers man the radars, scan the skies and operate the military and civil defense circuits to pass along word of danger. They range from scattered outposts in northern Canada and radar picket ships far at sea to the man who sounds your home town air alarm.

This network is tested constantly, both in the Air Force phase of initial warning, and the civil defense phase of spreading the warning from air defense division control centers to the general public.

In a very real and personal sense this warning system is the first line of defense for every American as he goes about his daily [illegible] ever-possible attack.

Science offers women new freedom from much of the misery of change-of-life, thanks to an amazing new tablet developed especially to relieve these functionally-caused discomforts. Doctors reported sensational results using this remarkable home treatment alone...and no costly injections!

Relief for 8 out of 10 Tested!

Irritability, tortured nerves were calmed. Dizziness relieved. Awful hot flashes subsided. Here's why.

Unlike aspirin and such "general purpose" remedies, this new tablet is a unique combination of special medicines . . . acts directly on the cause of these troubles . . . works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve tense feelings and physical distress that bring unhappiness to so many. Clinical tests prove this.

Now this amazing formula is at drugstores without prescription. Ask for "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets". Don't let change-of-life rob you of joy! Get handy Pinkham's Tablets. Contain blood-building iron. PASSENGER CAR STYLING comes to the trucking business in Ford's 1957 Styleside Pickup. It typifies revolutionary changes in new Ford trucks which Ford dealers display February 1. Full-width styling has more than just "eye appeal." It widens the truck's load area by 20 inches, and adds 25 percent more load capacity than old-style models offer. This pickup is one of nearly 300 models in the 1957 Ford line which ranges upward to huge extra heavy duty models.

USE OF FHA LOANS ON THE FARM ARE RAPIDLY INCREASING

A line of credit now available from the Farmers Home Administration should help a good many farm owners in this area improve or build farm buildings, including houses, or provide water for household or farmstead use, for themselves or their tenants.

This is the belief of E. E. Edwards, chairman of the Farmers Home Administration committee in Chilton County.

Mr. Edwards' committee reviews applications for all loans made by the Farmers Home Administration and helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's program to local farmers' needs. Mr. Edwards said a large number of farmers in this area have applied for farm housing loans in the past seven months, and interest in this type of credit is increasing. Throughout the nation approximately 1,700 loans for $10,600,000 have been made.

In addition to being a farm owner, other eligibility requirements as outlined by Mr. Edwards provide that the applicant must have enough income from the farm or from the farm and other sources to meet family living and farm operating expenses to repay his loan and other debts on schedule.

Farm housing loans are repayable over periods up to 33 years at 4 percent interest, and are secured by a mortgage on the farm.

Applicants get building plans and specifications from whatever source they choose and make all arrangements for hiring the necessary labor and purchasing materials. The Farmers Home Administration representative will review the plans, inspect the construction as it progresses, and see that it meets generally accepted standards of soundness.

Mr. Edwards said farm owner may get further information at the Farmers Home Administration county office located at Clanton where county supervisor I. C. Byrd is in charge.

Milk To Hold Steady Price Level

Milk prices will probably remain about the same this year as last, although more milk will be available, according to Extension Economist Foy Helms. The trend during the past two years for a higher rate of production per cow promises to continue.

Another trend is toward fewer, but larger, dairy herds. Helms said that labor costs will probably be higher this year, but that on the better dairy farms increased efficiency will offset this rise. Large feed supplies will probably help out the dairyman on the expense side of the ledger.

CHILTON COUNTY PEACHERS URGED TO ATTEND SO. CAROLINA COUNCIL

The Clemson House, Clemson, S. C., is to be the meeting place of South Carolina's 1957 Anual Peach Producers' Meeting. For a number of years Chilton County peach leaders have been welcomed guests of this important peach production and marketing conference. Mr. Roy J. Ferree, Secretary-Treasurer of So. Carolina Peach Council again extends Alabama growers an invitation to attend the February 5th-6th meeting.

The South Carolina peach area is a more highly developed area in their production practices and market organizations. Most Chilton growers can profitably use the information and association available in this meeting.

Peach production and marketing leaders are encouraged to attend this important meeting. A copy of the program can be secured at your County Agent's office.

Isabella FFA Study Varied Farm Phases

The Isabella Agriculture boys believe in studying different subjects that might be of importance later. Currently, three important subjects are being investigated by the three vocational agriculture classes

The eleventh grade students are studying, "The Propagation of Peach Trees." They are learning the possibilities and the adaptability of propogating peach varieties in Chilton County and along with it they are making a chart of the different methods of grafting and budding processes that may be used to reproduce a desirable variety of peaches. This chart serves as a substitute for actual field practices. It can be made indoors on rainy days when field work is impractical and will serve as a very useful guide when budding and grafting time comes around in June.

The tenth grade boys are studying farm mechanics. They are learning the different kinds of hand and electrical tools, their uses, and care, and conditioning of each.

Soon they will put their studies to work in the farm shop in such fields as wood working, sheet metal work, blacksmith procedures and welding.

The ninth grade boys are looking at the fencing and soil conservation situation. They realize that the soil is our most valuable resource and they are determined to each do something about the erosion problem. They have learned how to operate the farm lever, how to plan and lay out the terrace system and according to their Advisor Gordon [illegible], they have already layed off about one and one half miles of terraces for farmers in the community as practice.

The months of February and March are the hardest on range cattle. Feed is usually short then, and lice and grubs cause their worst damage unless controlled

We were glad to have Joyce DeVaughn, Nina Headley and Lucretia Davis at home this week end.

SARDIS NEWS

Rev. Jerry Batson, pastor

Next Sunday is our regular preaching day, it is also H-Day in our Association. So we are extending a cordal invitation to every one who possibly can to come out and worship with us.

Our attendance was very low in Sunday School this past Sunday. Each one of us has a place to fill and it's our duty to carry on God's work before other things.

Let's each one be much in prayer for our church, our pastor and our community.

Won't you come to church Sunday? If you have company, bring them along. We welcome visitors at any time.

The people ill in Thorsby include Mrs. W. H. Griffin who entered the West End Hospital in Birmingham Tuesday morning for an operation on Wednesday.

Little Brenda Marrold and Sandra Higgins, daughters of Mrs Imogene Higgins are very sick at this time. Also Mr. Wilton Littleton, Mrs. H. L. Walker was admitted to the West End Baptist Hospital Saturday. We are looking forward to these folks being better soon.

Mrs. H. S. Petersen has been in Chilton County Hospital in Clanton for several days. We are hoping she will be up and out again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rollins of Mobile visited relatives and friends here last week. They visited Aunt Sallie Eiland and Mrs. Smith on Tuesday.

Dr. V. E. Wyatt was on vacation last week although he stayed around Thorsby looking after his friends and tending to a little unfinished business. Dr. Shifley of Birmingham replaced him although he was around the store occasionally.

Miss Carolyn Collins of Oak Ridge, Tenn., visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Riggins, and other relatives this week end.

Mrs. Anna Williams is spending this week with her husband who is working in Montgomery.

Benny Charles Childress celebrated his 17th birthday Saturday night with a few of his special friends. A good time was reported by all. Refreshments were pop corn, cake, Coca Cola and crackers.

Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Daniels and family of Montgomery were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davenport Saturday for lunch. They also visited the sick in our town.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shuff (nee Lois Popwell) of Dekalb, Ill., are the parents of a boy born January 21. His name is Charles Leon.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Mr. John Gibbons in the loss of his sister, Mrs. Ida Boone, of Birmingham.

Mrs. Fletcher Blackmon underwent an operation at St. Margaret's Hospital in Montgomery last week. Last reports listed Mrs. Blackmon's condition as fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Foster and daughter, Vivian, Mrs. Arlene Taylor, Maurice Foster of Tallassee, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Plough and daughters, Janette and Patricia, of Birmingham spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holcomb.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wyatt is very sick at the Chilton County Hospital.

Mr. Osmond Evans who has been in the Veterans Hospital in Montgomery was home for the week end.

We are very sorry to hear that Bill Evans was carried to the hospital again. Bill has not been too well for some time. He is in a hospital in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Floyd Mims and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mims and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mims and new baby in Birmingham Sunday. Also they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderton and they surprised Mrs. Sam F. Mims with a birthday party. Mrs. Mims has been in Birmingham with Earl for several weeks.

Mrs. Harold Strickland returned home Sunday from a visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nichols, in Gadsden and his parents in Tuscaloosa.

Mrs. W. J. Patrick is visiting her daughter and family, the H. E. Nichols, in Gadsden this week!

LT. IVAN SMITH RECEIVES LETTER OF APPRECIATION

TO: 1st Lt. Ivan Smith
Service Company, 188th Airborne Infantry. APO 112,
U. S. Army

THRU: Commanding Officer
188th Airborne Infantry

1. The Commanding General desires that I express his appreciation to you for your contribution to the success of the American Youth Activities Program. He is very interested in the efficient promotion and operation of all worthwhile activities for the youth of our community in Augsburg (Germany) and has directed that the utmost command support be given to the program

2. Although you are expending much time and effort to the success of the American Youth Activities Program, I am sure you are rewarded by the knowledge that by doing so, you are affording our American youth the best opportunity to observe and practice sound concepts of citizenship and democratic methods. Their participation in the planning and operation of these wholesome social and athletic group activities will give them the guidance they need to become the type of citizen that will build a better and stronger America.

3. If I can be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to call on me.

-s- SAMMIE N. HOMAN
Colonel, GS
Chief of Staff

Lt. Smith is stationed in Germany and has been helping with the Boy Scouts in Augsburg. He is an Eagle Scout himself.

Lt. Smith is also teaching college algebra in Augsburg at night, for the University of Maryland. He is a graduate of Chilton County High School and Jacksonville State, and is a jumpmaster in the Paratroopers 11th Airborne Division, US Army.

NAVY "SIDE-WINDER" DEADLY AS NAMESAKE

The Navy's new "Side-winder" is a new air-to-air guided missle capable of destroying enemy fighters from sea level to altitudes of over 50,000 feet. It is named for the fast strikink desert rattlesnake.

ENDS 31 YEARS OF SERVICE IN U. S. NAVY

TRINIDAD, B.W.I.—Harry "C" Smith, husband of the former Miss Jessie M. Driver of Thorsby, left Trinidad, British West Indies, Jan 10th, ending 31 years service with the U. S. Navy.

With 22 years of active Navy service and 9 years in civil service with the navy, Mr. Smith plans to retire to a ranch near Maplesville in this County.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Henry and Houston Counties, Mr. Smith entered the service in December. 1925 Retiring from the Navy after World War II, he became a civil service employee For the last six years he has been civilian personnel officer of the U. S. Naval Station on the island of Trinidad.

Mr. Smith was also Public Information Officer of the Naval Station from August 1955 until his departure In bidding him farewell, the Commanding Officer of the Naval Station commended him for making "friends for the Navy and the United States," creating "a feeling of good will which will have its effect for many years," and exertion of "personal influence on Trinidadian news media to such extent that a strong antagonistic attitude has been minimized."

Nearly one-fourth of all the farm wives in the United States held down jobs outside the home during 1955, according to federal economists.

When friends first meet...

You may not know it, little one,
but you and your telephone are going to be real friends, all your life. You'll be able to call upon your phone to help you do a thousand-and-one things.
And it will respond by bringing other friends to you . . . and by making your life easier and more pleasant.

Where earlier generations saw the telephone as a modern miracle, you'll come to take its faithful service for granted. Yet, as you grow, you'll see many new developments — even now taking shape — that will make your friend, the telephone, more than ever a part of better living.

SWEPT-WING

You have never seen, felt, owned anything like it!

You watch it sweeping by, this low-slung Swept-Wing Dodge, and you know in an instant that nothing you have ever seen before can compare with it.

"Can this be real?" you ask yourself. "Can a car be so long and low and daring? So brilliantly styled?"

And what you see is matched only by what you'll feel when you actually put this beauty in motion.

The feel of the 310 hp. V-8 as you eat up the road. The feel of Push-Button Torque-Flite that packs a silk-smooth 1-2 punch. The feel of Torsion-Aire Ride and Total-Contact Brakes that give you a new mastery of every driving situation.

And just imagine owning this Swept-Wing Dodge. The pride and pleasure you'll experience every time you take the wheel is something that simply can't be measured in dollars and cents.

So stop in at your Dodge dealer's and ask for the keys to a Swept-Wing Dodge. A few minutes behind the wheel will convince you: You have never seen, felt, owned anything like it!

It unleashes a hurricane of power
It breaks through the vibration barrier
It is swept-wing mastery of motion

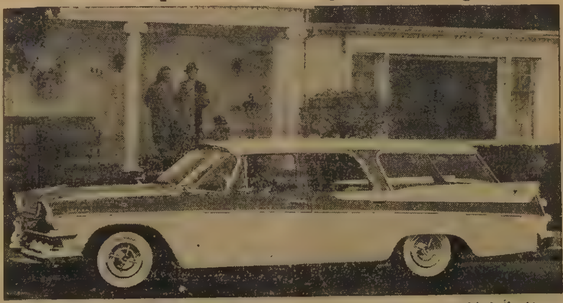
Detroit Reports Station Wagons Most Popular



IS IT THE TREND to suburban living or the growth of two-car families? Maybe it's both. At any rate, station wagons are fast becoming America's favorite family car. A far cry from the wood "wagons" of the past, the 1957 all-purpose vehicle is a true glamour car. In keeping with the sleek designs, manufacturers are coining fancy names, such as the Custom Sierra Dodge, shown above.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

A NOTE TO OUR YOUTH: Don't you worry your minds about the young folks of today. We know you read a lot, and hear a lot, about juvenile delinquency, but remember this, yesterday, and the day before and all of our yesterdays since Cain we have had juvenile crime. Today, tomorrow, and all of your tomorrows, and all the tomorrows to come will have the same problem, just so long as people are people, and youth is youth. Our young folks of today are no worse, and perhaps no better, than those of other days and other times. As we said, so long as we are human some of us will be weak, and some will be strong. Let's not condemn all because of weakness of a few. Man hasn't created a Utopia yet on earth; God did that long ago for him in Heaven.

Isn't it funny? You can say a hundred nice things about a guy and do him a dozen favors then say one thing he doesn't agree with and he hates you the rest of his life.

"In a way I'm pretty much of a baby," those were the words of a very fine and wonderful man who was talking to us in the office this week. They were words of a very brave man. Rev. R. W. Stuckey was telling us of leaving Chilton County and his many friends here and moving to Union Springs, Alabama, where he will work with the Baptist Christian Education Board. In conversation we learned that Rev. Stuckey had preached for the past 47 years and in that time he had been absent from his pulpit only 17 times. He had officiated at more than 5,000 funerals and baptized more than 7,000. But he felt that it would be better if he got away from the things that reminded him so much of his wife who died recently. He will have new work and new interests, and he believes his new work will help. We hope that it does. Chilton County loses a beloved and christian gentleman. We wish the best for him always.

Now everybody knows that the husband is the head of the house. And everybody knows that a pedestrian has the right of way. Now what we would like to know is, why is it that everything goes just fine until either tries to exercise his rights?

The lady's husband had been missing more than a week, and she asked a friend to go with her to the Missing Persons Bureau. There she described him as "tall and handsome, with black hair and pretty white teeth."

Her friend gasped, "Why, you know your husband is short, fat and bald and hasn't a tooth in his head!"

"Sh-h-h," shushed the wife, "I know, but who wants that back?"

Thorsby Sews Up Blouse Factory

To Employ Over 300 Women

A story of perfect cooperation and fast concerted action by Town officials, Industrial Board and civic groups has resulted in Thorsby's first big industrial plant, to be known as Thorsby Manufacturing Company.

This plant, which will swing into full operation in 1957, will employ approximately 300 women, some 60 or more already trained in the temporary plant. The big factory will represent an investment of $200,000.00 and will contain 36,600 square feet of floor space.

The telegram was received Tuesday, Feb. 5, confirming the fact. The Board and Town Officials made plans Tuesday night to swing into the building of the permanent plant.

Thorsby is already richly blessed as one of the nation's finest agriculture locations and the factory is a need to balance industry with agriculture.

Chil.-Unity Pastors To Convene 9th

The Chilton-Unity Pastor's Conference will meet at the First Baptist Church Saturday at 2:00 p.m for the regular monthly meeting. The guest speaker will be Bro Vernon Yearby, secretary of evangelism.

We are very fortunate to have Bro. Yearby, out state worker, with us. We would like to urge all of our pastors to be present for this very important meeting. We, as pastors, need to do everything we can in preparation for our simultaneous Revival Crusade which is April 7-21. We would also invite any of our laymen to attend our conference if you can do so.

R. J. MAHANS CELEBRATE 50th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mahan, who were married Jan. 4, 1907, in Chilton County by the late L. H. Reynolds, celebrated their 50th anniversary when a tea honoring them was given in their home on [illegible], Jan. 24, between the hours of 2 and 5.

Several arrangements of yellow mums, pompoms, and yellow and white glads were used throughout the house.

Guests were met at the door by her daughters, Mrs. Roy Deason of Mobile and Mrs. Jack Byars of Dalton, Ga.

The dining room table was covered with a linen cut work cloth. The punch bowl was encircled with yellow mums and fern.

The large three tiered white cake held a miniature bride and groom and was also encircled in yellow mums and fern. The cake was cut by Mrs. Lou Patterson and Mrs Alvice Mahan presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Mahan who has been confined to her bed for several months, dressed for a picture in a navy blue dress with an egg shell duster. She wore a corsage of yellow carnations. Following the picture she returned to her bed where she received her guests in a pink nylon gown and her pillow corsage was also of yellow carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahan's three children, Mr. Hobson Mahan of Huntsville, Mrs. Roy Deason of Mobile, and Mrs. Jack Byars of Dalton, Ga., were present and three of their 13 grandchildren were present.

About fifty-five guests called during the tea hours.

OES Meets Tonight

Wrestling Bouts At Armory Tops in Sport

Fans Show Growing Interest

When promoter Gus Gulas first started a wrestling card here, he promised to bring the top wrestlers to Chilton County, and this week he has outdone himself and is giving us a championship match between Herb Welch and Julius LaRance along with two of the top women wrestlers of the nation, Belle Starr and Millie Stafford.

Herb Welch needs no introduction to the local fans. He is present the Southern Junior Heavyweight Champion and has defended his belt against all comers.

Julius LaRance is new to local fans but was seen on live wrestling over WABT last Saturday nite and those who saw him know that he is capable of anything and will stop at nothing to win. He has been trying to get a shot at Welch a long time and says that he will take it from him if he ever has the chance. Come out and see for yourself Saturday night.

As for the women's match, both of the contestants have been here before and have been asked to return by popular demand. In fact both matches are by popular demand.

Remember, the National Guard sponsors all of these matches, and extend to you a special invitation to be present Saturday night, Feb 9, at 8:15 at the Armory for this excitement packed wrestling card.

Advance tickets are on sale at Morrison's Furniture Company. Get yours now so you won't have to stand in line at the door.

Bring your friends and enjoy yourself.

MRS. ANNIE BASKIN DIES IN PLANTERSVILLE

Mrs. Annie Jones Baskin, age 85 of Plantersville died at home January 31, 1957, at 2 a.m.

Mrs. Baskin, a native of Sumpter County was born August 16, 1871 and was the daughter of Bensey and Julia Robinson Jones.

Graveside services were held at the Bulah Baptist Church Cemetery, near Ward, Ala., with Rev J. R. Robinson officiating on Friday, Feb. 1st, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Baskin is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cresline Robinson of Birmingham and Mrs. Mary Callier of Henesville, Ga.; one son, Mr Joe Baskin of Plantersville also survives. There are four grandchildren.

Spigener Funeral Home of Clanton was in charge.

Persons Over 20 Not Eligible For Free Polio Shots

The Chilton County Health Ofice is being beseiged by telephone calls from people above the age limit of 20, for polio vaccine. We are not permitted to give it to anyone above the age limit except to pregnant women.

I believe this impresion originated from carelessly written newspaper articles and some television shows we have recently seen. I wish it were possible for us to give the polio vaccine to every American citizen, but it stands now at the age limit of 20 and we can not do otherwise than adhere strictly to our orders.

Ask your family doctor about obtaining commercial vaccinne if you are 20 or older.

Dr. G. M. Taylor
County Health Officer.

Bad Weather No Scare--

County Peachers Expect Big Things From This Year's Crop

The peach growers of Chilton County are a hearty lot. Insecure weather conditions do not rattle them or move them from their goal. Mainly, that goal is to produce peaches in 1957 that will bring $11.00 per bushel as did some of the famour 1956 varieties. The average per bushel is $3.50 to $4.00.

To the more than 650 peach growers in Chilton County the coming season looks as good if not better than in 1956. They have a very firm belief that the Lord will provide them with the kind of favorable weather that will afford them a top peach crop this year.

The acreage of peaches grown in Chilton County up until this year was 4500 acres. This year 4000 additional acres have been planted. These added acres will produce [illegible] side three years. Which means that Chilton's peach industry is growing rapidly.

To some perhaps, the 1955 freeze that entirely wiped out Chilton's big money crop was enough to turn hearts and minds to more secure ways of earning a living. To the Chilton County peach grower it was a challenge to bigger and better things. You are reminded that in that year was the only time in its history that Chilton County has lost its entire crop of peaches. There have been slack years, but nothing to come up to the loss suffered in 1955

The new acreage has been devoted mostly to the Dixie Red, Cardinal and Cornett varieties of peaches.

These three take just about the minimum of dormant hours, and so are the most suited for our climate. Minimum dormant hours run about 750 and maximum hours run 1150. The three varieties mentioned above require about 800 dormant hours.

It is noted here that dormant hours include 45 degree temperature and below [illegible] t double up if it is ten degrees and so on. Hours are counted anything under 45 degrees.

To further clarify, the loss in 1955 was due to the fact that the required dormant period had [illegible] realized and the trees had [illegible] started budding. Peaches [illegible] already formed [illegible] being [illegible] killed, [illegible] near 100 per [illegible]

[illegible] try it [illegible] farmers [illegible] are looking [illegible] very [illegible] and hopeful that this [illegible] all years. The county crop has been almost doubled in acreage and barring catastrophe, should double in production in the next few years

Things are looking up for the peach grower, and thus, for the entire population of our county.

The farmers have only this to remember: earliness alone cannot bring you top price for your crop. Earliness and quality go together if you would earn top money for your peaches. And remember, "Chilton County Peaches Are Tops."

Watch For 'Dimes' Drive Report Next Week

Charles Patterson, Chairman of the Chilton County Committee for the 1957 March of Dimes, reports that $4650.56 has been collected and turned in to date on the campaign. Mr. Patterson also stated that several workers have not turned in their funds to the treasurer as yet.

He stated that a full report would appear in the next issue of the News as to the collections on the current campaign.

Both Hospitalized; Boy Dies At His Mother's Bedside

Fifteen year old William Oneal Watts of Route 2, Clanton died January 31st, at 10:25 a.m. at the Chilton County Hospital.

A victim of polio since the age of six months, young Watts became ill and was admitted to the hospital several days after his mother, Mrs Jessie L. Watts had entered the hospital for surgery. At Mrs. Watts request, her son was put to bed in the semi-private room with her. Mrs. Watts developed pneumonia overnight and was quite ill when her son died beside her three days after his admission to the hospital.

Still confined to her hospital bed, Mrs. Watts was allowed to leave the hospital for a few hours to attend the funeral of her son.

William Oneal was born in Chilton County, November 26, 1941.

Survivors are his parents, Jessie L. and Minnie Vines Watts; three brothers, Thomas Earl, Johnnie Lou and Jimmy Wayne Watts all of Clanton.

Funeral services were held from the Temple Church February 3, at 3 p.m. with Mrs. Helms, Rev. Morris Mims, Rev. J. I. Bice and son officiating.

Active pallbearers were: John David and James Vines, Richard Ralph and Johnnie Mims and James Helms

Honorary pallbearers were members of his eighth grade class: Jimmie Jones, Johnnie Robinson, Robert Durham, Ronnie Baker, James Wesley Wyatt, Hershel Minor, Roger Mims, Kenneth Easterling, Wesley Friday and Jerry Thomas.

Flower girls were also members of his 8th grade class: Ruth Easterling, Carolyn and Lois Minor, Christine Mims, Becky Ellison, Jeanette Adams, Mary Joyce Gore, Nina Chapman, Agnes Easterling and Elaine Vines.

Interment was in the Temple Cemetery, Martin Funeral Home of Clanton directing.

Chilton Students Make Dean's List At Ala. College

Several from Central Alabama were on the Dean's List at Alabama College, Montevallo, the first semester.

Janice Erle Young, Clanton, received all "A's". There were only nine who were on this "Honor List."

Among the other 127 who were on the Dean's List were: Lucretia Davis, Verbena; Elizabeth Ann Jes[illegible], whose home is now in New Orleans, but went to school at Chilton County High School; Gwendolyn Missildine, Billingsley; Mary Ruth Strock, Mt. Creek; and Janice Marion Wood of Clanton.

All-Day Singing At White City, 10th

The annual all-day Singing will be held next Sunday, Feb. 10th, at the White City Baptist Church. Singing will begin at 10 o'clock.

According to Orbie DeVaughn, chairman, singers from various counties will be present.

Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend this annual event.

Vice-President--

Appointed To Alabama Society For Crippled Children, Adults

I. S. Levine

I. S. Levine, Clanton, was elected vice president of the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults at the Society's annual meeting Friday in Montgomery.

Mr Levine is chairman of the Chilton County Chapter.

Other officers elected to serve the State Society were Charles L. Weston, Clayton, president; Frank Bromberg, Birmingham, second vice president; Mrs. John Lakeman, Haleyville, secretary; Harold Harris Snowdoun, treasurer; and Carl Morring, Jr., Huntsville, National Society trustee.

New members elected to the board of directors included Mrs. R. S. Allison, Livingston; Mrs. Irwin Boozer, Anniston; Earl Tucker Thomasville; Sam Israel, Sheffield; Oscar Dunn, Ozark; Cecil Word Scottsboro, and Hugh Smith, Langdale.

Several hundred volunteers affiliated with the Society from local county chapters throughout Alabama attended the meeting. Report of activities the past year and plan for expansion of services to the crippled and handicaped were features of the meeting.

National authorities on rehabilitation and education of children with serious handicaps spoke to the assemblage during the day-long meeting.

Verbena On Probation--

Athletic Board Reviews Case Of Verbena Ballplayers

The Third District Board of the Alabama High School Athletic Association has made its report and disposition of the cases regarding eligible players at Verbena High School the past season. The report by the Secretary, N. P. Benton, follows:

Alabama High School Athletic Association
Third District Board
Camden, Alabama

January 9, 1957

The Third District Athletic Board met January 9, 1957 at the A. G. Parrish High School in Selma and reviewed the case of Buel Burdette and Chester Yeargan who participated while ineligible at Verbena High School, Verbena, Alabama.

The Case of Chester Yeargan:

The statements of the principal and coach indicate that there is the possibility that Chester Yeargan's participation against Billingsley was due to a misunderstanding or failure of the coach to properly check with the principal, etc. Chester Yeargan's participation was in violation of Rule 1, Section 9.

Buel Burdette:

The case of Buel Burdette, who failed his work in the spring was not on the semester eligibility list or the game eligibility list which was prepared and signed by the principal. It, therefore, appears in the case of Buel Burdette that is was not due to an oversight that Buel Burdette was played in the Jemison game while ineligible. Buel Burdette's participation was in violation of Rule 1, Section 8.

The following penalties are placed on the Verbena High School:

(1) The two games that these two boys participated in are to be officially forfeited to the opponents and letters written to the effect by the principal of Verbena High School.

(2) Verbena High School is placed on probation for a period of one year from January 9, 1957.

(3) Verbena High School is assessed a penalty of $100 for these offenses and the conditions and circumstances conneeted with the offenses.

CLANTON COMMUNITY CENTER

"No Say Die" is the fighting slogan of the Clanton Community Center group that met Monday at Bob's Restaurant. Already this group has drawn attention to the serious need of a Community Center here in Clanton and their efforts have attracted donations from the Clanton Lions Club, The Study Club, The JayCees, and many other civic organizations.

One thing for which we are very proud is that this community center group means business. This is not a passing fancy with them and they don't intend to give up until their aim has been accomplished.

Let's get the entire city behind this movement. There is no argument that it is badly needed. Call Callen Alred, Chairman, and tell him you are behind him and the project. If we work together, then we can accomplish anything.

HOW ABOUT IT, GOVERNOR?

Destruction of the National Guard, threatened by arbitrary decision of the Pentagon brass to require six months active duty of all National Guard enlistees, may have been averted by the intemperate and uniformed "draft-dodging" commentary of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson before the House Armed Services committee.

Facing up at long last to the failure of their costly reserve program, it would seem that the Army heads convinced Mr. Wilson that the Guard was standing in the way of offering a young man the opportunity of becoming a "citizen soldier" (as General Washington called the militiaman) without scrapping his civilian career.

Having decided on the six-months-training policy for the Guard, Mr. Wilson and his advisors then called in the Reserve Forces Policy Board of the Defense Department and the General Staff Committee on National Guard and Army Reserve Policy to rubber stamp the decisions already taken.

Fortunately for the country at large, as well as for the National Guard and the prestige of the individual states, Mr. Wilson's charge that the Guard became a refuge for draft dodgers during the Korean War has stirred up a full-scale tempest. It is not likely to subside until the Army's Reserve plan fiasco and the professional soldier's animosity toward the Guard are fully exposed.

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Association, immediately branded the Wilson accusation "a damn lie." He reminded the nation that every enlistee was immediately liable to active service, that both the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard urged their complete mobilization immediately at the outset of the Korean emergency. And while the Government said no, it was only a "police action," 37 percent of the Army National Guard and 84 percent of the Air National Guard were soon mobilized.

With regard to the six months training period demanded by the Pentagon, Gen. Walsh reminds us that the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 provides for active duty training periods of three to six months, and that the National Guard Association has urged a mandatory 3 months program.

"This is not my dunghill," said Mr. Wilson the other day, referring to the White House. And we wonder if the same remark might not apply to the executive mansions of the 48 states—since the Governors thereof are, nominally at least, the commanders-in-chief of their respective National Guard units.

Will the States stand by while the Federal government absorbs their historic and valiant constabularies—as they have stood by while the Washington bureaucrats took over welfare at the state level, and as they are standing by while federalization of their schools is being formulated? Perhaps it is time for another Governors' Conference?

MOW 'EM DOWN—

FARMERS ARE URGED TO OPEN BATTLE AGAINST CORN BORERS

Alabama's corn crop this year will be in grave danger unless farmers wage an active campaign—beginning immediately—on corn borers, both the European variety and the southern corn stalk borer.

A new invader of Alabama corn fields is the European corn borer, whose forces have built up each year since 1950. So far this pest has invaded only 15 North Alabama counties, but nothing stands in the way of its march southward through the state.

The southern corn stalk borer has a strong foothold over the entire state. But the European one chalks up the most damage. API Extension Entomologist W. A. Ruffin reported that last year this insect stole 25 percent of the corn yield in some fields, and he called it as dangerous as the boll weevil to cotton.

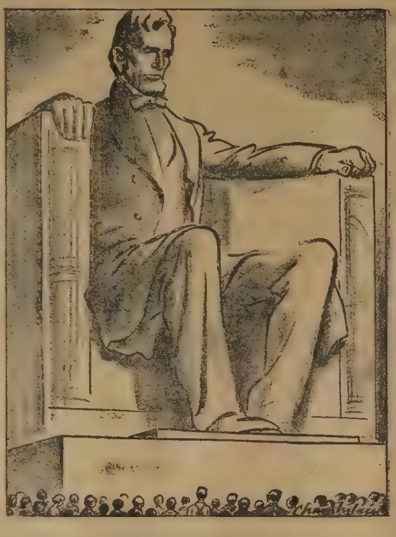
He urged farmers to take steps now to control both insects. Control measures consist of using a shredder-type stalk cutter to pulverize last year's corn stalks and then turning them at least six inches underground.

Dr. W. G. Eden, entomologist with the API Agricultural Experiment Station, said that when the young corn is up and an infestation of European corn borer is found, the farmer would find it advisable to use DDT for control. Meanwhile further research for weapons to use against this invader is being pushed at the Experiment Station.

From Washington agricultural circles comes bad news—European borer count is rising in Eastern states, including Alabama. It stands at 130 corn borers per 100 corn stalks, a three-fifths increase over last year.

The pest also attacks pimiento and grain sorghum.

GROWING WITH THE YEARS



ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Abraham Lincoln, the Great Emancipator, was born in 1809; next Tuesday, Feb. 12 will be the 148th anniversary of his birth. His humanitarian instinct guided him throughout his life and as it would be today, caused him many enemies as well as many friends.

At least he grows in statue with the years.

things we See and Hear

By "TUCK"

The things we see, believe. The things we hear. . . think about 'em first.

If it is true that the actions of some of our county officials have set the county back even so much as ten weeks, they do not deserve to be entrusted with an important public position. They were elected to make Chilton County grow; we wish all county officials would keep that in mind. Ever heard the old saying "I seen my duty and I done it." As far as we're concerned it applies... to most everything.

The Clanton Civitan Club is certainly growing. The attitude of the members is enough in itself to verify that fact. But, their attitude, important though it is, still needs a little action to go along with it, and they have that too. Just recently their family night guest speaker was Laurie Battles who has been behind the Iron Curtain for a birds eye view of that situation. It is interest and enthuiasm like this that make a civic organization a boon to the community. You can be proud of your local Civitan group. They are proud of their community.

Never get to see our good friend Dave Wall around any more. We realize the real estate business keeps him pretty busy, but he could come round to say "howdy" occasionally.

You know, the realization of the need of others escapes some of us sometimes. To hear some of our citizens tell it, they are the personification of a model citizen and a self-made individual. A pathetic case of partial blindness resulting in the "stepping on" of neighbors. No pleasant thought.

And speaking of blindness. You [illegible] deal with the public! How many times have you run across the [illegible] who considers the price you quote him and seemingly forgets the quality or the source of the "item" in mention? Many times no doubt. This person is commonly known as "cheap." This may be true, but they also lack the appreciation of having friends, neighbors, and the knowledge that what they need can be had. They forget about friends, friendship and everything when it comes to money. They think only of the fact that they can get it cheaper someyhere else. Consider the source, before you lightly pass off the services of one who works hard in order to make things [illegible] for you. He may not be [illegible] as a supplier, but what about as a friend? In such case the supply, frequently is puny when put beside the demand. You don't realize how lucky you are.

Well, now is the time. We are transplanting, uprooting, killing and otherwise showing our questionable proficiency as a gardener and a flower expert. The mood is upon us with such influence that we are rearranging everything in sight. Bushes are getting moved. Them that ain't moving are being trimmed and flowers are being sown like oats. Nope, we're not looney; no, not sick either. Think we have an early case of spring fever. Must be the weather (no doubt). Anyway, the greenery around our house is catching the very dickens.

Letters to the Editor

LETTY WRITES IN EFERENCE TO ING SAUD'S VISIT

ear Editor—

It was very touching to witness the reverence, with which our president received the great Aarabian Monarch, and the sincerity of his rebuke to the people of the City of New York, for giving the Monarch a cold shoulder.

This great tyrannical Monster who sells his subjects birthright, to the British, French and American oil interests, to build up his own personal fabulous wealth, which is in the billions, while the great majority of his subjects live in want, like varmints, half starved, about half of whom are slaves. His land being to the best of my knowledge, the only land in the world today, in which there are open slave markets.

Is it possible that our president, who professes to be a devout Christian and prays unceasingly for the enslaved peoples of the world, is plotting with this tyrant to formulate ways to squeeze more billions out of the American tax payers, to add to his already fabulous wealth? This monster who owns many slaves himself, and allows his subjects to [illegible] in slaves, even those of their own blood.

Are the American people going to stand for being taxed to death forever, to keep some of the worst tyrants of the world in power?

We have for years been financing Chiang Kai-Shek's tyrannical regime, and contributing heavily to the Catholic Colombian and Spanish governments, so they can murder and otherwise persecute the Protestants. Now are we going to have to contribute even more heavily to this Arabian monster, to help him keep the majority of the Arab people in slavery?

We, the Amercian people who already have a national public debt of about $280 billion, which is about $35 billion more than the assessed value of the entire nation.

Remember how our forefathers fought the revoluionary war, principally because of a small tax on tea?

IT'S MY OPINION

By BOB TUCKER

The old saying "better safe than sorry" comes high in our vocabulary as far as old sayings go.

We'd like to apply it to a situation that needs attention. We'll admit that our vocabularly isn't as extensive as it should be or we'd like it to be, however, the situation we have in mind doesn't need a large vocabulary.

It's about kids. Little kids.

We have noticed for a long time now, how the very young children of our community, use for a playground, our city strets. Well, as you may expect, we could go into a long, drawn-out discussion on playgrounds, etc. etc., but instead we're going to ask that the parents bend an ear our way and listen to some words which, though not coming from a learned scholar on the subject of children or parents, are common knowledge.

Keep an eye on your kids.

Over and over again you see appeals from one source or another asking you to take all sorts of precautions about all sorts of things. You cannot get enough advice (common knowledge variety) on watching out for your youngsters.

Blind corners, hills, sidewalks close to the street, and most of all, the lack of respect which some children have for vehicles and their extensive ability to do damage are just some things which make our city streets unsafe for children to play in.

This is not a knock against any civic organization or a blot on the endeavors of anyone. This is strictly a reminder to parents.

Watch your children.

It is repititious to say the least. But even so, it seems to be like water off a duck's back. Won't you understand; your child is not invincible, but he is irreplaceable. Very, very much so.

There is nothing quite so irreplaceable, so divinely the last word in wealth as your child.

We're speaking of small children, three to five years old. Children who should forever be under the vigilant eye of a grown-up. If you know children you know that in one split second they can change their attentions from one thing to another. They also get so wholly engrossed in what they are doing that they aren't concerned with whether they are doing it in the yard or in the street. That's where you come in. You've been around this old world long enough to be wary, suspicious of all moving objects, especially when it comes to your child.

Well, if you believe these things ...why in the world don't you step to the door and just see where your youngster is now. Do you know where he is? We mean honestly know, exactly. If you do not, perhaps you'd better step to the door, ever so often, and check on him.

"Better safe than sorry" hardly describes the feeling you might have if your child were hurt, maimed or killed in the city streets. This is a situation for which the city is not responsible. You are, parent. Don't you think enough of your child to want to know that he is safe as possible? Lord knows, there are enough natural dangers in this good old world without asking for extra burdens which needn't be.

Mama, don't be sorry. Find the youngster. If you can't keep him in the yard, then keep him in the house until you teach him to respect the dangers of just plain living. You cannot possibly regret it, even tho' it never does you any direct good. Possibly, the good you derive from doing it, will never be noticed. The sorrow you could know, however, would live with you from now on.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House of Representatives gave overwhelming approval last week to President Eisenhower's request for authority to undertake a program of economic and military cooperation with nations located in the general area of the Middle East. The resolution embodying the President's proposal was passed by a roll call vote of 355-61, with all members from Alabama voting in favor of it.

Earlier the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, of which I am a member, had reported the legislation to the House of Representatives by a 24-2 vote. This action followed three weeks of hearing at which representatives of both the State Department and the Department of Defense urged early approval.

Military Aid—

Under the terms of the resolution, military intervention in the area of the Middle East hinges on certain conditions. First, the President can intervene only in the case of overt armed aggression. Second, the aggressor must come from a nation controlled by international communism. Third, the nation or group of nations attacked must request our aid.

The purpose of the section of the resolution authorizing military aid is to make clear to the Soviet Union our intentions in the area of the Middle East and thereby reduce the danger of any miscalculations on its part. While no one could state categorically that the Middle East resolution would avert armed conflict, the testimony presented to our Committee indicated that its passage would lessen rather than increase the likelihood of war.

Economic Assistance—

The section of the resolution that deals with economic aid gives the President greater discretion as to the use of $200 million that has already been appropriated by Congress. However, no new funds are authorized by the resolution. An amendment, recommended by the Committee and adopted by the House of Representatives, limits to $30 million the amount that can be spent in any one country under this section. It also establishes the end of the present fiscal year as the termination date on the authority granted the President in the use of the $200 million.

Another important amendment, also recommended by the Committee and adopted by the House of Representatives, provides that the resolution can be terminated at any time by a simple majority of the House and Senate.

Area Critical—

One needs only to examine a map of the world to determine the strategic importance of the Middle East. This area links the continents of Europe, Asia, and Africa and is both the land bridge and the principal water passage-way between these continents. In addition, two-thirds of the known oil reserves of the world are located here. Control of the Middle East by the Soviet Union would seriously imperil Western Europe as well as the entire free world. Yet, the evidence is overwhelming that Russia is doing everything within its power to capitalize on the unsettled conditions in this area.

General Alfred Gruenther, brilliant and able former Supreme Commander of Allied Forces, Europe, summarized the situation in his appearance before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs when he said, "If the Soviet Union is permitted to continue its troublemaking unchallenged—and under present conditions the United States is the only possible challenger—the cost to the United States and the whole free world would be beyond measure."

The House of Representatives has recognized the danger of Soviet aggression in the Middle East by its approval of the resolution. Senate consideration of the proposal is expected within the next two weeks.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through Our Lord Jesus Christ.—(Romans 5, 1.)

Just as He promised, Our Lord Jesus Christ is with us always. This day, this hour, His spirit is beside each and every one of us who devoutly seeks Him. Through our unswerving faith, He will lead us to find Our Father and to know His unending love.

MRS. J. H. WELLS

Mulberry Church—

Rev. J. B. Lucas brought an inspiring message to a good congregation at Mulberry Sunday night.

In observance of "H" Day, Robert Perry of Howard College brought the morning message. We are glad to have these young men in our church. On Sunday night, young Perry preached at Macedonia Baptist Church.

Following the morning worship service, the monthly business meeting was held. Bro. Lucas gave some remarks on the new Baptist Hospital and Crippled Children's Clinic in Montgomery. Pledge cards were given out to be returned next Sunday. We believe these pledges to be for a worthy cause.

Bro. J. B. Lucas will be bringing the message next Sunday morning. He will preach on, "The Healing Ministry of Jesus," as a climax to this fund raising campaign for these two buildings. He insists that all members do their best to attend all the services and keep the attendance climbing even while the road to the church is under construction. Services will continue to be held in the school auditorium as long as the road is impassable.

The Youth Fellowship meeting was held with the James Veaseys last Sunday night with a fair group of young people present. Mary Nell Veasey led the devotional.

Following the social hour, Mrs. Veasey served refreshments.

Mrs. Baldwin, a WMU Field Worker, will speak to the WMU members on Thursday night, Feb. 14, at 6:30 p.m. We invite all the ladies of our church to be present.

Isabella School—

The PTA will meet in the school auditorium on Monday night of next week at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Harold Lewis of Clanton is filling the vacancy as high school teacher at Isabella. This is the vacancy created by Mr. Lewis McGee on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Renfro Veasey, Billy and Dorothy Bean enjoyed a visit in Bessemer Sunday with Mrs. Veasey's brother and family, the Vincent Gaydons.

Mrs K. S. Weeks was the week end guest of her mother, Mrs. Emma Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinton White and girls were Sunday afternoon guests of their mothers.

Mr. and Mrs Clyde Hightower and little daughter, Kay of Bynum and Ophelia Ann Conway of State Teachers College at Jacksonville, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Conway.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Lucas and Johnnie visited the latter's mother, Mrs J. H. Wright in Brewton, Ala., the first of this week.

Nancy McCraw and Jean McGee were Sunday dinner guests of the W. C. Lecroys.

Mr. Talmadge Short left Birmingham Sunday night on the Eastern Airliner enroute to Ft. Louis, Washington. He planned to spend the night in Tacoma, Wash., on Monday night of this week. He will be stationed in Korea for the next sixteen months.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jones and children of Birmingham were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs J. H. Wells. They were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. E S. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs W T Tucker's Sunday night dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Short of the Enterprise Community. Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Short, Jr. and 2 children of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tucker and 3 children, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Short and Mrs. Lee Lecroy.

Lewis McGee accepted a position as salesman for the Blue Bird Body Company on Monday of this week. He will work the Southern part of the state, but will be able to return home almost every night.

Glenn Jones left on Monday of this week for Florida State University at Tallahassee where he will begin work on his master's degree. We all wish him good luck and congratulations to him.

Mrs. Ozena Green taught at Vermont on Monday of this week in Mrs. Bices' place. Mrs. Bice was ill.

Gordon Conway attended the funeral of Mr. J. C. Cannon, State Supt. of Vocational Agriculture at the First Methodist Church in Montgomery on Monday of this week.

Mrs. Charlie Cooper returned home Saturday after spending a week in Columbus Ga., with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Lecroy, Margaret and Richard of Brent Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Keen of Shiloh Community were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lecroy.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

GOOD HEALTH

Are you one of the many persons who made resolutions for 1957? Did you promise yourself to overcome the bad habits and strive for better ones? In your sincere desire to lead a better life, did you think, to be complete, this should also include a special attempt to keep yourself healthy and well?

How can you go about this? First of all, what is the state of your health? When did you have your last physical examination? Simply because you've been feeling comparitively well does not mean that some condition does not exist that, if left undetected, will cause illness. Lately you seem to tire easily, but you attribute this to the hurry and bustle of living. But is it? Remember fatigue is associated with a number of conditions that could be remedied.

What about your heart, lungs, ears and eyes? When was your blood pressure checked? Are you sure it is within the normal range for your age and weight? A good physical examination is the best insurance you have for these answers.

Ask your physician to give you a thorough check-up. Have an x-ray examination of your chest so that you can be eliminated from the group of persons walking about with latent tuberculosis. See that your ears are free of infection and that your vision is adequate. Eye strain is responsible for such conditions as headache, dizziness, neuritis and irritable disposition.

The physical examination should include a urinalysis. One important condition this reveals is diabetes. Eliminate yourself as a suspect.

Have you noticed any peculiar lumps on your body? Remember that any unusual growth should be investigated, for this is a manifestation of cancer. On the other hand, the tiny tumor may not be malignant at all. Why not be sure?

The human machine is a wonderful structure, but like many mechanical appliances, if not kept in good operating condition, it breaks down. Perhaps the collapse won't be complete; but a part here and there needs repair to restore coordination and good function.

Preventive medicine is one of the foremost advances in modern medicine. Not only can certain diseases be avoided through immunization but they can be overcome should they be detected earyl

POPLAR SPRINGS NEWS

In observance of "H" Day, Rev Jack Kirkley of Howard College spoke to us Sunday morning. We enjoyed having him visit in our church.

Our pastor, Rev. Hornsby, brought a wonderful message Sunday night.

Twenty-four from our church visited Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby and Bobby in Birmingham last Wednesday night. Everyone enjoyed a bountiful meal and fellowship. They also had the wonderful experience of attending the Ordination of Bro. Hornsby at Lakewood Baptist Church.

Our prayer services were held Thursday night of this past week due to the Ordination of Rev. Hornsby on Wednesday night. Everyone remember that Wednesday night is our regular prayer meeting time, and come if you possibly can.

The attendance for Sunday School and Training Union was off somewhat due, probably, to the bad weather as well as sickness. We hope our attendance will be better in the future.

We were happy to have our visitors Sunday and we invite them back again. We want everyone that comes to our church to feel welcome because we are always glad to have visitors.

We are sorry that Mr Lindsy Nicholson fell while working at the church and injured his foot badly. We pray that it will soon be well so that he may be able to be up again.

We appreciate everyone that has had a part in the beautifying of our church. It already looks much better and by the time it is finished it will be a beautiful place for worshipping God.

We were glad that enough of our members could go to the Youth Rally to help get the banner again. We hope that more of our members can go in the future for we believe the Youth Rally is worthwhile and we want to support it.

Everyone that can is invited to come to Mr and Mrs. C E Bowden's next Friday night to practice singing.

Mr and Mrs Floyd Williams of Birmingham and Mr and Mrs Charles Mueller of Montgomery visited Mrs John Cox and Lee during the week end.

Rev. and Mrs Hornsby and Bobby spent Saturday night with Mr and Mrs. Sam Beard and Charles.

Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Gaynes Glenn and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beard and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Traywick and family, Mrs. Marion Coggins and Malcolm and June Preston visited Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hill and family Sunday.

The drouth situation in the country holds part of the answer to the cattle outlook this year. U. S. Department of Agriculture economists report that if dry weather continues, slaughter of cattle will increase, preventing a price rise. But if the drouth is not severe prices will be as high or even higher than last year for cattle.

MRS. GEORGE NAISH

Recent Bride Honored—

One of the loveliest affairs of the early spring season was the tea and miscellaneous gift shower, honoring Mrs. Douglas Hilyer, nee Sandra Peterson, Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3rd, when Mrs. A. C. Bratton was hostess at her home.

The guests were greeted by the hostess, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Russell Peterson, and Mrs. H. G. Hilyer, mother of the groom.

[illegible] honoree was wearing a waltz [illegible] dress of net and lace and a white carnation corsage.

[illegible] table where the guests registered was marked with a bowl of floating pink camelias and was presided over by Miss Peggy Blackmon, in a blue lace dress with a [illegible] carnation corsage.

In the dining room, the bride's table was spread with an exquisite lace cloth. One end of the table was graced with an arrangement of pink snapdragons. In the center, on either side were white candles in [illegible] candlesticks, decorated with sunbursts of green satin ribbon, tied in bride's knots. A crystal punch bowl, garlanded with pink camelias at the base, was at the other end of the table.

[illegible] color scheme of pink and [illegible] was carried out in the individual cakes, mints and punch.

Many lovely useful gifts were on display.

[illegible]tesses were: Mrs. Hugh Rogers, Miss Ola Rogers, Mrs. Lola Miller, Mrs. Herman Shirley, Miss [illegible] Harvey, Mrs. Marvin Sutley, Mrs. Winford Jackson, Mrs. [illegible] Langston, Miss Pat Newbourne, Miss Peggy Blackmon and Mrs. E. [illegible] Hall of Montgomery, aunt of [illegible] honoree.

Miss Pat Newbourne served the [illegible]. She was gowned in green [illegible], with pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Martin Peterson and Mrs. [illegible] H. Bean, grandmothers of the [illegible], were present.

Alabama Making Efforts in Schooling Handicapped Youths

Commendable Progress Made

Alabama has made a strong start in schooling children. The education of physically handicapped children involves programs of instruction and therapy that help remove or minimize the physical handicap. The good teacher is the key to the progress desired.

The good teacher helps children accept their handicaps realistically and in such way as to prevent emotional crippling which may be more damaging than the physical handicap. This she does through personal friendliness, wamth, interest patience, kindness, and real respect for the children. At the same time she will be firm and objective in all her dealings with the pupils as she helps them to develop the greatest possible degree of self-acceptance and self-reliance. These pupils must be taught to make adjustments to their limitations and to realize that they must not except special favors and concessions because of their handicaps.

The good teacher will visit the homes of these pupils in an effort to gain an understanding of the problems to be faced, and to help establish the needed home-school relationships.

With the benefit of good teaching, good equipment, and good home cooperation, physically handicapped children may develop and live with high degree of efficiency and happiness.

There are 175 classes for exceptional children organized in the State. At least fifty more classes are expected to be organized annually.

According to a recent study by the Louisiana State University School of Medicine, farmers get fewer headaches than any other occupational group in the U. S. The survey showed that only 50 percent of farmers suffer headaches; 8[illegible] percent of medical students; 77 percent of business executives; 70 percent of professional people; 69 percent of housewives; 68 percent of clerks; 58 percent of salesmen and 5[illegible] percent of manual laborers.

Says "Time" Magazine---

Weekly Newspapers Declared Fastest Growing American Publications

New York—Weekly newspapers today are the fastest-growing publications in the U. S., "Time" says in a special report in the current (Feb issue out this week.

"Metropolitan newsmen who daydream of retiring to a country paper have long viewed weeklies more as a rural retreat than as an influential segment of the press," "Time" says. "But with the swift growth of suburbs and small towns since World War II, weeklies have largely shed their cracker-barrel ways, developed sophistication and a new sense of mission.'

Editorial Vitality—

Weekly Newspaper Representatives, Inc., last week reported that 8,478 weeklies in the U. S. in 1956 reached a paid circulation peak of 18,529,199, up 6.5 percent over 1955. Estimated gain for the 1,700 dailies total circulation more than 56 million): about 2 percent. Advertising in weekies increased 1.2 percent to a record $112 million; this includes a 30 percent jump to $25 million) in national ads since 1954 vs. an estimated 10 percent gain for dailies.

"The weeklies' resurgence reflects editorial as well as economic vitality," "Time" says. "In addition to relaying the back-fence [illegible] on which weeklies have traditionally thrived, the papers are the only interpreters and watchdogs of local governments in hundreds of U. S. communities, whose problems, aim and achievements go largely unrecorded in the metropolitan press."

Professional Standards—

Acording to one editor, weeklies "are giving back the home town" to suburbanities who have lost contact with community responsibilities. In many areas, fast-growing suburbs have produced weekly and semi-weekly chains that are as slick in appearance and informative in content as their city cousins.

"Even outside metropolitan areas" says "Time," "most small-town weeklies... have thrown out the mudgy type and bumpkin prose that once characterized the weekly press, now run staff-written stories and editorials instead of the boilerplate and canned sermons that once crammed country papers. The old-time jack-of-all-trades country editor has been largely supplanted by trained staffs. Lured out of the cities by the prospect of editorial and economic indep[illegible] [illegible] standards [illegible] weekly newspapering."

Crusading Spirit—

Though once reknowned for their timidity, many weeklies have developed the crusading spirit that has vanished from many a fat-cat daily "Time" notes. "In the South, many weeklies have consistently taken a more liberal stand than the region's big dailies on the touchy desegregation issue...

"Since weeklies are closer than dailies to readers and advertisers and more vulnerable to the pressure of advertisers, they are often hit by economic boycotts. But few editors cave in under such threats—or worse. In Granite City, Ill., after Editor Cornelius E. Townsend had waged an editorial campaign against organized gambling in the community, a hoodlum recently emptied his revolver into Townsend's "Press-Record" ofifce. Echoing many a fighting editor before him, Townsend said: 'Maybe they'll scare hell out of me someday and I'll quit. But I don't think so.'"

ENDER CARE—

ALABAMA SWEETPOTATO CROP IS BEING THREATENED BY DISEASE

A virus disease—internal cork—will threaten Alabama's sweetpotato crop again this year unless proper precautions are taken. And the only known precaution is planting disease-free seed.

API Extension Horticulturist Jno. Bagby reported this wek that in recent years Alabama sweetpotato growers have suffered considerable loss because of internal cork. But as yet no chemical treatment has been discovered to prevent the disease.

Diseased potatoes develop a dark, hard streak of varying size, not only making the potato look unappetizing but also affecting its eating quality. In Alabama the disease hits the Porto Rico variety hardest. For this reason many growers have turned to two new varieties—Goldrush and Allgold—which are not as easy a mark for the disease. But these varieties are not as tasty as the Porto Rico potato.

Bogby stressed the importance of growers using only certified seed and warned them to carefully examine all seed before bedding them. Seed showing black spots or other signs of disease should be discarded.

He recommended that growers thoroughly clean old seed beds, removing the old soil or sawdust, before planting the seed. All wooden parts of the bed and soil should be disinfected with a solution of one pint of comercial formalin in 30 gallons of water. And seed should be treated by dipping in a semesan bel solution—one pound to eight gallons of water.

Sweetpotatoes should be bedded between Feb. 4 and 15 for best results. Then plants will be ready to set out as soon as the frost danger has been blown away by spring breezes—usually around April 1 in South Alabama and April 15 to 20 in North Alabama.

Soybeans, have been grown successfully by the API Experiment Station in all sections of Alabama. This crop fits into a double-cropping system and requires very little labor for growing.

Navy Recruiting Sho' Nuff "Heart Of Dixie" Company

A Navy "Heart of Dixie" Company will be enlisted from the Alabama Recruiting District in February according to Lieutenant Commander M. E. Thompson, Oficer in Charge.

Commander Thompson announced that this Navy Recruit Company will be comprised of 75 men and that they will be sent to San Diego California for their recruit training. The "Heart of Dixie Company" is scheduled to leave from Birmingham on the 27th of February. It will go by train to San Diego.

Commander Thompson said, "This is a wonderful opportunity for these young men to train together as a group. They will go to the training center together and receive their basic or "boot" training as a unit. In this way a young man can be assured of staying with his friends during his training period and return home on leave together."

The Commander also stressed the fact that all special and high school graduate programs will be available to qualified members of this company.

All young men between the ages of 17 and 31 interested in joining this group of "Dixie Sailors" are urged to see their local Navy Recruiter at the earliest posible time as procesing must be completed before 26th. A complete report including pictures of this famous company will be sent to all hometown news agencies during their training period.

More information concerning this company can be obtained at the Navy Recruiting Station. In Clanton each Monday, it is located in the P. O. Building.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.—(I John 1, 9.)

Confession, even to ourselves, of our sins, often comes hard because foolish pride, willfullness, stubbornness hold us back from acknowledging our weakness. But the Father's reward for His children's sincere penitence is wonderful and great.

"Who Says You Need Costly Shots To Relieve 'Hot Flashes' And Irritation From Change-Of-Life?"

Mrs. A. M., Watonga, Okla., adds, "Middle age was torture. Had costly shots 3 times a week but got no relief. Then took Pinkham's Tablets. They brought me new happiness, comfort!"

Model Photo

Science offers women new freedom from much of the misery of change-of-life, thanks to an amazing new tablet developed especially to relieve these functionally-caused discomforts. Doctors reported sensational results using this remarkable home treatment alone... and no costly injections!

Relief for 8 out of 10 Tested!

Irritability, tortured nerves were calmed. Dizziness relieved. Awful hot flashes subsided. Here's why. Unlike aspirin and such "general purpose" remedies, this new tablet is a unique combination of special medicines... acts directly on the cause of these troubles... works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve tense feelings and physical distress that bring unhappiness to so many. Clinical tests prove this.

Now this amazing formula is at drugstores without prescription. Ask for "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets". Don't let change-of-life rob you of joy! Get handy Pinkham's Tablets. Contain blood-building iron. See how fast you can feel your happy self again—without costly shots! (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Hill, Sparkman Seek To Regain Lost Cotton Acreage

Washington, D. C.—Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman have introduced a bill to compen[illegible] Alabama farmers ar[illegible] [illegible] have lost since 1[illegible]

The bill would direct [illegible] of Agriculture t[illegible] each cotton farm a[illegible] age' to be each farm[illegible] 57 [illegible] allotment increased by [illegible] Senators Hill and S[illegible] [illegible] through failure of farmer [illegible] their annual quota.

A similar bill has already been introduced in the House of Representatives by the entire Alabama Delegation including Repr[illegible] Armistead Selden of the [illegible]

Alabama's 1957 al[illegible] [illegible] acres. The Alab[illegible] would add 2[illegible] the state's "farm base [illegible] [illegible]tion would make [illegible] available to farmers d[illegible] 58. "These [illegible] not be planted," Senators Hill and Sparkman poi[illegible] [illegible]ners would be eligible for payments for them through the Soil Bank Program.

Senators Hill and S[illegible] explained that failure of [illegible] mers in the past to pl[illegible] cotton acreage allotted [illegible] ed in the loss of thousands [illegible]. The Senators recalled, for example that in 1955 Alabama's [illegible] ers planted 47,953 [illegible] they were allotted [illegible] 150,000 less than the [illegible]. By way of contrast the [illegible] said that in 1955 Arizona missed planting its quota by only 1,311 acres; in 1954, California missed by approximately 34,000. This great difference in Alabama and other Southeastern States between the acres allocated and the acres planted results in less acreage [illegible].

"Another section of our bill would direct the Secretary of Agriculture through the County Agriculture Stabilization Committee, to provide for measurement of cotton acreage by metes and bounds before planting, if the farmer requests such measurement in writing to the County Committee," Senators Hill and Sparkman said. "This provision would give the farmer a more careful and exact survey, thereby doing away with some of the injustices which have caused Alabama's cotton farmers to lose acreage in the past.

Bell-Jones Vows Are Spoken

Miss Martha Bell and the Rev. James E. Jones were married at 4 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Clanton by Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Jones of Birmingham.

Candles were lighted by Henry Bell and Chris Gemes.

Ringbearer was little James Bell, [illegible] of the bride.

Matron of honor was Mrs. C. R. Norrell, sister of the bride, of Birmingham. Miss Mary Nell McKissack was Maid of Honor. Lynn Bell was flower girl. Bridesmaids and Matrons were Misses Louise Golden, Janice Young, Mrs. Jerry Lessley, Mrs. Travis Ellis, Mrs. Jimmy Bell, Jr., and Mrs. Glennis Askins.

The attendants wore blue brocaded taffeta dresses and carried white carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace over satin was designed with fitted bodice, Queen Anne collar, long sleeves and full skirt over hoop. The back had wide lace and net ruffles which extended into a chapel-length train. The finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. The bride carried a prayer book with orchids and valley lillies.

The Rev. Charles Carter served as best man. Ushers were Joe Lawley, Glennis Askins, Jimmy Bell and Cecil Sewell.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue lace, mother of the bridegroom, blue crepe.

The reception which followed the ceremony was held in the church parlors. Assisting were Mrs. Lucyle May, Mrs. C. M. Gemes, Mrs. W. E. Bell, Mrs. J. H Oliver, Mrs. Joe Popwell, Mrs Eddie Waters, Misses Ann Jester, Sherlyn Bell, Lynn Lindberry, Jean Thompson, Sue Brooks, Myrna Crew, and Ann Blizzard.

Then, It Was 'Yellow Jack'-

Alabama Has Defeated Many Public Diseases

Many Epidemics Brought About PHS

by Arthur N. Beck, Chief Engineer and Director, Bureau of Sanitation, Alabama State Dept. of Sanitation

Alabama's public health program was begun largely as a result of yellow fever. For many years this disease had been an ominous and regular visitor to the state. But an epidemic of this disease, which raged through Mobile in 1839 taking 450 lives, served as the cornerstone upon which the state's public health program has been built.

The "yellow jack" epidemic of 1839, the worst of many, prompted four Mobile physicians to petition the Alabama State Legislature for [illegible] the Mobile Medical Society [illegible] Medical [illegible]. The legal device was [illegible] 1841 and the Society was [illegible] "Board of Health" [illegible] was empowered [illegible] passed by the city that would have an effect on the health of the people.

Soon after the War Between the States there arrived in Mobile a young Mississippi physician, Dr. Jerome Cochran, who was to shape the [illegible] health in Alabama. He became particularly interested in the Medical Society and, through his activity, caused the adoption in 1873 of a new constitution for the Medical Society. But he was not [illegible] with the organization of the Society; his vision went far beyond the usual business of such a group and embraced the broad field of public health.

He conceived an idea and steadily maintained the conviction that medical men should not be divorced from the problems of the people's health, arguing that this group alone which was in the position to determine what was best for the people.

After being endorsed by the Medical Association on three different occasions, a plan for a non-political state-wide public health organization was submitted to the Legislature. On February 19, 1875, the Alabama State Board of Health (7th in the nation) was created by legislative acts.

Upon Dr. Cochran's death, after 20 years of service, Dr. William Sanders was appointed his successor. The 20 years that Dr. Sanders served were troublesome, little different from previous ones. Epidemics of typhiod fever, malaria, smallpox, dysentery and dipthera were common. The State Board of Health was criticized on the floor of the Legislature, the legislature was vilified at the Association meetings.

As a result of epidemics and knowledge gained in the control of disease, quarantine laws were enacted in 1898. Hookworm disease and transmission had been discovered in 1895 in Egypt three years previous, a discoverey which came under the attention of a physician at the Hygienic Laboratory in Washington. This physician, Dr. C. W. Stiles visited Alabama and discussed the disease with members of the Medical Association. By 1910 the disease was known to exist in 63 of the 67 Alabama counties. As a direct result of the interest in this disease, the first local fulltime County Health Department was organized in Walker County in 1914.

In the same year the state's Bureau of Engineering was established its function to determine which epidemics could be controlled by the application of engineering methods. Total appropriation for that year for the entire Public Health program was $17,000; the number of employees in the State Health Department was 12.

During 1915 Chief Sanitary Engineer J. V. Donley made 23 investigations, including an outbreak of typhoid fever in a city of 15,000. His investigation pinpointed the contaminated public water supply as the source of the epidemic, but his recommendations were ignored. There were recorded during 1915 some 970 deaths from typhoid fever, 500 from malaria and 140 from dysentery.

There was progress, though, in 1915 for it was in this year that legislation was enacted giving powers to the State Board of Health over the control of public water supplies. These acts have remained on the statute books ever since then.

By 1921, under the leadership of many brilliant and dedicated sanitary engineers and public health officers, Alabama led the world in malaria control measures. These consisted of ditching, oiling, fish stocking, screening, larvaciding, and education. The 19 fulltime County Health Departments, with the cooperation of the state, embarked on a malaria control program to clear 20 counties of malaria, typhoid and hookworm in a five-year period. One example of the fruits of this program has become a textbook classic.

In South Alabama, near Andalusia, two hydro-electric reservoirs were impounded in 1923. One, Point "A", was properly cleared and the other, "Gantt," was impounded without proper clearing. The following year an epidemic of malaria, numbering some 200 cases, occurred around Gantt, proving the worth of the program.

Dr. J. N. Baker, after his election in 1930 to the head of the State Health Department, reporting to the Governor, stated in part: "Even though malaria will continue to claim the attention of the Department of Health for many years it is satisfying to know that 3,000 people are alive in Alabama today who would have succumbed before January, 1931, if the same malaria death rate had prevailed in the intervening years that did exist in 1917. Further, when it is considered that for every death from malaria there are 200 cases, there is foundation in fact for this statement: 600,000 people have escaped the disease who would have become victims of it under 1917 conditions."

The establishment of federal relief organizations in 1933 gave new hope to health work in Alabama, which had declined as a result of the Depression. The flexibility of the Alabama Health Department made it possible to cooperate most effectively with the Federal Government in providing work for the needy. It can be said that the Public Works Administration and the Works Progress Administration had a great deal to do with improvements, additions and the installation of new water and sewage facilities. The year 1935 was about the beginning of the movement to make public utilities available to practically all urban areas.

By 1935 the State Health Department was beginning to recover from the havoc wrought by lack of funds. Each bureau was up to full strength and the goal of all previous Health Officers was realized in 1937 with the organization of all 67 County Health Units.

Water supplies and sewage systems continued to increase and the installation of individual water supplies and private sewage disposal systems and those at schools also increased. Full coperation with federal agencies was a great factor in securing sanitation in all its phases.

Dr. Baker was able to report in 1937 that no epidemic occurred in the state that year. Records showed that typhoid fever was at an all time low.

On November 9, 1941, Dr. Baker, who had served his state as State Health Officer for 11 years, died. He was later succeeded by Dr. D. G. Gill, the present State Health Officer, who was unanimously elected by the Board of Censors.

It seems most appropriate that this brief discussion of the history of the Alabama State Health Department close with the death of Dr. Baker, leaving to some future time the record since 1941.

Most Recent Area—

Telephone Service Still Growing In Chilton

Aditional facilities along the Clanton and Maplesville highway will be providing telephone service, according to Mr. O. W. Norton, manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Representatives are in this area now securing right-of-way and staking the line. The families that will receive service in this area are Thomas Cahalene, Calvin Edwards, C. A. Mims, J. W. McCraw, Mrs. Lena M. McCraw, F. L. Kinner, Virgil Glenn, Ozemma Green, Casey Cummings, J. D. Conway, H. V. Veazey, J. W. Veazey, J. T. Nix, C. S Bonds, M. R. Oates, Elmore Hicks, Hoyt Freeman, R. C. Nix.

To provide this service, it will require 22 circuit miles of wire and 30 poles at a cost of approximately $6,600.00, according to Mr. Norton. It is estimated this work will be completed by Summer.

"Fat Pastures" Make Fat Cattle

Good grazing paves the way to a profitable livestock program. And now each farmer has the opportunity to improve his pastures and raise his income.

API Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews this week called the clover-grass pasture the mainstay in any good feed program and urged Alabama farmers to give their livestock the best possible grazing.

Many farmers do not have sufficient pastures—each cow requires between one and one-half to two acres. And over-grazing as well as unfavorable weather leads to poor stands of dallis grass and white clover, making reseeding necessary. Late February and March is the ideal time to seed dallis grass. But Andrews recommended a soil test first, since many pastures need lime and fertilizer.

To maintain a good grazing program, one or two sprayings of 2,4-D (amine formulation are needed each year for weed control. Andrews suggested that farmers try Starr Millet to carry cattle through a dry spell when other grazing plays out.

Redmond Resigns At Dan River Mills

Paul A. Redmond, Jr.

Paul A. Redmond, Jr., president of Alabama Mills, Inc., until the textile concern became a division of Dan River Mills, Incorporated last year, today announced his resignation from the latter organization.

Associated with Alabama Mills since 1939, Mr. Redmond began his career with the company as a designer. He later served in various mill supervisory positions until his appointment, in 1944, as assistant to the president. In 1948 he was made executive vice president, and seven years later was elected to the presidency. In addition, he served as president of Anchor Rome Mills, Inc., Rome, Ga., until that operation was also acquired by the Dan River organization last August.

A graduate of the Georgia School of Technology, Mr. Redmond is a member of Phi Psi, honorary textile fraternity and a trustee of the Institute of Textile Technology. He is a member of the Young President's Organization and a past president of the Alabama Cotton Manufacturers Association. He is serving currently as a director of the latter organization as well as the Associated Industries of Alabama and the Southern States Industrial Council.

Milking Parlors Prove To Be Profitable

Milking parlors—either pit or elevated—will boost manufactured milk sales and allow more cows to be milked. And API Extension Dairyman John Parrish added that these parlors make milking a more enjoyable task, accounting for their zooming popularity.

Milking parlors soon pay for themselves. Their cost may be as low as $25 or less than $200 with the milking machine. Parrish said 12 East Alabama producers found milking parlors upped their production 74.6 percent and increased cows milked 38.8 percent. Increased volume cuts production cost per hundred pounds of milk, he added.

Dairy cows are creatures of habit and respond best when fed and milked at regular intervals.

The three major sources of irrigation water are flowing streams, ponds, and underground water.

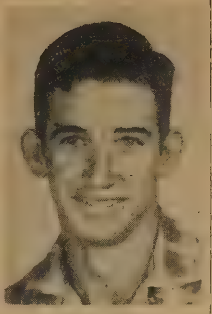
Marbury Chapter--

Corn Champ Named "Star Farmer"

The coveted "Chapter Star Farmer" award for 1956 at Marbury High School is going to James Banks of Mt. Creek, who only last month took top honors in the Champion Corn Growing Contest here.



James Banks

The goal of this year's outstanding member of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America is to attain the much-sought State Farmer degree at Auburn, next June.

As a third year vocational Ag. student at Marbury High School, James has 20 acres of corn, 3 head of dairy cattle, 2 acres of young peach trees, bringing him an income of $1,500.00.

According to C. M. Manning, FFA chapter advisor, Banks also did some improvement work, including ten acres of permanent pasture established, built new farm shed and painted rooms in his home.

A wise farmer, the Marbury youth owns his own projects and does much of his farming on a partnership basis with his father. He plans to expand his program through re-investing his profits.

An active FFA worker, James has been chairman of the Community Service Committee, Student Council of the Chapter.

His achievements include producing 80 bushels of corn per acre to take the prize in this year's competition.

The young star farmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Banks of Mt. Creek.

COMPARE

● This is an extreme example of soil acidity resulting from continuous use of ammonia nitrogen without lime. Regular use of Chilean helps correct acidity, maintains favorable pH.

and you'll choose
CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

More than anything else, when spring growth begins, small grain needs an ample supply of fast-acting nitrate nitrogen. And that means Chilean Nitrate of Soda. The nitrogen in it is 100 per cent nitrate nitr[illegible]ting and ready to help the hungry crop through its [illegible] period and push it ahead.

More than 100 years of consistently satisfactory experience with Natural Chilean Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for top-dressing small grain. It is a rare natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. The nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen – ready to work, rain or shine, as soon as it's applied. This is especially important because at top-dressing time every moment counts. There is nothing like nitrate nitrogen for a small grain crop—and there is no source of nitrate nitrogen that can compare with Natural Chilean Soda.

Then, there's the sodium and minor elements. Sodium, particularly, adds much to the value and effectiveness of Chilean Soda. It conserves the supplies of magnesium, potash and calcium in the soil and substitutes for calcium and potash, if necessary. It increases the supply of available phosphate. Every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone to destroy soil acidity and correct acid-forming effects of ammonia nitrogen. This explains why regular, systematic use of Chilean Soda helps so much to maintain a favorable pH level for the production of top yields of top-quality crops.

If you have any question about the top-dressing for your small grain crop this year, we urge you to try Natural Chilean Soda, if only in a small way to begin with, and see the difference for yourself. You'll find it is the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you can buy for top-dressing your small grain crops.

REGARDLESS OF HELP SOURCE—

YOU GET NO GUARANTEE THAT A CHECK WILL NOT BE MADE

The Internal Revenue Service is glad to provide all the help it reasonably can to taxpayers during the 1957 filing season on 1956 returns, but George Holman of the Montgomery office today sounded a note of caution on one phase of such assistance that gives the agency subsequent difficulties every year.

"When we or anyone else help a taxpayer prepare a return, such assistance is no guarantee that the return is accepted as correct and not subject to either preliminary check or alter complete audit," Mr. Holman stressed. "Every year taxpayers come to us for help and appear very disturbed to learn this. Some go away without completing their forms or seeking further aid. They tell us they'll be back and sometimes they say they want to go over their records for the past year again.

"No matter who prepares a return, the taxpayer or taxpayers who sign it are responsible for its accuracy. They must be prepared to back up all entries, to prove all claims. To us returns prepared by our assistors, in whole or part, or by outside sources, are no different than those on which the individual taxpayer—who incidentally, deserves full credit for his effort—has worked for hours, perhaps, to do a thorough and accurate job."

It is essential for taxpayers to keep all records relating to their returns for at least three years after filing, Mr. Holman reminded all persons who are liable for filing a federal income tax return.

LICENSE TO SAVE LIVES

South Dakota's Governor Joe Foss receives the Governor's license plates—one of the new reflective plates being issued in South Dakota for the first time. Presenting the plate is Miss Marlene Sandal, Pierre's candidate for South Dakota's Snow Queen. The plates, which can be seen from 2,000 feet away at night, are designed to reduce nighttime accidents. South Dakota is the sixth state to issue reflective plates.

Six Cancer Cases In Chilton In December

Montgomery—Cancer was reported at the rate of more than ten cases a day during December, the State Health Department announced this week. 396 cases were recorded in that month—a decrease from the November total of 452.

Only four counties—Bullock, Geneva, Henry and Wilcox—reported no cancer during December. Chilton County listed six of the cases.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

"WHO STEALS MY PURSE," mused a man we know, paraphrasing Shakespeare, "steals trash, relatively speaking; but he that filches from me the contents of my desk at home robs me of that which not enriches him — and makes me poor indeed!" Personal papers essential to a householder may be valueless to a burglar — but the burglar can't spare time to appraise them on the spot. He often scoops up everything that looks valuable; later destroys what he can't sell. The best place for hard-to-replace papers is a Safe Deposit Box: Reserve yours at our bank.

STILL STRINGING ALONG with last year's family budget setup? If you ended 1956 "in the black" and your major fixed expenses haven't changed, it may well have seemed as logical as it was easy merely to start the new year with a new page in the budget book, listing the old amounts for all categories. By so doing, however, you may have overlooked consistently greater-than-anticipated outgo in one or more minor-expenditure categories — and this, if the pattern persists, could eventually throw your entire spending and saving picture out of focus. It's wise, say experts, to review last year's picture carefully; to adjust your budget-category allotments realistically. Thus you'll better your chances of coming through 1957 "in the black"!

Sweet, smooth and sassy—that's Chevrolet all over. Above, you're looking at the Bel Air Sport Coupe.

Clings to the road like a stripe of paint!

The '57 Chevy can give lessons on taking curves and holding the road to just about any car going. Few cars at any price are so beautifully balanced and so smooth, sure and solid in action.

A car has to have a special kind of build and balance to keep curves under control. And nobody outdoes Chevrolet in that department! It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

And if the road should turn upward, Chevy can take care of that nicely, too—with up to 245 h.p.*

Come on in and take a turn at the wheel of a new Chevrolet.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

The resignation of five members of the Chilton County Hospital Board left the employees at that institution holding a bag it looks like. What's going to happen when payday rolls round? With no Chairman of the Board to sign the payroll checks and the Board of Revenue & Control not meeting again until Feb. 25 to appoint new members looks like something, or someone, is gotta give. Who is right or wrong we do not know. We do not know the conditions at the hospital but this we do know. With the finest little hospital of any city our size it looks like we could all work our differences out and get along in harmony to the end that the public is best served. That is the purpose of the hospital, the Board and the personnel.

Mrs. Robinson at Farmers Implement Company reports a whopping success of their showing the last of January of the John Deere Tractors. She says a grand time was had by all and the company made many new friends. We told you advertising paid off. As a fellow said a long time ago. Don't matter so much what you say, just mention my name.

"Well, darling," said the little boy's mother as he walked into the kitchen, "were you a good boy at school today?"

"Sure," answered the lad. "How much trouble can you get into standing in a corner all day?"

Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. McLain of Prattville are in search of a young man who helped them when their automobile was in a wreck near Maxwell Field last December. The McLains say the name of the gentleman who helped them was not learned because of the excitement following the wreck and because of the extent of the injuries. They want to sufficiently thank this man for his thoughtfulness and help and asks that he let them hear from him. Their address and phone number will be found in the classified ads in this issue.

Miss Lucretia Davis of Verbena is holding a leadership position on the "Purple" cabinet in the annual College night activities this month at Alabama College. College Night is the out-standing all-student activity of the year. It is scheduled this year on Feb. 21, 22, and 23rd. Miss Davis, a sophomore school music major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Davis of Verbena. Congratulations.

Mayor Hollis Jackson tells us that the City Council has made arrangements for off-street parking lots about the city. Three have been secured by the Council to date and more are planned in the future. Mayor Jackson cautioned though that, these lots would be clearly marked and anyone not parking properly within the lines would be "tagged" for improper parking. Space for approximately 150 cars is the goal the mayor said, this being the space needed to prevent workers from having to park, as they do now, in front of residences on side streets.

JOSEPH M. WILSON, CLANTON, DIES AT 80

Mr. Joseph Marion Wilson, age 80, of Route 2, Clanton died at the Chilton County Hospital February 13, 1957 at 4:10 a.m.

A native of Chilton County, Mr. Wilson was born June 5, 1876.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Leona Jones and Mrs. Pearl Yarbrough of Trussville, Ala.; two sons, Euriah Wilson of Birmingham and Ralph Wilson, of Arkansas; 2 sisters, Mrs. T. H. Patton of Montgomery and Mrs. Anna E. McLaughton of Birmingham; two brothers W. H. of Clanton and O. E. Wilson of Birmingham; two grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the Spigener Chapel Thursday, Feb. 14, at 11:00 a.m. Interment was in the Popwell Cemetery, Spigener Funeral Home of Clanton was in charge.

A national survey showed that fewer boll weevils are in hibernation this winter than last in many cotton growing areas. But U. S. Department of Agriculture officials warn that plenty of the hibernating weevils are around to cause trouble. And with favorable weather conditions this pest will appear in damaging numbers this spring.

Traffic Toll-

Man Killed As Trucks Crash; Car Rams Bus

Chilton County experienced its worst week-end in traffic deaths and injuries this year according to Bill Moore, State Highway Patrolman stationed here.

Saturday night Seaborne (Cecil) Roper was killed when the pick up he was driving ran into the back of a trailer truck on the Stanton-Adamsville road. Roper was dead on arrival at a Selma hospital the report showed.

A two-car accident on 82, two and one-half miles from Maplesville Sunday afternoon injured six. Miss Hazel Lindly, driver of one of the cars suffered head and scalp injuries while the two companions in the car with her were both hospitalized also. Mrs. Lucy Lindly her mother, and a cousin Mrs. Ruby Drago suffered a broken ankle.

In the other car which was driven by Leon Coker, Mrs. Mary Ellen Coker, his wife, was most seriously injured. It is reported that she is in serious condition. Allen Foshee was slightly injured in the same wreck. Martin's ambulances answered the call.

Sunday night in a driving rain a car driven by Elvin Barrett ran into a Greyhound Bus at the intersection of State 22 and U. S. 31, just North of Verbena. Barrett was given first aid at the Chilton County Hospital and dismissed. No injuries were reported on the bus. Patrolmen Bill Moore and Hugh Champion investigated.

Buckner Resigns As Head of Local ASC

Many of you have shown an interest as to why I am vacating the position as manager of the ASC office and I would like to state that I have resigned to accept a position with the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

It has been a privilege and a pleasure for me to have served as your County ASC Office Manager for the past six and one-half years.

I would like to express to you my appreciation for your excellent spirit of cooperation during these years, and I feel sure that you will show the same spirit of cooperation to my successor.

Concentrated Drive To Establish Industry Firmly In County

Garment Co. Draws First Attention

County Industrial Boards, Civic organizations, City and County officials and representatives from literally every branch of business in Chilton County were guests of the Thorsby Industrial and Development Board at a banquet and meeting at Bob's Drive-In on Friday evening, February 8. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss ways and means of combining forces within the County to weld into place as much industrial might as is feasibly possible.

Some 50 bankers, farmers, merchants, city and county officials heard Sam Bentley, Chairman of the Thorsby Industrial Board, make a brief report on the development, to date, of the Thorsby Garment Company.

$165,000 Plant To Be In Operation By July 1st

Bentley reported to the meeting that plans are being negotiated whereby a 36,000 sq. ft. building is to be erected in the Town of Thorsby for the purpose of housing the new Company.

Architects estimate of the building is $165,000 or $5.50 per sq. ft. Local estimates are that the building will not exceed a cost of $200,000.

The Company has a one-year option to buy the building, which will be built on a 20-year retirement bond issue. In the instance that the company does not buy, it will be leased to them and they guarantee the contract, which means that they will pay the required amount of rent that will retire the bonds in the 20-year period.

WHAT THE PLANT LOOKS FOR IN ITS EMPLOYEES

The plant now at Thorsby, which produces the original line of blouses at the rate of 70 dozen per day, is the pilot plant for the new industry. The permanent building will be located on a 6.7 acre plot just north of the Town of Thorsby across from the planing mill.

Abner Foran, plant manager, states that his preferences in a number one employee run something like this: 1. Previous experience. How long will it take this worker to produce? 2. Dexterity tests. How high the marks? 3. Age. How many useful hours, days or years in this worker. 4. Physical characteristics. Is she suitable in weight, height, etc. 5. Dependability, loyalty, and morality. So, if you would be an employee of the new Company you must comply with and come up to the above mentioned standards. If you do, you just may have a job, lady.

To date, approximately $100,000 has been subscribed by Chilton County businessmen. It is the hope of the Board that the entire amount will be subscribed by local people in order to keep the project a local one, all the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Foran, managers of the plant now in operation in Thorsby stated their pleasure on being in Chilton County and Mr. Foran said that their acceptance into the community has been gratifying. "I feel that Chilton County has a very good working class of people", above average.

The plant now employs, among others, seven women from Jemison, 24 from Clanton, five from Calera, seven from Thorsby and two from Verbena. The new plant, when constructed will employ between 300 and 350 women.

It is the hope of the Industrial Boards that the majority of these people will be from local, established homes as are present employees. Keep the money at home.

Thorsby Board Requests Help Of County As A Whole

Sam Bentley, speaking for Thorsby, invited and urgently requested the participation and cooperation of all the businesses represented to help establish the Thorsby plant. "We want to make it a Chilton County industry, not a 'Thorsby alone' industry."

In reality, a drive such as this indicates that a financial incorpo-

County Dimes Drive Brings $5,170.55

The 1957 March of Dimes Campaign for Chilton County was held during the month of January and was very successful, raising a total of $5170.55.

This campaign was conducted throughout the nation to raise funds to treat polio patients and to continue the vast research program being waged in an effort to control this crippling disease.

Everyone was most cooperative and practically every community in the county responded. Space will not permit listing the names of every worker or contributor but I would like to mention several of the key workers, by communities:

Lay Dam—Mrs. Thomas Marcus.
Jemison—Mrs. J. L. Hayman.
Oak Grove—Mrs. Luther Guin.
Center Hill—Mrs. Frank Leslie
Isabella—Prof. J. C. White.
Clanton—Lewis "Pig" Headley, Mrs. Callen Alred, Mrs. Charles Moore.

Vermont PTA To Sponsor Chicken Supper, Program

Plans were made at the Monday night meeting of the Vermont PTA to have a chicken supper in connection with an entertainment program next Thursday night, Feb. 21.

This program will be at the Vermont School and all local and other talent is invited to participate.

Proceeds will be used for various school needs.

VFW Meets Tonite

All members are urged to be present at the regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars tonight at 7:00 p.m.

The Commander urges that every member make a special effort to be at this meeting.

Jemison WCC To Meet February 19

There will be a meeting of the Jemison White Citizens Council on Tuesday night, Feb. 19, at 7:00 p. m. in the grove of the old Jim Cobb residence at Oak Grove. Plenty of parking space—come rain or shine. Sit in your car and enjoy a good meeting.

Hear the Rev. Bailey, Baptist Minister from Dargon's Cross Road.

The purpose of this meeting is for the election of officers and to inform the taxpayers of Chilton County just how a public servant, paid by the taxpayers money has placed himself in the shoes of a dictator of the taxpayers.

The public is invited and urged to be on time. A special invitation is extended the ladies.

Four Chiltonians Enrolled At Jax State

The spring semester is now under way at Jacksonville State College with students from 15 states, 12 foreign countries and 40 Alabama counties.

Enrolled from Chilton County are Elon Odell Kelly, Clanton; Clarence B. Oaks, Jr., Clanton; Dale Jackson Nabors, Maplesville; and Ophelia Ann Conway, Maplesville.

Five Hospital Board Members Resign; Jail Closure Possible

by Vernon P. Payne

At the Monday morning meeting of the Chilton County Board of Revenue & Control there was little evidence of a relinquishing of power by either faction of the Board. Many resolutions were met with three-to-one votes as has been the case since Reedie Hilyer, recently elected member, took his seat with the county governing body in early January.

Hospital Board Members Resign—

First on the agenda Monday came Mr. C. L. Walton of Jemison, Chairman of the Chilton County Hospital Board, who stated his position in relation to the present turmoil in operation of the county's new $700,000 hospital here

Walton declared that he was "going the last mile" in an effort to get the County Board, as representatives of the taxpayers, to meet with him in open meeting and thrash out the various problems that are confronting the administration of the hospital at this time.

In concluding his address to the Board, Walton tendered a written resignation signed by he and four other Board members, H. J. Taylor, Millard Reynolds, R. D. Champion, and E. C. Lecroy.

A resolution, entered by Lonnie Cost, to accept the resignation was passed by a unanimous vote.

Discussion on the issue by Board members failed to produce a plausible solution to the state of affairs existing at the hospital or pertinent to these new vacancies on the Hospital Board.

New Chip Plant To Locate At Minooka—

Mr. Seaman, of Montevallo, appeared before the Board requesting an alteration of a little-used county road at Minooka which met with the approval of the entire Board.

This re-location of a portion of the road is being necessitated by a "chip" plant which Mr. Seaman and associates are planning to install on the present site of the road.

It is reported that the plant will convert saw-dust and shavings for use in the cellulose and other such industries.

Bell-Lane Road—

Mr. Joe A. Jackson, speaking in behalf of residents of the Lomax-Bell Lane Road, spoke to the Board in an attempt to set a time when this road could be blacktopped.

This two-mile stretch between the Lay Dam Road and U. S. Highway 31, serves three churches and has a daily car count of 517 vehicles according to Mr. Jackson.

Diverse Matters Meet With Approval—

By approval of the Board Robert Fullen, Clerk, was appointed as Custodian of Social Security funds for the County

The payment of several outstanding warrants was approved by a unanimous vote of the Board. Judge Tingle had rejected these prior to this meeting since they were found to be erroneous in some legal nature.

A check was received and accepted by the Board as a refund from the County Hospital Board. This check was originally appropriated to the Hospital Board as part payment on a lot for the proposed Chilton County Health Clinic.

Four Employees Added To Payroll—

Mr. Harold Lewis, County Engineer, presented the Board with the names of four men which he wished to employ.

It was unanimously decided that the County would accept employment of the four, Royce Smith, L. C. Bean, Berney Price, and Billy Morgan.

Lewis also requested permission to up-grade Billy Joe Driver to the job of Material Assistant in the Road Department. This request was also granted.

Preparing Ground For Garment Factory—

Rex Norton Critically Injured In Fall At Calera

Rex Norton of South Clanton is in a serious condition at University Hospital at Birmingham after a fall where he works in Calera Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Norton is an employee of the American Brake Shoe Company.

It is reported that Norton fell from a scaffold some 20 feet to the ground. His condition Wednesday morning was unchanged.

Lions Sponsoring Wheel Chair Ball Game Here 21st

You ain't seen nothin' yet 'til you see the Clanton Lions Club play basketball in wheel chairs with crippled members of the Alabama Wheel Chair Society as their opponents. The big game will be played Thursday night, February 21st, at 7:30 p. m. at the Chilton County High School gym. Also, there will be a clown act at half time.

Ott Miller, chairman of the wheelchair basketball game, advises that everything is being put in shape and that for laughs you can't beat seeing this ball game.

J. E. "Bull" Easterling, John "Gassy" Foshee, Dr. Joe Gowan, Dr Thomas Hayes, Pig Headley, Luther Kendrick, Jeff O. Miller, Chester Miller, Ralph Morrison, Herb "Oodles" Salter, Dick Scott, Leonard Traywick, R. C. Veazey, and other members of the Lions Club Windles Wonders are ready and raring for the game. Starting lineup for the Lions will be in next weeks paper along with substitutes.

The Wheel Chair Magicians—as the Wheel Chair Society team is called—has quite an impressive record against other opponents in the state. Members of this team will be paid a percentage of the gate receipts for their expenses and all of the remainder of the money will be used by the Clanton Lions Club for their various civic and charity projects.

Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. These tickets are on sale at Pig's Grocery, Jitney Jungle Grocery, Jeff Miller Five and Ten, and Upchurch Drug Store as well as by all members of the Clanton Lions Club.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

There has been considerable complaint of motorists failing to observe stop signs. Also, where signs are posted under your traffic lights saying "Stop, Turn Right On Red," this means to come to a complete stop before making a right turn on red. All stop signs mean to come to a complete stop before proceeding into the intersection.

The Police Department has been asked to enforce these laws rigidly.

Your cooperation will be highly appreciated.

Valentine Circus At Maplesville

There will be a Valentine Circus at the Maplesville High School on February 14th at 7 p.m. sponsored by the PTA.

Everyone is invited. There will be fun for all, young and old.

Preliminary Report Made on Sewage Disposal Plant

The G. B. Converse Company, of Mobile, has made a preliminary report on the sewage disposal plant that has been under study by the Mayor and City Council for the past several months. This report has been accepted by the Council and the State Health Department

Thirty percent of the cost of the sewage disposal plant will be furnished by federal funds allocated by the State Health Department This will amount to $69,282.00. The cost to the citizens of Clanton will be approximately $175,000.

Engineers are in process of drawing plans and the contract for the building of the sewage plant is expected to be let the latter part of April.

Location of the plant will be north-east of the airport the mayor said.

RA Clinic At First Baptist

The Chilton Unity Baptist Association will have an RA Clinic at the First Baptist Church February 14th and 15th at 7:00. This course will be taught and directed by Lee Ferrell, the Alabama State RA Secretary.

All counselors of RA chapters, Brotherhood members, and interested laymen are urged to attend this meeting. If you are interested in organizing a Royal Ambassador Chapter in your church, we invite you to attend these meetings.

Blackwood Brothers At Centreville Guard Armory, Feb. 20th

The Blackwood Brothers Quartet will appear in a concert at the National Guard Armory in Centreville on Wednesday night, February 20th, sponsored by the Pilot Club of Centreville.

This quartet is probably America's most famous gospel quartet. Organized in 1934 they have been singing ever since, having traveled from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico. James Blackwood, versatile emcee and lead singer of the group has without a doubt traveled more miles than any other man in the gospel quartet field. Mr. Blackwood has the unusual honor of being a full colonel of the Staff of two Governors, Governor Frank Clement of Tennessee and the entire quartet is on the Staff of Mississippi's Governor Coleman, who is a cousin of the Blackwoods.

The Blackwood Brothers have had many national honors having appeared on all the major radio networks coast to coast, but perhaps their greatest achievement was being the first gospel quartet to appear on one of the top television network programs. In June 1954 they won the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout Show on the combined CBS television and radio networks. The thunderous applause which awarded them top honors on the show has not been equaled by any other quartet.

Tickets bought in advance can be obtained for only $1.00; reserve seats $1.50. Tickets bought at the door will be $1.25.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Pilot Club or from any of the following places of business: The Centreville Press, Meigs Drug Store, Owens Dry Goods, Dairy Queen Drive-In or Brent Mercantile Company.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Mayor J. Hollis Jackson announces this week that the sewage disposal plant for Clanton is to be a reality.

It has been a black spot on our city's reputation for many years that we had no means of sewage disposal and the debris run into the creek east of town. This caused cess-pools of mosquito beds and no end of discomfort to certain residents.

It has been bad enough at times to make attending our annual County Fair nearly impossible for some.

It is a credit to the present City Council and Mayor that this important step has been taken in behalf of the future of our city.

It's the "boosting" you do for your community that termines whether we move forward or backward. If u can't be proud of the place in which you live, how you expect anyone else to be?

HORSBY'S NEW INDUSTRY

A round of applause to Thorsby and the enterprisg businessmen of that community who have brought w industry to Chilton County.

The Weber Garment Factory will begin full scale erations there sometime in April or May and we hope the beginning of a successful business career in our midst.

To the managers of the new firm, Mr. and Mrs. Adner Foran, we say "welcome." We are sure they will enjoy their life here and will soon grow to be a part of our community.

THESE DOG-GONE DOGS

Clanton is being overrun with dogs. We hear comaints on all sides and in every section of town about e dogs turning over trash containers. Those in our ighborhood specialize in chasing automobiles and ake great sport of it.

It was voted by the City Council at a recent meetg that the laws regarding this paricular kind of pet e enforced but it is very, very hard to do with the facilites available for such a purpose. We think the best enrcement we could get is by the owners of the dogs. they would try harder to keep their animals in their own yards and off the streets and out of the alleys it ould help the officers to a great degree.

Cooperation is what is needed most here.

The writers will soon be writing tbout "February's varm, wet weather," instead of the proverbal snow and ice that as a rule reigns during this winter month.

Have "Inside Knowledge" of New Life Saving Nylon Artery

Three men with "inside knowledge" of the newly-announced Chemstrand nylon Y-graft replacement artery which they are holding are a Birmingham steel worker, Madison T. Gay (center), Dr. W. Sterling Edwards (left) and Dr James S Tapp.

Gay has one of the man-made arteries in place of the branching portion of his aorta, the major blood vessel which carries blood from his heart down to his legs. The other two are co-developers of the device which has already been successfully installed in more than 200 people.

The new nylon Y-graft replacement artery is being hailed as a major advance in the battle against the crippling effects of artereosclerosis as well as other diseases or injuries of the branching portion of the lower aorta.

It is a further development of the Chemstrand nylon "no-kink" artery first announced in 1955 and which also came from the joint efforts of Dr. Edwards and Dr. Tapp.

Dr. Edwards is Assistant Professor of Surgery at the Medical College of Alabama in Birmingham and Dr. Tapp heads the Pioneering Section of the Chemstrand Corporation's Research and Development Division.

Although the life-saving nylon replacement arteries took form in Chemstrand's research laboratories, the chemical fiber manufacturing firm is making its patent rights to the artery available without cost to the American medical profession.

ALL-AMERICAN VALENTINE!

IT'S VALENTINE'S DAY

Traditionally, February 14 is a day for lovers and has been for many centuries. In medieval times young people in England, Scotland, and France used to assemble on Saint Valentine's Eve. They drew names by chance from an urn. Each person then became the "valentine," that is, the special friend of the one whose name he drew.

Until this date we still honor the custom of exchanging gifts, many of them heart-shaped, as an expression of affection. Friends send flowers, candy and greetings. The priests for whom the day was named didn't receive such good treatment. They were executed in th third century in Rome.

We would prefer the hearts, the candy, and the flower treatment, personally.

Things We SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

The things we see, believe. The things we hear. . . think about 'em first.

It is our confirmed opinion that some of our citizens are acting very juvenile (to say the least) over matters of grave concern to us all. They say there's a time and place for practically everything, but some of the bickerings of late, as far as we can tell have neither.

It would seem that personal feelings are coming before the public welfare. Without cooperation there is no progress; without progress there will be no Chilton County to be looked up to. Think on these things, gentlemen. They are self-evident that what we say we are striving for and what we are doing are two different animals. If we are blind, let's admit it; if we're just stubborn, let's get back on the mature level which the citizenry expects us to be on. Water off a duck's back is a small stream compared to the words that flow through the mouths of many, trying to attain some sort of understanding. The words don't seem to be doing any good. What we want to know is how come? Since the words are basic in origin, general in usefulness and could, if given the chance, straighten out misunderstandings. The question is not where are we going? As things stand today, we aren't going anywhere. What is the matter?

Did you ever stop to think of what speaker up-keep at the Clanton Drive-In Theatre means to you? We'll bet you have very seldom found a faulty speaker when you attended the Drive-In now have you? Well, we were just thinking the other night that the average show-goer doesn't realize what it takes to keep these speakers in perfect condition. Probably the average Drive-In owner feels that they don't appreciate it either, the way they treat them. We think you'll find that our local Drive-In has about the best speaker reception and is kept up better than any other anywhere. Speaks well for the theatre as well as Clanton.

You know, we are certain that some folks wonder sometimes just why poor Robert went to all the trouble of writing his "Rules of Order" when the only place they ever saw them used or even discussed was in their high school English class. By the same token we wonder what's happening to us Americans, proud of our heritage, and things given to us like the Pledge to the Flag, and our National Anthem. Every day we seem to get further and further away from using these things as we should. These things are symbols of our love for peace, freedom, pride in our country. They are basic things which we haven't the right to ignore. We feel that classrooms right on thru senior school should get back into the habit of saying the Pledge to the Flag and singing our National Anthem. Students, some of them, tend to think they outgrow these things, mainly because they did them in the 4th and 5th grades and want to get away from childish practices. Adults just don't have the time. When a thing is taught in the 4th or 5th grade it is intended to stay with you the rest of your life because these things are usually basic principles or needs. Do you think that The Pledge and The Anthem are not important enough to be remembered past the 5th grade? In our opinion, they can do us more good as teen-agers and grown-ups than they can a small child. They were written for the understanding of a mature mind. When you say the Pledge to the Flag, you certainly should not feel silly. Rather you should feel humble; thankful that you can be saying what you want to say, thankful that you were born in a free country, thankful for so many things that your mind should not even cross the fact that you feel silly. If you're proud of America you'll be proud of the things that praise her name. As for the classrooms, we wish someone, like the school principals or someone would inaugurate a system whereby school could be started off by singing the Star Spangled Banner or America or repeating the Pledge to the Flag. We think it would make better Americans and citizens out of our generations to come.

They don't sell things like they used to. No, you take something like water (they sell it you know). Well, first you need a tank to hold it; then a heater to heat it; then you need a freezer to freeze it and you probably have a washer to wash it. No seriously, now they're even selling water softeners. Well we always were under the impression that the water we use is soft, but complying with the accepted trend of "well, if it's being done I guess I'll take one" we'll buy practically anything. Gee, just look at the financial output you have to go through just to get a drink of cool, clear water these days. By George's beard, we're gonna start drinking something else. (Uh, you have a suggestion, no.)

Somp'n else new. An egomaniac is really a drink. You take a week old egg, put it in a mixer, add sugar, vanilla etc. etc. and then you give it a crazy, mixed-up shake and what do you have? Well, to be honest we don't know, but you'd be a maniac to drink a mess like that.

How Big. . . Or How Little?

When does a man get so big that he ceases having to be polite and thoughtful of others? We had someone turn that around for us and said "when does a man get so small etc. etc." They do have a point there. A man who has gained in prestige and position so much over the years that he begins to take his fellowman for granted is in actuality, getting "smaller" rather than "bigger".

To be a tree, you first have to be an acorn. We take that to imply that, in order to be a "big" man you first have to be small enough to deserve it. Humility, one key to success.

Now, within our midst, we know of men, who having position and comparative wealth, overlook the one thing that put them in that position. That one thing is their genuine desire to do good, to please their neighbor.

However, when does a man really become so big (or small) that he no longer has to depend on his human relations with others and depends solely on his own abilities. The old saying applies, "he is fooling nobody but himself." He seems to become so engrossed in himself that he possibly forgets those who put him in his position of prestige in the community.

It's a case of inflated ego in our opinion. No one can escape it, but every one of us, without exception, is given the abilities to overcome it providing we have the will to do so.

A man "fooling himself" cannot continue in his place of prestige for very long without deserving that position. One who forgets basic principles such as; courtesy, humility, good will, honor, honest endeavor and a hundred others is certainly on the way down, no matter what his position.

Fooling some of the people all of the time it would seem, gives a man a false security and a feeling that he has the reins securely in his grasp. When this happens, either the people who feel he is deserving are wrong or a change in his general make-up has placed him in a position of "sink or swim". Also, a man who reaches this point, after having once been looked up to, will find it difficult, if not impossible, to "swim" again.

Look to your fellowman for the prestige and honor you seek; but, once you attain your goal, forget not the fellows who aided in your attainment. Don't be a "small" man. You can't fool all the people, but it's very hard not to fool yourself. You are challenged, you have a responsibility, in more ways than one. Do yo uhave the internal fortitude to stand up to both of them?

Chilton Industry--

Concentrated Drive On To Establish Industry In County

ration of all Chilton County interests is necessary for the realization of this industry. The Thorsby group indicated that this was but a stepping stone for establishing industry throughout the County. It was pointed out that Thorsby was lucky enough and industrious enough to start the ball rolling and that the combined efforts of all Chilton Countians would bring about a realization of industry for all of the County in the future.

The ground work is being laid for Chilton Industry. And, as was brought out at this meeting, the County is ready for it. All the industries located in Chilton were represented as well as a good cross section of small businessmen. Without exception, they spoke as one when asked their opinion of industry in Chilton.

"Industry is needed, let's cooperate and acquire some of it."

Cooperation Percentage Remains To Be Seen

The cooperation that will be received from this appeal was not indicated immediately. Probably because representatives felt a responsibility, loyalty to their local Boards. However, as the talk progressed, it was evident that in order to get industry established in Chilton County, there would have to be a concentrated effort on the part of all; including city and county government, civic organizations and literally every influential organization and individual in exstence in the County. Indications were that this meeting had the desired effect and that cooperation, however much, is here to stay. The effects will be noted as things progress.

The Late Sam Mims Honored By Thorsby

Efforts made in behalf of his home-town by the late Sam F. Mims, one-time mayor of Thorsby, were recognized at the meeting by Mr. Bentley, who spoke for the town. "Mr. Mims put a lot of himself into this project; he was present at the first talks in New York and knew the situation from the ground up." He stated that the efforts of Mr. Mims were largely instrumental in this dream for Chilton County.

Legal Advisor Is Rep. Karl Harrison (Shelby Co.)

Present at the meeting was Rep. from Shelby County, Karl Harrison, who is the legal advisor to the Thorsby Board. "This is a shining example" he said "of the will and determination of a few people to gain industry for Chilton County." He praised highly the some 100 men who have put up the $50,000 in Escrow that insures the building of the Thorsby plant.

Advisory Committee Formed

A committee, made up of representatives of all business branches present at this meeting, was formed.

A delegate from the Clanton Industrial and Development Board, The City of Clanton, The Kiwanis of Clanton, the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce, The Jemison Industrial and Development Board, the Chilton County Industrial Board, the Town of Maplesville and the Board of Revenue and Control was named. The Clanton Lions were represantated but withheld their delegate until a meeting of that organization. No doubt they and other groups will have delegates in the near future. This, is a sign of progress.

Conservation Dept. Makes Changes

O. C. Medlock, State Conservationist of the United States Soil Conservation Service at Auburn, announces the following changes in assignments of personnel in the State:

Charles M. Sanders has been assigned as Assistant State Conservationist. His principal duties will be with the Service's watershed activities in the State. Sanders has been with the Soil Conservation Service since 1934. During the past two years he has headed the watershed planning party at Auburn.

Thomas G. Amason has been assigned as head of the watershed planning party, succeeding Sanders. Amason has been with the Service since 1934. For the past 16 years he has been Area Conservationist at Ozark.

Louie I. Lumpkin succeeds Amason as Area Conservationist at Ozark. During the past 14 years Lumpkin has headed up the Service's activities in Limestone County.

Jack P. Harper succeeds Lumpkin in Limestone County. Harper has been with the Service for several years and is being transferred from Linden.

Wilbur J. King is being transferred from Demopolis to take Harper's place as Soil Conservationist at Linden.

Medlock, in announcing these changes, stated that increased interest of the public in watershed development made it necessary to provide more assistance to that program. Public Law 566 provides that the Federal government, through the Soil Conservation Service, will help land owners plan and apply measures in watersheds to reduce flooding of lowlands and runoff and soil movement from uplands.

Two-Fruit Delight—Cranberry Baked Pears

RUBY-RED FRESH CRANBERRIES team with fresh pears in a light yet satisfying dessert, just the thing after a hearty meal. The tart-sweet flavor of the berries blends beautifully with the pears, and the pears take on a pretty pink color in the baking that calls for your prettiest glass compotes. For an old-fashioned accent, spice with a cinnamon stick or a few whole cloves while baking.

CRANBERRY BAKED PEARS

1 cup sugar
1½ cups water
2 cups Ocean Spray fresh cranberries
6-8 small, firm pears
½ lemon, thinly sliced

Combine sugar, water and cranberries in saucepan. Bring to boil and cook about 10 minutes or until all the berries pop. Pare, halve and core pears. Place pears in baking dish or casserole, scatter with lemon slices and cover with juice drained from cranberry sauce. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until pears are pink and tender, about 30-35 minutes. Chill and serve very cold, garnished with spoonfuls of cooked whole cranberries reserved from sauce. Mr. Farmer:
You Want the Best in Fertilizer

Buy CAPITAL LOW-MOISTURE, HIGH-VALUE fertilizers. LOW-MOISTURE is essential in getting more fertilizer for less money.

We highly recommend CAPITAL ES-MIN-EL MIXTURE (Essential Mineral Elements) for truck crops and orchards. CAPITAL ES-MIN-EL MIXTURE used properly will produce peaches and other fruits over grade.

We recommend 0-14-14 fertilizer with Heptachlor or Aldrin for control of FIRE ANTS.

For general crops we highly recommend CAPITAL LOW-MOISTURE 8-8-8, 4-12-12, as well as 6-8-8 and 4-10-7.

One ton of non-acid forming CAPITAL fertilizer, containing Dolomitic Limestone, will produce 25% more cotton than one ton of acid forming fertilizer made with sand. No SAND is used in CAPITAL fertilizers.

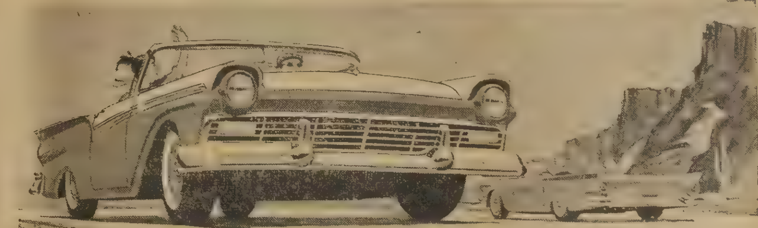
Eats like a hummingbird!

Like all the new '57 Fords, that sleek Sunliner up there lives on a mighty lean diet of gasoline. Big reason? Look underneath the new front-hinged hood of this over 17-foot long dreamboat. There you'll find a magnificent V-8 engine . . . an all-new, easier "breathing" power plant that measures fuel and air more efficiently than ever before to give you fuller combustion, greater economy. There you'll find a completely new brand of Ford TNT that's the proud result of Ford's many years of V-8 leadership. Yes, "Six" or "Eight" . . . the going's never been so great!



Goes like a Thunderbird!

For a car that "eats" like a bird . . . just watch this new kind of Ford devour the miles! That's its new Thunderbird V-8 power* for you. It's the same kind of mile-melting power that sparks the mighty Thunderbird itself . . . the same staying power that hurried a '57 Ford over 50,000 salt-encrusted miles at Bonneville in less than 20 days . . . at an average speed of more than 108 miles per hour! But Action Test the new kind of Ford. Feel the new solid, silent ride that stems from the all-new Inner Ford. Discover all the other reasons why Ford makes "luxury" a low-priced word!

Ford offers V-8 engines in a wide range of horsepower — including a Thunderbird 312 Supercharged V-8 that delivers 300 hp and a 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8*

Watermelons—

New Breed Eliminates Hazards; Insures Better Money Crop

The watermelon growers, especially in the Southeast, have lost millions of dollars from anthracnose. The Federal Vegetable Breeding Laboratory at Charleston, under the able direction of Dr. Andrus and his associates felt that this was an unnecessary loss.

After checking with farmers and produce dealers they concluded the Cannonball or Black Diamond Florida Giant possessed many desirable characteristics but was very susceptible to anthracnose especially on the fruit. Consequently they devoted much of their efforts in breeding and selecting for a strain that could withstand this disease. After crossing several strains they finally came out with "it".

W 453 or Blackstone has all the desirable characteristics of Cannonball [illegible] a little earlier ripening [illegible] cuts solid, excellent quality and color, good shipper, very resistant to anthracnose and [illegible] resistant to fusarium. This melon will stand more hot sun and [illegible] conditions than any [illegible] harvested in north Florida in middle of September [illegible] very little sun burn. [illegible] has just been [illegible] and is a great asset to melon growers.

There are very few seed available for any grower [illegible] some will be well repaid at harvest time. Many times we have seen melon buyers [illegible] the tracks as soon as the rainy season started, realizing that even though the "bumps or lesions" did not show on the fruit they would develop in transit and the melons would be in bad condition arriving at their destination.

This one hazard can be eliminated by planting W 453 Blackstone. See your favorite dealer.

Dairymen Urged To Use Simple Feed And Save

A savings of $135 per year—that's what can be chalked up for each grade A dairy in the state if its milk herd is fed just simple feed plus good quality roughage and grazing.

And API Extension Dairyman John Parrish pointed out this week that this savings to Alabama dairymen belonging to the Dairy Herd Improvement Association would run to approximately $300,000 per year.

He said that expensive supplements and extra minerals are unnecessary in the dairy cow's diet. Home grown feeds—with only essential supplements added, needed grains and good roughage keeps milk production just as high as more expensive supplements and extra minerals. What's more, this savings adds directly to the dairy's profit.

Parrish deplored the lack of feed efficiency among the state's dairy herds. Alabama ranks second lowest in feed conversion for milk. Today Alabama dairymen use one pound of concentrate feed grain to produce 2.7 pounds of milk. And Parrish said dairymen should be getting at least three pounds of milk for every pound of concentrate feed.

He cited feeding trials at North Carolina State College to show that expensive feed does not necessarily lead to more milk. Results there showed that a simple feed mixture of corn and cottonseed meal will likely produce as much milk from the average dairy herd during the short winter feeding period as a complex concentrate ration with 4 times as many ingredients.

These trials tested a corn-cottonseed meal ration against a mixture of corn, oats, wheat bran, and five protein supplements. Both feeds contained salt, calcium, and phosphorus. And all cows tested were fed a poor quality of timothy hay.

Radar Island

More than 100 miles off the New England coast, this man-made "island" is the first open-sea radar tower in the nation's new Atlantic defense network against air attack. Costing $13 million, it houses 60 Air Force personnel on its three decks, and enough electrical gear to supply a city of 100,000. Its three spherical "radomes" are designed to spot enemy raiders at distances which are a military secret. The 6,000-ton "island" is the largest structure ever to stand so far from land amid such hazardous sea conditions, according to Gulf Oil which supplied fuels and lubricants during the unprecedented erection job by Raymond Concrete Pile Co. and DeLong Corp. (a joint venture).

American Legion-

Essay Contest Announces Winners

The American Legion announced today the state winners in the largest Essay Contest since the Department began its annual promotion, with entrants from practically every high school in Alabama participating.

First prize in the contest was awarded to George Kinzer of Demopolis High School, whose theme, "The Constitution-Temple of Liberty," took first place honors in School, County, District and Area Contests before entry into the State Finals. In placing first, young Kinzer received $100.00 in U. S. Savings Bonds from the Department in addition to school and local American Legion Post awards.

"The Constitution of the United States" was the essay which received second high honors, and going with this position were U. S. Savings Bonds amounting to $75.00, plus school and local Post awards. Miss Lemuel Morrison of the Greensboro High School was the recipient of this award.

Alston Fitts, III, St. Bernard High School student was awarded third place and will receive $50.00 in U. S. Savings Bonds and an engraved medal from the Department, as well as school and local awards. His essay was entitled, "A Living Oak—Our Constitution."

Judge Thomas E. Huey, Jr., of Birmingham, Department Chairman for the 1957 Essay Contest handled the program well. Judges for the finals were: Hon. George Lewis Bailes, Circuit Court Judge, Birmingham; Dr. I. F. Simmons, Superintendent, Jefferson County Board of Education and Dr T. Sloane Guy, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Birmingham.

Any student in the 9th through 12 grades was eligible to enter by writing a 500 to 1,000 word essay on any subject relating to the Constitution of the United States.

The essays were evaluated by the judges, with emphasis being placed upon neatness, good grammar, organization, composition and content of original ideas in the essays.

The annual Essay Contest is one of the many Americanism Programs promoted by The American Legion which moulds the minds of the youth of today to make them our citizens and governmental leaders of tomorrow. Another of the Americanism Programs is the National High School Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the Legion. This program is now underway in the Department offering scholarships totalling $4000.00.

MORE AMERICAN FAMILIES, a nation-wide survey indicates, use a checking account than any other banking service; and the second most popular banking service is a savings account. In 90% of the families surveyed, one or more members go to the bank to make deposits. Almost as many wives as husbands visit the bank in the course of a month — with most of the wives making the trip at least once a month, and many of the husbands making the trip more than twice a month . . . A bank welcomes the in-person visits of its depositors. There are times, however, at which a depositor does not welcome the prospect of making a special trip — for example, when he or she is extra busy, or indisposed. And that's why Banking-by-Mail was invented: To provide, for just such times, a means of transacting routine banking business without leaving home. Thorsby Institute News—

Rev. J. W. Davenport of Soddy, Tenn., visited at the school last week and spoke very interestingly in chapel Thursday and Friday. While here, Rev. Davenport presented the school with a gift of $200.00 which he was instrumental in raising through Congregational Churches in Tennessee and Kentucky. We appreciated the gift very much and Rev. Davenport's interest in the school.

Mrs. H. R. Maddox has replaced Mrs. Ella B. Hart as the clerk and bookkeeper at Thorsby Institute. Mrs. Maddox is a TI graduate, a trustee of the school, and was formerly the commercial teacher and office secretary here at the school. She is an excellent bookkeeper and we are glad to have her in the office once again.

Mrs. Hart, who served the school faithfully for a number of years as clerk and bookkeeper, has retired.

SARDIS NEWS

Our attendance at preaching services and Sunday School was good over the week end. We had several visitors to worship with us. We welcome them back. Bro. Jerry Batson, our pastor, preached two very inspiring sermons. If you haven't heard Bro. Batson preach you are missing a blessing, so we invite you to worship with us. We have several sick in our community. Let us always remember these in our prayer list.

We have changed our prayer meting time on Wednesday night to 7 o'clock in order that our pastor can be with us. Remember this change of time and come. Invite someone to come with you.

Come to Sunday School and BTU each Sunday.

News From Sardis

We want to urge everyone to attend church every Sunday and Sunday night.

What would our community be if we couldn't have our church and the opportunity to worship God? We should be proud of our church and support it with our presence and our prayers. It only takes about two hours every Sunday to attend Church and worship services. Surely we should give God that much of our time each Sunday.

Our sympathy goes out to the family, friends and loved ones of Cecil Roper, who was killed in a wreck Saturday night.

There are still some sick in our community. Remember these and the bereaved when you pray.

Meet your friends at church Sunday, and let's enjoy the worship services together.

A Key To Bible Knowledge

A dedicated team of ministers and scientists have completed, in just 21 months, what half a century ago took many years of painstaking labor. The finished work? "Nelson's Complete Concordance of the Revised Standard Version Bible." What seemed impossible to complete before 1967 is ready now—years ahead of schedule!

But what is a concordance, and why a new one? A concordance is the key to that tantalizing problem that faces ministers, scholars and regular Bible readers alike — how to find that elusive quotation they cannot quite remember, or an appropriate parable for teaching the young. The RSV Concordance, for instance, lists alphabetically every word in the Bible (except for 132 little words like "the," "of," etc.) followed by every passage in which it appears in the RSVB with chapter and verse locations.

DISPLEASURE
years, and you shall know my d.'	Num 14 34
anger and hot d. which the LORD	Deu 9.19

you to dinner and you are d. to go,	1Co 10.27
If any one is d. to be contentious,	11.16

From a sample page of the RSV Bible Concordance.

NP

Thus, if you remember only a single word in a Biblical quotation or parable, you can locate all passages using the word in a few minutes with the Concordance. And if you want to find appropriate verses about a particular subject—for instance, "hope," "anger," "mother"—the Concordance is the indispensable reference.

But why a new one? The Revised Standard Version is the newest and most accurate Bible. Based on the latest discoveries and changes in word meanings, it contains hundreds of words in contexts and usage not found in previous Bible versions, and therefore, requires a Concordance based on its own contents.

The speed with which this new Concordance was completed is due almost entirely to the Rev. John W. Ellison, a noted Bible scholar. He worked out a system whereby an electronic computer could be used to arrange the RSV Bible contents in the form of the Concordance. After the preliminary working out of formulas and the preparation of tapes, which took several months, the machine turned out, in a matter of hours, the manuscript ready for editing and printing. Nearly a generation ahead of its time, this Concordance will serve millions of RSV Bible users.

Poplar Springs—

HD Club Plans New Projects; Will Appear On Television

Mrs. Aubrey Smith was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Elsie Hand, cohostess, to a spend-the-day party Friday, February 1st. A Stanley Party was given in the morning for the benefit of the Poplar Springs Club. The Club held it's regular meeting in the afternoon.

Twenty-two people enjoyed the abundant "covered dish" meal at the noon hour.

The president, Mrs. Pearl Dennis called the meeting to order at 1:30 p.m. and. Miss Lena Downs gave the devotional with prayer by Mrs. Esther Cox and then the group sang the monthly hymn.

The Pledge to the flag was given by the group. By a group vote, it was decided that our project for the year would be clothes for the needy and roadway signs for the church and a sign for the church also. We will also remember our "Golden Agers" by sending them gifts throughout the year. Our contribution for the day was given to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Louise Messer read the minutes and called the roll with each member answering by telling their favorite meat dish.

It was announced by Mrs. Beard, who is on the Committee for our trip this year for the Council, that we would go to Auburn some time in April. We also voted to pay our president's way to Birmingham to attend the District Meeting.

Also a group of 12 members voted to accept the invitation to appear as guests on the TV program, "Pettycoat Partyline" in Birmingham soon.

Mrs. Gladys Glenn gave us the demonstration on nutritious meat dishes and served the delicious beef stew she had made.

Those enjoying the day were: Mesdames Pearl Dennis, Louise Messer, Bell Moore, Mozelle Miller, Decie Wells, Sam Beard, Gladys Glenn, Esther Cox, Viola DeVaughn Flora Wilson, Jessie Parrish, Bertha Stewart, Elsie Hand, Johnnie Lane, Home Demonstration Leader and Miss Lena Downs. Also present were Mrs. Dott Gantt, our Stanley dealer and a former member and most welcome guest, Mrs. Ruby Penton.

We were happy and delighted to have with us, our former Assistant Agent, Mrs. Martha Bates Pugh and husband Buster back to stay, from the Army stationed in Arizona.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Lucille Popwell.

Jemison 4-H'ers Study Pasture Improvement

by Franklin Johnson

The Jemison 4-H Club met Monday, Feb. 11, at 10:00 a.m. at the Jemison High School.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Raybon Ellison. The pledge to the flag and 4-H pledge were given.

4-H boys attending who live on farms were asked to draw out lines of their farms. Mr. Selle talked about improving our pastures. He also explained how the farmer would benefit by taking soil samples and sending them to be assayed at Auburn.

Six of the boys who live on farms plan to establish patches of the coastal bermuda.

WATERMELON GROWERS

AN EXCELLENT NEW MELON

The new 453, or Blackstone Watermelon, recently released by the Federal Station at Charleston is a very valuable addition to the melon list. It is cannonball type, resistant to anthrachnose and partially resistant to Fusarium. These diseases have cost the farmers millions of dollars. A needless loss. This melon is of good size and quality, excellent shipper, very prolific and withstands bad weather exceptionally well. Is the earliest shipper we know. Because of its shape a farmer is not penalized by "Cross Loading" or assuming responsibility for damage in transit.

MRS. GEORGE NAISH

February—

The trees stand wistful in the square,
Wearing a half expectant air—
The sky is a slender silver bell,
That awaits to sound the knell.

—Annie Lawler

During the month of February, Americans celebrate the birthdays of our traditional greatest figures—Lincoln and Washington. Their contributions to our national life are learned by every school child and their deeds are both legion and legend. When we think of these heroes we are inspired to a greater love and loyalty, the principal virtues of a united people.

Some states observe annually, Frances Willard Day, Feb. 17, in honor of Frances Willard, leader of WCTU. There stands today in Statuayr Hall in the national capital, a full-length figure of white marble. She is the only woman thus honored.

Lincoln said, "Let us have faith that right makes might; and in that faith, let us to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it."

It has been said that a faith like Lincoln's could transirom the world.

The Merchant's Prayer—

We thank Thee, Father, for the wealth of Thy love and the bounty of Thy blessing. Help us to labor, unceasingly to enrich our lives with the shining coins of honesty, kindness and justice and use these for Thy glory.

Jemison March of Dimes—

Mrs. J. L. Halman, chairman of the March of Dimes for Beat 2, wishes to thank everyone for their splendid cooperation in this project.

Special attention goes to Mrs. Luther Guin of Oak Grove, who collected over $30.00. The entire amount collected from the Mothers March and the sale of peanuts was slightly over $153.00.

Reynolds-Janert Wedding—

The wedding of Miss Annette Reynolds and Robert Edward Janert was solemnized Saturday afternoon, Feb. 2 at four o'clock in the afternoon in San Antonio, Texas. The Rev. Charles Herzig performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Reynolds of Jemison. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Janert of San Antonio, Texas.

The church was beautifully decorated with large baskets of gladioli and wedding greenery which formed a lovely background for the ceremony.

Mrs. Barney B. Burks, Jr., of Pensacola, Fla., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Sheena Currie, Miss Margaret Walker, and Miss Glen Ann Keith, room matse of the bride. Brides matron was Mrs. Earl Crumble of Dallas, Texas.

The dresses of the attendents were identical, created of white taffeta. The bodices had scalloped neck lines and short sleeves. A bright red cummerbund of taffeta formed a large divided bustle which was padded to give a large bouquet effect. The full skirt, of waltz length, was accented in the back with a red panel which widened as it reached the hem line. The head-dresses were white taffeta bands. The bouquets were large nose gays of red carnations with streamers of red satin ribbons tied in bridal knots.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a bridal gown of chantilly lace embroidered with pearls and dotted with rhinestones, the bodice had a scalloped neck line and long sleeves which came to a point over the wrists. The voluminous skirt, worn over a large hooped skirt swept into an aisle length train, and was accented with ruffles and net which fell into the train.

The fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a Juliet cap of matching lace studded with pearls. Her bouquet was a white orchid showered with stephanotis with white satin ribbons tied in bridal knots.

Virgil Braden served as best man. Groomsmen were Gerald Janert, John Canty, Jim Ridder and Robert Batot. The ushers were Mitchell Touhouze and Thomas Ruhnke.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dior blue poie de soie with neck line of blue lace over pink net. Her hat was dior blue satin.

The groom's mother chose a pink lace dress. Their corsages were white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held with Miss Lorene Lempa presiding at the bride's book. The bride's table was beautiful, covered with a white linen cut work cloth. A four tiered wedding cake mounted on a mirrored plaque rested in the center of the table. It was encircled with molded sugar petunias, lilies of the valley and ruffles of white maline. The cake was also ornamented with sugar flowers and ruffled maline forming corsages. Each tier was sprinkled with silver degrees. The cake was topped with a beautiful corsage of pink throated orchids and a miniature bride and groom.

The punch table was covered by a white lace cloth with an arrangement of white gladioli at one side. The punch was served by Mrs. Arthur Bamm. Silver trays held mints and nuts, adding to the table decorations.

Others assisting in serving were Messrs. Fred Brukenheofer and Virgil Braden.

The bride chose for her bridal trip a sheath of biege jersey and small biege satin hat. Her accessories were black and the corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After honeymooning in New Orleans they will be at home at 607 Ridgewood Drive, San Antonio.

Mable Woodward Circle—

The Mable Woodward Circle met with Miss Ola Rogers Monday afternoon, Feb. 4th, at three o'clock.

Refreshments of ice-cream, cake and coffee were served before the program began.

Miss Ola Rogers, circle chairman, called the meeting to order. Roll was called, minutes read, pledges paid and coupons collected.

Mrs. Louis Brasher gave the devotional, reading John 7:45-53, then led in prayer. She then made remarks about, "Christ and World Order."

Mrs. B. C. Lenoir and Miss Mary Clements reviewed chapters 1 and 2 of the book, "Home Missions, U. S. A."

There were twelve members present, the president of the WMU, the pastor's wife, and Mrs. Moore.

Esther Moye Circle—

Mrs. J. A. Petersen was hostess to the Esther Moye Circle Monday afternoon, Feb. 4.

Mrs. Marvin Dawson, circle chairman, called the meeting to order.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. A. Peterson. She called the roll and collected pledges.

Mrs. Russell Peterson read the scriptures, Matthew 28:19-20, then led in prayer. She then presented Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Chandler. Mrs. Dawson reviewed the first chapter of the Mission Study Book, "Home Missions, U. S. A." Mrs. J. A. Chandler reviewed the second chapter. This book was written by Dr. Courts Redford, Executive Secretary of the Home Mission Board.

Following the program, a short business session was held. The chairman mentioned coupons of cash value to be collected by the members.

A fellowship hour was enjoyed. The hostess served chicken salad sandwiches with cranberry hearts, individual cakes with red trim and drinks.

The hostess grows lovely narcissi and included these in an arrangement of gladioli and snapdragon in the living and dining rooms.

Eleven members were present and one visitor, the hostess' mother, Mrs. J. L. Fulmer of Goodwater.

Junior GA Met—

Sandra Lee Rogers was hostess to the Junior GA's Thursday afternoon, Feb. 7.

The topic for the afternoon study was, "Where Our Money Goes, Home Missions."

This program was presented as a TV program with Lynda Seal Clements as announcer. The first reporter to tell of work was one at Atlanta, Ga., headquarters of the Home Mission Board, by Rena Blackmon; the next was New Orleans, La., with work among the deaf, by Jayne Porter; Alaska was brought in and work there told by Margie Moore; Cuba, California were heard from and given by Patsy Shaw.

Following the program, the Watchword, Star Ideals and Allegiance were repeated and the GA Hymn sung. Mrs. Lonnie Cobb gave the devotional, reading Acts 1:8 and 8:5-8, Sandra Lee Rogers dismissed the group.

Beginners Sunbeam Band—

The Beginners Sunbeam Band met at the church with the counselor, Peggy Blackmon, in charge. A story was told about doing things to help others. They drew pictures for a while, then repeated the Watchword.

Mrs. R. B. Johnson served cup cakes and drinks.

Fragrant Valentine Flowers

HERE ARE TWO SUGGESTIONS for saying "I love you" on Valentine's Day this year—each "Saying it With Flowers." Since this is a frankly sentimental holiday, choose delicate, fragile flowers, like the fragrant stephanotis, sweetheart roses and violets in the old-fashioned nosegay bouquet. Stephanotis, carnations and lily of the valley are arranged in the dramatic compote. The two cherubs carry through the hearts and flowers theme. If you are far away on Valentine's Day, any florist who is a member of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association can send this type of gift, or the traditional long-stemmed red roses, to your lady fair. POPLAR SPRINGS NEWS

Our attendance for Sunday School and Training Union was off again Sunday. We hope we can soon build it up again and go over the seventy mark.

We enjoyed the two sermons the Rev. Hornsby brought to us from God's word. We pray that he will continue to follow God's leadership in his church and school work. We were sorry that Mrs. Hornsby and their son could not be with us this week. They were both sick. We trust that they will be back with us soon.

Mr. Gip Johnson joined our church and we are delighted to have him and hope that God will richly bless Mr. Johnson in the church field.

We always welcome visitors to our church and were happy to see several in our church Sunday.

Brother Hornsby and several other friends and relatives enjoyed a delicious meal and fellowship in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gaynes Glenn

COX CHAPEL

A Quarterly Meeting will be held at Cox Chapel Sunday, March 3rd. This will be an all-day service including dinner at the noon hour and the business session will follow in the afternoon.

The Rev. John Lightsey of Centreville will be speaking to us the third Sunday at 7 p.m. Remember this date and make your plans to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawmax Shayzs and children of Montgomery were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and and sons on Sunday.

Prayer services are each Wednesday night. Remember this and plan to join us, for we believe you will enjoy this service and receive a blessing.

Remember, also, the Youth Rally next Saturday night. Our members are urged to support and attend these Rallies for our Youth.

Don't forget, our goal for Sunday is 70. Will you be there for Sunday School, Training Union and Worship Services next Sunday?

Mrs. George Wilson.

Mrs. Nora Lovelady was the dinner guest of Mrs. George Wilson on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lovelady is spending a few days with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson, in Birmingham.

Mrs. Ada Pratt is with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson.

Mrs. Sallie Merchant visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Lawley made a trip to Birmingham Saturday night.

Mrs. Sallie Merchant spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson and children.

Mrs. Lee Rhodes had as guests Saturday evening her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nix, and her sister, Mrs. Erskin Summers. Also Mrs. Kirby Summers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson had as guests on Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Moore.

Mr. John Hugh Morgan spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. A. K. Morgan.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. George Smitherman. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended the family.

State Poultry Income Almost $73 Million Last Year

Poultry's roost among the state's top farm cash crops became more permanent last year as its estimated income climbed close to $73 million—second only to cotton.

API Extension Poultryman Hoyt M. Warren said this week that reports from county agents put the total cash farm income from poultry at $72,913,672. This figure includes sales of eggs, broilers, and turkeys but does not include the sale of baby chicks.

Well over half of the poultry income was chalked up by broiler producers in the state. These 3,754 producers turned out a total of 82,085,000 broilers last year—a 42 percent increase over 1955. As for 1957, Warren predicted that broiler production will continue to increase, but at a lower rate. He believes that 1956 will go down as the year of the biggest increase in this business.

Warren said that despite expected increases in all poultry production this year 1957 will only be average as far as price is concerned. And he warned poultrymen that they must concentrate on efficient production and use every possible means to reduce costs.

The specialist predicted that the average broiler price this year will be around 20.2 cents a pound. And he added that as Alabama presses her effort to capture more of the national market, some other areas will be squeezed out. Production costs in this state are lower than in many other areas.

County agents' reports show that in 1956 commercial egg flocks totaled 3,077, and that the trend was toward caged operations. For this year as a whole, the egg prices are expected to be slightly below the 1956 average.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

PNEUMONIA STILL A THREAT

When the lungs are invaded by the germ called the pneumococcus, a severe inflammation develops which, until recent years was almost fatal. However, with the advent of such drugs as the sulphonamides, penecillin and other antibiotics, pneumonia can now be brought under control.

With the new drugs, danger of pneumonia is lessened, since they overcome the infectious agent before the heart and other organs are damaged. However, the threat to the patient still exists because the recuperative period is prolonged. One hazard is the patient's getting up and about too soon because severe relapses do occur.

One of the strange characteristics of pneumonia is the crisis. The patient appears to be on the point of a complete collapse; then he begins to perspire profusely; the temperature drops rapidly; the breathing and pulse rate slow down, and in a few hours the patient looks and feels better as he falls into a quiet sleep.

Pneumonia can recur, perhaps not from the same caustive organism but from one of the other species. Whatever type, recurrences are dangerous in that they tend to weaken the heart and respiratory system, making the patient less resistant to the disease.

Pneumonia strikes both sexes. It is more of a menace in the very young and the very old. Exposure to bad weather, undernourishment and excessive use of alcohol are factors, singly and collectively.

Persons suffering with a common cold should exercise special care, because pneumonia so frequently is associated with or following this infectious disease. The physician's armamentarium has been fortified in the management of pneumonia with the modern drugs; but the condition still exists as a serious threat even though no longer the taker of lives it once was.

Paste a list of first-aid treatments inside your medicine cabinet or first-aid kit. Then, when an emergency arises, both the information and the supplies for treatment are right at hand.

Leonard Hayes-

Local Farmer Proves Berries Profitable

Leonard Hayes, blackberry grower of Thorsby, produced a $2,378.75 gross income during 1956 from 1.7 acres of blackberries.

Mr. Hayes set his 1.7 acres of blackberries in spring of 1955. He spaced his plants 2½ feet apart in 8-foot rows. Paints received 900 pounds of complete fertilizer in spring of 1955 and 200 pounds of 16 percent nitrogen in August of 1955. In March of 1956 a two-ton application of complete fertilizer was applied, followed by another two tons of complete fertilizer and 600 pounds of 16 percent nitrogen at bloom time.

From 1.7 acres, and as a result of proper cultivation and adequate fertilization, Mr. Hayes harvested 21,625 pounds of saleable berries.

The total volume of berries were sold through the cooperative association for 10c per pound F.O.B. Chilton County Fruit and Truck Growers marketing shed in Thorsby. An additional 1c per pound is earned as a "patron's saving" by virtue of the fact that Mr. Hayes and his neighbors cooperatively marketed their crops.

A gross total of $2,378.75 from 1.7 acres is one of the better blackberry production records. However many growers have similar success stories to tell of their blackberries.

The blackberry has been one of Chilton's most consistent profit earners for many years. One of the county's oldest growers has made an attractive profit with blackberries for over 30 years. In this period there were only two exceptions: one year the grower moved to a new farm, and in 1955 the late freeze damage caused a loss.

New Blackberry Growers Urged To Secure Plants Soon

The Chilton County blackberry growers' practice of securing plants for new acres from existing growers has proven satisfactory. Local plants from a vigorous, high-yielding field have a better chance of survival and are much more economical than plants shipped in from nurseries. However, existing growers report only a limited supply of plants will be available this year. Farmers interested in setting new fields this year are encouraged to contact an established grower and secure plant needs at the earliest possible date.

Plant needs will vary from 1500 to 2700 per acre, depending on row and drill spacing. In 8-foot rows and plants 2-feet in drill, the plant requirements are 2700. If row spacings as wide as 9-feet are used and plants are spaced 2½ feet in the drill only 1500 plants will be needed per acre. Local experiment station's preliminary records indicate that a higher yield is possible with the 2,000-plus plant population per acre.

ment factory has become a reality, it is necessary for the County to immediately begin grading operations at the building site. In order to finance this grading and excavation Lewis asked the Board for an appropriation to be in addition to the five-hundred dollar fund earmarked at an earlier date for this purpose.

Lewis' request was met with a $3,000 appropriation which brings the total appropriation for industrial site grading up to $3500.

Board Members Inspect Jail—

The Sheriff of Chilton County appeared before the Board to inform the members of the impending closing of the County Jail unless considerable repairs are made immediately.

It was stated that only last week the State Jail Inspector, upon seeing the sanitary conditions of the local jail, informed the Sheriff that the building would be locked unless immediate and positive action was taken by the Board at this meeting to make the building inhabitable.

As the Board recessed for lunch the Sheriff escorted the members to the jail for an inspection tour.

Upon reconvening the Board discussed the possibility of repairing the present structure.

While no building plans were available showing the exact construction of the building, it was generally conceded that the main trouble lies in faulty and rotten plumbing which was imbedded in the masonry of the walls during either the original construction or the remodeling of the building in the early 1930's.

A very dangerous element in the depreciated state of the building is the fact that no cell door in the jail can be locked. The only door which can be secured is the front door leading out into the pen.

If it should become necessary for the State Jail Inspector to close this jail, County prisoners would be confined in the jail at Rockford, Alabama.

Existing Tax Levies Renewed—

At the point in the proceedings where it became necessary to relevy existing taxes for the administration of County affairs, business moved in comparative harmony and the matter was dispatched in short order.

No new taxes were levied, none were raised and neither were any lowered or repealed.

Minutes Of Previous Meeting Are Read—

After County Attorney A. B. Foshee had finished the reading of the minutes of the preceeding session, several corrections were necessary before they were acceptable for signing by the Board.

The minutes, in the closing paragraph, contained a "blanket" resolution declaring all above stated resolutions in the minutes duly adopted, instead if the usual form of showing the disposition of each resolution at the time of the vote.

Judge Tingle stated that he had not made such a blanket resolution and requested that the minutes be corrected and henceforth be written to show after each resolution the exact disposition of that particular motion.

Research Begun On Jail Problems—

In reference to the inspection trip of the County Jail it was decided to call in an out-of-town plumbing inspector to determine the extent of the plumbing problem at the jail before asking for bids on the work.

Harold Lewis and the Sheriff were designated to proceed with this undertaking.

Smith Gets Second On Resolution—

Again, at this session Harold Smith was able to get a motion seconded and unanimously passed by the Board. Smith resolved that the Board adjourn until the next regular session.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

Our youth will tackle tomorrow the things we older ones failed to accomplish today.

For it to be such a wide, wide world, it's surprising how many of us live on such a narrow margin.

Our attention has been called to the fact that some of our citizens look down on our men in the armed services. This should not be. These young men are America's finest and accept a great responsibility when they take the oath that makes them the guardian of the homeland. As one member of the armed forces told us: "some seem to think that serving in the armed forces is beneath their dignity. There is no such thing as too much patriotism." The soldier is right. There is no more dignified service than to one's country. Members of the armed forces take a lot to do their job, as do their families. It is a shame that anyone would leave the impression that they are too good to serve. The soldier talking to us should be an authority and know to which he speaks. He mixes and mingles with the young men of enlisting age every day of the week. We hope he has just run into a few "old grouches" lately that causes him to feel as he does. We do not believe it the feeling of the majority of patriotic America.

A salesman rapped on the door of a house where, just inside and plainly visible, was an 8-year-old boy painfully practicing his piano lesson. "Sonny," the salesman asked, "is your mother at home," The boy threw a disgusting look over his shoulder and growled: "What do you think, Mister?" -Alabama Trucker.

There is much unrest and dissatisfaction today in our county. Rumors are flying about the way this is run and that is run. Many times each day we are approached by someone who wants to know what is happening in our county affairs and what we are going to do about it. The answer is simple—public opinion. That is all that will change things if they need changing. First every man must lay his cards on top of the table and play them that way. Be honest with yourself and your neighbor. Chilton County News will endeavor to get to the facts and pass them along to you. First and uppermost, at present, seems the Hospital Board. What has happened there and why—did the members resign? We believe that Mr. Leo Thompson who served well for so many years as Chairman could give us the facts as to the conditions and needs at the hospital. Mr. Cliff Walton, also a former Chairman of that Board is being called on to give his opinions, as well as all former members, and present members. Chilton County doesn't necessarily have to be continuously nagged by ugly rumors and bad publicity. We only need to work together. We believe that every man who cares to speak his mind will do much to relieve the tension and bring our troubles into the open where they can be aired and inspected by the general public—after all, they are the ones who foot the bill.

Mt. Nebo MYF To Sponsor Supper, 22

Program Re-Opened Here—

Chilton Gets Added Farm Bank Funds

The Agriculture Department announced today it has re-opened the Soil Bank in Southern counties which had run out of funds for the program

Officials said County Agricultural Stabilization Committees, which operate the surplus-reducing program locally, have been instructed to write Soil Bank contracts for all farmers who apply. They said funds to cover the contracts will be shifted from areas which are not expected to use their full allocation.

Under the program, farmers earn government payments for reducing acreage of surplus crops such as cotton, wheat, and corn.

In some Southern areas, including Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana, and Mississippi, farmers rushed to sign cotton reduction contracts when the 1957 program opened.

Several weeks ago, under the department's "first come, first served" policy, many farmers were turned away empty handed after their counties ran out of their original allocations for cotton payments.

Agriculture Department officials said all the farmers turned away in the first Southern sign-up round will be covered by today's action.

The department has allocated a national total of 217,500,000 for 1957 cotton soil bank payments.

Federal Polio Vaccine Prog. Expires Soon

With time fast running out on the federal polio vaccine program, free shots will be given to an estimated 100,000 Alabamians this month.

Dr. Ira Myers of Montgomery, State Health Department administrator, made this estimate on the basis of the recent trends. During January free shots were given to 8,741 persons, whereas the December total was a little less than 80,000.

Dr. Myers, who coordinates the state's vaccine program, pointed out that the federal assistance program will expire June 1. Eligbile persons who begin the series now can get two of the three shots without charge.

The eligible group includes all persons up to 20 years of age and all expectant mothers.

Other persons up to 40 years of age can get the Salk vaccine from their private physicians.

There is no obligation and proceeds of the program will go to the Community Center of Clanton.

Liberty National Shows Record Gains In 1956

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of Liberty National Life Insurance Company held in the Company's home office building in Birmingham on February 19th, the stockholders ratified the recommendation of the Board of Directors and voted a stock dividend of one million dollars, increasing the capital stock from $5 million to $6 million. This was accomplished by transferring a million dollars from the surplus account to the stock account. In addition to this action, the par value of the stock was reduced from $10 per share to $2 per share, increasing the number of shares outstanding from 500,000 to 3,000,000.

Frank P. Samford, President of the company, in reporting to the stockholders, pointed out that 1956 was the best year in the company's 56-year history. Not only was the increase in insurance in force and the increase in assets greater than in any other year, but reserves were strengthened and the increase in surplus to policyholders was substantially greater than in previous years.

The assets of the company increased approximately $24 million, bringing total assets to $210 million the surplus was increased by just over $2½ million, bringing the policyholders surplus to over $21¼ million.

Local Phone Man Celebrates 10th Year With Bell

Mr. H. C. Williams, Jr., installer repairman for the Southern Bell Telephone Company, celebrated his 10th year service anniversary Thursday, Feb. 14.

Mr. Williams, his wife, and two children live at 306 Airport Road in Clanton. He is a native of Thorsby, Ala.

His telephone career began in Montgomery, Ala., according to Mr. Ervin Joiner, local plant foreman.

As a token of appreciation for his loyal service to both the telephone company and its customers, he was presented a gold pin containing two stars, one for each 5 years of service.

"Windless Wonders"-

Unique Ball Game Here Tonight

The Wheel Chair Magicians come down from Birmingham today and play the Clanton Lions Club a basketball game tonight at the local gym. The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

This is a different game from the routine basketball because all players must remain in wheel chairs throughout the game. The Magicians bring along extra wheel chairs for their opposition. Now that sounds pretty good; but if you've never tried keeping a wheel chair going where you want it to go—and in a hurry—you have one more lesson to learn.

These Magicians are unbeaten in this game. They have played a group that had recently finished the University of Alabama and won handily. They beat another Civic group in Jasper last week by 18 to 2

The Lions will attempt to play one team of four men (the Magicians say that 10 wheel chairs crowd the court) only one quarter each. And, there is a very good chance that most of the Lions will be needing wheel chairs before the contest is completed, because most of them aren't in too good shape. The Magicians have a comedy routine that has won them a popular standing everywhere they have played.

For sure this is an opportunity to help some fellows that have had real hard luck and yet have enough "stuff" left in them to go out and try to earn their way. Every member of the Magicians is confined to a wheel chair except two and those two have graduated to a point whereby they can walk with great difficulty.

The price of admission is $1 for adults and 50c for children of school age.

Come out and see good clean fun with Bruce Barze, Cland Blackwell, E. Easterling, Thomas Hayes, Lewis (Pig) Headley, Ralph Johnston, and R. C. Veasey and other Lions. You'll enjoy it.

When knives and other cutlery need scouring, use a cork dipped in scouring powder

Margaret Boyd To Speak At Beta State Conference

Miss Margaret Boyd, International President of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society will be guest speaker at the general session of the Beta State Convention Saturday, Feb. 23, in Montgofery.

Miss Boyd has participated in numerous civic and educational activities at the local, state, national and international levels. She has been instrumental in promoting projects ranging from providing scholarships to raising large sums of aiding teachers in war devastated areas.

As president of Ohio Education Association, a member of the Executive Committee, and the Board of Directors of the NEA she has worked toward their solutions. As chairman of two major policy making committees the Resolutions Committee and the International Relations Committee.

Mrs. Ragner Ekblad of Thorsby is president of the local Beta Chapter. Members attending the convention from Chilton County are Mrs. Luther Little, Mrs. Claude Billingsley and Miss Louise Foshee.

Temple Plans 6th Annual WMC Observance

Next Sunday has been set aside as National WMC Day in our assemblies; to give us opportunity to express our appreciation for the faithful work of the Women's Missionary Councils in our churches.

The purpose of the day is to honor the ministry of our women

A few of the many phases of the work of the WMC's are Home Missions, which include helping support homes for the aged, children's homes, scholarships for missionary children, new churches, the Indians, the deaf, the Missionetts, the club for teen-age girls, and Missionary Village, where Missionaries when home on furlough may live in a new modern cottage with every comfort and convenience Also Foreign Missions, which include helping support the Foreign Missionaries, children's homes and helping Bible School students with clothing, bedding and utensils.

The Temple WMC's have taken part in helping support the National Children's Home in Hot Springs Ark., and the Mission work at Vernon, Ala. Sunday night the WMC's of Temple Assembly have a special program planned in honor of National WMC day. The theme of the skit will be, "Lighten the Load."

Tingle States Views On Hospital Situation

When the Board of Revenue and Control made the first appointments to the Hospital Board each member appointed two men on the Board to represent their districts and the ninth member was appointed by the Chairman. The reason for the appointment of two members from each district was to give fair representation to the tax payers of Chilton County. When the appointments were made consideration was given to each man for his fairness and honesty for administering the affairs of the Hospital, that top service would be given to all persons of the County to whom the Hospital justly belongs. Since this original Board was appointed politics have creeped into this Board and consideration of all the people has been shunted into the background.

It is my opinion that the Chilton County Hospital belongs to the people and each district of Chilton County should have fair representation on the Board, which controls the hospital.

On January the 14th, 1957 the Board of Revenue and Control appointed one doctor on the Board without considering the people whose taxes built the hospital

On January 28, 1957 three more doctors from Clanton were appointed on the Hospital Board and at that meeting Mr Harold Smith and the Chairman were denied an appointment, thus making a total of four doctors from Clanton on the Hospital Board. On February 11, 1957 the Chairman of the Hospital Board and four members resigned and this left four doctors on the Board in absolute control of the hospital.

I did not know that the Chairman and four Board members were going to resign as members of the Board. I am very sorry for the County to lose these fine men that worked so many years to build the people the fine hospital that we have, but I can understand why they have resigned. The tax payers do not have control of our hospital anymore

I do not have anything personally against the doctors that have been appointed to the Board. I think that they are fine men, but I think they have made a grave error of accepting the appointment and that our hospital should be turned back to the people, and each District should have fair representation on the Hospital Board.

Helms Returns From California

Rev. Troy B. Helms

Rev. Troy B Helms returned home Thursday from California where he has been conducting revivals in Martinez and Bakersfield for the past six weeks

Mrs Helms has been in charge of the services at Temple Church while Rev. Helms was away. She has carried on the work in a magnificent way.

For the Welcome Home Service for Rev. Helms on Sunday, Feb. 24, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Roseberry of Hattisburg, Miss., will be present, bringing with them several very talented singers and musicians. There will be quartet, trio and solo singing and also arrangements of musical numbers on Sunday morning and Sunday night.

The pastor, Rev. Troy B. Helms, extends to all a very cordial invitation to attend these special services.

BUT!

By Faith Baldwin — Published in the interest of Brotherhood Week, Feb. 17-24, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

People often take pride in prejudice; they are not ashamed, Heaven pity them! and yet prejudice—which is hate and envy, which is the slimy feeling of false superiority—is, together with nationalized greed, the root of war, weapons to destroy a people and a nation.

I believe that the extermination of prejudice is not accomplished by wars but by ordinary men, women and children, through their attitudes toward one another. In recent years the people who have most helped me, outside of my immediate family, are Jews and Gentiles, Catholics and Protestants. I turn to them in trouble. I ask their prayers, knowing there is one God for us all.

Mankind's worst enemies do not always fight openly stating: "I hate this . . . or that. Take it leave it." Such are easier to meet in combat. No, the worst are those who operate as underground murmurs: the stabbing word, so casual; the undermniing phrase, spoken in good humor. Usually they declare their way by saying, "You understand I haven't a shred of prejudice personally . . . but . . ."

Never let it pass. Pin it down, drag it out. Ask: Why? Ask: When and where? Present your rebuttal and in no spirit of apology.

Propaganda is not only for State Departments. It is for everybody!

KNOW YOUR SOIL—ITS NEEDS

Your soil is the raw materials from which your crops are produced. The proper use of fertilizer is of utmost importance in a good soil management program. Supply your soil with the proper amounts of nutrients needed by the crops.

Take soil samples so you don't have to guess at the amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash your soil needs. Take soil samples in each field, have them tested at your county or state soil testing laboratory. There are a few rules to follow: First, clean hands, shovel and pail. Avoid taking samples where fertilizer has fallen or may have been stock-piled on the ground. Avoid trash burning sites and be sure you are at least 100 feet from any road as lime dust can be carried that far.

Thanks To Others Participating In "Dimes" Drive

Since some of the workers in the recent March of Dimes Drive were not published last week, below is the final report of Director Charles Patterson.

Thanks to:

Miss Martha Tracy, president of Chilton County High School Student Body, was county chairman for "Teens Against Polio." Her fellow high school helpers were Terry Jones of Clanton; Ethel Mae Davis of Verbena; Betty Carole Stewart of Maplesville; John Scott of Jemison and Jean McCraw of Isabella. These youngsters did yeoman service and are to be congratulated.

Professor E. D. Sledge, principal of Chilton County Training School, did an outstanding job as chairman for the colored people of this county. His area workers were: Mrs. Essie Quinn, Mrs. David Dickerson, Mrs. Esther Davis, Prof. Walter Oden, Prof. James Hill, Mrs. Lucille Hill and Mrs. Gladys Stone, all of Clanton. Also Mrs. Amanda Johnson of Stanton; Mrs. Louvella Johnson of Maplesville; Mr. Johnnie Melton of Jemison; and Mrs. Mildred Wright of Billingsley.

A big thanks to The Union Banner and Chilton County News, local papers, and to radio Station WKLF for their cooperation in advertising the campaign.

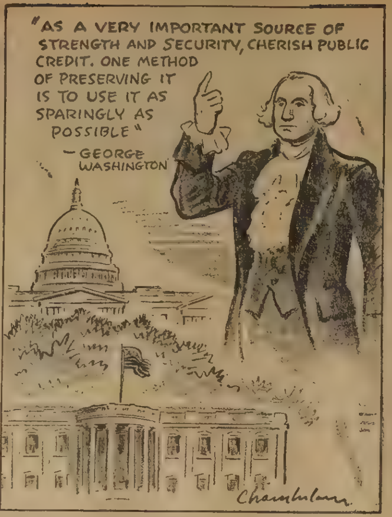
A BIRTHDAY MESSAGE



"AS A VERY IMPORTANT SOURCE OF STRENGTH AND SECURITY, CHERISH PUBLIC CREDIT. ONE METHOD OF PRESERVING IT IS TO USE IT AS SPARINGLY AS POSSIBLE"
— GEORGE WASHINGTON
Chamberlain

WASHINGTON'S WARNING

The amazing increase of $3-billion in federal spending which is called for in President Eisenhower's budget is causing consternation and keen disappoinment among all Americans who have looked forward to a reduction, at long last, in the unbridled spending of the too-well-remembered past.

In addition, there is the discouraging fact that the Government is spending more and more on its domestic programs, where economy should be achieved.

The big increase in federal spending since 1955 are not in military spending, as many people believe. The President's proposed domestic spending for 1958 is some $6-billion greater than in 1955, with the military spending only $2.7-billion greater.

With the tense world situation, our country must be both militarily and economically strong. But if we are not domestically strong; how can we discharge the responsibilities of the international leadership which we have assumed?

On his birthday, the national capital named in his honor should resound with George Washington's warning that "as a very important source of strength and security" public credit should be cherished, and that "one method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible!"

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

The things we see, believe. The things we hear. . . think about 'em first.

Said young John when asked why he disliked school so, "It ain't the school so much, it's the principal of the thing".

Understand from parties associated with the Civitan Club of Clanton, that the organization is trying to organize, or is organizing a talent contest (local) to be held ever so often. Dates have yet to be set and details are being worked out. Further proof that our local clubs are progressing with "mucho gusto.

What a predicament Instead of Spring fever or the new car fever, we have come down with "remodeling fever." It's an unfortunate illness in that we can't afford it. Oh, sure, we can afford chicken pox, or measles or somethin' like that, but this "fever" is something else again. We go to sleep at night thinking how beautiful our re-faced home is going to look and we get up in the morning thinking how wonderful that new sun porch will be. We have found a sure-fire cure for this sickness, however. All you have to do is get an "estimate." No, it doesn't hurt; well, not literally anyway. But it sure chases them old "dreamy germs" away that would put us under the weather and under the bank for some time. Yep, it's remarkable, the recuperating powers of this "estimate." You have the fever? Well, we suggest you try our treatment. If you don't, you may find that the after effects of the illness are worse than the illness itself. One thing is certain though, we've never heard of a relapse; that's one consolation. (or is it?)

Mrs. Hiram Littlejohn is quite a philosopher. Or maybe she just understands parents and kids. At any rate, she can usually see the situation at a glance. Other evening we were in her store to purchase two one-cent lolly-pops. We commented on the "large sale" on leaving and she said "I imagine those tears made that sale." She was speaking of young son Ben who truly had been crying. We hadn't noticed that the tears still lingered. We would like to make one point clear to Mrs Littlejohn: we were not bribing the young feller. You see, there was a slight misunderstanding of just how he came upon the money and papa took it away from him; never suspecting that the barber not having a sucker, had given him the penny instead. Well, after mama explained, there wasn't anything we could do except buy him the belated lollypop. As for the second sucker, Sissy had to have one, too. There was a third "sucker" involved... we'll give you three guesses.

Say, if you possibly kin, be sure to see the local Lions Club in their Wheelchair. Basketball Game tonight (Thursday) at the High School Gymnasium in Clanton. Bruce Barze an dother members of the organization have promised us a jam-up good time for the money. And too, as always, it will go for a good cause. We'll see yo uat the game. Look for statistical data elsewhere in this issue.

Certainly sorry to learn of the seriousness of Mrs. Joe Smith's illness. We consider Joe and family the finest folks we know and we would wish only the best for them all. Her recovery may be even more than they hoped fo.. We hope so. We know a lot of folks who will be plugging and praying for her.

For those of you interested, who do not know, Mrs. Smith has a sight condition which could be very serious. At this time she is in Birmingham undergoing tests and such. We'll try to keep you posted on her condition.

Committees Appointed—

County Rural Development Committee Officially Organized

The Chilton County Rural Development Committee met Friday, February 15th. The Committee was officially organized with Mr. James Kincaid, County farm leader in poultry production and blackberry and vegetable marketing, Thorsby elected Chairman and Albert Pitts, Assistant County Agent, Secretary.

The Chairman appointed the following Sub-Committees:

Forestry—

Chairman, Knox Davis, County Forester; Olin G. Fields, Work Unit Conservationist, S.C.S.; Isaac Byrd, Farm and Home Administration; Albert Pitts, Assistant County Agent; James Kincaid, Chairman, County Rural Development Committee.

Poultry—

Chairman, J. Reed Thompson, Vocational Agriculture Teacher; Albert Pitts, Asst. County Agent; James Kincaid, Chairman CRDC.

Marketing & Industrial—

Chairman, M. R. Glasscock, County Agent; C. C. Carlton, Supt. Horticultural Sub-Station; M. D. Tingle, Judge of Probate; Albert Pitts, Asst. County Agent; James Kincaid, Chairman, CRDC.

A discussion was held on the tabulation of the 650 questionnaires returned. It was suggested that Dr. Ben Lanham, Head of the Economics Department of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, be asked to make a study of this tabulation and make his report to the Rural Development Committee.

The Chairman appointed Judge M. D. Tingle, Lewis Headley, M. R. Glasscock, Albert Pitts, and James Kincaid to make plans and to visit Mr. Pleas Looney, head of the Industrial Development Board of the State of Alabama, February 26th, for the purpose of informing him of Chilton County's Rural Development Program and requesting his active interest in developing the industrial phase of the County program.

GARDEN DISCOVERY CUTS WATERING, ELIMINATES WEEDS

A "magic" roll of black plastic film called Kordimulch which eliminates weeds, speeds the growth of plants and cuts down watering is now available to the home gardener. The new garden mulch may be used year after year, and a roll sufficient to cover an 18-by-18 foot garden costs $5.95.

Black plastic mulch, hailed as the new "gardeners' friend" has been tested at such prominent agricultural centers as Cornell University, the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Mississippi State College, Oregon State College and the University of Florida.

The black plastic film may be used with flowers, vegetables, or shrubs. Test results show an enormous increase in the yield of plants grown through the black plastic.

The user lays the Kordimulch over the spaded garden, anchors it with stones or piles of dirt, slits the plastic film with a razor blade, knife or scissors and plants through it into the dirt below. The mulch may be left on the ground after the growing season, and can be re-used again and again. The long-suffering gardener can look forward to no weeding and no watering.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Last week I appeared before a special subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee in opposition to so-called civil rights measures that are presently under consideration by that group.

You will remember that a civil rights bill was passed by the House of Representatives during the last session of Congress. But, due to delaying tactics skillfully executed by Southern members of the House, passage came too late in the session to permit Senate action before adjournment.

Early Action Pushed—

Realizing that any delay in the consideration of legislation of this type may block its passage, the proponents are urging House action early in the present session. In his state of the union message, President Eisenhower again called for passage of legislation embodying his four-point civil rights program. To consider the bills that had been introduced to carry out the President's request, the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, appointed a special seven man subcommittee. This committee consists of four members from New York, one from New Jersey, one from Ohio, and the other from Colorado. Although there are eight Southern members of the Judiciary Committee, any one of whom is eligible to serve on the special subcommittee, they are conspicuously absent from the subcommittee's membership.

While many proponents of the so-called civil rights measures had urged prompt committee action without hearings, the subcommittee has already heard witnesses for six days and Chairman Celler has scheduled additional hearings on February 25 and 26. In addition to my appearance before the committee, a number of other Alabamians have also been heard. They include Congressmen Andrews and Huddleston, Circuit Judge George Wallace, Attorney General John Patterson, and Assistant Attorney General McDonald Gallion. Others from our state will probably appear before the committee's hearings are terminated.

Because the membership of the Judiciary Committee has changed little since the last Congress, a bill either identical to or closely resembling the one reported last year probab' will receive approval early in March. It is generally conceded, however, that the testimony presented by Southern members to date has already delayed committee action on the measure by at least a month.

Measure Dangerous—

The measure that is expected to receive committee approval would, if enacted into law, strike a major blow against the traditional power and independence of the individual states. We all know that the very foundation of our government is the division of authority between the federal and state governments. Yet, this proposed legislation would give to the federal government the power to supervise the states in matters traditionally within the field of state authority. At the same time, it would vest the federal government with new powers with which it could oppress the individual citizen.

In my testimony before the committee, I pointed out specific sections of the bill that I felt were extremely dangerous. Should this unwise legislation reach the floor of the House for debate — and all indications are that it will — I intend to again speak out in opposition to it.

"TURNABOUT," we overheard a husband saying recently, "may be 'fair'; but it isn't alway 'play.' When my wife was ill in bed during my last vacation, I took over her role of cook and housekeeper. For the first time in my life, I realized what a really hard job the homemaker has; and I wished with all my heart that I had cash enough to buy just one modern kitchen or laundry appliance, so that my wife's load could be a little lighter." We debated in our mind whether or not to speak up at this juncture; decided that we shouldn't. So we sincerely hope that the husband reads this column — and that other husbands who feel as he does read it, too. Prepare Salt-Packed Steak In Your Living Room

SALT-PACK STEAK for your fireplace. It's easy to prepare and serve steak this way: pack the steak in a salt paste on both sides, then put it right on the hot coals in your fireplace. The heat forms the salt paste into a hard, shell-like crust which preserves tenderness and seals in the natural juices and flavor.

You needn't leave your living room guests in order to prepare a really wonderful steak treat for your party. Without fuss or mess you can turn an old campfire cooking trick into a salt-packed steak surprise.

Though cooking convenience and novelty will contribute to the popularity and success of your salt-packed steak, the real treat is in the flavor. The heat turns the salt into a hard, shell-like crust which seals in the juices and preserves the natural flavor of the steak. When the crust is removed the steak is done evenly without traces of burned dried out areas that often result from direct heat.

The salt crust, in retaining the juices, eliminates drippings and mess so there's no problem to cleaning the fireplace after the party.

Here's the recipe for the salt-packed steak treat: Use any good steak from 1-inch thickness up. Trim off surplus fat. Make a paste of one cup of salt and five tablespoons of butter. Spread a one-fourth inch layer of the salt paste on both sides of the meat, packing firmly so the seal is complete. When the fireplace coals have settled and there are no shooting flames, you place the steak right on the coals. About ten minutes to each side should cook medium rare and the steak turns easily with large forks. Turn carefully to avoid breaking the salt crust.

In serving, tap the crust to break it, then remove the crust and serve.

The salt-packed steak is simple, surprising, and a wonderful treat.

Egg production in 1956 totaled 60.8 billion as compared with 59.4 billion in 1955.

Pensions Checks Are On Increase In Alabama

Alabama's 103,196 old age pensioners received more than $4 million in January, Commissioner J. S. Snoddy said today. He explained that this meant an average of $39.52, slightly higher than the December average.

There were 469 more pensioners last month than in December, Snoddy added, while in January 2,592 applications were received for the old age pension. This was over 1,000 more than were filed the preceding month, Snoddy said.

"Though we cannot say at this time why the rise in applications took place, I should like to point out that it demonstrates the difficulty in predicting the number of persons who will need aid in the months and years just ahead," the Commissioner declared. He added that economic factors, such as crop conditions, unemployment, and even the weather are reflected in pensions and security caseloads.

Snoddy said in addition to funds paid to the aged, payments totaling over $1 million were made to 1,684 blind, 20,238 dependent children families with 78,935 eligible recipients, 12,299 permanently and totally disable, 84 emergency cases and 1,123 children in foster care. Thus, the total receiving numbered 138,623, an all-time high. The over-all average payment was $38.18.

According to estimates, 26 percent of the farm wives now work outside of the home, so more food and clothing is being bought instead of farm-produced.

At Marbury—

Champions All, Awarded Certificates Of Merit

by Millard Manning

Our chapter held a meeting Jan. 29. There were 40 members and one guest present. We held the meeting to give three awards; one went to James Banks, Chapter and County winner of the the corn growing contest. James received a medal and a certificate from the FFA Offices in Auburn. Other awards went to Charles Tatum and Bobby Hogan who had entries in the speaking contest.

A discussion on our coming banquet was next. Who and how many were coming to the banquet was asked by acting-president Bobby Hogan, and also how much money was to be set aside for the event.

National FFA Week, Feb. 16-23. was also planned. We are going to have a radio program and might even have a television program if we get a good program planned.

Plans are being made for the trips this summer: We are going to try to go to Foley and of course we are going to send the officers to Auburn for the FFA Conventions.

On February 14, our chapter held the tractor driving contest. Winner of the chapter was Eric Thorne and runner-up, Devere Thebo. There were ten entries, also there were four tractors brought by James Banks, Danny Ray Varner, Tommy Adams, and Devere Thebo.

POWER...to cut time costs every trip!

MOST POWER OF THE Low-Priced 3

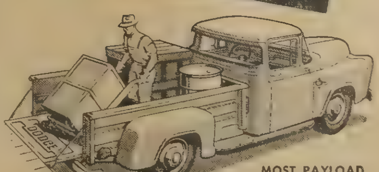
New DODGE PowerGiants

You get a power reserve in a Dodge Power Giant that pays off every mile you drive. From 204-hp. pick-ups to giant 232-hp. tandems, Dodge gives you the most power of the low-priced three . . . actually as much as 31% more.

Extra power means faster acceleration, safer passing . . . cuts your time costs every trip. It cuts operating costs, too, because it lets your Dodge engine loaf under loads that make less powerful engines whine with strain. Less strain means less wear, fewer repairs. And the special design of these Power Giant V-8's delivers full-powered performance on regular gas.

More power lets you haul bigger loads. That's why Dodge can offer bigger payload capacities in every weight class. For instance, the Dodge 300 pick-up packs up to 73% more payload each trip than comparable competitive makes. And that's the kind of payload advantage that many times means one trip instead of two.

Dodge is the easiest handling truck on the road—with the shortest turning radius for easier parking and quicker zip-in-and-out maneuverability. Power steering is available for most models. And, for the first time on any truck, Dodge offers the extra convenience of a push-button* automatic transmission for the easiest driving ever.



MOST PAYLOAD OF THE LOW-PRICED 3 . . . Dodge pick-ups haul as much as 73% more than other low-priced makes.

Combine all these features with smart new Forward Look styling and comfort-designed cabs and you've plenty of reason to take a good look at a Dodge. Why not do it soon? You'll find your Dodge dealer's deal will help you decide on a new Dodge Power Giant right now!

Available on all low-tonnage and Forward-Control models.*

ISABELLA NEWS

MRS. J. H. WELLS

There are still some churches in our Association that haven't planned to have a revival during our Simultaneous Crusade. If you have planned a revival in your church for Spring, please contact J. B. Lucas, Rt. 1, Maplesville. We are striving to have all the churches in our Association participate in our Simultaneous Crusade. This is the age that all churches should join together to win the lost for Christ. Will you pray and do your best?

We are expecting a good group of men to attend the Brotherhood Convention at Montgomery this week.

It was our pleasure to set for our goal fifty above average in Sunday School and by the help of God we practically met our goal the first Sunday. Let's make plans to be in church on time this Lord's Day and go above our goal.

March 17th marks the beginning of our Convention-wide Alcohol Education Week. This is a very important study course. Make your plans to attend this week of study. It is time we Christians taught people the evils of alcohol. In the final analysis we will have saved a soul from the hands of the devil.

CHEVROLET TESTS GAS TURBINE TRUCK

Chevrolet Motor Division has unveiled an experimental gas turbine truck which it has been road testing for six months. Developed cooperatively with the General Motors Research Staff, the Turbo-Titan contains an experimental 200-horsepower engine, examined here by Chevrolet's Chief Engineer H. F. Barr, left, and W. A. Turenen, head of GM's gas turbine research. "Among gas turbine advantages over piston truck engines," Barr said, "are better hill-climbing abilities, less maintenance, wide fuel choice, and easier cold-weather starting." Chevrolet has no immediate production plans.

MT. CREEK

Last Monday night our choir met and practiced the songs we are going to sing at the State Festival, Feb. 26 at the Forrest Park Baptist Church. All are cordially invited to come.

Last Wednesday the WMS met and had a "sewing bee" and began working on the choir robes. About 20 ladies came and brought lunch. We are very thankful to them for their generosity.

The attendance in Sunday School was off a little last Sunday. We are hoping more will come next week. All who don't come, miss a blessing.

The Training Union attendance was about the same as usual last week. There are some whom we would like to see enrolled. We are hoping and trusting they will come next week.

There will be a singing next Sunday at Mt. Springs Methodist Church. The public is cordially invited. The new books will be used.

Our prayers and sympathies are extended to the families of the late Mr. Ab Mims and Mr. Raymond Jones.

Washington's Birthday Celebration

AS EVERY SCHOOL BOY KNOWS, the cherry tree played an important part in the life of young George Washington, whose birthday comes on February 22. If your youngster has a birthday near this date, feature the story of Washington's childhood at his birthday party and have the party table centerpiece include a tiny cherry tree log with toy hatchet. Party favors and refreshments too can be based on the Washington theme, such as this recipe for an easy-to-make Cherry Punch.

CHERRY PUNCH

1 package of Cherry Kool-Aid
1 package of Lemon Kool-Aid
2 cups sugar
2 quarts water with ice cubes
2 large bottles (28 or 29 ounces each) carbonated water

Combine the two flavors of soft drink powder, the sugar, and water and ice cubes. Stir until soft drink powder and sugar are dissolved. Just before serving, add carbonated water. Garnish with lemon slices, if desired. Makes 4 quarts, or 32 servings. (ANS)

"Who Says You Need Costly Shots To Relieve 'Hot Flashes' And Irritation From Change-Of-Life?"

(Mrs. A. M., Watonga, Okla., adds, "Middle age was torture. Had costly shots 3 times a week but got no relief. Then took Pinkham's Tablets. They brought me new happiness, comfort!")

Science offers women new freedom from much of the misery of change-of-life, thanks to an amazing new tablet developed especially to relieve these functionally-caused discomforts. Doctors reported sensational results using this remarkable home treatment alone...and no costly injections!

- Relief for 8 out of 10 Tested!

Irritability, tortured nerves were calmed. Dizziness relieved. Awful hot flashes subsided. Here's why.

Unlike aspirin and such "general purpose" remedies, this new tablet is a unique combination of special medicines... acts directly on the cause of these troubles... works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve tense feelings and physical distress that bring unhappiness to so many. Clinical tests prove this.

Now this amazing formula is at drugstores without prescription. Ask for "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets". Don't let change-of-life rob you of joy! Get handy Pinkham's Tablets. Contain blood-building iron. See how fast you can feel your happy self again — without costly shots! (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

The person whose name appears on this entry will win one dollar ($1.00) in cash. Judges decisions will be final.

6. Names of all persons sending in the correct answer will be published, however, only one prize will be awarded.

Bruce Taylor Celebrates Third Birthday

On Friday, Feb. 15, Bruce Taylor celebrated his third birthday when his mother, Mrs. Reedie L. Taylor, gave a Valentine party honoring him.

The Valentine theme was used throughout the decorations. Balloons hung from the chandalier in the dining room and the table was covered with a white linen cloth with the Valentine motif.

The children enjoyed games outside and later palyed pin the tail on the donkey of which Rhonda Patterson won the prize and drop the clothes pin in the bottle. Bruce's cousin, Jimmy Spearman, won this prize.

Following the games Bruce enjoyed opening all of his lovely gifts and then they were served cake, ice cream and candy.

Balloons, valentines, and whistles were given as favors.

Those enjoying this party were Jimmy Spearman, Janice Muncher, Rhonda Patterson, Belydia Hodgin, Sherrie Jones, and the honoree's brother, Barry Taylor. His grandmothers, Mrs. A. R. Taylor and Mrs. C. E. Apperson of Birmingham, and some of the mothers were also present.

Vermont School

On Friday afternoon, the Vermont Basketball teams played Enterprise at Vermont. The scores were in favor of Enterprise.

Friday afternoon the last ball game of the season will be played here on the home field with the Cooper teams.

After the games last week every class enjoyed a Valentine Party in their own home room. Valentines were exchanged. Cookies and iced drinks were served.

The Third and Fourth grade students had their party in the form of a Valentine Banquet. An extended table was decorated as a circus scene with cardboard animals, balloons and Valentines. Each one found their place at the table by their place cards. Contests and games were enjoyed by the students.

The First and Second grade students also enjoyed games and contests with Roger Brasher winning the prize. Visitors at their parties were Mrs. Doris Mitchell and two daughters, Mrs. S. L. Melton, Hazel Green and Donny Wyatt. Other visitors included Mrs. Doyle Smitherman and two children and Mrs. Cecil Abbott.

Minnie Wade is a certified teacher and member of the National Twirling Teachers Association, a subsidiary of the NBTA, the largest twirling organization in the world.

She was selected for the 1956 Library Edition of "Who's Who" in Baton Twirling by the officials of NBTA as one of the 800 outstanding young men and women in the twirling field. This achievement is even greater when figures show more than 130,000 twirlers are active in the United States today.

Lucretia Davis Honored At Recent Shower

On Saturday, Feb. 9. Mrs. B. F. Boockholdt and Mrs. Mary Vance were hostesses at a linen shower honoring Miss Lucretia Davis given at the home of Mrs. Boockholdt.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Vance and the honoree.

The dining table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a bowl of white snow drops and fern.

Several arrangements of butter cups and narcissus were used in the receiving rooms.

The lovely gifts were opened and displayed by Miss Stanley Ruth Davis, sister of the bride-elect, and Miss Mary Ann Yeargan after which the hostesses served delicious cake, punch, coffee and a salad to the 27 guests who called between the hours of two and four.

Hemerocallis Garden Club Met 12th

The Hemerocallis Garden Club met on Tuesday, Feb. 12, in the home of Mrs. Richard Muncher at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. T. C. Davis, president, was in charge of the business which consisted of a discussion on the annual spaghetti supper. The club appropriated $10 for the recreation center committee.

The guest speaker was Mrs. John Hollis who spoke on "Driftwood" and the three driftwood arrangements were Mrs. Hollis' original ideas. The special arrangement of red and white camellias with a white heart was presented by Mrs. Harold Foshee.

The club welcomed one new member, Mrs. Curtis Deason.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to seventeen members and three honorary members.

Clothes sprinkled with hot water will be ready to iron within 15 minutes—hot water penetrates material much faster than cold water does.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your Heavenly Father will also forgive you. —(St. Matthew 6, 14.)

If we hold grudges, harbor resentment which builds up into bitter hatred, if we are constantly and destructively critical of those around us, we indeed build an insurmountable wall between ourselves and God and our prayers will be in vain. By our unforgiving, we create our own hell on earth.

Tourist, Native Attraction--

Alabama Gulf Coast Is Asset To Southland

by Geoffrey Birt

Director Ala. State Publicity Bureau

Those who visit Alabama's Gulf Coast, will find awaiting them some of th most beautiful beaches in the world, historic shrines, semi-tropical flowers, the quaintness of the shrimp fleets, oyster boats, and the interest of the old French City of Mobile with its great modern deep water port, for the enjoyment of a health-giving colorful vacation.

The sport fisherman will also find Mobile Bay, and the warm, blue waters off this Alabama coastline, a mecca for his dep sea fishing, for here the tarpon, as well as other sport fish, are to be found in abundance. Indeed, Alabama has named the tarpon its State fish—the only State in the Union with an official State fish.

One of the great charms of the Alabama coastline is its still unspoiled beauty, which proves particularly attractive to families seeking quiet and beauty for their vacation, at reasonable rates. There are abundant motel and hotel accomodations in the area, plus an Alabama State Park at Gulf Shores, which has both a large beach frontage, and also a fine fresh water lake located amid pine trees and palms.

One of the prime attractions in this area, is the world-renowned Bellingrath Gardens, open daily to the public. This is a floral paradise created by a millionaire from a wilderness of oak trees hung with Spanish moss, and a profusion of semi-tropical flora and fauna. The gardens today are the home of probably the world's finest collection of azaleas as well as other flowering shrubs, and a profusity of gaily colored flowers, blooming along winding yalks over-looking the Isle-aus-Oies river near the mouth of the Gulf.

It was the wives of the French Soldiers who long ago occupied Mobile, who introduced azalesa to the area, and these have multiplied, flourished and been developed into many different varieties since that time.

About three years ago, a $3½ million bridge was built to join Dauphin Island—a silver-sand island with pine woods, which is a haven for pelicans and other wild sea birds—with the mainland. Dauphin Island is located off the western entrance to Mobile Bay, and Fort Gaines, located on its southern tip, became famous in the Battle of Mobile at the end of the War Between the States.

Opposite Fort Gaines, guarding the entrance to the Bay, is the even more, famous Fort Morgan which has seen seven flags fly over its still well-preserved battlements. It was at this Fort, and on this tip of land—where now Orleanders grow, a reminder of early Spanish occupancy—that some of America's earliest history was written. However, Fort Morgan's greatest hour come in the bloody seige after Admiral ("Damn the Torpedoes, full steam ahead") Farragut's Federal fleet had forced passage into Mobile Bay and sunk the Confederate ships.

Today, Fort Morgan is joined by a good black-top road with Gulf Shores, where the beaches afford safe swimming for family enjoyment, and miles of sand dunes attract sunbathers and colectors of driftwood.

A few miles up Mobile Bay's Eastern Shore, is the luxury Grand Hotel, at Point Clear, one of the more famous resort hotels of the area, complete with it own yacht basin, golf course, super swimming pool and private beach.

Bon Secour oysters grown off the Eastern Shore, are a gourmet's delight, being widely famed for their delicate flavor.

Deep sea fishing craft are easily hired at reasonable rates at Perdido Bay and the Gulf Shores area, at Fort Morgan, Bayou La Batre - headquarters for the shrimping fleets—and at other points.

The Port of Mobile, of course, has become one of the nation's top 10 deep sea ports, and is growing rapidly. A tour of these facilities to see the commerce and traffic of this bustling port—with everything from bauxite to bananas being unloaded, and a thousand and one things being loaded for export across the seven seas—is always a highspot for a vacationer in the Mobile area.

The old city of Mobile has a character and charm all of its own. An old-world spirit of tranquillity and dignity still hovers over its downtown area, defying the hustle of mid-20th century commerce to disturb its calm. Its ancient tree-lined narrow streets bear testimony of their French origin through their names—Dauphin Street, Royal St., St. Francis Street, and Bienville Square, among others.

Mobile's annual Mardi Gras celebrations are the oldest in the nation, ante-dating New Orleans' Mardi Gras festivities. For that reason Mobile is known as the Mother Mystics.

The City's annual Azalea Trail, February 3 through March 31, attracts about 600,000 visitors each year.

The Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo, with its headquarters on Dauphin Island, is one of the most popular sporting festivals of the Gulf Coast's summer season, and is held in late July or early August.

Visitors to Alabama's Gulf Coast rea will certainly find everything that is necessary for a happy, restful, colorful vacation.

Clanton Takes Two On Chin; Makes Fine Showing For Fans

Pensacola Defeats Clanton 78-58

by Hugh M. Bates

Coach V. L. Bulger put one of the smartest working teams ever seen in Pensacola on the court there Friday night. The Clanton team lacked height and couldn't make up for it with speed, good position and sheer determination.

Pensacola's starting team averaged 6 foot 4 inches against Clanton's five foot 11 inch average.

A large crowd at the Pensacola High School gym watched the Bengals lead all the way, but the Tigers gave them all the basketball they wanted until the last five minutes.

Clanton was only five points behind at the half, 36-31. Center Thomas Minor was nothing short of sensational with his jump shot and scored 19 points. Minor also grabbed 10 rebounds.

Osborn Mims drew the attention of everyone by shooting from mid-court with those handed set shots and he scored 13 points for the evening.

Collins played his best defensive game of the year. Coach Bulger's team hit 68 percent of their foul shots.

Coach Bulger is to be congratulated on his fine team and the officials at the game stated they were as well coached as any team in the state if they had the height. Pensacola would not have been able to stay on the floor with them.

A good crowd of Clanton people followed the Tigers to Mobile and Pensacola, as they have all year.

Murphy High Edges "Tigers" In Game There

by Hugh M. Bates

Murphy of Mobile, last year's State Champs, edged Clanton 68 to 60 in Mobile Friday the 15th. The Tigers outscored Murphy 25-20 in the first quarter, but connected on only 3 of 17 shots in the second quarter as Murphy outscored them 21-9. The Tigers trailed 41-43 at the half. Clanton outscored the Panthers by two points in the third, but could not catch up.

Clanton's All-State candidate, Tom Minor, pulled down 27 points for high point man of the game. Minor was easily the outstanding player on the court. Mims trailed Minor with 11 points. Coach Bulger used his entire team, and they all played a good game, but just couldn't quite make the grade.

See how the regular use of Chilean Soda corrects acidity and maintains favorable pH (left). Fertilizer used at right contained no sodium.

CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

Because it's a natural fertilizer, and everybody knows a natural fertilizer is an extra good fertilizer. Extra good for crops and for the land, too; not just for today, but for the years ahead as well. Chilean Soda is a rare natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Its extra values distinguish it from other nitrogen fertilizers, account for its remarkable efficiency, for its beneficial effect upon soil fertility and the production of fine crops.

The effectiveness of a nitrogen fertilizer for top-dressing and side-dressing depends almost directly on the proportion of nitrate nitrogen it contains. In Chilean Soda, the nitrogen is 100 per cent fast-acting nitrate—ready to work as soon as you apply it, rain or shine. But that's not all. Chilean Soda has sodium and minor elements, too. Sodium destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and calcium when necessary, increases the efficiency of nitrogen and helps plants make better use of other plant foods.

Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the available phosphate supply is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal.

Experience, they say, is the best teacher, and 100 years of consistently satisfactory experience with Natural Chilean Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for your top-dressing and side-dressing requirements. If you have any questions, we urge you to try it, if only in a small way to begin with, and see the difference for yousself. You'll find it is the most economical and efficient nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used.

Farm Families Analyze Progress With Cooperation Of FHA

Prospects of increased efficiency in farming operations during the coming season and evidence of progress last year are showing up on several Chilton County farms as the result of systematic check-ups on the past year's operations, Isaac C. Byrd, Farmers Home Administration County supervisor, reports.

At the end of each farm business year, those farm families using Farmers Home Administration credit to buy, improve, or operate their farms analyze their past year's business.

After noting the strong and weak points in their operations, they make plans for better farming during the coming year. Assistance in this analysis and planning is supplied by the Farmers Home Administration County office personnel.

Arrangements to use this service in connection with loan funds advanced by the agency are part of each family's agreement with the Farmers Home Administration. The service is known as the year-end analysis.

To enable the farm families to make full and efficient use of their labor and increase their income, careful consideration is given to the adequacy and full utilization of their land, livestock and equipment. When necessary loan funds are provided to attain or develop the needed resources.

Among the improvements planned as a result of farm records recently analyzed in the Chilton County Farmers Home Administration office are improved systems of farming, soil and water conservation measures, better cropping practices, improved herd management, farm drainage, weed control, and other improved farm and home management practices. A better balance between cash crops and livestock operations is needed in many instances.

Mr. Byrd said he and all other county supervisors keep in close touch with the local county agricultural agents, the State College of Agriculture, experiment farms, and the work of other agencies to equip themselves to assist borrowers in taking advantage of the latest developments in agriculture.

Mr. Farmer:

You Want the Best in Fertilizer

Buy CAPITAL LOW-MOISTURE, HIGH-VALUE fertilizers. LOW-MOISTURE is essential in getting more fertilizer for less money.

We highly recommend CAPITAL ES-MIN-EL MIXTURE (Essential Mineral Elements) for truck crops and orchards. CAPITAL ES-MIN-EL MIXTURE used properly will produce peaches and other fruits over grade.

We recommend 0-14-14 fertilizer with Heptachlor or Aldrin for control of FIRE ANTS.

For general crops we highly recommend CAPITAL LOW-MOISTURE 8-8-8, 4-12-12, as well as 6-8-8 and 4-10-7.

One ton of non-acid forming CAPITAL fertilizer, containing Dolomitic Limestone, will produce 25% more cotton than one ton of acid forming fertilizer made with sand. No SAND is used in CAPITAL fertilizers.

See our dealers in your area.

Beans Go Fancy With Ham

Has the brisk February weather made your young scouts and skaters just about the hungriest ever? Their perked up appetites need hearty healthy fare.

The easiest way to plan for the hungry mob, is around sparkling tasty casserole dishes, the hub of any meal. A can of pork and beans with tomato sauce can be dressed up with but little work. You'll need a few oranges for slicing (they're plentiful AND economical now) a few slices of boiled ham, or cut these from the ham you baked yesterday if you prefer. (Cut real thin.) The spring look will have arrived after you make the ORANGE GLAZED HAM ROLL-UPS. It's just as nice and much easier to serve from the baking pan.

Add a salad, the heartier kind for winter weather; and dessert, perhaps coconut custard tarts with a beverage.

By taking advantage of today's many convenience foods, your dinner table glows with a "come-on" look in short order.

Orange Glazed Ham Roll-Ups

2½ tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup orange juice
6 slices (⅛ inch thick) boiled ham
1 can (1 pound size) pork and beans with tomato sauce
1 orange, sliced

Combine brown sugar, cornstarch and mustard in saucepan. Stir in orange juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; cover to keep sauce hot. Spoon beans onto ham slices; carefully roll up and fasten with toothpicks. Place in shallow baking dish; insert orange slices between each roll-up. Pour half of sauce over ham. Bake uncovered, in a moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes, or until bubbly. During last 15 minutes spoon on remaining sauce. Makes 3 servings.

SOUPMATES WINTER STYLE

Hearty bowls of soup are in demand on the coldest winter days. Why not please your family and friends with colorful bowls of soupmates . . . 2 cans of soup combined to make a new soup. Try blending 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of asparagus soup with 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed clam chowder and 2 soup cans water. Heat. You'll be pleased with the flavor and newness of this combination. Serve to four people. FNS

Sweets For The Sweet!

Thanks to Mother Goose, we all know little girls are made of sugar and spice, but your favorite young miss can tell you that her recipe for a Raspberry Honey Punch is just as sweet as she is! This easy-to-make recipe is a favorite with youngsters because they can make a whole pitcherful all by themselves whenever they long for a tasty treat during playtime:

RASPBERRY HONEY PUNCH

1 package Raspberry soft drink powder
½ cup honey
½ cup sugar
2 quarts water with ice cubes

Combine all ingredients and mix until soft drink powder and sugar are dissolved. Makes 2 quarts, or 16 servings.

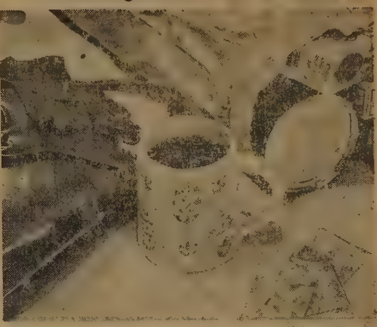
The Beverage Break - Hot Beef Broth



THESE DAYS, more people are discovering the pleasures of drinking hot beef broth as a beverage.

It's fun to pamper yourself with a mug of hot beef broth after a snowy, or just plain chilly, shopping session. Beef broth is so low in calories you needn't give "calory count" a second thought, and, although beef broth is energizing, it contains no stimulants.

Easy to prepare, it takes less than two minutes to combine a can of condensed beef broth with an equal amount of water and heat in a saucepan until simmering.

If there's any broth left (one can makes 2 to 3 mugsful), keep it in a vacuum carafe, for the children's after-school snacks; or for your mid-afternoon beverage break. (ANS)

Folks and Things ABOUT ■ TOWN

—By Ben

Remember this, a fellow who will lie for you, will lie to you or about you.

The Marbury Lions Club had as their guest speaker last week O. W. Norton, Clanton Manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company. He discussed the new solar battery and how it is being used to power rural telephone lines. Clifford Manning is President of the Club.

The Clanton Civitan Club is holding an audition on Friday night at City Hall and request all you would be actors and performers be there to show your wares. The talent show will be presented at the New Wadesonian Theatre on March 23. If you can sing, recite or dance a jig be sure and attend the audition. It is all for a very good cause.

Mrs. Cecil Murrah received a newspaper clipping from a relative she, Mrs. Mildred Bridges, her mother and sisters visited in Harlingen, Texas last month. Since it hadn't rained enough to fill a tablespoon in the past seven or eight years there, we will show you their reactions. The head went something like this "Texans Greet Rain With Coffee Binge." And then went on to say: "Finis Easterling and Gayle Van Tyne, automobile dealers, ordered up free coffee for everyone in downtown Harlingen between 8 and 11 a.m. yesterday to celebrate the two and more inches of rain which fell in thirsty Rio Grande Valley over the week end. "We feel pretty good over it," Easterling said. Easterling said the first bills from the restaurants indicated the cost would run about $200. "I didn't realize people drank that much coffee, he said." Now quit bellyaching about the wet weather.

Mother nature allows a man to begin to think he's some pumpkin and then sends a heavy frost.

An old negro who thought he was going to die called his minister to come to see him. Upon arriving the Minister was told of this so he immediately asked the old negro if he had forgiven all his enemies. "Yas suh, Rev." said the sick one. "What about Slim Brown? Have you forgiven him for all the mean things he has done to you?" asked the preacher. "Yas I has, if I don't get well. But if I do, I'se gwine to beat holy hell outen that nigger."

Who ever heard of anyone stealing a thing as big as a piece of road machinery. Well this one wasn't stolen but it happened like this. Russ Shelton went up to get a piece of road machinery belonging to Wallace Cox from the lot beyond Bob's Drive-In. Russ asked Bob that was Wallace's machine out there and Bob said he guessed that it was. Some time later a man from the highway department sent after the county's machine and it was gone. Of course he said to himself, "Holy cow, who would swipe a road machine." But it was gone anyway. Later it turned up at Russ Shelton's. He had been told to get the machine there and got the wrong machine. Looks like those things will have to be branded like they used to do horses so they won't get mixed up.

Two couples made forced landings at the airport last week. They had radioed Montgomery that they would have to land there but came over Clanton and saw our modern new airport runways and landed here. Another visitor to our airport was the Governor last Sunday. Gov. Folsom landed out there for refueling and stayed for a spell. Our fine airport is getting quite well known.

E. R. Yeargan To Head County ACS Funds Crusade

Mr. E. R. Yeargan of Thorsby has been appointed Chilton County chairman of the 1957 crusade of the American Cancer Society in April.

This announcement came today from Mortimer Jordan of Birmingham, state crusade chairman.

State Chairman Jordan said "the Alabama Division of the ACS is indeed fortunate to obtain such fine leadership in Chilton County for the 1957 crusade."

If fruit juice or wine is spilled on the tablecloth quickly cover the spot with salt. This lessens the stain and then boiling water poured through the stain will usually remove it entirely.

For Liquor Violations-

Sheriff And 3 Deputies Indicted By Fed. Grand Jury

Sheriff Odell Payton was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Montgomery last Thursday for conspiracy to violate Internal Revenue liquor laws. Chief Deputy James Payton and deputies Albert Porter and J. E. Thompson were also indicted on the same count. Named in the indictments as conspirators but not defendants were Edgar Leach, William W. Boswell, James B. Langston, Scott W. Poe, Jadie Robinson, Henry Posey, John Curtis Smith, Richard Wilson and Alfred K. Thomas. The indictment lists 26 violations in which either the defendant or the conspirators allegedly participated.

Henry Posey seemed to be involved most. He has pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court on moonshine charges. The indictment charged that Payton made an agreement to protect Posey in his operations.

The four defendants, along with others indicted by the grand jury, will be arranged in court at Montgomery on March 11. Criminal trials are to begin on March 25.

Bloodmobile To Be Here March 5th

The local Blood Center will be open in the First Methodist Church basement from 12 until 6:00 p.m. on March 5th.

Our Chilton County Blood Program has grown considerably since it began in 1951. You, the people of Chilton County help to keep this program going by giving of your 'life giving' blood.

Your continued cooperation is urgently needed. Check the date again.

Associational BTU Will Meet At Maplesville

The Associational Training Union meeting will be held at the Maplesville Baptist Church next Monday night, March 4th, at 7 o'clock.

Rev. B. E. Burks will bring the message. The Liberty Hill Quartet will render some special numbers in song.

May we urge all the pastors and Training Union Directors to bring a large delegation from their respective churches.

Verbena Teen Club Meets, 1st

The regular business meeting of the Verbena Teen Club will be held at the Club House March 1st at 7 p.m.

Keep a close watch on the color of the flame on your kerosene stove. A yellow flame is a sign of inefficiency and the stove should be turned off for adjustments. A blue flame, on the other hand, is the sign of good operation with a properly trimmed wick and adjustment of air.

$50,000 Goal Set For Clanton Community Center

by Mrs. R. M. Tucker,
Publicity Chairman

The Clanton Community Center Committee met recently and set as their goal, $50,000, to build and equip a center which is so needed in our community for everyone but especially for the boys and girls, our youth, our teen-agers, that we all say we are so concerned about.

A place for them to get together with supervised activities.

A place where they can express themselves freely.

A place where they can feel they belong.

A place where they can work and play together in harmony and learn the value of cooperation in a community.

This center will also be a place for all our civic club meetings and community activities, one we can all be proud of, something we have all hoped for and worked towards for many years. Now we can make it a reality by all working together.

This is indeed a big project but such a needed one, and the Chairman, Mr. Callen Alred, and all his committees are working diligently on ways and means by which we can meet this goal.

The Finance Committee, consisting of Mrs. Joe Earl Gowan, Chmn., Mrs. Dave Tingle, Mrs. Dent Williams, Mrs. E. C. Lecroy, Rev. L D Brookshire, Red Glasscock, Luther Kendrick and "Pig" Headley, held a meeting on Monday and made plans to make personal contacts with each and every citizen in this community. A representative of this committee will call on you in the very near future for any donation you might like to make towards this project. If there is anyone who would like to make a contribution or who would like to help this group in any way, will you please contact one of the committee members, and if you see an article or story where some local club or organization is trying to raise funds for the Community Center project, then please back it 100 percent.

Both Pedestrians-

Two Killed In County Traffic

Two pedestrians were killed last Friday in Chilton County within a few hours when they were struck down by automobiles. Tomithy Serell Allsbrook age two, was struck down by a car driven by a Mr. Clark of Jefferson County, who had been on a fishing trip. The accident was said to be unavoidable.

At 6 p.m. only two hours later on Friday, Mrs. Olive Barnes Gay, age 73, was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Jessie M. McGee of Route 5, Selma and killed instantly. This accident happened 3 miles south of Stanton on State Highway 22. This was also declared unavoidable.

An accident near Verbena, on U. S. 31, did considerable property damage but no one was injured when a car driven by Mrs. Helen K. Stevens of Birmingham lost control of her car and crossed the yellow line in front of an oncoming car driven by David Hill Arant. State Highway Patrolmen Champion and Moore investigated.

Sport Fans: Clanton Will Enter District Tournament Tonite

By Hugh M. Bates

The high flying Tigers from Clanton will open in the District Tournament at 8:15 p.m. tonight (Thursday) with a 13-8 record for the year and a fresh win over Tuscaloosa. Coach Bulger's team will face either Prattville or York in their first game.

If they can survive this ordeal, they will then play the winner of the Raner-Catholic tilt, Friday night at 8:15 p.m. Barring an upset the Tigers will probably face Jemison or Selma Saturday afternoon. The finals will be decided Saturday night.

Let's all go to Selma Thursday night and support our team. See you at the ball game.

Adventist Dorcas Federation To Convene Here

The Dorcas Federation of the Central District will convene at the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Clanton March 7th at 10:00 a.m.

Mrs. T. E. Barham will extend a welcome to the visitors.

Mrs. Carter of Birmingham, president of the Federation, will preside. A. A. Esteb, distinguished minister, poet and counselor for young people, from Washington D. C. will address the convention at 11:00 a.m. Plans for improving the work for the poor, the sick and for any who meet with disaster will be presented. M. B. Elliston, Meridian, and the pastor, the Rev. O. O. Graham will assist in the meeting.

Women from other church societies are cordially invited.

If disaster overtakes our cities we must plan to be ready to do our share in caring for the victims.

Verbena PTA To Meet March 4th

The regular meeting of the Verbena PTA will be held Monday, March 4th at 7 p.m.

Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson of the First Baptist Church of Clanton will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "Guidance Through Discipline".

Also the FHA girls will entertain with a delightful Fashion Show.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Isabella High PTA To Hold Dinner, 1st

Friday, March 1, is the date set by the PTA for our basket supper and basketball games at Isabella.

Plan to come and bring the family. Bring a basket of food. Serving will begin at 5:30.

The ladies will have a basketball game beginning at 7:00 and the men will have a game afterwards. If you wish to play, come prepared.

Plates will be sold and admission charged for the ball games. The money will be used for the lunchroom project.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for your words of kindness, expressions of sympathy and beautiful flowers. We thank especially, the Martin Funeral Directors for their kindness and consideration during the death of our brother, Roland Bryant.

Red Cross Campaign Kick-Off Breakfast; Hutchinson Chrmn.

The local Red Cross Chapter will hold a kick-off breakfast at the Dixie Cafe in Clanton March 4th at 8:30 a.m. Dr. N. J. Warren, one of the Regional Chairmen of the 1957 Fund Campaign in Alabama; and who is also very active in the Dallas County Chapter of Red Cross—will be on hand to give the workers important information regarding the campaign which begins in March. Mr. Arthur J. Lewis, who is Publicity Chairman of the Dallas Chapter and also serves as chairman of the Special Awards Committee for the Birmingham Regional Blood Center, will be our guest speaker for this occasion.

Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson, Chairman of the 1957 Fund Campaign in Chilton County, urges all workers assigned to solicit funds in the County, as well as Clanton residence and business sections be present at this important meeting.

The necessary material for the campaign will be distributed to all workers at this time.

We hope each and every worker will cooperate to the fullest in order to put this drive over the top in the quickest and most efficient manner.

Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson

The Chilton County Chapter would like to also announce that the Rev. James Jones has given his time to the organizing of the residence workers. The chapter greatly appreciates the services of both Dr. Hutchinson and Rev. Jones.

'Board' Rejects 7 Low Bids on Road Machine

★☆★☆★☆★☆★☆★☆★☆

JUDGE TINGLE MAKES STATEMENT REGARDING PURCHASE OF GRADER

The following invitations for bids on one Motor Grader was mailed out on February 12, 1957 and read as follows:

Trade 1 County Motor Grader as listed below: CP-7 No. 610 Adams, serial No. 2247 for one new heavy weight motor grader with minimum 100 horsepower deisel engine, minimum tires, 1300X24, minimum 8 ply, hydraulic steering, 12 ft. moldboard booster. Without cab or scarifier attachment. Said sealed bids will be received until 11:00 o'clock a.m. Monday, February 25th, 1957, at which time said bids will be opened publicly. The Board of Revenue and Control reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The Board of Revenue opened bids at 11:00 and J. D. Pittman Tractor Company bid was $3,805.00 higher than the lowest bid.

Mr. Smith offered a motion to buy from the lowest bidder, but could not get a second and the motion died.

Mr. Cost then made a motion to buy a Caterpillar from the J. D. Pittman Tractor Company and Mr. Motley seconded said motion.

Mr. Cost, Hilyer and Motley voted to buy said equipment and Mr. Smith voted "No."

Your Chairman is bitterly opposed to the purchase of this equipment. Don't you believe that if these Board members were buying this equipment with their own money, they wouldn't pay $3,805.00 extra. I don't believe they would

Now as your Probate Judge and Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Control I am not going to throw $3,805.00 of your money out the window for anybody and if J. D. Pittman Tractor Company wants payment for this equipment they must mandamus me in court and the courts will have to order me to pay for this equipment because I am not signing away the treasury of Chilton County in any such manner.

by Vernon P. Payne

In a controversial move on the part of three Board of Revenue & Control Members last Monday, the highest of eight bids was accepted in a transaction to purchase a road machine for the County. A total of eight competitive bids were submitted by six road machinery companies.

Lowest bid opened for the Motor Patrol (grader) was by the G. C. Phillips Tractor Co. of Birmingham. Their net price, allowing for a trade-in on a used Patrol, was $10,861. This machine met all specifications listed in the invitation to bid sent out by the County. The machine offered was an Adams.

The accepted bid was turned in by J. D. Pittman Tractor Co. of Tuscaloosa and net price on this bid was $14,666, allowing for trade-in of the old machine. This is a Caterpillar machine

Other companies submitting lower bids were C. W. Stewart Machinery Co. of Birmingham, $14,000 net; Joe Money Machinery Co., Birmingham, $13,395 net; Ray Brooks Machinery Co., Montgomery, $14,406 net; Leary & Owens Machinery Co., Birmingham, $14,000 net. Machines offered by these companies included Allis-Chalmers and Gallion

Immediately upon comparison of bids by the Board, Harold Smith offered a resolution to accept the lowest bid. Smith's resolution was not honored with a second and was declared dead by the Chairman.

Lonnie Cost offered a resolution to buy the Caterpillar machine from J. D. Pittman Co. This resolution was seconded by Sherman Motley and was passed with Messrs. Cost, Motley and Hilyer voting in favor and Smith voting against the purchase.

County Has No Official Comparison Records—

Upon checking it has been established that Chilton County has no official road machine comparison tests on record to show which brand of machine gives better service. To make an official comparison test, two competitive machines must be checked for six consecutive years with each operating under the same conditions.

Motley gave one instance as a comparison of two machines over a six months period.

All of the various machines offered at the above prices met the qualifications and specifications advertised by the County when it invited the companies to bid.

More Delegation Appeal For Roads—

Several delegations appeared before the Board requesting that road work be done in their sections of the County.

Charlie Sanders acted as spokesman for a group of citizens living on the Bethel Church-Maple Springs Road who asked that this road be paved as it is an important school bus route and is treacherous in bad weather. This four-mile stretch of road serves two churches and there is no opposition by residents who must deed a right-of-way.

It was resolved that this road be added to the list of projects on the SACP System.

Julian Baker, who lives near New Cedron, appeared before the Board asking that the County re-open a road leading from the Enterprise Road to his house, a dsitance of a quarter-mile. This road was abandoned some time ago since no one lived along it at that time.

On this project it was decided that the County Engineer should look into the situation.

T. F. Johnson asked the Board to take some action to secure a right-of-way across the GM&O Railroad near Maplesville in order that an existing road across his land will connect with Highway 82. This right-of-way has been sought by Mr. Johnson for some time and has been refused by the railroad on the grounds that the crossing would intersect the track on a bad curve and would represent a hazard.

Sherman Motley offered a reso-

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

The man who pals with vice eventually becomes its slave.

Most good intentions are out-distanced by human frailities.

Most folks are expert nurses when it comes to nursing grievances.

Hypocrits use the light of truth to cast the shadow of suspicion.

A BILL WE LIKE—

A Bill has been introduced in Congress to permit weekly newspapers to suspend publication for two weeks each year without sacrificing their second-class mailing privileges.

This is a Bill we like and one that would be of great benefit to the hard-put country press.

The Bill was introduced by Senator Gordon Alcott and is co-sponsored by Senator Mike Mansfield. Senator Alcott pointed out that the bill is "permissive in character" in that "it merely gives the individual publisher the right to suspend publication for two weeks each year if he so choses".

He also stated in his remarks:

"Rural America is still the storehouse of democracy. The voices of our rural citizens must be heard, and they must have an instrument by which their audience can be reached.

"The small weekly editors across the country, who are near to the people and reflect their thoughts, have provided an irreplaceable medium of news and independent editorial opinion.

"It seems to me that every measure should be taken to strengthen the small local press—not discourage it. Centralization of the press and news media in general is a most dangerous thing."

"The tendency has been toward more centralization and consolidation, and it is time we did something to encourage and stimulate the small independent news outlets."

WHO IS PICKING ON WHOM?—

Lemuel R. Boulware, vice-president of General Electric, agrees with Edmund Burke, who sought to dissuade James III from driving the American colonies into rebellion, that: "The only thing necessary for the riumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

The evil that disturbs Mr. Boulware is our accelerating drift toward a welfare state and away from the system of free, competitive enterprise that has made this nation not only the wealthiest but the happiest in the world. It is time, he thinks, for another American rebellion against the demagogue's axiom that: "it's good politics to be anti-business."

To show how right the rabble-rousers are, and to prove that the businessman is in the public's dog-house, he cites a pre-convention Gallup poll in which a cross section of the voters favored for the Presidency a man who "usually sides with labor" over one who "usually sides with business" by more than three to one! No wonder Mr. Boulware observes in a recent article in HUMAN EVENTS that: ". . the politicians figure union officials can and do influence votes, while businessmen can't and don't."

But it is high time to consider who is picking on whom. In such a country as ours, in which the vast majority of us are businessmen (and businesswomen), such a poll proves that either people don't think, or a lot of businessmen don't believe in the system of which they are a part! Perhaps the owner-driver of a taxicab, the man who runs a lunchcounter or a filling station, a newsstand or a farm doesn't think of himself as a businessman. Perhaps the small businessman's mind has been poisoned by the demagogues with jealosy of the man who works for a "big" business—when anyone in his right mind knows that small businesses get big by doing a good job for the public. We all know that, because we are all customers. And every worker, whether for a big business or a small one, should cherish his American right to set up a business of his own—if and when he wants to.

The alternative to our free enterprise system is the welfare state in which, as Mr. Boulware points out, everyone will be very little indeed—except the anti-business demagogues and the Federal overseers. If we are to save what we have, businessmen will have to save it—all businessmen, from the shine boy to the board chairman. They will have to discover what they believe and why, and learn to talk about it as loudly and as convincingly as the politician plugging for Big Government and collectivism.

They must, in fact, convince the politicians that it's very bad politics to be anti-business. And soon.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By ,, TUCK"

The things we See believe; the things we Hear, consider.

Funny how different a tune sounds when you're the one that's singin' it.

And speaking of local procedure of late, it amazes us just how much talking some folks do, about things they know absolutely nothing about. (And that includes the big-shots).

And while we're on the subject, we very honestly can't see how a man could truly have his county in mind when he first, won't have a new courthouse under any circumstances and second, we've got to have a new courthouse. No, and we very sincerely can't understand the man who, after the jail has been condemned says, why there's nothing wrong with our jail, they said it was alright. And while we're on that subject, why don't you taxpayers go around and have a look at your County jail. There's something wrong with a man who has such a different opinion at two different times and then at another time tries to calm the aroused public by saying "everything's alright, now." Let us tell you this mister, you aren't calming a colicky baby (although some of us would make the grade) this is grown-up Chilton Countians you're trying to "pacify" into oblivion. There's a fed-up point in every situation. We sure hope Chilton County has reached that point. You know, the very ones that cause these things won't admit it. That's me and you, buddy; you vote don't you?

Well, we said we'd keep you posted and we have a fine bit-o-news. Talked to Joe the other day and the Mrs. (Smith) is doing just fine and dandy. Joe says she's gonna be O.K. without an operation. At least it looks that way. Her only trouble will be a partial blindness in one eye and Joe says that won't effect her frontal vision at all. Sure is good news. Like we said, we want nothing but the best for these folks and we think they have a pretty good start now. We're sure she'll be fit as a fiddle in no time t'all.

A gentleman was in and talked to us a bit Saturday about the developments at the Chilton County Hospital of late, and we hope, for his good as well as mine and yours, that he had a few misconceptions about the situation. We told him then and we'll say now; we don't believe there is a 100 percent right and wrong in the argument, there never is in this type of confusion. But, we do feel that some folks are counting the eggs and calling them rotten before they've had a chance to hatch out. Whether the hospital will be any worse off under the change than it was under the old way, remains to be seen. What you've heard is just that. . . what you've heard; and nothing more! We don't think the situation quite demands the high-blood pressure on the part of some who seem to think the world is collapsing about them. Not yet anyhow. It is wrong? It might possibly be right. . . it remains to be seen. Why does it remain to be seen? Because there are no facts in a matter, until somebody does something. So far, what facts have we to uphold the gossip and accusations we've heard? We're all prone to lose our heads when it comes to sensationalism. What say we look before we leap; and if you must leap, look to see who's in the ditch you're leaping into before you make a fatal plunge.

IT'S MY OPINION

By BOB TUCKER

RESPECT----

The First Virtue!

What a few people you are apt to run into these days who still maintain the old-fashioned virtue of respecting their elders.

You know, when it comes to the virtues of life, we think the one that tops them all is just that. . . respect. If you have but one virtue and it is respect, you can acquire all that is necessary to make a full and happy life. It's our opinion that to acquire all virtues you need in this life (to have a good one) your primary objective should be respect, and build the others around it. Actually they'll build themselves.

Respect for your elders is by no means restricted to the juveniles. On the contrary, some of those who need a lesson or two the most are far from being children, physically anyway.

We all have someone who is our senior and we should respect them simply for that, if for nothing else.

Of course there are different degrees and kinds of respect demanded of us. A man requires a different respect from a woman because there is a difference in the nature of your relationship with the two so naturally your respectful attitudes would vary with the situation.

Generally speaking, however, an older person is due respect from his juniors simply because he is older.

You may ask why is it so important. Well, to us it's very simple: The fact that they have been around this old world longer than we have is reason enough to respect them. For their judgement and guidance alone.

As we said before: though you know nothing and have but one virtue and it be respect, you can learn all things; because if you have respect for the wise you will listen, and listening you will learn. . . which is the basis of everything.

"What Will We Tear Up Next?"

Chilton County News
Clanton, Alabama

Dear Sirs:

A man told me once that when another man died in big cities and didnot have many friends, that his relatives hired some mourners to cry at the funeral.

I wonder if all these crying mourners about the Chilton County taxpayers have been paid well for their tears here of late. About the only thing I know the taxpayers have gotten from all this weeping is a torn up County government and a lot of good men have been fired from the road gangs of the County.

We have been told by one of the Board members that they fired some men who had been on the road for years to get better men.

We see that one of these 'better men' has now been fired because he was running up and down the road driving drunk and another has been caught twice for bootlegging whiskey, now under bond.

All this mess started back yonder when Judge Parrish was elected, when he tried to get the grafters out of the County government. Ever since then everybody has been a crook except the ones who liked the old spoils system and wanted to get their fingers in the pockets of the taxpayers. Judge Parrish may be in his grave today because these political grafters stuck him in the back while he was trying to do something good for the taxpayers. All this talk about our County has done the people no good. It has torn up our County and gotten a lot of good men fired from their jobs and made a lot of us hate to tell people we are from Chilton County.

Now since they have torn up the County while Judge Parrish was judge and have torn it up when Judge Tingle was judge and torn up the hospital that the people paid for, what are they going to tear up next? We thought the people voted a tax to build a hospital for the taxpayers, but we learn now that we built one for the doctors of Clanton.

I think we ought to build the dentists and the horse doctors a building or hospital also.

All this mess means that we can't hope to get any good men to run for office in Chilton County any more. It's about time some people were finding out that hammers and saws are made to build with as well as to tear down everything and everybody.

When the best people of the County get ready to stop this mess, then it will stop and not until they speak out so these grafters can understand what we mean.

It's time we were doing something about it. Please don't tell this gang about our churches and schools. . . they may tear them down also.

We have seen it all now! Just last week one of the weeping mourners who has cried the loudest against building a new courthouse, now finds out we need one, or a bigger one. Why didn't he be fair to these taxpayers he was crying about in the first place. I don't believe the taxpayers are going to take this kind of doings when they speak again. Mark my words.

He Says Sheriff Should Resign

To The Editor of The Chilton County News

Dear Editor,

Every man is rightly presumed to be innocent until proven guilty; but sometimes, when suspicions become so strong and cumulative, it becomes advisable for those civic-minded peoples to take a stand for decency and right.

Would it not be justifiable for the right thinking peoples of our County to take their stand against the questionable record some of our law enforcement officers seem to be making?

I feel that it is right and politically very expedient that the citizenship and responsible leaders, now and here call upon the sheriff and his deputies to resign.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House of Representatives voted last week to reduce the budget request for the Treasury and Post Office Departments and the United States Tax Court by $80,364,000. This reduction of approximately 2% in the first major appropriation bill of 1958 had been recommended earlier by the House Appropriations Committee.

The largest cut was made in the Post Office Department's budget. From it was trimmed $58 million leaving a total of approvimately $3.2 billion for the operation of that Department during the next fiscal year. For the Treasury Department, the House approved $691 million or $22 million less than the budget request.

An attempt was made during debate on the measure to restore $29 million to the Post Office Department's funds, but the proposed amendment was defeated by a standing vote of 177 to 124. While several members of the House predicted that failure to restore these funds would result in curtailed postal services and reduced personnel, a number of the members of the Appropriations Committee assured the House that this would not happen. At the same time, they emphasized that more funds are actually provided in the current bill than were appropriated for the present fiscal year.

Although the reduction in this appropriation bill was moderate, it indicates that further cuts will probably be made by the House of Representatives in the twelve remaining appropriation bills that complete the make-up of President Eisenhower's record peace-time budget.

Dangerous Doctrine—

For a number of years the United States Supreme Court has held that when Congress passes a law on any subject, it intends that all state laws on the same subject be superceded. This rule of law recognizing exclusive federal jurisdiction in all cases is now having iniquitous results.

Let me illustrate how it affected our own State of Alabama in a recent United States Supreme Court decision. For the purpose of protecting our own citizens, the State of Alabama sought to inspect the product of the Cloverleaf Company which was engaged in the renovation of butter, some of which was shipped in interstate commerce and subject to inspection under the Federal Pure Food and Drug Act. The Supreme Court, in the case of Cloverleaf Company against Patterson, held that since Congress had enacted the pure food laws it had assumed entire jurisdiction over the subject and the states were powerless to enforce their laws for the protection of the health of their citizens.

In recent years Congress has legislated on a multitude of subjects. As a result, if the Supreme Court continues to follow this doctrine, it will only be a matter of time before the states will be deprived of practically all powers and sovereignty in the enactment and enforcement of laws for the protection of the health and welfare of their local citizens.

Corrective Legislation—

Realizing these dangers, I joined with Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia on the first day of the present session in introducing identical bills that will modify this doctrine. These measures, if enacted into law, will permit concurrent jurisdiction in order that the state law, where not in conflict with the federal act, also can be enforced in the state courts for the protection of the state and its citizens.

There is an urgent need for the enactment of legislation of this type. It is our hope that we can muster support for it from other sections of our nation as well as from the South.

Visitors—

We enjoyed a visit last week from Mr. Howard Boockholdt, Superintendent of Education in Chilton County. Mr. Boockholdt attended the American Association of School Administrators' convention in Atlantic City and stopped by Washington on his return trip to Alabama.

Simultaneous--

Chil.-Unity Association To Have Crusade, April

The Chilton-Unity Missionary Baptist Association will sponsor a Simultaneous Revival Crusade April 7-21.

Thirty-two churches, up to the present date, have enlisted for the great Revival Crusade:

It is hoped and strongly anticipated that many more and probably all of the churches of the Association will swing right into action and be a part of the greatest Revival Crusade in the history of our Association.

Rev. Joel B. Lucas, pastor of the Mulberry Baptist Church is enlistment Chairman for the Crusade and you can notify him or your missionary when your plans get underway for the Crusade. Rev. Lucas gets his mail on Rt. 1, Maplesville.

Some of the churches will have only one week of the Crusade, and probably only at night, but that will still be considered a simultaneous effort

Your missionary has accepted the responsibility of publicizing the Revival Crusade, but there is nothing that will take the place of the keen interest of our pastors in pushing the campaign in their pulpits.

The pastor is the "key" man in this situation and the people are always ready to listen to a faithful leader. . . or should we say "faithful people" are ready to listen. . .

The following churches have already enlisted in the Spring Revival:

Liberty Hill, Mulberry, Chestnut Creek, Northside Mission, Thorsby, Providence, Poplar Springs, Bethsalem, Center Hill, Bell Lane, Maplesville, Clanton First, Pleasant Valley, New Salem, Collins Chapel, Floyd, Corinth, Refuge, Macedonia, West End, Cane Creek, Concord, Maple Springs, Ebenezer, Rock Springs, Mt. Bethel, New Cedron, Mineral Springs, Union Grove, Sardis and Shiloh.

COOPER NEWS

Our attendance was good Sunday for all the church services. We were happy to see everyone out and we want you to come back and bring someone with you.

We still have quite a bit of sickness in our community and some of our folks are in hospitals. We want to remember them in our prayers.

Bro. Glidewell brought two wonderful messages Sunday morning and Sunday night. You are missing a blessing in not hearing him. Come on out and enjoy the messages with us.

The Brotherhood will meet Thursday night but the WMU meeting date was not available.

The GA's will meet Friday afternoon at the church.

Miss Martha Glidewell was home for the week end with her parents. She brought her college friends from Howard College where she attends. They were Misses Lyndell Harmon, Mary Henderson and Shirley Lackley.

We surely enjoyed the special music by these girls in the church services Sunday morning and night and we invite them back at any time.

O'Neal Cox, who is stationed in Germany was called home due to the serious illness of his father. His father, Mr. Oliver Cox, is hospitalized.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Bryant were called home this past week due to the death of his father, Mr. Rolland Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cagle are home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cagle, Sr., for a few days before he leaves for duty overseas.

We hope to see you in church Sunday.

Tigers Take Tuscaloosa In Final Tilt Of Season, 64-48

MT. PISGAH NEWS

by Scarlett Ray

Our Sunday School was well attended this past week.

Next Sunday night Jeanette Duren will lead the program entitled, "Dedicated to Serve."

We know you will want to remember the following in your prayers: Mr. Jasper Edwards, Mrs. Nora Davis, Mrs. Myra Patterson, Mrs. Joe Holley and Miss Naomi Holley. These are a few of the sick in our community and they will appreciate your prayers as well as those who are not listed.

Lt. and Mrs. Leo Headley, Jr., and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Yeargan were the dinner guests of Mr and Mrs. Leo Headley, Sr., on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeBardelaben visited Mr. and Mrs. Das Holt of Robinson Springs Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ray and daughter visited old friends at Dadeville Sunday.

Mrs. Myrtle Yeargan visit Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Yeargan this past week end

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Brown and family visited Mrs Eula Brown Sunday afternoon

Pletcher Emmanuel Holiness Church

We are still in revival with Rev. A. R. Jones of Selma as the evangelist. There have been several saved and others blessed during the revival.

There are still some sick in our community, but we pray that they will all soon be up and able to be back at church.

We would be glad to have anyone visit us. We have services on Sunday morning and night, and CYS on Thursday night. Also we would be glad to have you during the revival this week.

Vermont School

Vermont Basketball teams played Copper here at home with the score being in favor of the Cooper teams.

They are looking forward to attending the basketball tournament in Clanton on Friday of next week.

The Chicken Supper and entertainment program sponsored by the PTA was a success and enjoyed by a fair group on Thursday night of last week. However, not as many plates were sold as had been anticipated.

The entertainment was presented in the school auditorium by the students. They gave several numbers in songs and a number of stunts, followed by a fashion show. Mrs. Lydia Donovan impersonated Minnie Pearl, giving a reading entitled, "I Had a Beau."

Tommie Louise Lecroy of Isabella gave a pantomine, impersonating Elvis Presley.

The Vermont PTA will meet on Tuesday, March 5, at 7:00 p.m. All parents are urged to be present.

By Hugh M. Bates

With Hershel Billingsley back in the line-up for the first time in over a month, the Clanton Tigers defeated the Black Bears from Tuscaloosa 64-48. The Bears jumped to a 1 point lead to start the scoring. Clanton came back with a quick field goal and then led all the way.

With Billingsley and Collins getting the rebounds, Coach Bulger's team began to pull away in the second quarter. Mims and Vines hit with their long shots, as Clanton led 34-22 at the half-way mark.

Tom Minor got the third quarter started with two nice lay-ups and also doing a good job of rebounding.

The Tigers hit 47 percent of their shots, with Minor getting 27 points for high point man.

This was the final game of the season for both teams and Coach Bulger's team ended with a 13-8 record, against some of the best terms in Alabama and Florida.

Coach Bulger loses three men due to graduation. Ralph Vines, "Kudzu" Vines and Tommy Smith.

There are several good men coming up from Coach Dan Finlayson's "B" team. Although Coach Finlayson joined us late in the season, he did a very good job and we hope he will be back with us next year.

FFA Get Top Honors In Forestry Contest

The Jemison FFA Chapter received a $50 award as 1st place winner in the Chilton County Forestry Contest. Clanton FFA Chapter received $30 for second place and the Verbena Chapter received $20 for third place. The contest was set up to create interest in better forestry practices, to develop knowledge of timber values and timber practices; to develop knowledge and interest in complete and efficient land use and to develop knowledge and leadership in forest and wildlife conservation

The contest is sponsored each year by the Bank of Thorsby, The Bank of Maplesville, The Peoples Savings Bank of Clanton, The First National Bank of Clanton, and the GM&O Railroad. Mr. Knox Davis, County Forester, made the awards.

The winning Chapters were supervised by L. C. Shields of Jemison, J. R. Thompson of Clanton, and J. F Ledbetter of Verbena

HOME ACCIDENTS TAKE HEAVY TOLL IN ALABAMA

[illegible]ery—Over one-thir[illegible] accidental deaths during [illegible] caused by home [illegible] According to figures prepared by the State Health Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics, there were 174 accidental deaths in that month. Of this total, 65 were deaths attributable to home accidents. Seventy-one were motor-vehicle fatalities, 12 were occupational accident deaths, and 19 were caused by public non-motor-vehicle accidents. Type of accident was not known in seven cases.

The home accident deaths followed the usual pattern in that the largest number of victims were either young children or adults 65 or over. Twenty of the victims were four years old or under, 21 were 65 or over, eight were between 5 and 14, one between 15 and 24, five between 25 and 44, and ten between 45 anl 64.

These totals may vary when final figures are in.

Thorsby Institute News—

Mrs. N. A. Long has returned to her duties at the dining hall as matron after a short vacation. Mrs. Pearl Mims, with the help of Mrs. Heida and the girls in the home economics classes, prepared the meals while Mrs. Long was away.

Mrs. Al Sanders, who has been teaching typing and shorthand since November, is leaving at the end of the month. Her husband is going into the Army and she plans to follow him to his camp. A going-away party was given last Monday night in her honor by a group of students. The party was held at the home of Jimmy Liveoak and a large number of TI students and teachers were present. Delicious refreshments furnished by members of the Junior Class, were served and 'going-away' gifts were presented to Mrs. Sanders. We are sorry to lose her so soon after her arrival.

Mrs. H. S. Petersen is still ill at this writing and confined to her room. However, she is glad to be out of the hospital.

POPLAR SPRINGS

The Rev. Roy Hornsby, pastor

The attendance for Sunday School was good, as usual. We are still praying that more people will become interested in the Sunday School. The Training Union is also about the same as it has been lately.

Bro. Hornsby brought another wonderful message Sunday morning which we enjoyed very much. We were also happy to have our pastor's brother, Ralph Hornsby, preaching for us Sunday night.

Everyone remember the Prayer Services Wednesday nights, and make your plans to attend them regularly.

A Community Wide visitation has been planned for Sunday afternoon. All members who possibly can are asked to take part in the visitation program.

Our members are also reminded to attend and support the Youth Rally next Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dykes were happy to have their son, A-2c Joe L. Dykes home with them from Barksdale, La. this past Friday night.

Sick Folks—

We have quite a few sick people that we need to keep remembering in our prayers. We missed several in Sunday School and Training Union who were absent due to illness. We pray that the sick people will soon be well, so that they may come back to church, as well as those who are at home caring for the sick.

Revival—

Let's be praying for our Revival which will begin March 31st and continue through April 7th.

FHA Attend Study On Marriage, Religion

by Melba Dobbs

The Verbena FHA met in the Home Economics Department on Thursday, Feb. 14.

The Rev. Fred Lowery of Mt. Creek was in charge of the program. His subject was marriage, from the religious standpoint.

The FHA was in charge of the chapel program Friday. The program consisted of appropriate dress for a school party and the second scene was appropriately dressed. Those participating in the program were: Barbara Silas, Ola Faye Pierce, Betty Jo McGalliard, Carolyn Robinson, Marie Smith, Wylene Smith, Jan Warren, Rebecca Baker, Carol Inman, Geraldean Kelly, Eloise Sandlin and Carol Smith.

The FHA Quartet: Ann Williams, Ola Faye Pierce, Johnnie and Sylvia Alley, sang four songs at the end the second scene. The songs were: "The King and I," "How Long Has It Been," "Peace in the Valley," and "Singing the Blues."

We are all proud to have Mrs. Cox, the FHA Advisor, living in Verbena.

This and adjoining communities are deeply saddened by the fatal accident of Mrs. Ollie Smanthy Barnes Gay. Mrs. Gay was returning to her home from a visit to the Earl O'Neal home which is just in front of her own residence, when she stepped into the path of an oncoming car and was instantly killed. This accident happened around 6 p. m. on Friday, Feb. 22. on Highway 22, 4 miles south of Stanton.

Mrs. Gay was the daughter of the late J. W. (Jim) Barnes and Mrs. Mary Gay Barnes. Born in Chilton County April 21, 1883, Mrs. Gay would have been 74 years of age this April.

Early in life, Mrs. Gay united with the Baptist Church and was a very active member. She was also a member of the Plantersville Eastern Star Chapter. Mrs. Gay's husband, Mr. Jim W. Gay, died on December 17, 1950.

Mrs. Gay was a quiet, peaceful person. A good wife and an excellent mother. Mrs. Gay gave of her time and energy in helping in any way possible in the community in which she lived. She loved life and she loved her relatives, friends and neighbors. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her, but her influence among her relatives, friends and acquaintances will live on in the hearts of all of us who loved and knew her.

Mrs. Gay is survived by her children, Howard Gay of Stanton, Robert Gay of Stanton, Mrs. Vincent Pierson (Eva Gay) of Plantersville, Mrs. V. C. Eiland (Claudine Gay) of Selma, William (Bill) Gay of Plantersville, Clifford Gay of Birmingham. Eleven grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held at the Plantersville Baptist Church Saturday afternoon, Feb. 23, at 4 p. m. Her body lay in state from 3 to 4. The Rev. J. R. Robinson, pastor of the church officiated. Mrs. Marie Little was at the piano Pallbearers were:

Earl O'Neal, Millard Reynolds, Archie McKinney, Melvin Carter, Bert Fulford and Claude McKay. The entire Plantersville Eastern Star Chapter together with members from Jones, Ala. and Maplesville Chapters sat with Mrs. Gay the entire time her body lay in state and during the funeral. The church was beautiful with the many, many floral arrangements. In charge of flowers were: Mrs. John T. O'Neal, Mrs. Willie Mae Sherrer, Mrs. Pauline Carroll, Mrs. Olivia Apperson and Miss Ruth Hicks

Interment was in the Plantersville Christian Cemetery.

Mr. Tom Gay celebrated his 84th birthday, Saturday, February 23, 1957. Mr. Gay makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. John S. Carter and Mr. Carter in Stanton. Sunday the members of Mr. Gay's family decided to bring their lunch and spend the day with their father. Those present for this get-to-gether were: Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Gay of Centreville, Miss Eunice Gay of Birmingham, Mr. Malone Gillam of Birmingham and Mrs. Letha Gay Foshee of Birmingham. Mrs. Lelia Gay Haran of Washington, D. C., Mr and Mrs. Horace Gay of Birmingham, Mr and Mrs. Fred Veasey and family of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carter of Selma and Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Gay and son of Birmingham.

During the afternoon this group decided to visit Mrs. Mary Hicks who was a very close friend and neighbor of Mr. Tom Gay and during the early childhood of these children. This was indeed a happy day for all those present and a day that will be long remembered.

CORDELLIE RIGSBY, CHILTON NATIVE, PASSES AT 86

Mrs. Nancy Cordellie Rigsby, age 86 of 406 1st St. South Clanton died at Peeks Clinic in Marbury, Ala. February 23rd at 11:45 a.m.

A native of Chilton County, she was born September 10, 1870.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mattie Murphy of Cooper, and Mrs. Maggie Smith of Clanton; one brother, C. I. Ellison of Chattanooga, also survives. There are five grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Spigener Funeral Home Chapel Monday, February 25th at 1:00 p.m. with Rev. Morris Mims officiating. Burial was in the Marble City Cemetery of Sylacauga, Alabama.

Pallbearers were: Larry McGuire, Carl Martin, Chester Little, Wesley Osteen, Oliver Headley and Edsel Brand.

Spigener Funeral Home was in charge.

SARDIS

Our Spring Revival will begin the fifth Sunday in March and continue through the following week. Pray much, that we will have a great revival and lost souls may be saved. Remember the ones that are sick in our community in your prayers.

Sunday and Sunday night is our regular preaching day. We invite all who possibly can, to come. You miss a blessing when you fail to attend church. If you haven't heard Bro. Batson, our pastor, preach you don't know what you are missing. Come on, Christians and church members, and help support God's word by being present.

Just to remind you that our pastor is also present each Wednesday night for prayer services and would like to see more support of this service by your attendance.

Peaceful Progress-

Alabama Keeps An Eye On The Atom

Alabama is keeping a close watch on the atom, at this dawn of a new era which will be dominated more and more by this great new source of power.

The State's nuclear scientists, and her business and political leaders are keeping abreast of new developments as the atom is moving more and more into the fields of industrialization and peaceful progress.

A special sub-committee appointed in 1956 to examine the needs of the State in the nuclear field—appointed by the late Gen. Lewis A. Pick, former Director of the State Planning and Industrial Development Board—has been continued by his successor, Pleas Looney.

This group is preparing its first report which is expected to be ready soon, Dr. Howard Carr, API, chairman of the group, said this week that in the final report "we hope to make as definite recommendations as possible towards the role of the State in the expanding nuclear field." "Obviously," he adds, "the manpower problem is a pressing problem in Alabama, as elsewhere, and we hope to make meaningful recommendations in this area."

Other members of the sub-committee are Dr. Eric Rodgers of the University of Alabama, and Dr. R. . Sturm, A.P.I. Governor James E. Folsom recently appointed Montgomery State Senator Vaughn Hill Robison as the Chairman of the State's group that represents Alabama at regional meetings called by the Southern Regional Educational Board for the Southern Governors' Conference.

Dr. Carr said his group has "lately visited the nuclear reactor installations at Argonne National Laboratory, University of Michigan; Armour Institute of Technology, and the Los Alamos National Laboratory."

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

THE PATIENT'S CARE AFTER SURGERY!

The thought of the many days in bed following surgery has inspired a needless fear in persons planning to undergo an operation, for it is now generally conceded that early ambulation or walking about is effective in the convalescence of the patient.

Early ambulation after surgery means getting out of bed as soon as possible, usually in the first twenty-four hours. There are exceptions, of course; but when the procedure is used, it is simple. With the assistance of nurses and often the attending physician, the patient is moved to the side of the bed where he is helped to a sitting position with the feet swung over the side of the bed. Next, the patient steps to the floor and then sits in a comfortable chair, usually for just a few minutes. The next attempt is of longer duration.

On each attempt the patient is encouraged to breathe deeply to prevent pulmonary complications such as blood clots and pneumonia. Early rising speeds up the circulation which greatly lessens the formation of dangerous blood clots and improves circulation to the operative wound with quicker healing. Other advantages include improved urinary bladder and bowel function with lowered incidence of vomiting distention, gas pains, and constipation.

That a major calamity exists when blood transfusions are given procedure is adopted routinely during or following extensive. major is erroneous. In many cases this surgical operations to accelerate healing, shorten the recovery period and prevent shock. And then blood transfusions are also given to combat anemias, loss of blood, low blood protein, severe infections and blood diseases.

Another mistaken conception tha a surgical catastrophe has occurred is the use of oxygen and carbon dioxide. Because oxygen lessen the burden on the heart and lungs an carbon dioxide stimulates respiration these agents are routinely used following chest and other operations which interfere, temporarily, with the normal function of the heart and lungs.

While there is some risk involved in any type of surgery, modern advances have minimized hazards. Certainly an usderstanding of misconceptions and a lack of fear will help the patient prepare mentally for his operation and early convalescence.

Badger City Combats Effects of Strike

Sheboygan, Wis.—Representatives of various segments of community life here work together on the program of Greater Sheboygan, Inc., a new organization formed to overcome the effects of being the scene of a prolonged labor dispute at the nearby Kohler plumbing plant. These GSI directors are (l to r): John Martin, labor leader; Leslie W. Johnson, superintendent of schools, GSI vice-president; The Rev. T. Parry Jones, Methodist minister; Robert Ebenreiter, lumber company president, GSI president; and Melvin Hoffman, civic group leader. GSI goals are to spur civic advancement programs and to improve the reputation of Sheboygan throughout the nation.

An Open Letter To The Parents, Citizens Of Ala.

(From Brigadier General Wallace M. Greene, Jr., Commanding General Recruit Training Command, Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina.)

My dear friends of Alabama.

A few days ago you sent some of your sons—members of the 'Bama 'latoon'—to us here at Parris Island to learn to be Marines. They arrived safely on February 1st, and have begun their training. They have already had many new experiences which you will read about in

We know that you are proud of them and that you are expecting the letters they write home to you. great things of them here at Parris Island. I want you to know that we, too, are proud of them, and proud of your state for sending so many fine young men to be trained here.

During the next twelve weeks, your Marines will learn more, perhaps, than they have ever learned in a comparable period before. Each man will learn to live with the seventy others in his platoon, and each of them will be taught the many skills required of basic Marines.

Their drill instructors and officers will treat them fairly with every consideration for their individual needs, their health and their spiritual welfare. No Marine is ever allowed to forget that he has an obligation to God as well as to his Country and his Corps. You may be assured that each of their instructors and officers, including myself, is personally interested in your sons as individuals as well as members of a fine fighting team.

Your young men have already discovered that the program is a real challenge—one that demands their greatest effort both physically and mentally. Your own encouragement and interest can help them meet the challenge squarely, to prove that they are deserving of the trust and confidence of the men who will serve with them in barracks and on the battlefield.

I have already invited the parents and relatives of the young men in this group to visit their Marines and see how they are being trained; I would also like to extend the same invitation to all of you. Because we are proud of our training methods, we will always consider it a pleasure to show you around the Depot, either singly or in groups. We believe that after your visit you will agree with us—that ours is the finest training in the world.

I am confident that we will send back to you a group of fine Marines, grown stronger physically, morally, and spiritually than the young men to whom you said good-bye a few days ago. Alabama will have every reason to be proud of its Marines, for, in accomplishing our objective—making Marines—we will at the same time be making better sons, better citizens and better men.

Sincerely yours,
-s- Wallace M. Greene, Jr.

State Wins First Advertising Award

Alabama's State Publicity and Information Bureau won a first award last week for its advertising program promoting the State. The award was made at the conclusion of an advertising convention in Birmingham, following an exhibition of advertisements entered by private business and industry and public authorities.

The award was accepted by Mrs. Helen Silver, president of Silver and Bouce, Inc., Birmingham, the State's advertising agents.

Strawberries In Demand;--

Best Bet Yet For A Cold Cash Crop

Strawberries make mighty good eating. But even more, they offer excellent opportunity for Chilton County farmers to earn some extra cash.

Berries are in good demand, bring satisfactory prices and are in no danger of surplus. Processing of strawberries for year 'round use in family menus leaves little chance for an oversupply in the next few years.

According to this source, the berries may be set out from now until late March.

Blakemore and Klonmore varieties are recommended for Central Alabama.

The Florida 90 has done well in limited plantings and is recommended for trial plantings in southern and Central Alabama.

The State's strawberry acreage has shrunk considerably since WW II. This decrease is blamed on the scarcity and high cost of labor—strawberries require a great deal of hand labor.

But some of this need for hand labor can be eliminated this year for the first time by the use of chemical weed control. Experiments carried on last year at the Chilton County substation of the API Agricultural Experiment Station showed that a mixture of Crag Herbicide No. 1—recently renamed Sesone—and Chloro IPC proved successful in controlling weeds in the strawberry patch.

Mr. Farmer:
You Want the Best in Fertilizer
Buy CAPITAL LOW-MOISTURE, HIGH-VALUE fertilizers. LOW-MOISTURE is essential in getting more fertilizer for less money.
We highly recommend CAPITAL ES-MIN-EL MIXTURE (Essential Mineral Elements) for truck crops and orchards. CAPITAL ES-MIN-EL MIXTURE used properly will produce peaches and other fruits over grade.
We recommend 0-14-14 fertilizer with Heptachlor or Aldrin for control of FIRE ANTS.
For general crops we highly recommend CAPITAL LOW-MOISTURE 8-8-8, 4-12-12, as well as 6-8-8 and 4-10-7.
One ton of non-acid forming CAPITAL fertilizer, containing Dolomitic Limestone, will produce 25% more cotton than one ton of acid forming fertilizer made with sand. No SAND is used in CAPITAL fertilizers.
See our dealers in your area.

MISSION STUDY HELD AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH MONDAY

On Monday the Mission Study on "Youth in a Responsible Society, A Christian's Concern" was held at the Clanton First Methodist Church with Mrs. R. C. Williams as the leader.

The study began at 9 a.m. with twenty present who took part in the meditation and music

Each person was handed a typed meditation as she arrived and the singing, "Oh, Young and Fearless Prophet," followed by silent meditation.

Mrs. Williams had prepared the worship setting, a poster illustrating youth activities with various magazines and articles.

Mrs. Cecil Carter presented the worship service and those who gave the chapters from the text book were: Mrs. R. C. Williams, Mrs. E. L. Vance, Mrs Joe Mullins, Mrs H F Day, Mrs Campbell White and Mrs. George Tucker. Each person present was given a copy of an article, "What Can We Do As Christians," to take home and think about.

Mrs. Williams concluded the program with a poem taken from the MYF devotional booklet, Power—the closing lines were: "I have need of you, and you must serve: Go, My Children, Go!

The Mission Study was a two hour session with a coffee-break at the half-way mark and Mrs. Williams as a most gracious hostess.

Mrs. Lewis Headley Hostess To Beta Sigma Phi

Mrs. Lewis Headley was hostess of Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday night, Feb. 25.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Ed Blackmon, roll call and minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Odell Headley. During the buisness session, plans were made for a Spaghetti supper to take place at the home of Mrs. Ed Blackmon on Mt. Pleasant Road. This will be the first rush party for the spring season which is one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

After the business session, the program was presented by Mrs. Ed Blackmon, Mrs. Clair Norris, and Mrs. Edna Higgins, which was a discussion on a trip to the Arts Festival, February 16, by some of the members of the Beta Gamma Chapter.

During the social hour delectable refreshments were served to the following members present: Mesdames Howard J. Maddox, Milton Mims, Clair Norris, Erskin Wyatt, William Hicks, Ed Blackmon, Odell Headley, James Eiland, Mrs. Edna Higgins, and the hostess, Mrs. Lewis Headley.

Wesleyan Service Guild Met With Mrs. Lloyd

The Wesleyan Service Guild met on Tuesday, Feb. 19, with Mrs. Griffin Lloyd.

Mrs. Lloyd was in charge of the program and her subject was "John Wesley." She began with a picture of his childhood and pictured for the group the momenteous moments of his life, his spiritual self-search until he discovered his mission in life.

He became an ordained minister in the Church of England and even after the church shut its doors to him he never officially left the church. His mission was to help the poor and underprivileged and people like to think of him as the founder of the Methodist Church as he was the leader of the group.

Helen Blackmon was in charge of the business session. It was discussed and decided upon to change the March meeting to the 3rd Monday, March 18.

The Guild welcomed a new member, Mrs. I. C. Byrd, and several prospective members.

The March meeting will be with Helen Blackmon.

OSBORNE-PARRISH VOWS SAID AT PARRIS ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. John Alcorn Osborn of Pittsburgh, Pa., announce the marriage of their daughter, Pfc. Larraine Ursula Osborne, to Cpl. Joe Ronald Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton C. Parrish of Clanton.

The wedding took place in the Depot Chapel at Parris Island, S. C., on February 2, 1957, at 3:00 p. m. by the Chaplain Raymond S. Dietrich of the U. S. Navy.

Pfc. Reba Jean Moore was matron of honor. Sgt. Ken Stevens gave the bride away and Sgt. Ronald Brittenback was best man.

Jemison Greyhound Driver Is Honored With Safety Award

Two Greyhound bus drivers residing in the Clanton area have been honored for achieving outstanding safety records.

With their years of service and accident-free mileage records, they are:

E. R. Naish of Siluria, 15 years, 1,050,000 miles.

J. L. Holley of Jemison, 14 years 980,000 miles.

In recognition of his achievement each driver received a cash afard.

Both drivers are on the Birmingham-Dothan run.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

HINT OF THE WEEK: To safely carry a meringue pie to a box supper or a covered dish luncheon, stick five or six toothpicks in and around the center of the pie and then cover it with wax paper. The toothpicks should keep the paper from messing up the meringue.

To allow clothes to go through an electric ironer as rapidly as possible, first put through a few sheets of waxed paper—waxed side down— to give the shoe of the ironer a slippery finish.

In upright freezers, the top shelf is the coldest and the bottom one the warmest, but in a freezer chest, the space just under the lid is the warmest.

Better Speech Club Presented Program

Friday, Feb. 22, the Better Speech Club of Clanton Elemetary School presented a program entitled, "Character and Patriotism."

The parents and friends attending were delighted with the performance in which much progress and hard work were evident.

Members of the Club, under the capable direction of Mrs. Curry Thomas, presented the program.

Miss Patterson Wed In Verbena Home

Miss Mildred Patterson became the bride of James G. Bowman, Jr., on February 1st at 8 o'clock in the evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Porch of Verbena, with the Rev. Hymon Atcheson officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson of Verbena, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Bowman, Sr. of McKenzie.

The altar was made of smilax with large baskets of white gladioli and stock with fern

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of blue satin, with a V neckline, scrolled around the waistline and having a full skirt. She wore matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of carnations on a white Bible, with long satin streamers.

Mrs. Mertis C. Nation of Prattville served as maid of honor and she wore a light blue dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mr. Robert Deckle of Montgomery served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception was held following the wedding. The bride's table was covered with a white linen table cloth, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake mounted with a miniature bride and groom. After the cutting of the cake by the bride and groom, it was served by Mrs. J. F. Ledbetter. Mrs. Hymon Atcheson served at the punch bowl assisted by Mrs. J. R. Porch and Mrs. Jimmie Jones

The couple are residing in Montgomery

'Bad Publicity," Says Aroused Citizen

Mr. Tucker:
Chilton County News,

The following is a copy of a letter I have addressed to the editor of the Banner. (Union). I would appreciate you publishing this letter in your paper as a matter of general interest. If you cannot publish it as such please carry it as an advertisement and send me a bill for the charges.

Yours truly,

Mr. T. E. Wyatt,
Union-Banner
Clanton, Alabama

The people of Chilton County are well aware that during the past several years you have, through the columns of the Banner, criticized almost every effort for the upbuilding of our County, accused every public official of doing everything except their duties to the taxpayers, and have attacked by hint, inference and half-truths the characters of people and by such tactics reflected adversely on Chilton County and its people both here and throughout the State.

The people of this County would like to know just what you have accomplished by dragging the good name of our people in this political filth? The taxpayers whom you have set yourself up to represent have paid a dear price for you to get the Minutes to print.

I believe these same taxpayers would like to know just how many constructive projects and progressive movements you have supported in their name during the past ten years. It's about time you were listing some of your own virtues and accomplishments in the interest of Clanton, Chilton County and its people, rather than finding so much fault with what everybody else is trying to do.

Your never-ending tirades have served to destroy the faith of our people in our public officials and institutions. I believe you could better serve our County and it people by telling the world our many virtues and possibilities. Try it for a change and see if you find out that we are not as evil as you have heretofore portrayed us. And it may even make you feel better to find that even in the worst of us, there is some good, in all of us.

Yours very truly,
-s- JAS. E. HARRELL

A Plea For Good Government

It looks like its high time the good people were speaking out about our County officers or just surrender our government and institutions to those who are making another Phenix City out of us. We have reached a new low in Chilton County and getting worse all the time. When people are ashamed to tell where they are from its time to put a stop to these rackets or move. We have just seen well trained, honest and law abiding men fired without good cause or warning from their jobs and replaced by boot-leggers, drunks and men without road-building experience.

I wonder if any real business man in Chilton County would hire either one of the three Board members who fired men to run his business. Yet, we elect them to run the County's business and let them handle several hundred thousand dollars of the taxpayers money. We will continue to have just such in our County just as long as we elect such men to public office. If you wanted this mess, then you should be happy. If you don't want it, then let's get rid of it once and for all.

These politicians have kept our County in an uproar for the past several years and have now ruined our hospital. The taxpayers of Chilton County have built the doctors of Clanton a hospital and we might as well give them a deed to it.

We can't hope to have a decent County as long as we have men in office who will sell our people and its institutions for political gain and favors. When we look under the surface of this mess we are going to find some scheming politicians we didn't vote for. We need to know who they are and we must know on what spoils they are feeding. There's something rotten up the branch and it stinks.

Is it any wonder Chilton County is not getting some industries. Who would want to come to Clanton when our people are held up to the world in our own newspapers as being backward and not progressive. Let's get us some new brooms—there's going to be a house cleaning one of these days.

It's time for another change.

Yours truly,
-s- J. L. Holley

What Is The "Board" Doing?

Dear Sir,

I would like to take this means of showing the voters of this County what our present Board of Revenue and Control is doing in this County. In District One there are a chosen few that do not grumble. For instance, Lonnie Cost's uncle, Pate Arledge can get a line of pipe for a drive-way to a small field that has not ever had such before. This field is not in cultivation nor has it been for several years.

There are some residences in the same Community, getting circle driveways graded when they already had perfect driveways. There is Edgar Leach, who can get pipe put in ditches in his fields in order to cross with combines. In the same Community I live in, there are circle drives being graded and graveled and others graded into garage doors and graveled. I would like to know why Lonnie Cost can gravel some driveways and can't do the same for others. He is graveling other peoples driveways and yards all around me and I cannot get my driveway graded or graveled and my car drags on the ground from the public road to my house. It would not take expensive pipe to fix my road and only about four loads of gravel. If there is anyone in the County who doesn't believe this, I will be glad to take you at my own expense and show it to you.

If you will remember, at the last election, A. B. Foshee was defeated for County Solicitor and at the first meeting of our present Board of Revenue and Control, he was hired as County Attorney. Let's watch the outcome of the situation in the Sheriff's department and try to vote for someone next time instead of voting "against" someone.

There's quite a bit of money to be spent in any County that is as wealthy as ours. Just think of it.

We have no courthouse fit to hold court in or a jail to put our prisoners in.

I noticed where Mr. Hoyt Freeman had a case against the County on building a new courthouse and when he was a member of the Board of Revenue and Control, he went on record as favoring the building of a new courthouse and voted for it.

Season's In For Ham 'n' Yams!

"Pretty—perfect" for a party . . . this fine way to use up left-over mashed potatoes and bits of ham which results in gourmet eating! And, with the Louisiana yam season at its height, you'll get peak enjoyment too, in these easy-to-make, and easy-to-serve yam rings. With the delicate flavor of maple-blended syrup enhancing the yams, you can be sure of requests for second helpings. So better not depend upon having "left-overs." Better double the recipe, in fact!

HAM AND MUSHROOMS IN YAM RINGS

1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 cups mashed cooked Louisiana yams
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ cup Log Cabin Syrup
1-½ cups sliced fresh mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 cup diced cooked ham

Combine egg, 2 tablespoons milk, and 2 tablespoons melted butter. Add to mashed yams. Mix well. Add salt, pepper, and maple-blended syrup and mix until well blended. Shape yam mixture into rings on greased baking sheet, using a pastry bag or spoon. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees fahrenheit) 20 minutes, or until delicately browned.

Meanwhile, saute mushrooms in 3 tablespoons of butter until browned and tender. Add flour, mixing to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture is thickened. Add ham and heat thoroughly. Serve creamed mixture in center of each yam ring. Makes 6 servings.

GOV. REMINDS PEOPLE OF NEEDS IN EDUCATION

Governor Folsom said this week, "the latest revised estimates by the Revenue and Finance Departments of the State indicated that there will not be sufficient funds collected this year to pay the appropriation from the Aalbama Special Educational Trust Fund." These estimates indicate that the fund can pay no more than 91.25 per cent of its appropriations.

The Governor stated "that the Legislature in 1955 over-appropriated funds for the Education Department which made it mandatory for the reduction in quarterly allotments to education.

Governor Folsom also stated "that the people of Alabama have rejected twice the proposal for increased revenue to meet the appropriation made by the Legislature and he said that this administration has increased the appropriation for education from $84,239,000 in 1954-55 to $110,482,000 in 1955-56." With this condition existing, the Governor declared a proration of 8.75 per cent in these educational appropriations.

The Governor stated, "it is my sincere hope that economic conditions will be such that this situation can be remedied later in the year. I am advising all educational groups that if the anticipated revenue is greater than the present estimate, every dollar collected in this fund will be made available to education as soon as possible and I hope that where any undue hardships are brought to bear on the schools that the local school boards will find local means to raise the deficiencies.

CARE TO TRY IT??

No matter what anyone may say about it, your head isn't the hardest part of your anatomy. Your shinbone is—so strong, says one authority, that "it could support the weight of a one-ton truck."

March 11-14, 1888—Great blizzard of east buried New York under 12 feet of snow; 235 lives lost.

Exciting Matches-

Wrestling Bouts At Armory March 9th

There will be plenty of excitement at the wrestling matches to be held at the Clanton Armory on Saturday night March 9th beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

Herb Welch, one of the most capable grappler's in the business will square off with rough and rowdy Karl Kowalski for a two-out-of-three, one hour match.

Both these fellows are stellar wrestlers, competent to compete with anybody in the nation.

Kowalski is a huge fellow, rough, tough and one of the rowdiest men in these parts. He will go to any extreme to win his match, but in meeting Welch, he will meet a man who has established himself as a gentleman in the ring, but one who can really dish it out if the going gets rough.

Both these men will give their best to win and local fans can expect some fine wrestling while they are in the ring.

The ladies should certainly bring the fans to their feet when Carol Kowalski, wife of wild Blonde Bonnie Watson in a three-fall match.

Carol is as tough, rough and rowdy as her husband, but in Bonnie Watson she will meet a girl who has established a reputation as one of the leading contenders for the title, now held by June Beyers.

These bouts should be among the finest brought to the Clanton Armory by the National Guard and Promoter Gus Gulas.

It is suggested that fans come early for a good seat for a sell-out is expected.

Tickets are only 99c and children under 12 are admitted for only 50c.

During "Clean-Up" Weeks—

CONSERVATION DEPT. URGES SAFETY

Montgomery—State Forester J. M. Stauffer urged here today that care be used throughout Alabama in the next few weeks with brush and debris burning, one of Alabama's largest sources of forest fire.

Stauffer said that most people find spring their best clean-up time, whether on farms or around their homes. "With proper care with these small fires, we can greatly reduce the number of forest fires Alabama will have in 1957," he said.

Out of 6,187 fires recorded in the state in 1956, Stauffer said that 1.258 directly resulted from brush and debris burning. In other words, 20 percent of the forest fires in Alabama last year were due to carelessness with small trash fires.

"Perhaps none of us intend to let our small fires get into the woods and burn thousands of dollars worth of timber," said Stauffer, "But State records indicate that too many people burn brush, paper and trash when the wind is high, the woods are dry, or in areas where a few minutes of carelessness can destroy years of timber growth.

"We should make it a constant rule to 'Use care with fire'," Stauffer said.

March 6, 1836—After Texas had declared independence from Mexico, punitive expedition led by Santa Anna wiped out Alamo garrison of 166 Texans.

ARMERS MAY DISCOVER THAT OYBEANS CAN BOOST INCOME

Soybeans can add extra dollars to any Alabama farmers' incomes.

Fertile bottomland in most areas the state is ideal for soybeans d with favorable weather conditions this crop can be profitable.

Soybeans work well in a dual opping program and a ready mart can be found at oil mills and e Mobile port. Soybeans are alady being grown profitably in treme North Alabama and on the ulf Coast according to reports.

Caution however! Soybeans have be cultivated and harvested on me and machinery is required to ndle them properly. Also, to be ofitable, soybeans must yield 20 shels or more to the acre.

It is recommended that growers e two varieties of soybeans to lp insure a profitable yield. These rieties should bloom at different dates so that one will be likely to hit the rains right and then, too, the farmer will have more time to harvest his crop.

Soybeans can be planted following early truck crops or small grain for grazing in South Alabama. In North Alabama they fit well after winter grazing crops. This double cropping system allows the farmer to utilize his land to the fullest extent. Soybeans do not give a big response to direct application of fertilizer; however, they will not grow well on thin, upland soil. Broadcasting 400 pounds of 0-14-14 per acre ahead of planting is advised unless the beans follow a highly fertilized crop.

In South Alabama plant Jackson, Lee or Ogden by June 15; in North Alabama plant Dorman, Ogden or Lee soon after May 1st.

MOBILE MEETING TO DISCUSS STATE 'FIRE ANT' CRISIS

Washington, D. C.—The Department of Agriculture has advised Rep. Armistead Selden that a meeting of the Southern Plant Board will be held in Mobile early in March for the purpose of discussing plans for eradicating the imported fire ant. The Board is composed of representatives from 11 Southern states.

"It is expected," Agriculture officials told Selden, "that this group will arrive at some definite recommendations as to how the program can be strengthened."

This report was given to Selden after he had requested Agriculture Secretary Benson to begin immediately a practical and effective program be included as an ASC practice.

"The elimination of fire ants is not now a recognized practice under ASC authorization," Selden was further advised, "and before any consideration is given to such possibility, we believe it necessary and desirable to wait the outcome of the March meeting of the Southern Plant Board. . . Representatives of the Department will be on hand to participate in the meeting."

FORD IS AMERICA'S WINNINGEST CAR!

For 1957, Ford's off to a flying start on the NASCAR Short Track, Convertible and Grand National Race Circuit—with more points than all other cars combined!

And now—just in from Daytona—seven more Ford firsts!

- A 300-hp 1957 Ford V-8 out-accelerated all other low-priced cars in the standing mile competition.
- A 1957 Ford Sunliner outclassed all other low-priced cars in the 160-mile National Convertible Championship Race.
- A modified Ford Thunderbird, running in the Experimental Class, out-accelerated every other car in NASCAR history.
- A modified Thunderbird topped every American Sports Car, finished first in its class and placed second to Europe's fastest sports car at the National Amateur Sports Car Race.
- A standard production Thunderbird took first place in the flying mile—outperforming all sports cars made in America.
- A modified Thunderbird won the flying mile in the fastest time made by any car at Daytona this year.
- And a Ford Thunderbird topped the field in acceleration from a standing start in Modified Sports Car Class B.

It was Ford Thunderbird power that set a new stock car record at Indianapolis, too . . . and powered the '57 Ford to 458 world endurance records at Bonneville, Utah.

ISABELLA NEWS

MRS. J. H. WELLS

Mulberry Baptist Church—

Our pastor brought two very inspiring messages to a fair congregation at Mulberry Sunday. His morning message was on "What Sin Can Do." On Sunday night his message was taken from Hebrew 2:3.

Plans are being made to have a Training Union Study Course during Alcohol Education Week. We hope all our members will make their plans to attend.

A goal of 150 has been set for our Sunday School Department. Won't you make a special effort to attend and help us to reach this goal in attendance?

The reception given for the pastor and family on Tuesday night of last week was enjoyed by a large group of women at the pastorium. The guests were met by Mrs. James Veasey, Mrs. J. H. Wells and Mrs E. S Jones Games were enjoyed by the group and led by Mrs . T. Williams. The prize went to Mrs. Wells and in turn was presented to the honoree After the gifts were opened and admired, each guest was served punch, cookies and nuts by Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. R. C. Veasey and Mrs. E C Lecroy

The dining room table was centered with a floral arrangement of red roses. Silver candleholders held tapered pink candles at each end of the table. Arrangements of snapdragons were used throughout the house.

The honoree received a large variety of nice and useful gifts.

The pastor and Mrs. Lucas wish take this opportunity to thank everyone again, who had a part in making this wonderful reception for them and to thank each one for the lovely gifts received.

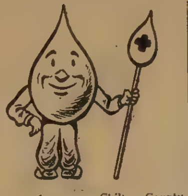
Are You A Donor?--

Bloodmobile Here 5th; Facts About The Program

Persons or donors offering to donate blood whether accepted or rejetced w'll be given blood donor cards to cover immediate family (husband or wife, minor children, parents, parents-in-law) and will receive blood without obligation to replace same.

The hospital reserves the right to charge an administration and|or laboratory fee on each pint given the patient; but there is no charge for the actual blood.

In Chilton County the chapter adopted a plan whereby patients who do not have a blood donor card may have friends or relatives sign a pledge card at the hospital here for each pint used; and this is an obligation to replace the blood the next time Chilton County collects blood.



All chapters, however, do not have this plan and we adopted same on account of our new Chilton County Hospital. This hospital is enabled to order any amount of blood required under our pledge card plan, as those persons requiring blood in the hospital who do not have a valid card will obtain other persons to replace the blood. Persons under 21 years of age and over 59 will not be accepted as blood donors. However, if persons from 18 years old to 21 desire to donate blood, they must have their parent's consent. Boys in the Armed Forces are not required to have parent's consent.

The local Red Cross would like to take this opportunity to inform the donors that they may eat normally until 4 hours before donation; however, you should avoid eating FATTY FOODS during the 4 hours prior to donating blood. Fat remains in the blood 3 to 4 hours after being eaten and fatty whole blood cannot be transfused because the patient receiving blood may be sensitive to FATTY FOODS, as many people are. Fat solids interfere with transfusion flow.

In other words, fatty foods eaten before blood donation does not harm the donor, but sometimes the patient receiving the same is effected.

Irrigation Boosts Prison Farm Production

A State Prison Farm report received by Gov. James E. Folsom shows that in 1956 prison farm yields "were from 30% to 60% larger when irrigated, over the same crop, non-irrigated."

The Governor expressed "profound interest" in this part of the report, recalling a day in 1955 when he had attended a demonstration of irrigation on some prison farm lands near Kilby Prison, Montgomery.

The Governor, who has been particularly interested in Alabama's developing grain yield, and the increasing grain business on the Tennessee River which flows across the State's northern counties, and in the increased grain handling at the Port of Mobile, was especially interested in one part of the report which said: "Especially noticeable was the fact that wheat ranked second (o the Prison farm crops) being surpassed only by cotton as our (prison) cash crop."

Total gross income from all prison farms last year was $712,867 which included income from small grains, row crops, cattle, hogs, dairies and vegetables, with over 10,000 acres in row crops, the report said.

A breakdown of this income shows that Atmore produced $307,410; Kilby $130,838; No. 4 Honor Farm $78,028; Draper $65,967; Julia Tutwiler $11,950 and the State Cattle Ranch $63,653.

State Highway Map, 'Hot Off The Press'

Alabama's 1957 official State Highway Map was published this week by the State Highway Department and is being distributed free.

Highway Department cartographers have produced a new map more accurately approximating the actual routes of the State roads, and including the new numbers given many highways.

The picture display on the back of the map, highlights many of the State's tourist and vacation attractions, and was prepared by the State Publicity and Information Bureau.

The map is being distributed free by the State Highway Department.

FARMERS: TIME TO SPRING-CHECK YOUR EQUIPMENT

Days are coming a little sooner and staying a little longer. And down on the farm things are perking up as the coming rush season is already beginning to dawn.

So, all farmers are advised by the experts to check and service tractors and machines before they return them to work in the field. A few minutes of time now may save a big time loss when operations are in full swing.

All machines should be checked for needed repairs and all bolts and nuts tightened. Farmers need a good supply of proper lubricants on hand for tractors and other machines. All lubricants should be stored in a clean, dry place with protection from sun and dust.

Not only do machines need to be checked, but also the fields.

All obstructions—stumps, trees, rocks, or gullies—should be removed so that farm machinery can operate at top efficiency. Stalks not cut last fall should be cut or shredded now and turned under so they won't interfere with planting and cultivating equipment.

A good seedbed is the backbone of a good crop stand.

Land should be turned thoroughly a good seedbed. Follow this up with a disk harrow to remove all clods and air pockets. Then use a section harrow or drag to smooth the land. All these steps will give the planting, cutlivating, and harvesting equipment a chance to do a good job this year.

Another good preparation step is to gather spare or replacement parts for machinery now. These spares will be handy time-savers in the busy season if a breakdown occurs

"What Fools These Mortals Be!"

"Then said Saul, I have sinned; behold, I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly". I Samuel 26:21.

not find in any history book a par-

Search where you may, you will allel to the incident from which that sentence is taken. An oriental despot admitting that he had wronged one of his subjects! And that subject no other than an obscure sheep herder! And also admitting that in so doing he had played the fool! Unbelievable! But there it is. For even an ordinary citizen in Israel to own up to having done such a thing would have been real news, especially if said citizen had feared that his wife might find out that he had made such an admission. But for a purple clad potentate! Believe it or not; In a later age the Bourbon monarchs kept the French populace pretty well fed up on the adage, "The King can do no wrong". But be it remembered that Saul would have rivaled in haughtiness any occupant of the throne of France; and yet came the day when the same utterance to the admission quoted here. Naturally the compelling question arises in the reader's mind, why did he do it? Because, according to the Bible record, the hand of a greater King was in it.

"He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision". (Psalm 2:4).

Passing by the ordinary causes that provoke both men and women to do silly things (and their name is legion), suppose we investigate the case before us to discover the immediate cause of King Saul's humiliating avowal.

This commentator would suggest that the King's trouble arose in his perimtting himself to become the victim of two interacting forces, namely; an overwhelming sense of insecurity, plus unbridled jealosy.

Insecurity. He knew that his royal authority was on the wane As the first king of the new nation, he was perfectly aware that his ascension to the throne was due entirely to a sacred covenant that Israel's king should be obedient to a higher authority—that of Israel's God. By the time that the incident before us took place, he had forfeited every claim to national leadership, both for himself and his posterity. The throne was trembling. His own misdoings drove him into whom he knew was to be the royal successor, his son Jonathan being set aside because of his own failure as king.

So there we have it. Insecurity and jealosy—a fiendish alliance indeed. Even temporary failure in our plans may become so upsetting that we may be tempted to resort to unethical schemes in our efforts to reimburse ourselves. More than that, whatever the cause of our failure, the temptatios to become envious of the more successful is liable to overtake us.

The remedy? Renewed trust in Him who has given us abundant promises of support in every time of need. Then cultiivate the spirit of contentment whatever prosperity our neighbors may enjoy.

March 1, 1913—Constitutional amendment having been ratified by states. Federal income tax went into effect.

Chilton To Send Three Of State's 350 March Draftees

State Director James W. (Jimmie) Jones said today that 350 Alabama Selective Service registrants will be called in March as this State's share of a nation-wide call of 14,000 men.

"As has been customary for the past several months," Jones said, "all 14,000 registrants will be earmarked for army duty. The February national call was for 14,000 men also."

This March call will not include any registrants under 22 years of age unless they have volunteered for duty. The February call was for 32 registrants.

Chilton's share in the March quota will be three selectees.

Kiwanis Scout Troop Begins Strong New Year

The Clanton Kiwanis Club Scout Troop 57 has re-registered for the new year. Members of the troop committee are C. C. Carlton, club president; Leo Thompson, F. E. Wray, chairman, Howard Boockholdt, B. L. Adams and J. W. Rockett. Selected as Scout Leaders of the unit are Leland Hudson, Herbert Salter and Howell Glenn.

The troop meets each Tuesday night at 6 p. m. at the Scout Hut.

Charter members of the troop are Bobby Little, C. C. Craig, Jr., Alex Hayes, Randy Rockett, Larry Buckner, Pete Johnson, Jimmy Boockholdt, Robert Arnold, John R. Sutley, Jerry Vines, Tommy Wyatt, Harry Adkins, Charlie Patterson, Alec Jones, James Byrd, Jimmy Harris, Joel Hunter and Walter Gowan.

Scout leaders have planned a well balanced program of advancement, camping, emphasis on the National Scout Slogan "Onward for God and My Country" and civic service. The troop will participate in the Chilton County-Wide Scout Circus to be held in Clanton this spring.

Scout leaders Hudson, Salter and Glenn invite any boy between the ages of eleven and thirteen and any young man foruteen or over to visit the troop any Tuesday night at the Scout Hut. They promise you a good scouting program and lots of fun.

HOPE FOR ALCOHOLICS

"TRANQUILIZERS have proved of immense value in treating the acutely intoxicated patient." This was reported recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Marvin A. Block, who went on to state that "The patient not only is given a sense of comfort that enables him to sleep but is also relieved of his nausea and is able to eat much earlier than heretofore."

He described one of the drugs, meprobamate ("Miltown"), for example, as having a "decidedly tranquilizing effect upon the patient, reducing the tension and allaying some of the anxieties so common in the alcoholic . . .

"Many physicians treating alcoholics use these tranquilizing drugs to the exclusion of all other sedation and have obtained good results with this type of therapy. Even with patients in delirium tremens and extreme hyperactivity, these drugs have been used very effectively, although larger doses may be necessary," Dr. Block continued

While cautioning against possible side effects from the tranquilizing drugs, Dr. Block said that "so far there have been no great untoward reactions reported on the use of meprobamate . . ."

Dr. Block's article was the first in a series of four planned by the AMA as part of an educational campaign on alcoholism, aimed at "medical practitioners generally." The AMA drive is designed to assure alcoholics "the proper medical care and consideration they so urgently need." (ANS)

'Board' Rejects Low Bids...

lution that County Attorney A. B. Foshee proceed to investigate the possibility of entering a condemnation suit against the railroad to acquire this crossing. The resolution was passed with three favoring votes. Harold Smith did not vote.

Elmore Residents Seek Road To Chilton—

A delegation, headed by Mr. Dennis, from Elmore County appeared before the oBard asking that a road between Midway and Holtville be paved. Elmore County has reportedly agreed to pave the portion lying on their side if Chilton will pave the road lying in this county.

The spokesman for the group emphasized that the residents wanted a way to get to Chilton to do their trading.

Big Price Tag On Jail Plumbing—

An estimate on costs of plumbing repairs at the jail was read to the Board. The bid, from a Birmingham firm, was for a total of $4,500 plus additional costs of cast iron pipe and copper tubing. The job would carry a guarantee of one year.

It was decided that a better transaction could be made and the matter is being further investigated by the County Engineer.

Emergency Claims Again Rejected—

Warrants for materials and services acquired by the County on emergency orders were again turned down by Harold Smith. These claims, in excess of fifty dollars, must be approved by the four members of the Board and the Chairman before they can be paid.

These emergency purchases are made by the County Purchasing Agent, Robert L. Fullen, in cases where no competitive bids are sought.

In a seperate resolution, approved unanimously, it was agreed to instruct the County Treasurer to issue a warrant to the Central Alabama Gas Co., for emergency repairs to the boiler at the jail.

Hospital Board Members Named—

Two new members were named to the Chilton County Hospital Board by Sherman Motley and Lonnie Cost.

Motley named Abney Brown of Maplesville to serve the un-expired term of Millard Reynolds and Cost named J. W. Hayes of Clanton to serve the un-expired term of R. D. Champion. Reynolds and Champion recently resigned from the Hospital Board.

County Road Workers Get Bi-Monthly Pay—

. resolution made by Reedie Hilyer and seconded by Lonnie Cost will change the County's present monthly payroll system: Road Department employees will now be paid every two weeks instead of monthly.

This resolution was passed with a three-to-one vote. Harold Smith casting the dissenting vote.

Cost Moves To Adjourn—

In a surprise move, Lonnie Cost hastened to enter a resolution to adjourn the meeting at the close of business. His resolution was passed unanimously.

This adjournment resolution, since a change in Board Members took place, has been one of the few which Harold Smith could offer and be met with a second from one of the other three members.

Thorsby 2nd Grade Receives Honor From President

Mrs. Idell C. Kincaid, teacher of the Second Grade at Thorsby Junior High School during the month of January, in connection with the inaugeration of the President of the United States, asked her pupil to write a letter and draw their impression of the President.

The best drawings of the President and the best letter were chosen by the class and these were sent along with a note of explanation to President Eisenhower.

The drawings chosen to be sent were by Jimmy Littleton and Kendall Martin. The best letter was written by Craig Robinson.

The pupils were happy to receive the following letter from Mr. Sherman Adams, Assistant to the President:

> Dear Mrs. Kincaid:
> It was thoughtful of you to send the President the letter written by Craig Robinson and the drawings by Kendall Martin and Jimmy Littleton. He enjoys being remembered by his young friends, and extends to you and all your students his very best wishes. I am enclosing a photograph of the President which you might like to have for your classroom.
> Sincerely,
> -s- Sherman Adams

The photograph of the President is being framed by the Second Grade and will be hung in their classroom.

The Red Cross blood bank visited here Tuesday and failed by 16 pints of blood to reach their quota.

According to Mrs. O. N. Esco, Red Cross secretary, the quota is a standing 130 pints each time the blood gank caravan calls but Tuesday only 114 pints were collected. One hundred 36 people went through the line but 22 were rejected.

Mrs. Esco stated that she especially wished to thank the volunteer workers who contributed their time and effort to the cause. Also she thanked those who donated Coca-Cola and milk for the refreshments, and Rev. Griffin Lloyd for his assistance and for the use of the First Methodist Church.

Kiwanis To Present Dressler Family, 8th

Older Youth 4-H Club Met At City Hall, 28th

The regular meeting of the 4-H Older Youth Club was held at the City Hall in Clanton on Thursday night, Feb. 28, with 18 members and 4 leaders present.

After group singing, led by the Song Leader, Peggy Brown, the program on "Dating Do's and Don'ts" was presented. Mr. John D. Sellers led the discussion with various members of the group contributing points of importance about this subject. At the conclusion of the discussion each 4-H'er was given a questionairre on "How Datable Are You" and a Personality Check Sheet.

Business discussed included plans for the 4-H Rally, April 19th at the Clanton Airport. The Older Youth Club is to assist with the concession stand for this event. Peggy Blackmon reported on the new project for the Club—selling 4-H supplies—pins, T-shirts, ties, scarves, caps, etc. Supplies are to be ordered and the Older Youth members in each school will be responsible for selling the articles.

At the conclusion of the business, the representatives from seven of our county schools enjoyed participating in several games led by Recreational Committee Chairman, Peggy Brown.

The next meeting is to be held Thursday night, March 28, at 7:00 p.m. at the City Hall. The program will include a dress revue by all the girls who make a dress for the County Contest to be held April 6

The Clanton Kiwanis Club will present Mr. John Dressler in concert tomorrow night at the high school gymnasium.

Mr. Dressler is director of public school music and director of the choir at the Methodist Church in Sylacauga.

The Dressler family arrived in the United States from Vienna, Austria in early September of 1954. Prof. Dressler comes from a long line of musicians and theologians. His first public appearance was at the age of 6 and he has followed his musical career through the years.

His program will consist of several Hungarian classics and folk songs well as several popualr American songs.

For advance tickets contact any member of the Clanton Kiwanis Club.

Our revival came to a close Sunday night. Rev. A. R. Jones began the revival and was with us through last Wednesday night. However, Bro. Jones was not able to be with us for the remainder of the week and Rev. Philip Smitherman ran the revival from Thursday night through Sunday night.

The revival was certainly a blessing to our church.

Our regular services are on Sunday, Sunday night and Thursday night. We would be glad for you to come and be with us if you can.

County Courthouse Is Again Condemned

The Grand Jury which recessed last Saturday after meeting since Tuesday declined to make any investigation of the law enforcement conditions in the county deierring to the Federal Court at Montgomery where trials of four members of the local office of the sheriff will start on March 25. In the grand jury's report it was stated that the investigation by that body was bypassed because it might conflict with action pertaining to the trials. Several other matters were investigated by the grand jury at which 16 true bills were found and 72 witnesses were examined. A full report follows:

Report of Grand Jury

To The Honorable
Oakley W. Melton, Judge

We, the Grand Jury, after having been impanelled and instructed by Your Honor, proceeded to investigate all cases and matters that came before us and herewith submit the following report:

During our deliberations we questioned 72 witnesses and are returning herewith 16 true bills.

Being familiar with prior Grand Jury reports and previous commendations made relative to the condition of the Chilton County Court House, we proceeded to call before us all members of the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control for the purpose of ascertaining what action is anticipated with the Court House building. It was ascertained that all of the board members are in agreement that some action should be taken to rectify the condition of the Court House. The Grand Jury was assured by at least three members of the Board of Revenue and Control that they themselves would make a personal inspection of the building in the immediate future with the view of determining what course of action should be taken. The Grand Jury was also advised that competent construction engineers would again inspect the Court House for the purpose of evaluating the prevailing conditions. Your Grand Jury made a personal and thorough inspection of the Court House building and has determined that it is not advisable for large groups to gather in the court room at the present time, the views and ideas of newspaper editors not with standing. A repesentative group consisting of some men experienced in construction work, personally noted that some major repairs are necessary throughout the building in order for it to be considered safe for occupancy. It is the unanimous opinion of this Grand Jury, based upon a personal inspection, that it is not economically feasible to repair this building and add to it additional buildings. If those officials charged with the responsibility of providing a Court House deem it adviseable not to erect a new Court House, then we recommend and request those officials to take immediate action toward restoring the present building to a useable state.

* * * * * *

CITIZENS SERVING ON GRAND JURY

Serving on the Grand Jury which made this report were: L. Earl Diefenderfer, Foreman, Beat 4; Luther Cofer, 2; O'Neal Porter, 2; William E. Brewer, 2; E. B. Langston, 2; Major Bolton, 2; Hilery Bolton, 2; Henry Vincent Veasey, 3; Roy Baker, 4; O. H. Armstrong, 4; Roy Mims, 4; Edgar Littlejohn, 4; Raybon Crew, 4; Hubert Smith, 4; Jesse Hayes, 9; Earl H. Marcus, 9; Sam T. Bentley, 9; Dalton Giles, 11.

Supervisors were Judge Oakley W Melton and Solicitor Glenn Curlee, both of Wetumpka.

* * * * * *

A personal inspection of the jail found it in somewhat the same condition as reported by previous Grand Juries. However, we are happy to report that action has been initiated to install new plumbing and other badly needed repairs including the lock on the doors. A new heating system has been recently installed and the prisoners seem to be well fed and adequately provided for. The jail needs painting and we have been assured that this will be done also in the near future.

In view of the recent adverse publicity given the Chilton County Hospital, and in response to the requests of many citizens of this county a thorough investigation was made of the prevailing conditions at the hospital. The administrator of the hospital along with prior and present board members were called before us for interrogation. It was learned that the hospital annually carries a great number of charity patients and many others who are unable to pay their bills in full. It was also learned that approximately $17,000.00 is charged in the expenses for depreciation on the building each year. The rumor that the hospital last year lost $11,000.00 is incorrect unless the $17,000.00 figure charged for depreciation is considered. Actually the hospital made approximately $6,000.00 profit last year excluding depreciation. As of 10:00 a.m. February 27, 1957, the hospital had to its credit in the bank $16,767.61. Since the hospital has been in operation, only $5,256.46 has been used by the hospital for operating expenses out of the taxes paid by the citizens of Chilton County. The balance of the money collected from taxes has been applied on the construction of the hospital and is to be applied on the construction of a nursing home. This nursing home is for the purpose of providing care for the sick and indigent who are not in actual need of special hospital care. On the basis of our further investigation it is our opinion that the changes recently made on the board of directors of the Chilton County Hospital has served to destroy the system of checks and balances intended by the law under which the hospital was created Certain districts of the county are now without representation on the Board of Directors. We feel that it was the intent and spirit of the law that the medical staff of the hospital should be responsible for the medical and scientific care of the patients and they should not be on the Board of Directors and charged with the financial and business administration of the hospital. The change of policy and placing of members of the medical staff on the Board of Directors has created a condition whereby certain members of the Board of Directors have resigned and the present administrator has tendered his resignation effective May of this year By these resignations it is felt that the citizens of Chilton County are losing the valuable services of competent individuals and we earnestly solicit the cooperation of the county governing body in rectifying this condition and that each district in the county be accorded equal representation on the Board of Directors.

Another matter prominent in the minds of all of the citizens of this county is the recent indictments returned by the Federal Grand Jury against the sheriff and his deputies. In view of the fact that the Federal authorities have been investigating this matter for many months and certain witnesses have been called before the Federal Grand Jury, it has been determined that it would not be feasible for this Grand Jury undertake an investigation of this matter at this time. An investigation by us now would jeopardize the cases pending in Federal Court and we would of necessity have to call before us some of the same witnesses to be used by the Federal authorities. In view of the situation

All things come, to people who stop waiting and go after them.

Many a man sees his duty, but can't find a man who will do it.

Adversity helps people find who their real friends are.

A GOOD START

The Grand Jury just recessed has made a good start investigating the troubled situation in our public affairs within our county and it is now time for the citizens to carry the fight until Chilton County will not be looked upon as another "Phenix City" throughout the state.

Of course no such condition exists here but to those who just read the headlines in some of our state's daily newspapers it is made to appear that crime is rampant. We admit with shame that rumors have run wild in recent weeks about this and that office and individual. This the grand jury tried to bring to a head and put a stop to—we hope they have succeeded but as we stated before it will rest with the individual citizen as to the final outcome. We have had all too much bad publicity let's see if we cannot work together for the good of the county and forget petty prejudice and personal grievances for a while.

CITIES SWALLOW TOWNS

A creeping paralysis created by haphazard planning and growing traffic congestion is slowly blighting our nation's communities, declared Leon Chatelain, Jr., president of the American Institute of Architects, during ceremonies marking the hundredth anniversary of this respected professional society.

Two significant facts emerge from Mr. Chatelain's warning. First, the architects are looking forward, not backward in the celebration of their Centennial, and this bodes well for the future of America.

Second, the AIA president pointed out that this community blight is attacking smaller communities as well as big cities. The plight of the cities is more apparent, but it's our smaller communities that really need help. They suffer equally from the deterioration that destroys beauty and hurts local business, but often lack the financial support and professional advice available to the large centers.

The words "city" and "suburb" are disappearing from our language, said Mr. Chatelain. Instead, we're developing great urban belts—all the way from Boston to Virginia in the east; westward from the industrial east to Chicago and eventually to Kansas City; up and down the west coast. In many cases, overlapping communities are solving housing, school, sewage and other problems through annexation of smaller towns.

Annexation, the speaker warned, can be carried too far. It creates more and more centralization. Instead, he proposed informal, voluntary federation. Adjacent local governments, he says, can work together voluntrily, and informally, by setting up federation committees to solve area-wide community facility problems on a long-range basis.

A second essential, which Mr. Chatelain stressed, is concerted public action. The smart business man who knows that his future depends upon his community will find out about—and get onto—those "dull-sounding" boards—the planning commission, the school board, the board of zoning. Public committees must be formed to work on these problems before it's too late. Most significantly, Mr. Chatelain said that the 12,000 members of the AIA are glad to furnish professional advice and serve on such committees.

It is heartening to know that such an important group of professionals is thinking about the future of he Ameican community—and willing to do something about it. It gives us good reason to salute our nation's architects on their hundredth birthday.

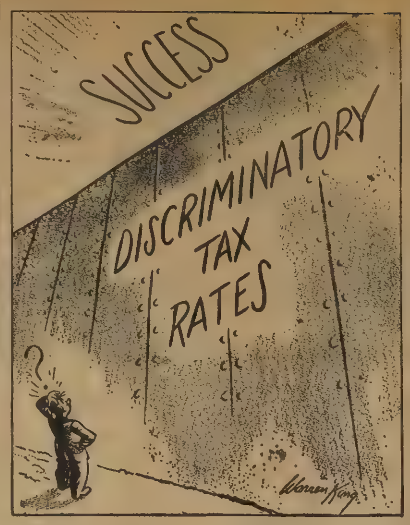
WHAT ELSE CAN THEY BE?

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee says, in its annual report, that Congress should pass a law requiring Soviet diplomats assigned here to say whether they are spies.

What then? The gentlemen don't seem to say.

It would seem simpler and safer merely to dispense with Soviet diplomats.

TIME AIN'T LONG



Time to complete your income tax report to Uncle Sam is drawing nigh and even though you may think the tax-load imposed upon you and every other good American is heavier than you can bear much longer, it will be no excuse for missing the deadline.

When, or where, we will get relief from our taxes is not known but at the rate we are paying today the small businessman has little chance to make ends meet. Something in his behalf must be done.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR
TUCK

By "TUCK"

Sometimes mole hills out of mountains can be pretty serious too. Underestimating is a fault which we all are guilty of at one time or another. Don't always be a pessimist, but measure a situation for what it's worth, before you make your decision.

It pays to praise, in more ways than one,
The efforts for many of few.
So if praising's so good for us all, as it seems,
What in the world's holdin' you?

Ah Spring! One day it's as warm and beautiful as it can be and the next it's cold and wet and dreary. Ah Spring?

Sometimes, we as grown-ups, overlook the finer things in life. Like, for instance, a picnic, a ball game or possibly an ice cream cone. Other day, a young feller came up to us and very excitedly asked "do you know the so-and-so's?" Yes, we knew the so-and-so's and it sounded as if they were in big trouble the way he told it. Turned out they had just gotten a new Dodge. But, that's not the exciting part about the whole thing, no-o-o! It didn't even have a tag yet! You see. You see what you're missin' just by being an adult. Tis a cruel world. The adult does get some satisfaction out of this little episode however; he gets to buy the tag. Now, ain't that thrilling?

The mortgage isn't paid off yet,
The budget is all bent.
And when time comes to pay the bank.
We can't rake up a cent.
But worth it all, it surely is,
By golly, it's rewarding;
To come home to a family who appreciates our toiling.

They deserve a big, fat pat. We're speaking of the Clanton City Police Force. They've done a mighty fine job the past few months under the direction of Chief Tucker (no relation) and we hope that they keep up the good work. That aughta be good for a ticket, now oughtent it? Their extra-curricular activities have been most enlightening and most effective.

Speak softly and carry a big stick (unquote). Now there's a deceiving bit of logic if we ever heard some folks have interpreted that in many ways. We think it means sneak up on them and hit them over the head. Course it's possible, but the writer of this bit of news was, we imagine, in a more serious frame of mind than we are at present. Anyway, kick it around, you may come up with an entirely new concept in shall we say, manipulating the words and toting the wood.

Mr. Popwell up at Cleanrite Cleaners has one of the smallest pieces of "dog meat" we have ever seen. He actually claims that he's gonna try to make a squirrel dog out of this "monster." He's every bit of five inches tall and if you ask us, a squirrel might eat the pore leetle feller up. He's so little that he just sits around and shivers. Guess to him the world looks pretty big; in fact, we doubt if there's anything around he sees that's as small or smaller than himself. Probably got an inferiority complex already. He mentioned something about making a 'coon dog out of him at first... maybe that's why the critter was shaking. Hate to think we had to go chase a 'coon and were just five inches tall. Chasin' wouldn't be half as bad though, as when (and if) he caught it. Fur a-flyin' everywhere!

In Race Relations--

Southern Negroes Form To Expose Radicals and Conformists

"God's Panacea For Nation-wide Mutual Race Relations." By The Union Baptist Seminary, Inc.; Dr. Collier P. Clay, President.

The present day racial strife and hatred is world-wide and is not confined to any particular section or direction. It is in all sections, directions and nations of mankind. Truly "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn."

To attempt to point The South out as the exclusive origin, source and maintainer of segregation, hatred and ill will among the two race-groups is falsehood in the superlative degree.

As it relates to relations between the Southern White man and the Southern Negro man, race relations is better even now than in any section and direction in the world. Let us hasten to observe that recent propaganda by radicals in both race groups has caused a rapid, temporary deterioratoin of this relationship. The elimination of the causes of the deterioration of this relationship and the complete restoration of the same between the Southern White and Southern Negro plus the development and growth of mutual race relationship is the aim. purpose and object of this South-wide drive spear-headed by this institution thru its head, officers and nation-wide Alumni-Alumnae Association.

What we stand for; and what we stand against:

1. We stand against radicals here and elsewhere who are against The South. On Saturday, January 22, 1954, The Associated Press carried an address delivered by us at Notasulga, Macon County, Ala. This address carried world-wide by the Associated Press contained the following pertinent points:

(1) INTER-MARRIAGE of Racial groups is ANTI-BIBLE, ANTI-GOD and certain RACE SUICIDE. Anything that leads to INTER-MARRIAGE of racial groups will certainly lead to the destruction of the groups mixed.

(2) The total elimination of radicals of both nationalities North, South East and West in the PULPIT, PEW, PRESS and among the PEOPLE who ferment strife, race hatred and distrust among the Southern White and the Southern Negro groups. That the best friend the Southern White group has is the Southern Negro and the best friend the Southern Negro has is the Southern White group.

(3) The implementation of all laws pertaining to race relations in The Southland must be performed and applied by the mutual and volunteer consent of both race-groups, and for the mutual well-being of both. No legal force will be acceptable to either race to force the other to endure regulations against the well-being of either or both.

Against internal and external radicals, the Southern Negro must set himself as in defense of his best benefactor, the Southern White Man; likewise the Southern White man. "You cannot hurry God, and you cannot hurry a Southern White man." We now spear-head the drive to accomplish the pertinent things stated in this address, and to harness the Southern Negro for total defense of these infallible truths.

2. INTEGRATION as it relates to mixing Public Schools will harm, destroy and kill the GOOD WILL, financial status of the Negro teacher, student and patron. The best teacher of a child is a teacher of that child's racial origin.

A Plymouth baby chick should have a Plymouth Rock mother or hen. A mother duck is confusing to lead baby chicks, and vice-versa.

It is an infallible law in science (and nature) that two substances mixed are weakened. The ad-mixture may be stronger than either, but the substances mixed lose their individuality.

3. Pamphlets containing ample and authentic information of the detriment of integration, inter-marriage, and building racial mutual relations in The South will be published to fortify Sound and Sane defense of these relations. Said pamphlets will show The Southern Negro is the most progressive, the most prosperous and the wealthiest of any Negro in any section or direction of the nation.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A House Judiciary Subcommittee concluded hearings last week on the President's civil rights recommendations and ordered a bill reported to the full committee for its consideration. The measure, similar to the bill that received House approval last year, includes President Eisenhower's main civil rights proposals. Despite the apparent dangers of enacting such legislation, approval by the full Judiciary Committee is expected within the next week.

Back Stage Activities—

While daily accounts are issued in the press concerning hearings in both the House and Senate on so-called civil rights legislation, little is known of the back stage activities that have been taking place.

It is not secret here on Capitol Hill that at the beginning of the session an agreement was reached by leaders of both parties to allow early passage of a civil rights bill by the House of Representatives. February 15 was set as the deadline. It was felt that early House approval would make it impossible for Southern Senators to kill the measure by a filibuster.

Although the odds are stacked heavily against us, Southern members of Congress have refused to capitulate. A carefully selected Judiciary Subcommittee, composed of members from sections other than the South, had expected to report a measure without hearings. However, demands of Southern members of Congress resulted in hearings that have extended over a period of more than a month.

While Judiciary Committee approval will eliminate one important hurdle for the proponents of this legislation, their battle is far from won. Behind the scenes maneuvers are continuing to take place in an effort to delay the bill's final consideration.

Other Hurdles—

After approval by the full Judiciary Committee, the measure will be sent to the House Committee on Rules. Although this committee is composed primarily of Northern Democrats and Republicans, it is expected that Chairman Howard Smith of Virginia, and the committee's ranking member, Rep. Colmer of Mississippi, both strong opponents of the bill, will be able to effect further delays in the measure's passage through parliamentary maneuvers. Yet, even the most avid opponents of the legislation realize that it cannot be delayed indefinitely and will eventually reach the floor of the House of Representatives for debate and vote. They also recognize that, since House debate is limited, the measure finally will receive House approval as it did last year.

While Southern members of the House of Representatives are delaying the passage of this unwise proposal as long as possible, in the final analysis the hope for its defeat lies in the rules of the Senate which permits extended debate. Southern Senators are already preparing for an all-out fight.

from The Bible

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.—(II Timothy 1,7.)

When we come to realize that our fears and anxieties cannot come from God but only from our lack of trust in Him and love of Him—that naught but good and power for good come from Him—then we will find His presence through Christ Jesus, and glory in new-found joy and strength.

We had good attendance for Sunday School and worship services Sunday. Bro. Nichols brought an inspiring message, "Getting Ready for the Lord's Work and the Spring Revival," taken from the 6th chapter of Isaiah. Those who have not been coming to church are certainly missing a blessing. We especially invite you to come and worship with us.

Training Union still has poor attendance. We wish that more people would take an interest in this service and come take a part. It would be a great encouragement to our pastor and Training Union director as well as help us, the individual, in so many ways.

Let me remind you of the great importance of the Wednesday night Prayer Service. We know that great things can be accomplished through prayer. So let's be present for Prayer Service and unite our hearts in prayer for the church and community.

We are sorry to have sickness in several families in the community. We miss you when you are absent from church. Our prayer is that you will be well soon and back in church again.

The Sunbeam Band, the RA's and GA's will have their regular meeting Saturday evening at 2:00 p.m. This will be our week of prayer program and we urge each one to be present and bring your offering for the Annie Armstrong offering.

POPLAR SPRINGS

The attendance for Sunday School was about normal. We were happy to have several visitors with us, and we invite them back at any time. The attendance for Training Union was off somewhat. We hope that we can build it back up and go over any previous attendance records.

We enjoyed both messages that Bro. Hornsby, our pastor, brought Sunday morning and night. The morning message pertained to Home Missions and the evening message dealt with the Lord's Supper, as we observed that ordinance.

We were glad that a good many of our members went to the Youth Rally again last Saturday night and helped us to bring the banner back again. We hope that we will be able to continue supporting the Youth Rally, as it is a worthwhile organization.

Everyone please remember to meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bowden on Friday night for choir practice.

Also, remember Family Night next Wednesday night, March 13, after the Prayer Services which begin at 7 p.m.

Let's keep in mind and be praying for our revival which will begin on March 31 and continue through April 7th.

CELEBRATE 45th ANNIVERSARY

Friends and relatives attended the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Maynard on Sunday, March 3, when they held open house from 2:00 to 4:00.

The big, three-tiered wedding cake was given to them by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maynard, of Birmingham. Flowers were given by Mrs. Maynard's sister, Mrs. Stella Henry, who is here for an extended visit from Los Angeles, Calif. They consisted of pastel colored gladioli, snapdragons, and intermingled with fern.

The cake was cut by Mrs. Mary Ellen Piper and Mrs. Mattie Lessley poured punch from a lace covered table with pale green under cloth. Mrs. Irene Higgins assisted in serving.

Birmingham guests were the Jack Maynards on Friday and Sunday were the Warren and Marvin Maynards, Miss Patsy Powell and Johnny Burton. Other guests were her sister, Mrs. Henry, and a host of neighbors and friends who called all during the afternoon.

Mrs. Maynard wore a floor-length dress of red jersey overlaid with black and her corsage was a white orchid, a gift from Mrs. Henry. Mr.. Henry, who was the official hostess, wore a gold and brown floor-length dress and her flowers were carnations.

Everyone gathered around the piano and sang several of the Maynards' favorite sacred songs. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Marietta Bice and Miss Barbara McFarland.

After the songfest and prayers by Messrs. Tom Lessley and E. R. Yeargan, the gifts were opened and displayed. A variety of lovely and useful gifts were given this fine couple and many were the good will wishes expressed for many more happy anniversaries for Mr. and Mrs. Maynard.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

FAITH GUIDED HIM IN A HURRICANE

For many years Mr. T. J. of Garfield, New Jersey, has been an electrician at the Wright Aeronautical Plant. Though a regular day-shift worker, he was assigned to a midnight shift for one week-end. This was in 1955.

During that week-end, a terrible hurricane struck. Suddenly the incoming power lines failed, leaving the entire main plant in darkness. The man usually in charge of the main substation where the deadly 26,000 volt lines were, was on vacation Mr. J. had received no instructions as to what to do in such an emergency. Yet, this was his responsibility.

He ran from the main plant to the substation. Lightning crackled and struck all around. But let him tell it in his own words: "Suddenly, I realized I knew nothing about the sub. I stopped. I was terribly frightened. I prayed: 'OH, GOD, PROTECT ME FROM HARM AND GUIDE ME TO DO WHAT IS RIGHT. PLEASE SEND ME HELP I NEED IT BADLY.'"

His short prayer contained three requests: for protection, guidance, and help to come Now see how God answered!

"I took off for the substation—no longer scared—sure that God would help me. Knocking off switches, I threw in the breakers. As the outside lines were tied in, the power began to surge again. (Answers 1 & 2)

"There came a knock at the door. A man yelled, 'Public Service, let me in!' He was from the power company, assigned to the Bendix plant 2 miles away. He told me that a few MINUTES AGO, SOMETHING told him to come to our plant. He made it in about three minutes. (Answer No. 3).

"Eight minutes later, our lines dropped out again. The Public Service man watched me repeat my previous performance. 'You did exactly the right thing,' he said. I told him I'd never handled the job before. He did not believe it. Then I told him the whole story. Now he believes there must be something to prayer."

Everyone admits that no matter how much intelligence, strength, or natural resources we have, there are limitations to our ability to handle every situation successfully, because we are human.

Prayer and faith in God will let into our lives that which, if we depended solely upon our own might, we would be left without. Jesus said, "If you believe, all things are possible to him that believeth." Most people take this promise as they do a life preserver in a boat, think it mighty comfortable to have, but hope it will never be needed

But God is a good God! He delights to help us He is able and he is willing to assist us in every phase of our lives

In this day, today, take him as your partner. Turn your faith loose and let God show you how to meet your problems and difficulties The same God who helped Mr. T. J. is anxious to help you.

10 New Poultry Producers Added To Chilton's 4-H Chain

Ten new poultry producers were added to the county's list last week. These boys and girls were selected by 4-H Club members from their respective Clubs. They are: James [illegible], Collins Chapel; Larry Cobb, Jemison; Jerry W. Jackson, Jemison; Ben Ray, Coopers; Ray Howell, Isabella; Dan Smith, Thorsby; Judith Ann Durbin, Isabella; Eileen Moore, Jemison; Joyce Robinson, Verbena; Elizabeth Ratliff, Isabella.

The purpose of this Poultry Chain is to establish flocks of quality pullets; to teach good management practices; to present a management demonstration on the farm, at the show and on tours; and to aid in educational development of boys and girls. To begin the project, the Sears Foundation will, through a local or neighboring retail store, give selected counties 1,000 straight run chicks the first year only. Ribbons [illegible] a maximum of $80.00 in prize money will be given each year the chain operates successfully.

The Extension Agents in charge of 4-H work in each county will select ten 4-H Club members—five boys and five girls, where possible. An agreement is signed by the Club member, parents, and Agent, whereas the Club member agrees to follow Extension recommendations in growing out the chicks and return a designated number of pullets for the fall show. After the show the pullets become the property of the County 4-H Club office to be sold at auction and the money retained in the "County 4-H Poultry Chain Fund" to buy more chicks the following spring for other members (or the boy or girl may pay for his chicks and keep the pullets).

American families—on the average—spend more for dairy products than any other group of foods except meat, according to a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture survey. Meat took 25 percent of the family food dollar and dairy products 17 percent. Cereals and bakery products, vegetables, poultry and eggs and fruits followed in that order.

4-H'ers Attend Camp At Wetumpka

Shown above are 4-H Club members who attended the 4-H Camp held at Camp Rotary near Wetumpka Aug. 18-21, 1956. Fifty-seven boys and girls and 3 Agents attended the 3-day camp. This was the first time for us to attend the county camp, but plans are in the making for a bigger and better camp for 4-H boys and girls in '57. Supervised activities planned for the group included: swimming, wrestling, archery, soft ball and other games, handicraft, morning watch and evening vesper services.

County campus for 4-H boys and girls between ten and twenty-one years of age. Any 4-H member who wishes, may attend. Boys and girls who attended last year's camp enjoyed it very much and are making plans to attend camp again this year. Announcements will be made about the 1957 camp. 4-H'ers interested in attending are asked to contact the Assistant County and Home Agents. (Photos courtesy of REA).

WMU MEETING HELD AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The WMU met at the church Monday afternoon, March 4th, at 3 p.m. at which time the Season of Prayer for Home Missions was observed.

The theme for the week was: Our Mission in Home Missions.

Mrs. J. A. Peterson led the opening prayer and one verse of "Love Devine" was sung.

Members read scripture verses regarding Love and Look.

Mrs. Marvin Dawson gave a short sketch of these topics: Indians in the Homeland; Nations at Our Doorstep; Life of Annie Armstrong; and Unmet Needs in New Areas.

Mrs. Louis Brasher led in prayer for the Missionaries and their needs. One verse of "Take My Life and Let it Be" was sung.

Placards on the program were used in the meeting room. The question was asked, "For how many minutes will our offering pay?"

The closing prayer was given by Miss Clements.

INTERMEDIATE GA's MET WITH LINDA BURNETTE

On February 28 at 3 p.m. the Intermediate GA's met at the home of Linda Gale Burnette.

Evelyn Porter, president, called the meeting to order. Linda Burnette led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Louis Brasher, counselor, read the scripture Matt. 16:24-25. The Watchword, Star Ideals, Allegiance and Stewardship Pledge were repeated and the GA hymn was sung.

The group planned to have the Book Review Thursday, March 7 at the church. For Community Missions, flowers will be sent to two people who are sick.

The topic of the program was, "Head over heels in Home Missions." Faye Sorrell was in charge and read the introduction. Others on the program were Evelyn Porter, Gwen Moore, Linda Burnette and Willie Blackman. Rosa Cofer closed the meeting with prayer. Sara Ellison was a visitor.

Delicious refreshments of fudge bars, mints, cheese crackers, Ritz crackers and lemonade were served.

March 2-9 Is Nat'l. 4-H Club Week

Chilton County has a total of 1,732 4-H Club members—877 girls and 855 boys—Clubs are located in each of the 17 schools in the county. Because of the large enrollment, it is necessary to have more than one 4-H Club in most of the schools. There are a total of 55 Clubs in the county. The Older Youth Club is composed of boys and girls over 14 years old who are interested in continuing in 4-H activities and are not enrolled in a 4-H Club at school.

In 1957, Alabama 4-H Club boys and girls will have an opportunity to compete in thirty state 4-H award projects. County winners will be eligible to compete for state awards.

Each of the thirty state winners will enjoy a week's trip with all expenses paid to the 1957 National 4-H Club Congress. They will ride on one of the finest trains in all the world; they will stay at the largest hotel in Chicago; they will visit in one of the largest cities in the world; they will see the largest international livestock show in the world; and, finally, they will meet the best people in the world—other 4-H'ers from over the United States. The thirty projects in which Alabama 4-H'ers can win trips to the 1957 National 4-H Club Congress are as follows:

Achievement for boys, achievement for girls, beautification of home grounds, boys' agricultural program, canning achievement, dairy foods, clothing achievement, cotton production, dairy achievement, dairy showmanship, dress revue, entomology, electric, field crops, food preparation, forestry. Frozen foods, garden, girls' home economics, health, hog production, home improvement, leadership for girls, leadership for boys, meat animal, poultry, recreation and rural arts, safety, soil building and land use, and tractor program.

Non-Farm 4-H Projects—

Thousands of Alabama 4-H Club members live in small towns and do not farm. Recognizing the needs of these boys and girls, leaders of the 4-H Clubs have added projects from time to time so that non-farm boys and girls can enjoy the benefit of 4-H Club work.

Some of these 4-H projects are health, safety, home beautification, leadership, rural arts and recreation, electric program, and tractor program.

With Alabama becoming more and more industrialized, a definite and specific need arose for non-farm 4-H projects. The latest project that is being developed in three pilot counties, Houston, Walker, and Calhoun, in 1957 is the new 4-H automotive project. The purpose of this project is to promote safety and proper care and maintenance of cars and trucks.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY AT MAPLESVILLE HIGH

On Tuesday night, March 12, the Senior Class of Maplesville School will present a three act mystery play, "The Phantom of the High School." The play has an excellent cast and promises to be most entertaining.

Laura Ann Dennis has the lead as a pert, vivacious teen-ager who has a very vivid imagination. The object of her affections is Rick, an easy-going high school boy with a genuinely friendly manner. This part is played by Leslie Benton.

Roy McGee is Mr. Gibney, dignified high school principal while two of his teachers, Miss Harker and Miss Minslow, are Peggy Joyce Hayes and Betty Carole Stewart. Buddy Williams as Randolph, the thirteen year old son of the principal, finds plenty of mischief to get into. Miss Benson who is the writer of the pageant which is being rehearsed is Hazel Hill. Her meek secretary, who is not as submissive as she appears, is Hazel handler.

Other important characters are Julie, a very popular student; Jean Moore, Alan, a good looking chap; Harold Motley, Chuck, a fun loving chap; Billy Davis, Marty, a newspaper reporter; Jimmy Harrison, Lanny, Miss Benson's anemic looking nephew; W. C. Hayes, Norma, a young business woman; Linda Goff Chandler, and last but not least, Betty, Sue, and Nina, thre mischevious high school girls; Joan Lawley, Sylvia Moore and Dot Mathis. The Phantom? Well, nobody knows until the last act. Come and see for yourself.

MHS SENIORS TO TAKE TRIP TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

For the first time in the history of Maplesville School, the Senior Class is anticipating a trip to Washington, D. C., on April 24. Twenty-three students, Mrs. Billingsley and Mrs. Johnnie Cobern have signed up to go. It is the great regret of the Senior Class sponsor, Mrs. Billingsley, that every one of the 35 members of the class will not be able to make the trip.

Each person is responsible for his own expenses which are most reasonable, because of a contract with the Southern Railway, but still there are several who just cannot afford the trip. We are wondering if any civic-minded person wishes to help some deserving youngster make trip which may change his entire outlook on life? Is so, please get in touch with Roy McGee, the Senior Class president or Mrs. Billingsley.

Chilton Farmers Practice Good Conservation

John DeRamus and Billy Yeargan have completed the planting of three large Bicolor Lespedeza borders on the idle corners of the Lily Hill Peach orchard.

Cornelius Mullins states "I have finished planting the Bicolor for the quail food patch and next year I want some more to go in the south end of this field where there is a large opening in a pine thicket. The next year, if I can kill the honeysuckle, I want to plant one next to my young peach orchard."

Grady Avant, Shiloh Community, is in the process of preparing 100 acres of land to plant to Pensacola Bahia grass that he plans on putting in the acreage reserve progra

Joe H. Johnson has planted 1 acres of Costal Bermuda on the rolling Piedmont farm. Rescue and Reseeding Crimson Clover will be overseeded on the Bermuda this fall.

Alvin Ellison is in the proce of having a farm pond constructe on his farm just north of his hom on the Higgins Ferry Road.

J. N. Dennis is in the process of girdling the undesirable hardwood on 50 acres of woodland out near the river.

Hoyt Freeman, Macedonia Community, states "I have fed less fee this winter than any winter that can remember. The cows have grazed frosted Bahia grass and re seeding Crimson Clover and Rescu grass. I am going to plant 200 mor pounds of Bahia this Spring." Hoy further states, "Bahia is the bes grass that I have run into for cattleman in my section of th county."

New, Better Laws--

Big Increase In Chilton's Pension Program Assistance

During the past two years there has been a 83.1 percent increase in the number receiving pensions and assistance from the Chilton County Department of Pensions and Security, Miss Clara Durham, Acting Director, revealed recently. She said total cases aided rose from 868 in January 1955 to 1,589 in January 1957. This was part of a general over-all State increase.

"By far the greatest increase has been in old age pensions," Miss Durham said. She explained that the new monies provided for this purpose by a 1955 Special Session of the Legislature have made possible higher standards and less rigid eligibility requirements for this group. She said 655 received old age pensions in this County two years ago and 1,325 in January 1957.

Another factor contributing to the increase has been repeal of the relative responsibility law. The director said, too, that average old age pension payments have risen from a January 1955 average of $29.06 to $37.68 last month in Chilton County.

At the same time Miss Durham cited that there are still unmet needs of the totally and permanently disabled, and dependent children. She said additional funds are needed to make adequate grants to these needy persons.

Despite the increase in persons served by the agency, the Director pointed out that the County Department has only 9 employees now, which is the same number employed two years ago when the caseload was so much less.

A legal limit of $2 million State funds set by the Legislature on administrative costs of the Department has kept the agency from adding the staff needed, the Director explained. Miss Durham said the State Board has twice gone on record urging removal of the limit so that people can get better service and the workers can do a better job. Administrative cost includes not only salaries, but postage, equipment, supplies, operating costs of buildings (heat, light, etc.), retirement and social security, medical examinations to determine eligibility for the disabled, and essential travel, as well as other items. To curtail any of these costs is detrimental to the whole program and makes it hard to maintain the proper controls required to keep on getting Federal funds, Miss Durham stated.

50% Increase In Old-Age Pensions

There has been a 50 percent increase in the past two years in the number of Alabamians receiving Old Age Pensions and assistance, a news release from Pensions and Security Commissioner J. Sam Snoddy states.

The Commissioner said that since January 1955 "total cases aided rose from 92,226 to 138,623 in January 1957."

Snoddy added that "By far the greatest increase has been in old age pensions" and pointed out that this was made possible as a result of new monies provided for this purpose by a special session of the State Legislature called by Gov. James E. Folsom in January 1955. Snoddy also said that the 1955 repeal of the relative responsibility law had made it possible to assist more of the State's needy.

The Pensions and Security report said that the number of Old Age pensions had increased from 63,309 in January 1955 to 103,196 in January 1957.

Also, said Snoddy, "the average Old Age pension payments have risen from a January 1955 average of $30.29 to a January 1957 average of $39.52."

Marbury Boy Wins Tractor Contest

Marbury won the County Tractor Driving Contest which was held at Billingsley on February 23.

Eric Thorne won with a 0|0 score. Next in line was Carl Deason with a score of 0|15. Carl is from Billingsley.

Both boys drove a Ford Tractor and tied the first time up. Thorne won the run-off.

There were eight entries from the four Autauga County Schools: Marbury, Prattville, Autaugaville, and Billingsley.

The judges were the four Vocational Teachers; Mr. Manning from Marbury; Mr. H. Y. Grooms from Prattville; Mr. R. H. Rew from Autaugaville and Mr. L. C. Stanfield from Billingsley.

The Contest:

Checking of tractor before starting:

Fuel, water, oil, brakes setting, lights, tires.

Checking the tractor after starting:

Oil pressure, temperature, driving of machine.

The tractor is driven between five flags 14 feet apart. Then the last flag is circled and a trailer is to be connected. The contestant takes the tractor and trailer back through the course, then backs the trailer into a shed with a three inch clearance on each side and two inch clearance in the back. A contestant is judged on how he drives the tractor through the course. He must get the trailer within the three inch clearance. For each one-half inch over the clearance 15 points are added to his score. The one with low score wins.

More And More Cancer Cases Are Being Cured Daily

GIVE YOUR DOCTOR A CHANCE

400,000 Americans, leading active lives today, are living proof of the fact that cancer can be cured if detected in time. Give your doctor a chance to give you this protection by having a physical checkup every year of your life. This should include a chest x-ray for men; for women, a pelvic examination. Make it a habit . . . for life.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

More people are being saved from cancer than ever before in history. Each year, nationwide, some 30,-00 more lives are being saved than were saved just a few years ago.

"Today, one out of three in Chilton County who develop cancer is saved," according to statistics," says Mrs. Hugh Jones, county educational chairman for the American Cancer Society. "Five years ago we were saving only one in four." The county educational chairman attributed this gain to earlier diagnosis and improved treatment.

"But," she added, "we cannot be content with this striking improvement in control of cancer. Another one-sixth of those in our county who develop cancer could be saved through earlier diagnosis and proper treatment."

The purpose of the ACS Educational program in Chilton County is to get the additional one-sixth to a doctor for early diagnosis and effective treatment. The educational campaign stresses the importance of a health checkup once a year for all adults and alertness to Cancer's warning signals.

Cancer's danger signels are: 1. Unusual bleeding or discharge; 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; 3. A sore that does not heal; 4. Persistent change in bowel or bladder habits; 5. Persistent hoarseness or cough; 6. Persistent indigestion or difficutly in swallowing; 7. Change in a wart or mole.

MECHANICAL DETECTIVE "HAWKSHAW" AIDS INVESTIGATORS IN CURBING FRAUDLENT UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE CLAIMS

Franklin James, chief supervisor, tabulating section of the Alabama Department of Industrial Relations demonstrates to Frieda Hudson how "Hawkshaw" earned his name. This electronic machine displays near-human intelligence in detecting "chiselers" who attempt to draw unemployment insurance checks illegally. Eugene M. Wells, state director for the department, advises all would-be violators, "Don't Try It."

Last Year—

Near 200 Persons Convicted of Misuse Of Unemploy. Laws

During the calendar year beginning January 1, 1956 and ending December 31, 1956, 179 persons were convicted of drawing unemployment compensation unlawfully, according to a report released today by Eugene M. Wells, director of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Sixty-four of the convicted were veterans who fraudently drew federal funds. They were investigated by the Fraud Investigation Section of the Department of Industrial Relations, referred to the FBI, and prosecuted in federal courts.

According to the Department of Industrial Relations—the State agency that pays jobless benefits—64,619 claims were audited during the year to determine whether there was any evidence of "chiseling" by claimants. Investigations were conducted on 11,655 claims, and it was discovered that 821 claimants were paid benefits to which they were not entitled.

During the year, the State recovered 47,012.33 of the $70,825.00 in overpayments and also penalized 292 violators by disqualifying them from receiving some of their future entitlements. Furthermore, the State initiated criminal action against 194 claimants and referred 102 more, which involved jobless benefits for veterans, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Wells said.

In the courts there was one acquittal; however there were 87 dismissals, Wells said.

The director stated that even though only a small minority of claimants seek payments to which they are not entitled, the Department directs every effort to detect and act against violators of the Alabama Unemployment Compensation Law. Wells emphasized that "Qualified persons need to have no fear in applying for, or accepting employment insurance payments." adding that the exposure of fraud and its prosecution to the fullest extent is a firm policy of the Department.

The Fraud Section of the Unemployment Compensation Division maintains a staff of specially trained investigators who are constantly scrutinizing all claims for possible violators, Wells said.

The Unemployment Compensation Law provides for prosecution of individuals who make fradulent misrepresentations in claims for unemployment compensation benefits.

Punishment may vary from a minimum fine of $25 to the maximum of $250 plus a jail sentence of three months for each separate offense. The director is authorized to assess an additional administrative penalty against the claimant involving the reduction of future benefit entitlements.

The Department paid out over fifteen million dollars to 82,800 claimants during the calendar year ending December 31, 1956, Wells said

Telephone Talk

By
OLIVER W. NORTON
Your Telephone Manager

Know how many people you can call on the telephone in Clanton? Over 2,700. Of course, you'll never call all those folks, but that's how many telephones Clanton now has. Last year alone we installed 45,259 new telephones in Alabama, while spending $29,841,000 for expansion. This year we expect to add some 69,000 more and spend about $31,000,000. All these new phones mean convenience and better living for a lot of folks. And they mean that you can call more people and more can call you. So your telephone keeps getting more useful, and that's the way we want it. For every time your telephone helps you we sort of feel like we're helping, too.

I REMEMBER the time when a traveler needed a pretty sharp eye to spot a telephone booth when he wanted to call someone. Now, just about everywhere you go you see those brightly colored, lighted telephone booths along the highways and in other public places, open 24 hours a day. And it's no accident, either. You see, we spend a lot of time picking places to put phone booths where they'll be most convenient for you. Good to know, isn't it, that wherever you go you're never far from a phone?

SPEAKING OF TRAVELING, nothing takes you where you want to go faster than a telephone call. I'll bet you can think of several out-of-town folks you'd like to visit with right now — maybe a friend who's been transferred, a relative you haven't seen in a long time. Why not telephone? It's easy to do and you'll both get a lot of fun out of it. For faster service, let me suggest you give the operator the out-of-town telephone number if you know it. Then your calls go through twice as fast.

MULBERRY BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

A group of our men went to the Brotherhood Convention when it met at Montgomery. They were very enthused over the program. There are some interesting messages to be printed in the Alabama Baptist paper. Everyone is urged to pay close attention to their paper for these messages. By this, we hope others of our church will learn more about the functions of our State-Wide Brotherhood. Men you are the answer to a strong church for Christ.

We are proud to say we had the privilege to attend the Training Union meeting at Maplesville Baptist Church. Bro. Burk's message was enjoyed by all our people and the film was just wonderful. We hope our people can pattern their lives accordingly.

Sunday, March 17, we will ordain three new deacons in our Church. We are proud that God has so supplied our church with these fine men. They have already taken over their jobs in the church; therefore, we ask your prayers for these men as they go about doing God's will.

This week our WMU Ladies are observing a week of prayer for Home Missions. Next Sunday will be the climax of this week of service and our special offering for Home Missions.

There will be a Vacation Bible School Clinic at the Liberty Hill Baptist Church Monday, April 1. We hope to have a full attendance of our teachers and officers at this clinic.

Last Lord's Day we had services in the Isabella School. We are proud of the wonderful attendance in spite of the weather and the construction of the road. Will you be in church and Sunday School Sunday?

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson visited her mother, Mrs. Ada Pratt, in Alabaster Sunday evening. Mr. Jimmy Wilson accompanied them to Alabaster.

BRAVE HEARTS ARE MADE OF STERN STUFF

AMONG THE HUNDREDS OF GUESTS when the WORLD BOND, latest of the Niarchos tankers, was to be christened and launched, at Sparrows Point, Maryland, in January were John Thomas Hadley, age 10, and Terrence James Hadley, age 9, who had come from Long Island for the event. The ship was christened that day, but high winds prevented the launching. When the big ship finally slid into the water the following day, ship-owner Stavros Niarchos, in Switzerland, received word by telephone; the sponsor and other guests had all gone home. But for the kids, this business was too important to lose heart. They stuck, and were the only two guests on hand at the launching. (ANS)

$25,000 top prize

In Second Singer Sewing Contest

Mrs. Joseph G. Smith of Virginia Beach, Va., one of the winners in the 1956 Singer Sewing Contest, picks her pattern from a pattern book, during the grand Sew-Off. Looking on is the model for whom Mrs. Smith made the dress.

The annual search for a dress worth $25,000, and the talented woman who makes it, is now underway, as the second $125,000 Singer Sewing Contest swings into high gear.

All over the United States and Canada, women are flocking to Singer Sewing Centers to enter this exciting contest. In addition to the $25,000 awarded to the top winner, other cash prizes for a total of $54,750 will be distributed to the top home seamstresses in the nation. In addition, 66 sewing machines and more than 1600 prizes in valuable merchandise will be given to winners on their way to the finals.

Winners will be selected from each of the 33 regions in the United States and Canada. Those 33 regional winners will be given an all expense paid trip to New York to participate in the exciting Grand Sew-Off. Finalists will have the use of fully equipped individual sewing rooms and the assistance of an advisory panel to make a dress for the final step of the contest.

This contest is open to women over 18, and March 30 is the deadline for registering in your local Singer Sewing Center. The garments entered in the contest must be completed by April 26.

The $25,000 dress will be selected and final prizes awarded in June.

CLANTON STUDY CLUB MET MARCH 1st

The Study Club of Clanton was entertained at the home of Mrs. Joe Moore.

Mrs. John Higgins, president, presided at this annual meeting. Two changes were made in the present Constitution and by-laws.

The nominating committee submitted the following, names as officers for 1957-58: President, Mrs John Higgins; Vice-President, Mrs Harold Lawrence; Secretary, Mrs Morgan Reynolds; Treasurer, Mrs Joe Moore; Parliamentarian, Mrs Omar Reysolds.

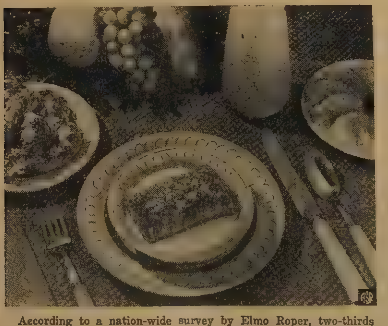
The program was presented by Miss Laura Hadley, associate director of the extension at Alabama College, Montevallo. Miss Hadley gave a most interesting and informative talk on "Peace—The Club Woman's Responsibility."

Mrs. Moore served club members and guests with delicious refreshments.

One of the safest ways to use an extension cord in the basement, garage, or attic is to run the cord through rubber fruit jar rings and then loop rings over nails driven into the rafters.

How does your family rate on

Breakfast Eating Habits



According to a nation-wide survey by Elmo Roper, two-thirds of teen-age girls, one-third of teen-age boys, and about one-half of the adult population skip or skimp breakfast. How does your family compare with these nation-wide findings?

Is an adequate breakfast important for the well-being of your family? Research at a leading Midwestern medical school has demonstrated that the subjects who ate an adequate breakfast not only felt better, but performed better, especially in the late morning hours.

What can be done to improve breakfast eating habits? Nutritionists believe that mothers hold the key position in the solution of the problem of breakfast skimpers and skippers. It is the consensus of leading nutritionists that it is the mother's responsibility to see that an adequate breakfast is prepared or that food and facilities are ready for the family members to prepare their own breakfasts.

An adequate breakfast built around a basic breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter can be prepared in ten minutes. This basic breakfast pattern is recommended by leading nutrition authorities to provide ¼ to ⅓ of the daily nutritional requirements. For those whose doctor has prescribed a low-fat diet, a basic breakfast is ideal because it is low in fat and low in cholesterol.

Great variety is possible in using a basic breakfast pattern. Your grocer has more than two dozen varieties of breakfast cereals, including hot and ready to eat, both pre-sweetened and regular types, on his grocery shelves. The breakfast pictured above follows a basic breakfast pattern. This breakfast consists of orange slices (use canned or frozen juices to speed preparation), shredded wheat with brown sugar and milk, bakery sweet roll with butter, and milk to drink.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Services Unlimited—

Chilton's Health Clinic; Our County's Insurance

New Facilities To Be Reality

A few weeks ago our senators announced that Chilton County's application for a new Health Clinic has been approved and Federal aid is now available to build this much needed facility.

For many years our County Health Office has been located in the old frame building just East of the Courthouse. At one time or another some of us have had occasion to go there, but few of us realize what our County Health people do for us.

Contrary to some belief, the County Health Office or Clinic is not just a place to treat people who cannot afford to pay for medical care—they have the responsibility of protecting the health of all our people.

Some of the programs they carry on are familiar to us—some, most of us have never heard of. So, maybe it's time we learned what the new Health Facilities will be used for.

One of their most important programs is the control of communicable disease or most of us know it as immunization programs against such dreaded diseases as smallpox, dipheria, typhoid fever, etc., and every child who enters our Public Schools must have these shots

Another important program is carried on by our Sanitation Officer. He is charged with the responsibility of seeing that our public water, our milk supplies are pure and our food handling establishments are clean and sanitary and he also assists in other problems of sanitation and sewage disposal.

Another program is the care and recording of vital statistics such as birth records, etc.

The Public Health Nursing Program provides these services

1. Care and treatment for persons unable to pay for medical services.
2. Control and diagnosis of tuberculosis through clinics and co-operative programs such as free chest X-rays.
3. Control and treatment of venereal diseases.
4. Mental Hygiene and dental health programs.
5. Health education and nutrition programs.
6. Maternal and child health programs.

Chilton County is fortunate to be able to build the new Health facilities they need to carry on these programs. With the aid now assured us from Federal Funds, we will build a modern Health facility at a fraction of the total cost and this will be one more step toward better health and progress for ALL the people of Chilton County.

GREATER SAVINGS—

CO-OPERATIVES CAN POSSIBLY UP YOUR FARM INCOME

Auburn—Higher farm income—that's what a stronger and expanded cooperative movement can bring to Alabama, according to specialists in the field.

Higher farm income goes hand in hand with better farm business.

Many Chilton County farmers can improve their incomes simply by putting their farm business on a better basis. And one way many farmers have found leading to a sounder business basis is the cooperative movement.

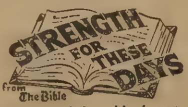
These farmers—and others with similar business problems—find by joining cooperatives they may not only make higher profits from their sales of farm items but also greater savings on their purchases of farm needs.

Cooperatives offer markets for the various commodities. But more than this, they offer services such as credit, insurance, electrical service, processing of farm products, and the like. They also can serve a supply houses for feed, fertilizer, seed, and other farm needs.

Cooperatives, can help the farmer get along in the world of big business, and farming has become big business today.

Every Chilton County farmer finds himself face to face with a big job—carrying on an efficient operation and clearing enough profit for satisfactory living.

At present, approximately 50 marketing and purchasing cooperatives are operating throughout the state with a farm membership totaling 129,000.



Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee: because he trusteth Thee.—(Isaiah 26,3.)

Peace of mind and soul is sought by millions of us these anxious days, in books, in talks with clergymen, in psycho-analysts' offices. These may help some unhappy souls in their search, but the Bible tells us where such peace may most surely be found.

State Publicity Board Concentrating On Tourist Attraction

Alabama's State Publicity and Information Advisory Board is scheduled to meet in the State Capitol March 7 to plan the State Publicity Bureau's legislative program, and plan for further expansion of its hard-driving tourist program.

Meanwhile, State Publicity Director Geoffrey Birt announces that his department is being swamped with tourist inquiries from all over the nation. In January this agency received 1,478 tourist inquiries as compared with the 271 received in January 1956, and "in February," Birt said, "We again broke all records by answering 1,937 inquiries as compared with a mere 302 received in February 1956."

Birt said that all these inquiries were being kept for legislators to see for themselves, if they wish, and judge for themselves the high quality of the type of inquiries which the State's national advertising is producing.

Further pictorial vacation advertising to promote the tourist industry in Alabama are scheduled in the immediate future in issues of Holiday, Saturday Evening Post and Newsweek magazines, it was stated, and a special vacation—industrial advertisement will appear in a May issue of U. S. News and World Report.

Members of the Advisory Board are Robert Reich, Gadsden; L. L. Dozier, Troy; W. D. Newman, Guntersville; W. G. McGrady, Mobile; and Ben Tucker, Clanton. The Governor is chairman of the Board, and ex-officio members, besides Birt, are Herman Nelson, State Highway Director; Bill Lylerly, Director of the Department of Public Safety; and Bill Drinkard, State Conservation Director.

"Keep Green" committees have been organized in 80 percent of the Alabama counties. These committees are actively campaigning for the prevention of wild fires.

WAYNE BURKHALTER JOINS MARINES, AT PARRIS ISLAND

Birmingham—Wayne Q. Burkhalter, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Burkhalter, Rt. 2, Clanton, enlisted in the Marine Corps at the Recruiting Station here. He will receive his basic military training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

After a 12-week course the new Marine will report to Camp Lejeune, N. C. for advanced infantry training. He will then be granted a 15 day leave to spend with friends and relatives prior to reporting to his first duty station or to one of the many Marine Corps technical schools.

Private Burkhalter attended Verbena High School where he participated in football, basketball and baseball. He was employed by the Florida Power and Light Company prior to enlisting in the Marines.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

"A TICKET TO RICHES," said a thoughtful friend the other day, "is a public library borrower's card. And the riches available at the library are not limited to those of mind and spirit. Through browsing among books on practical subjects, such as carpentry, I have increased my competence at many household 'fix-it' tasks — and have saved no small amount of cold cash as a result." We thought this observation interesting, and pass it on in the hope that some of our readers will find it profitable.

COME TO CHURCH

IN MEMORY OF MRS. OLLIE GAY

To The Children of Mrs. Ollie S. Barnes Gay;

What you have lost, heaven has gained. Weep not, dear children, for God has said in His blessed word, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe in me also. In my Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so I would have told you."

Nothing is truer of this Dear Woman than these words:

My Mother—
She carried me under her heart:
Loved me before I was borned;
Took God's hand in hers and walked through the Valley of Shadows that I mgiht live;
Bathed me when I was helpless;
Clothed me when I was naked;
Gave me warm milk from her own body when I was hungry;
Rocked me to sleep when I was weary;
Pillowed me on pillows softer than down and sang to me in the voice of an angel;
Held my hands while I learned to walk;
Nursed me when I was sick;
Suffered with my sorrow;
Laughed with my joy;
Glowed with my triumph, and while I knelt at her side, she taught my lips to pray;
Through all the days of my youth she gave strength for my weakness, courage for my despair and hope to fill my hopeless heart;
Was loyal when others failed;
Was my friend when other friends were gone;
Prayed for me through all the days when flooded with sunshine or saddened by shadows;
Loved me when I was unlovely, and led me into man's estate to walk triumphantly on the King's highway and play a manly part.
Though we may lay down our lives for her, we can never pay the debt we owe a Christian mother.

Submitted by a loving sister-in-law, Mrs. C. C. Gay

FRACTURES

Education is needed to prevent accidents of all types. Indeed, knowledge and adherence to safety rules would reduce the number of deaths and the loss of an arm, leg or an eye, and particularly the number of broken bones.

A fracture is an interruption or a break in the continuity of a bone. A fracture may be closed or one in which the skin is not broken, or it may be open in which the skin is broken. Sometimes in the more severe types of open fractures, the bones may even protrude through the skin.

There are many variations in the two types. For example, the fracture may be transverse, comminuted, or broken in more than two pieces. And then the fracture may be spiral, angulated, or displaced, according to the position of the bone ends after the force causing the fracture has ceased.

Fractures may also be complete, broken entirely through, or incomplete in which the bone is merely cracked or broken partially through. This latter group includes greenstick fractures frequently seen in children. They are called green-stick because just as a green piece of wood will often bend before it breaks so the bones of children will bend and crack but will not always break through.

Bones are broken when twisted, when struck by another object, or when the body is thrown off balance in such a manner to cause an unusual force to be applied to the bone. Symptoms indicating a fracture include swelling, discoloration, blisters or blebs on the skin, pain and unusual or flexible motion in areas where joints are not present. While there is usually inability to bear weight or move the extremity or motion is limited and painful, it should be remembered that some of the most serious fractures often are present when weight bearing and motion are possible, although usually painful.

Many technics may be necessary to reduce the fracture, such as the application of weights, a cast, a manual manipulation by the physician, or the use of metal pins.

Avoid preventable accidents and you may prevent a bone from breaking.

County-Wide Visitation Planned By County Board Of Education

The Chilton County Board of Education has again made plans for County-wide visitation of the white schools of the County. The dates have been set at April 1 & 2—two days.

Everyone interested in seeing at least a portion of the educational facilities of the County is urged to visit schools on these days.

Convenient schedules will be made with school buses to pick up visitors at the various white schools. Visitation trips will begin in Clanton and go in three general directions. By visiting on both days, visitors will be able to see most of the County's schools.

The Board of Education is anxious for a large number of interested citizens to visit our schools on these dates. Both the desirable and the undesirable features of our schools will be seen.

Watch your Chilton County News for more details.

UNTIL MAR. 15—

THERE IS STILL TIME FOR SEEDING CLOVER GRASS

Auburn—March 15th still marks a deadline although it has been erased as a federal income tax one. For every farmer who has any livestock, March 15 is the white-clover—dallis grass seeding season's end.

Farmers are urged to complete seeding of dallis grass before that date. Although fall seeding of white clover is recommended it can be seeded anytime until March 15. Thus, you still have time to put in a good grazing program. This calls for one to two acres of clover-grass grazing for each animal.

Best results can be achieved thru fertilizing the land according to soil test recommendations. Otherwise use between 00 to 1000 pounds of 0-16-8 per acre. But if the stand being seeded is pure dallis grass use 400 to 500 pounds of 4-12-12 per acre. Then more phosphate and potash can be added when white clover is seeded next fall.

Both crops need a firm seedbed specialists say. Planting with a cultipacker seeder or a regular drill followed by a cultipacker or roller is recommended. If this type of equipment is not available, cross-sow seed with a hand seeder and cover with a cultipacker, weeder, or brush. Then the pasture is ready for a slow rain to give it a good start.

About 10 to 15 pounds of dallis grass seed and two to three pounds of Louisiana white clover seed per acre is recommended. It's best not to graze newly seeded pastures until plants are well established and will not pull up easily. Heavy grazing the first year is a common cause of failure.

A New Tax For Prospering Farmers

Most farmers are now under social security and must pay a self-employment tax of three percent of their net earnings from farm income, Mr. George D. Patterson, District Director of Internal Revenue Service, said today.

If you are a farmer and your gross income from farming for 1956 is not over $1800, you may, if you wish, treat two-thirds of your gross income from farming as your net earnings from self-employment.

If your gross income from farming is over $1800, you must figure your net, but if your actual net is less than $1200 you may report $1200 for social security purposes. If your actual net profit from farm self-employment is more than $1200 you have no choice but to use the actual net.

Necessary forms for reporting farm self-employment will be available at the district office of Internal Revenue Service in Birmingham.

A new liquid insect-repellent will soon be on the market. This repellent—diethyl toluamide—can be applied to the skin or clothes as protection against mosquitoes, ticks, chiggers, fleas, and flies.

See how the regular use of Chilean Soda corrects acidity and maintains favorable pH (left). Fertilizer used at right contained no sodium and you'll choose

CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

Because it's a natural fertilizer, and everybody knows a natural fertilizer is an extra good fertilizer. Extra good for crops and for the land, too; not just for today, but for the years ahead [illegible] Soda is a rare natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Its extra values distinguish it [illegible] nitrogen fertilizers, account for its remarkable efficiency, for its beneficial effect upon soil fertility and the production of fine crops.

The effectiveness of a nitrogen fertilizer for [illegible] and side-dressing depends almost directly on the [illegible] nitrogen it contains. In Chilean Soda, the nitrogen is 100 per cent fast-acting nitrate—ready to work as soon as you [illegible] But that's not all. Chilean Soda has sodium and [illegible] Sodium destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and [illegible] when necessary, increases the efficiency of nitrogen and [illegible] make better use of other plant foods.

Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the available phosphate supply is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal.

Experience, they say, is the best teacher. and 100 years of consistently satisfactory experience with Natural Chilean Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for your top-dressing and side-dressing requirements. If you have any questions, we urge you to try it, if only in a small way to begin with, and see the difference for yourself. You'll find it is the most economical and efficient nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used.

New Salmon-Noodle Casserole With Onion Soup Mix

CASSEROLE COOKERY need not be distinguished only as a means of using up leftovers. It holds a rightful place in the creative world of culinary art. A good example of this is a Salmon-Noodle Casserole that is a gourmet treat yet decidedly inexpensive in spite of some elegant ingredients.

The unique flavor is contrived by mixing sour cream and a package of onion soup mix toegther. The notable advantage of using this combination in cooking is that the sour cream will not curdle even in such recipes as one calling for pot roast to be simmered in the mixture for up to three hours.

Thus you will find that the "dip" will insure a successful as well as flavorful casserole. The delicate flavors inherent in the onion soup mix enhance the bland taste of the salmon and the noodles. You will find this casserole a fine feature for a buffet supper party.

SALMON-NOODLE CASSEROLE

8 oz. medium-wide noodles 2 cups "California Dip"
1 lb. can salmon (2 cups) 1 cup cream

Heat oven to 375° F. Cook noodles according to package directions; drain. Mix "California Dip" and add cream to it. Combine cooked noodles and chunk size pieces of salmon; mix with the liquid. Turn into a 2 quart casserole and bake 20 minutes. Makes 8-10 servings.

California Dip:—Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. For one cup of mix use ½ pint sour cream and 3 tablespoons (½ package) well-blended onion soup mix. (ANS)

Grand Jury Defers . . .

we therefore request that this Grand Jury be recessed until April 2, 1957. We further request that we be called to reassemble on that date for the purpose of investigating violations of the prohibition laws of this county and other matters including the Court House.

In order to obtain immediate relief of the liquor situation in this county, we call before us Mr. Melvin Dawkins, administrator of the ABC Board. He promised the services of two full-time ABC agents in Chilton County beginning at once and also the part-time services of two additional agents.

It was brought to our attention that the bond of the clerk of the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control has not been approved. However, this matter has been submitted to the Judge of the County Court of Chilton County, Alabama for a determination and we feel that an adequate bond will be filed in accordance with the Judge's determination.

No inspection was made of records of the various county officials as periodic audits are made by State examiners.

Now, having complied to the best of our ability with Your Honor's charge, we respectfully request that we be recessed until April 2, 1957.

This the 2nd day of March, 1957.

MT. CREEK NEWS

Last Tuesday night our choir entered the State Music Festival along with choirs from over the state.

We're hoping to improve our grade of "excellent" to superior next year.

The Sunday School attendance was nice last Sunday. We are hoping more people will come next week. All visitors are extended a cordial welcome to come again.

The Training Union Attendance was good last Sunday night. The Junior Class held their elimination drill for the Junior Memory Drill.

Last Monday night, the Unity Association held its BTU Rally at Mt. Creek. The drills were also held. The winner of the Junior Memory Drill was Barbara Alsey. Linda and Donnie Russell of Alpine will represent the Association in the District Eliminations. Johnnie Faye Alley won the speakers tournament.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Rieker of the State Training Union Department in Montgomery. Mr. Rieker also preached a wonderful sermon on alcohol.

The Mt. Creek choir sang, "Tread Softly" and "What Did He Do?". The Alley girls sang, "I Am Amazed."

Yellowed piano keys can be made white again by cleaning them with alcohol or a flannel moistened with Cologne water.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

Hyram Littlejohn and his wife have a nice little store at the intersection of the Selma Road and Second Avenue. We go down there every evening or so to get some small items for the wife. Mrs. Littlejohn does most of the running while Hyram is working on the farm. The other evening when we went in Mrs. Littlejohn was sitting in a rocker and the "boss" was checking out the groceries. Well, just to be funny we said: "Mrs. Littlejohn, you decided to let Hyram do the work for awhile, did you?". By the time we got it out we knew we had said the wrong thing. Brother Littlejohn was so mad he had forgot what he was checking out and had to start all over again on a long list of stuff. It turned out that someone who had come into the store just about five minutes before we did, had said the same thing. When we go down there this afternoon we're going to throw our hat in first.

And speaking of grocery stores; wonder why, for some silly reason, Dot Headley at Pig's Grocery, won't sell us any cigarettes.

Four-year-old Jimmy told his mother upon his return from Sunday School that he had learned a new memory verse. To find out if he understood the verse, "Children, obey your parents", she asked him if he knew what parents are. "Sure I know what parents are", returned little Jimmy, "they are birds that talk".

Jim Wilson, former manager of the Goodyear Service Store here, was a visitor last week-end. Jim had only a few hours but seems he made good use of them so far as visiting old friends was concerned. He is at Savannah, Ga., now and says he and his family like it very much there. Incidentally, Jim says speeding through Georgia is m-u-r-d-e-r!

And that reminds us of another citizen you aught to know. And that is Sam Stewart, the new manager of the Goodyear Service Store. Sam is one of the most likeable and congenial young fellows you could want to meet. We predict a successful stay in Clanton for the Stewarts and we hope it is a long one. Energetic, straightforward young businessmen like Sam Stewart don't come along every day.

Oakley W. Melton, Jr., son of Judge Oakley Melton, has been a partner in the Montgomery law firm of Rushton, Stakely and Johnston. Young Oakley Melton married Melba Studdard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Studdard and has many friends in Chilton County. We heartily congratulate the Meltons.

See where an ex-circus acrobat ran into an old crony and exclaimed: "Gosh, Charlie, I haven't seen you in years—not since you got married in that cage of tigers. That was quite a stunt. It must have been real exciting!". "It was then" sighed the married man. "It wouldn't be now."

Annual County Arts Festival To Be Held Here April 6-7

The Chilton County Branch of the A.A.U.W. announces the Third Annual Festival of Arts to be held on April 6 and 7 at the Chilton County High School gymnasium.

Plans for this year disclose a bigger and better Festival than ever before.

Unusual and interesting activities are being planned in addition to the exhibiting of local handwork and other displays.

The A.A.U.W. invites anyone in the County who does handiwork of any kind to bring his or her work to the gym on Friday afternoon (April 5) or Saturday morning and display them in the Festival.

Members of the A.A.U.W. would appreciate being notified of any work to be exhibited. The chairman, Mrs. Joe Campbell, may be called at night, phone 796. More important, however, is that your handiwork be finished and carried to the Festival.

The A.A.U.W. wants your articles of handcraft!

Northside Baptist Holds Revival March 17-23

We the people of Northside Baptist Church believe that we are in store for the greatest Revival ever witnessed in Chilton County.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Griffin Lloyd and all parents of the school are urged to attend.

Blizzard or Flurry?

This Is The Way It Might Have Read. . .

SCOOP—Early today, Friday, March 8, 1957 the City of Clanton and surrounding territory was struck by a severe snow storm that was unlike anything in this community's history.

The snow started before dawn and continued for several hours with blizzard intensity and fury as winter unleashed its mightiest forces.

Roads were blocked throughout the County and schools were inaccessible. Ice was eveywhere and limbs of trees were giving way under the unbearable weight of the ice and snow.

Homes were snowed in in a matter of hours and cars and buses were at a standstill.

No casualties have been reported, but there are still communities unaccounted for.

Certainly this is one of the most frightful experiences to come to this southern city and we all are flabbergasted (and just a little cool).

This Is The Way It Happened!

On Friday, March 8th Clanton and surrounding communities experienced their first snow in many years. The light snow fell during the predawn hours and was just heavy enough to cover the ground good.

Neighborhood youngsters, who likely had never seen the stuff, floundered midst the joys of snow ball fights, and some even went so far as to build snowmen.

Probably the only snow man in history to wear a Rebel hat.

The snow started about 4 a.m. and by 10 a.m. the only evidence was a few snowballs (in the shade) and a snowman with a Rebel hat. The "blizzard" had lifted. Clanton did not have to dig its way out.

Through it all, however, 1957 will probably be remembered around these parts as "the year of the "big" snow.

FAMILY TREAT!

Men! Would you like to give your family an enjoyable evening and a delicious meal all at the same time? And ladies! How about taking off your aprons and deserting the drudgery of standing over a hot stove and stacks of dirty dishes which you always have to face after a meal.

How can you accomplish this miracle? Just come and join us in Verbena for our Annual Chicken Supper, March 22nd.

You will be doing yourself a favor and helping a very good cause.

The proceeds of the evening will be placed in the Grammar School Bathroom Fund. This fund is slowly increasing, so that we hope in the not too distant future, it will be sufficient to cover the cost of the badly needed facilities of our Grammar School.

The Planning Committee has met and are making arrangements for a delicious meal which we are sure everyone will enjoy.

The menu will be: Baked chicken, dressing and gravy, green lima beans, tossed salad, rolls, pecan pie and milk or coffee.

Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue until 8 p.m.

Prices have been set at $1.00 for Adults and $.50 for Children.

Please make your plans so that you may attend.

Community Center To Meet Monday

The Clanton Community Center committee will hold their luncheon meeting on Monday, March 18th at Bob's Drive-In.

This Committee, with Callen Alred as chairman, has made great plans for this project and you will be contacted personally to make a donation towards a Civic Center for Clanton in the very near future.

County Schools Invite Visitors April 1st-2nd

Patrons and friends of the white schools of Chilton County are reminded of the visitation days coming up.

On April 1 and 2 all interested in visiting white schools may do so on specially arranged guided tours.

School buses will be leaving the various center schools at 8:00 a.m. to meet at Clanton. From there, three general routes will be taken. Each person can select the route he desires to take. By going both days, a person can visit most of the schools.

The Board of Education in arranging these tours hopes that many interested persons will take advantage of this opportunity to see our schools in action.

Lenten Services At Episcopal Church

At Trinity Episcopal Church each Friday evening at 7:45, there will be a Lenten Service through April 19th.

The subjects of the discussions will be "Fundamentals of the Christian Faith".

Everyone is cordially invited

A NOTE TO DELEGATIONS

Statistics from the office of the County Engineer will give cause for future delegations to expect the seemingly long wait necessary on road projects in the County. Road building is a slow job at best and the Road Department of Chilton County is doing a very commendable job of steadily improving our road system.

According to Harold Lewis, County Engineer, there are projects totaling 84 miles to be paved on the SACP System. The roads on this state-aid system are future projects already under priority ratings and steps have been taken to get them in readiness.

Lewis also stated that there are 1050 feet of concrete and steel bridges to be built with Federal and State Aid

Each road accepted on this system is given a priority and will be paved in its turn.

By Vernon P. Payne

Following the recent trend towards disagreement The Board of Revenue & Control spent much time and debate during their session last Monday trying to come to a truce. Each side held ground in spite of an outward show of wishing to cooperate.

Both sides elaborated on the fact that they were trying to comply with the wishes and best interests of the taxpayers of Chilton County, and held their ground.

As in the past few meetings, many resolutions were passed with a 3-to-1 vote and several were passed with only three of the Associate Members casting a vote; the fourth declining his vote.

Harold Smith, Board Member representing the second district, again refused to sign all claims due where purchases were made on mergency orders amounting to more than fifty dollars. These refused claims are growing in number as the clerk continues to purchase on emergency order and the claims are rejected by Smith.

A representative of the J. D. Pittmna Tractor Co. of Birmingham appeared before the Board seeking satisfaction on one of these claims amounting to approximately $3900. He was given no satisfaction as to when payment will be made.

Delegations Seek Road Improvements

As usual, many delegations appeared before the Board asking for improvement of roads lying in their communities.

A delegation headed by Bill Porter was given satisfaction on the improving of the Thorsby-Collins Chapel Road. Length of the stretch described is 2.4 miles. The Board voted unanimously to begin improvement as early as possible.

Another delegation asked for a road to be cut in the Southern part of the County extending three miles to the Autauga County line where it would tie in wih a road in that county. It was unanimously agreed for this road to be put on the pavisg system.

A paved road, also in the Southern part of the County, was requested by another delegation. This 1.5 mile stretch would connect with a road to Prattmont.

Lonnie Cost proposed a resolution, seconded by Reedie Hilyer, that a road lying on the property of J. W. Hayes and designated as Pine St., be abandoned. This action was taken at the request of Mr. Hayes. The land and road in question are located just North of Bob's Drive-In Restaurant. Motley and Smith declined to vote on this proposal.

Appropriation Enlarged For Thorsby Plant

A delegation, headed by Mayor Grover Bice of Thorsby, asked that the Board open a road adjacent to the site of the new garment factory at Thorsby. This road, designated Dakota Road, would be in addition to the present grading now being done there by the County.

After deliberation, it was decided by the Board that an additional $400 would be added to the two previous appropriations to cover the opening of Dakota Road. Grading appropriations by the County on this site now total $3900.

Work Underway On "System" Roads

Paper work was underway on the Clanton-Wilsonville farm-to-market road when the Board voted to accept the plans and survey which had been received.

J. B. Pitts, bidder awarded contract of work on the Enterprise-New Cedron Road, appeared before the Board requesting permission to proceed on the paving of this road. Pitts stated that with favorable conditions, his company hoped to complete this project in three weeks working time.

This is a Lenton study and will continue on March 25th and on April 15th and will be concluded on April 19th, with a Communion Service held in the sanctuary of the Church.

Members of all churches are cordially invited to attend these studies.

James K. Foshee Promoted To Capt.

James K. Foshee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sie Foshee of Clanton has been promoted to the rank of Captain in the United States Air Force. He is serving with the Courier Service in Athens, Greece.

He is assigned to Det. 8, 8th Air Postal Sqdn. and is in charge of the Courier Transfer Station there.

WE HOPE—

IT CAME FROM UP; BUT NOT FROM OUTER SPACE

Sunday, March 10 there was nothing better to do than lay around the yard. That's what the little dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Hayes of Hinkle Road, Clanton thought until he spied something floating down from the clouds. According to Mrs. Hayes, he then began to raise all sorts of fuss about the strange object until someone came out to investigate. They and he kept a respectful distance however.

Everybody was a little jittery about the object (since, according to description, it was about two feet around and was green white (mostly green, and so were the discoverers). Anyhow Mrs. Lillie Bryce, an aunt decided that she didn't want anything to do with the "monster".

It turned out to be a big balloon (what else), with a smaller balloon inside it. This smaller had features which were readily recognizable. . they were that of Mickey Mouse

Since it didn't turn out to be Martian space ship Mrs Hayes was somewhat disappointed, she being the adventuresome type. However she would like to know just where the thing came from. Did it come from this vicinity or did it come from fifty or 100 miles away? It was filled with helium gas. How come?

Don't give up Mrs. Hayes, there may be some mystery here yet; and being curious too, we kinda hope there is. Not the outer space variety, however.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

You have to cultivate good habits — bad ones grow wild.

When truth stands in your way, it's time for you to change your directions.

Always remember that a misguided car is a deadly weapon.

No man can be expected to pay as he goes if he is going broke.

The habit of striking back when adversity hits you is sure to win in the end.

It's no sin to go motoring on Sunday but the way some people drive is a crime.

GOOD PUBLICITY!—

WHILE CHILTON COUNTY is bemoaning the bad publicity we have received in recent weeks we must thank those writers and newspapers for page after page of constructive news about our County.

Especially has the Montgomery Advertiser given much space to publicizing our agricultural advantages and experiments. The other state dailies have also given much space to the County's rural programs.

This we must appreciate and be proud of. Thanks to our good citizens of Chilton County we can still hold our own in the things that are worthwhile and lasting.

And thanks to the neighboring dailies who have cooperated in telling the world of our agricultural exploits and endeavors.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR FATHERS!—

With the 47th anniversary of Father's Day coming up June 16th, our only lady Senator, Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith, of Maine, has risen in the chamber of that august body to castigate her fellow solons for their self-consciousness and their "small, sensitive feelings". In supporting the crusade of the mother who founded Father's Day, Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Washington, the lady from the opposite side of the continent presented what she called "and equal rights joint resolution" to authorize the President to proclaim the third Sunday of each June as Father's Day throughout the United States.

Senator Smith reminded her male colleagues that Mother's Day was legalized in 1917 and she was all for it, but said she sometimes felt "just a little embarrassed at the deification accorded us by the male population". She charged Congress with "40 years of the worst possible oversight" and declared:

"Either we honor both our parents, mother and father, or let us desist from honoring either one. But to single out just one of our two parents and omit the other is the most grievous insult imaginable."

"Congress represents all of our citizens, men and women. At least, I always thought so. But instead of considering the feelings of both men and women, you gentlemen have only considered your own feelings; you were too self-conscious to honor yourselves, as fathers, so every year you have pigeon-holed every resolution introduced in this chamber to legalize this fine American institution, now firmly established and observed, which the people affectionately call Father's Day."

"As the only woman member of this august body, I feel certain I speak for the women of the country when I say to you here and now, 'gentlemen, you are mistaken. You did wrong when you failed to pass the Father's Day resolutions year after year. Mothers are proud that you have designated a day for them. But they are filled with chagrin that you have rejected their life partners, their sweethearts, the protectors of their land and their homes, the fathers of their children!"

Senator Smith's resolution, similar to one introduced in the House by Rep. Walt Horan, of Washington, was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. But we do not think it will get lost this time.

The gentlemen have, as the saying goes, been told!

"Real" Cuts Recommended----

Warning that proposed government spending of $73.5 billion (including the federal highway program) carries both an inflation potential and jeopardy to our country's continued economic growth, the National Association of Manufacturers has recommended some "real" reductions.

These would total $8.2 billion, including reductions of 4.1 billion in civilian spending, $2.2 billion in foreign aid, and $1.9 billion in military spending. The big cut in civilian spending can be accomplished, the NAM asserts, by holding certain programs down to 1956 or '57 spending levels, avoiding new programs, and by completely eliminating certain programs which have been set up in the 1958 proposals.

The NAM also calls upon President Eisenhower to take "firm leadership in the implementation of budget reductions." The cuts which it recommends might well be a start.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

"TUCK"

You are no doubt familiar with the party who says "I'm sure sorry I didn't have a better education." We contend that a human being is whatever he makes himself to be and in the above mentioned case, we doubt if the education he pines for would have done him much, if any, good.

We are not arguing that a good education is not a fine thing and a desirable thing, on the contrary, it is a wonderful thing to posess. What we are saying however, is that a person who did not have a fine education should not be sorry for the rest of his days. Higher education is necessary for many things, but living is not one of them. A person, without a college degree can have a full life, sometimes even fuller than the person who has his Masters.

The person who blames his failures and his shortcomings or his troubles in general on his education, or lack of it, doesn't seem to have the horse sense it would take to put him through the higher learning brackets anyhow. A person who will, blame thusly, will very likely blame the first handy thing around rather than facing up to the problem honestly and squarely.

Good things and bad happen to us through the years. So many, in fact, that we cannot say whether a change, in education or anything else would have helped us or hindered. Fate has its merit you know.

Who are we to say what "would have been" better for us? We'll never know how much better we "could" have been. We CAN try to live with ourselves as we are and better ourselves as we go. We could have been many things. . . . we could dream our lives away. There is most assuredly no purpose or promise in that.

Sign up the road reads "200 ft front — 250 ft. deep." When we read that sign the other day, after considering its location, we couldn't determine whether the "deep" in mention meant "back" or "down". Darndest marsh you ever saw.

And speaking of crickets: If your crickets don't drink RC Cola then they just ain't cricket. Sign on the way to our river camp reads as follows: "Crickets — Drink RC Cola." Now there's a bit'o-news. We have always wondered why crickets make that infernal leg-rubbin' racket. Well now we know. It seems the effect on them is something like white lightnin is to us. And they have some noble leg-rubbin' crickets down around the river banks.

Say now, how about that blizzard? Snow joke. What? You didn't see it? We had some real, honest Injun, Yankee (if you'll pardon the expression) precipitation last Friday and everyone (almost) enjoyed it. Didn't last long, but it served its purpose and kids around these parts who had never had the pleasure of pattin' a snow ball together now have had the thrill. It was just the right kind of snow that makes a perfect snow man. How do we know? Why we got out in it, man. 'Course if it had lasted a day or two and been as many inches deep; well, you know folks around these parts: it doesn't take them long to get too much of a good thing.

And for that matter, it doesn't take a good thing long to get the best of them either.

Speaking of good things; something very good has happened to us through a friend of ours. Marion Deaton (Pete to us) a lifetime buddy of yours truly has just finished his basic flight training (or something like that) out in San Antonio, Texas. He's on his way up. With luck (which he has) and brains (which is dubious) he will soon be a jet pilot in the United States Air Force. We're mighty proud for him and of him, but that's not the best part of the whole thing. What makes us proudest of him, is the fact that he finished at the very top in a class of 88 (or so). That's our boy, alright. Oh yeah, he has also been appointed assistant to the Chaplain out there, something else for which we are personally very proud. We hope to see the old boy soon to give him a pat on the back. Just hope his success doesn't change him much, we like him just plain "Pete".

Now, you're all finished. Wasn't so bad was it. They don't make medicine like they used to.

Alabama rural areas were served by 87,630 Southern Bell telephones at the end of 1956.

Across The Editor's Desk--

One Citizen's Opinion

By H. Calby Smith

A few years ago we sat in on a discussion of the best place to live in these United States and Territories.

The group consisted of unbiased men of sound common sense whose profession has carried them over the world. Except for myself, all these men had one or more college degrees and by reasonable standards were successful in their chosen profession.

This writer carries many scars that stand as indisputable evidence of the result of more emotionally charged, and less logical discussions of the South and the State of Alabama in younger and more foolish days among groups with lower educational levels.

This discussion was different. Most of the group planned to live near the cosmopolitan centers of the U. S. and in the warmer states of California and Florida. Two things about the discussion really surprised me. Only one of the group planned to retire to the area where they spent their early youth and nearly all of them wanted to live in the country.

No other member of this group came from the South. None could understand why, with so many other areas to choose from, I planned to live in the center of Alabama. In the pro and con of the discussion, this group brought out the unsavory publicity of our politics in the national press and the known racial problem. They were well aware that shifts in population has changed the whole picture and dispute the once accepted theory that the Southern people are the most hospitable in the Nation.

In such a discussion one could not get any credit for the fact that his great grand parents lived in this area before it was a State and when Huntsville was a social center for plantation owners. The old saw of the once famed Southern hospitality is outmoded and out-dated in an age when the public understands that good manners and real hospitality pays off in dividends of prosperity.

You cannot say that our cities and countryside are more beautiful. Many of the later Western cities and towns have us stopped there. Better developed areas in the country of some States rule out such a statement.

We could and did go all out for Chilton County because of its natural possibilities as a fruit center, the wonderful cover for wildlife in the woods and hills, possibilities of development as recreational facilities, and last, but not least, the challenge of the old dilapidated homes in the country with plenty of room to breathe, away from the hustle and bustle of the cities, and the routine grind of industrial time clocks.

Farmers are, in most areas of the world, in the worst financial condition of any group in the social strata. They probably work harder and put in more hours making a living than any other group. They have a well-developed moral sense and probably due to the remote nature of their life, are the most hospitable group. They get more help from various sources than any other group. While some of this help is misguided effort and does more harm than good, some of it is the best in the world.

Despite all this assistance, which is the subject of complaint by half or more of our taxpaying citizens who foot the bill, he remains at the low end of the Totem Pole. It is the opinion of this writer for many years, that the farmer can blame all his troubles on himself and his neighbor on the farms around him. While the doctor, the baker and the candlestick maker have long ago learned the value of cooperation, the farmer remains a rugged individualist. Fifty farmers working together for their own good can accomplish a great deal for themselves and the community in which they live.

Take the word of one who has been, and seen. There is no such thing as surplus food products in the world in which we live today. There is a problem of economics and distribution, but there is no surplus of food in the world as long as there are hungry people anywhere. It is this citizens opinion that even in the United States, there should always be sufficient food stored to feed the nation two or more years. Droughts, floods, wars and other disasters can cut off farm production. Abroad we literally give billions of dollars in an effort to obtain the good will of the people of the world. These people have told us in many ways that we cannot buy good will with "Yankee" dollars. You can certainly buy a lot of good will among people suffering from famine with good food appropriately packaged a gift of the people of the United States.

Merchants, businessmen, and those of us who live on the farms in this and other countries have a problem. Most of the former are dependent on farm families for their business. Farmers are renting their cotton land to the Government and we are told that the Government is also subsidizing other interests in the purchase of farm land in this area to plant to trees. Whether they have such a subsidy, corporations are buying such land. Cotton is one of the few stable crops that year in and year out has paid the operating expenses of the small farmer and kept him struggling on the farm. It is plainly evident that such practices will have the long range result of driving the farmer of the farm.

There is no industry in this County to absorb this change. When the families disappear, the towns and villages will become ghosts of their former prosperity or disappear entirely. We have no real argument with what may be the long range objective of centralizing farming in areas where it can be done more efficiently with less labor. We cannot dispute the theory that a large portion of this land is better adapted to raising timber and paperwood. However, we have a strong and valid objection ot any practice, regardless of the efficiency involved, that takes away our neighbors on the farm and may ruin our merchants in our towns.

We selected this place to live out of a whole Nation and do not propose to stand idle about things that disturb our status quo. Let the exponents of efficiency in our Government go eat one of the modern pellets that contain all the food values of bacon and eggs for his breakfast.

Personally, we will stick by bacon and eggs for ours.

POULTRY DISPOSAL PITS SAID TO CUT DISEASE RATES SHARPLY

Growing pains come naturally to any thriving business, and Alabama's rapidly growing broiler industry is no exception. It is faced with the disposal of the low percentage of diseased birds which crop up even though control and sanitation methods used are reasonably good.

Construction of poultry disposal pits, particularly on large poultry farms, is recommended. Some 4000 poultrymen in the state have flocks numbering 5000 or more. Smaller farmers are advised to use homemade incinerators.

Use of either of these methods will reduce the disease problems of not only your flock, but possibly in your neighbors flocks also.

Poultrymen may obtain simple drawings of these pits, showing their construction from their County Agent. Such pits save labor and time, doing away with the necessity of digging a hole or starting a fire every time a bird dies.

The pit can be located near the poultry house, since a properly built one has no odor. It can be used anytime, whether the ground is frozen or the weather rainy. Best of all it presents no fire hazards and animals cannot dig into it.

The pit should be at least six feet deep and four to six feet wide. The top covering should be of durable, tightly fitted lumber with an opening in the center just large enough for the largest bird. The opening needs a tight fitting lid. And with the exception of this opening, the pit should be covered with at least one foot of earth. The pit's opening can be made with any material that can accomodate a tight fitting lid.

Present indications are that approximately 39,000 Alabama farmers will have 250,000 acres of cotton land in the Soil Bank this year. This accounts for about one-fourth of the state's allotted acreage, leaving about 750,000 to be planted.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

After many weeks of committee hearings and floor debate, the Senate last week passed the President's requested Middle Eastern resolution by a 72 to 19 vote.

This resolution, adopted in January by the House of Representatives, contains two important provisions. The first provision makes it perfectly clear that the United States will assist militarily any Middle Eastern country asking for our help in the event of overt armed aggression by a communist nation. The second provision gives the President the authority to spend up to $200 million of existing mutual security funds in this area before July 1st.

Although the Senate amended the House-adopted resolution, it was generally agreed that no material changes were made as a result of the Senate's action. On Thursday, the House agreed to the Senate amendments and the resolution was signed by President Eisenhower two days later.

Mission to Middle East—

Leaving for the Middle East early this week is a special mission whose main purpose is to explain the Eisenhower doctrine to the people of that area. To head this mission, President Eisenhower has appointed James P. Richards of South Carolina, former chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. A Democrat, Ambassador Richards retired at the end of the 84th Congress after serving 24 years as a member of the House of Representatives. It was my privilege to work very closely with "Dick" Richards during the last Congress, and I know of no member of the House of Representatives who was more highly respected.

Two-thirds of the world's known oil reserves are in the Middle East, and the entire economy of Western Europe depends to a large extent on that oil supply. Should the Middle Eastern area fall under communist control, the security of our allies in Western Europe would be seriously imperiled.

Ambassador Richards is well aware of the importance of his mission, and his former colleagues in Congress know that he will tackle with real determination the difficult assignment he has undertaken.

Congress' Anniversary—

The House of Representatives interrupted its legislative activities on Monday of last week to observe the 168th anniversary of the Congress of the United States.

The 91 members of the First Congress — 26 Senators and 65 Representatives — assembled on March 4, 1789 in New York for their initial session. Because of transportation difficulties, however it was not until a month later that a quorum was present and Congress was able to start its legislative functions.

At the time of Congress' inception, the population of the United States was not quite four million as compared with the nearly 170,000,000 people living in our country today. However, it was pointed out during the anniversary observance that, although the rules of procedure have changed from time to time through the years, Congress remains today basically the same as it was 168 years ago. It still serves as the voice of the American people.

THORSBY NEWS

MRS. ESTELLE HAYES

Thorsby Congregational Church—

A wonderful surprise was given your pastor last week; though we had not advertised our birthday, word got around some way. A letter was handed to us with a beautiful birthday wish and these words written: "To Our Shepherd, From His Flock. No more appreciative words could have been written. Truly it is a gloriou privilege to be a "Shepherd" to my dear "Flock".

Your pastor will attend a board meeting in Atlanta on Tuesday, March 12.

Wednesday, March 20, the Central Ala. District Ladies' Rally will convene at our church. Sessions open at 2:45 p.m. A featured attraction will be the address at 6:45 p.m. by Miss Frances Thompson, tor 19 years a Congregational Christian educator in the Phillipines, three of them spent during World War II in a Japanese Internment camp in Manila. All members are urged to be present, and all friends invited. You will miss a treat if you cannot be present.

As we observe the season of Lent, the 40 days preceding Easter, may we truly reconsecrate ourselves to a deeper experience that comes when we are "In Him". He gave His all for us. If we are truly Christian we can do no less than give our all for Him.

We are thankful that Mrs. "Muzzie" Jenkins is improving from a fall several days ago that injured her hip.

POPLAR SPRINGS

By MISS DOROTHY HILL

The Rev. Roy Hornsby, pastor—

The attendance for Sunday School was better than it has been for a while. We hope that it will continue to grow. We also hope that the attendance for Training Union will pick up and start growing.

We enjoyed the wonderful message that Bro. Hornsby brought Sunday morning. We also enjoyed the one he brought Sunday night, taken from the First chapter of Romans. This was the first of a series of messages that Bro. Hornsby plans to bring to us from the Book of Romans. Therefore, we invite you to come to hear the wonderful teachings of this book.

We had several visitors whom we were happy to have and invite them again, as well as anyone else

Remember the Prayer Meeting next Wednesday night and come if you can.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Liles of Talladega visited Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hill and family during the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meacham also visited the Hills during the week-end.

The Ladies of the W.M.S. met at different homes each day last week for their Week of Prayer. They had good attendance and enjoyed the meetings very much.

4-H'ers Offered Gardening Tips

Approximately 450 Chilton County 4-H Club members have Home Gardens included in their 4-H Club program. These boys and girls who have selected gardens as a project can expect a good return on capital and labor invested.

With good management, the average ¼ acre farm garden should provide ample vegetables for a family of five. Vegetables from this size garden would be worth $250.00 to $350.00 retail.

A 4-H member who lives in town and has a plot 25' x 50' for a garden should be able to grow at least $100.00 worth of vegetables.

4-H'ers are reminded of the following garden recommendations:

1. Plant perennial crops such as asparagus and strawberries at one side of the garden.

2. Plant corn, pole beans, and other tall crops to one side of the garden to avoid shading low crops.

3. Group early spring crops such as radishes, lettuce, early cabbage and onions, so when they are harvested the ground can be prepared for later crops.

4. Provide for several plantings of corn, snap beans, and other vegetables to have a continuous supply.

5. Do not over plant new, untested varieties or any vegetable the family does not eat. Do not plant too much of any vegetable at one time.

Home Orchards On Increase As 4-H Club Project

The number of 4-H Club home orchard projects were sharply increased during the last few weeks. Strawberries, grapes, pears, apples, apricots, plums, and various recommended peach varieties were included in the plantings. Our Horticultural Experiment Station made the strawberry plants available; other nursery stock was donated by the H. G. Hallum Nursery Company and the Cumberland Valley Nursery

Three hundred and seven 4-H Club boys and girls planted from 15 to 4,000 strawberry plants per project.

The nursery stock included 30 to 40 fruit trees per project.

Selected 4-H Club members from each school in the County had the opportunity to participate. The purpose for this special project was to set up variety demonstrations as near the schools as possible.

Recommended orchard practices will be carried out in each project.

Most projects included 10 varieties—ranging from early to late producers. 4-H tours and community visits will be made at appropriate times to acquire proper information for educational values.

STANTON NEWS

Mrs. Willoughby Honored—

On Saturday, March 2nd, Mrs. Jesse Harris, Mrs. Henry O. Houston and Mrs. Thelma Ramsey were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Harris for a Bridal Shower honoring Mrs. Floyd Willoughby (nee Sara Nichols).

Those attending were: Mesdames Joe Baskin, W. A. Friday, Ruby Harville, Alma Huff, J. R. Robinson, Ullman Nichols, Ruby Mae Biscoe, Lula Dee Bearden, Wendel Smitherman, C. C. Gay, Thelma Ramsey, Henry O. Houston, Ben Atchison and Misses Robinson, McAffee and Houston.

The hostess featured an arrangement of a wagon, dressed in green and white crepe paper to represent a van. The gifts were placed in this van, to overflowing. When all had gathered, the bride's baby sister and Mrs. Harris' baby girl pulled the van into the room in front of the bride, where she opened and displayed all the gifts for everyone to see.

Mrs. Willoughby received many nice and useful gifts. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gay entertained Sunday for dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Ware and children, Mickie, Mary, Alice and Sandra and Mrs. Ruby Mae Biscoe and son, Henry Eugene and Mrs. Marie Little.

Mr. W. M. Batton is not feeling well since he had the flu. He says it is hard for him to gain any strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham Carter and children visited the C. C. Gays Sunday afternoon.

It will soon be turkey hunting season, but let everyone that hunts, be sure to have licenses and permits and conduct themselves as good sportsmen

This community was saddened Saturday evening, March 2nd, when Mrs. Bonnie Lee Harris, age 35 was killed in a car wreck along with two others in the car with her. They were coming from work at Craig Field.

Mrs. Harris was the wife of Mr. W. Lester Harris, who is employed by Mr. Walter Stoudemire of Selma. Mr. Harris is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harris of this community

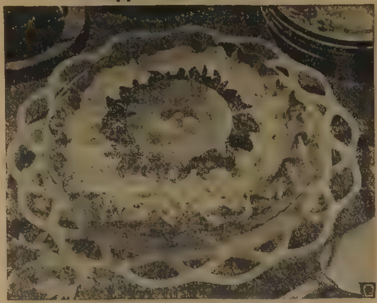
Pineapple Mint Fluff Pie



Pretty as a picture in precooked pie shell.

Pineapple Mint Fluff Pie has all the requisites of a perfect dinner dessert or a snack later in the evening with coffee.

A generous quantity of golden crushed pineapple with marshmallows folded in, delicately flavored with mint, combine to make this a pie with a really intriguing difference. The pastry can be a pie mix method.

For a special occasion, garnish with an extra puff of whipped cream, a ring of pineapple and fresh mint leaves.

PINEAPPLE MINT FLUFF PIE

- 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
- 2 teaspoons chopped fresh mint (or a few drops mint extract)
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Dash of salt
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 4 marshmallows
- 3/4 cup whipping cream
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Drain the syrup from pineapple. To the syrup add mint leaves, if used. Simmer one minute. Soften gelatin in cold water. Strain hot pineapple syrup. Stir in sugar, salt, softened gelatin, pineapple, lemon juice, and mint extract if fresh mint is not used. Cool until slightly thickened. Fold in marshmallows cut into small pieces. Refrigerate until thick, but not yet firm. Whip cream stiff and fold in. Pile into baked pie shell. Refrigerate several hours, until firm. Garnish with an extra puff of whipped cream, if desired, pineapple and fresh mint leaves. Serves 6 to 8.

Prospective Egg Producers To Tour Heiberger

COUNTY AGENT TO CONDUCT TOUR

Farmers in Chilton County who ar interested in commercial egg production have an opportunity to visit the Heiberger Community on Wednesday, March 20th announces Albert Pitts, Asst. County Agent.

This community, in the adjacent County of Perry, has quite a number of farmers who recently established commercial size flocks of chickens and are now marketing their eggs thru a wholesale outlet.

We want to talk to these farmers and maybe we can get some ideas and opinions that will help us answer some of the questions in our minds about commercial egg production here in Chilton County, says Pitts.

If you are interested in making this tour, notify the County Agent's office so transportation can be arranged.

The group will leave the County Agent's office at 8:00 a.m. Wednesday, March 20th and should be back by 12:00 noon.

If you are interested in commercial egg production it would be well worth the time spent in this community and talking with these farmers, so make your plans to go.

CHILTON FARMERS FINDING THAT MONEY CAN GROW "ON" TREES

'Tis the County of Chilton in the State of Alabama—not the Land of Greenback—and the tree is the familiar pine—not "The Money Tree" as the song goes—but even so, more and more Chilton County farmers are finding trees a good source of income, especially now that the conservation reserve program of the Soil Bank " ances trees for the next 10 years.

It is predicted that 60 million seedlings will be set out over the entire state during the next planting season, increasing the forest land of our State by 60,000 acres.

Deadline on joining the 1957 conservation reserve has been extended from March 15 to April 15, giving farmers another month to sign up. Those joining can plant any kind of trees except Christmas trees or nursery stock, and the government will pay 80 percent of the planting cost, plus rent on the land for the nex 10 years.

Last planting season, farmers under this program were hampered by a shortage of pine seedlings, but an extra 60 million seedlings will be available next planting season.

Unlike "The Money Tree" however, farmers planting trees cannot "lean back" in an easy chair and wait. The more they work putting into effect good forestry practices and management, the more money their trees will draw throughout the years.

Trees do not have to be cultivated or fertilized. The main advantage to cultivation is better fire control, and a good fire break is much cheaper.

WITH LIONS INTERNATIONAL

Bobby Lane, T. J. Lockhart, Sam Stewart and Doc Wilkinson were officially inducted into our Club last week.

Charter Monarch pins and certificates were presented to Lions B. L. Adams, 'Gassy' Foshee and Ralph Morrison for 10 years service. Jimmy Fort was presented his Charter Monarch pin and certificate for 25 years of Lionism.

Congratulations are certainly in order for the above Lions.

'Gassy' advised that plans for the 10th Anniversary charter meeting were going forward and that the meeting would be held March 29th at a place to be designated later. Several guests will be in attendance including the district governor and the presidents of the Maplesville and T-J Clubs. Presentation of the Lion of The Year award will be made this same night.

The Lions Club will sponsor a musical comedy in Clanton. Tentative dates are April 25th and 26th.

For A Bumper Crop—
CORN GROWERS --- DON'T SKIMP ON SEED, FERTILIZER

Iowa may be known for its tall corn, but Alabama can have good corn, too, if growers will use all the best production practices.

The seed plays a major role in determining yield. All the corn you plant this year should be the best hybrid—not just any hybrid.

Of course, fertilizer also is a prerequisite of a good yield. Better yields come from fields fertilized according to soil test recommendations. Where no soil test is made, the use of 250 pounds of 4-12-12 or 350 pounds of 8-8-8 per acre is recommended before planting. During the second cultivation, side-dress to bring the total nitrogen content up to beween 60 and 90 pounds per acre.

Do not skimp on either seed or fertilizer—a good crop calls for a generous supply of both.

Other pointers for good yields include planting on firm seedbed and adjusting planter to drop seed uniformly.

ANNUAL REPORT—
SOUTHERN BELL IS GROWING RIGHT ALONG WITH THE SOUTH

The Southern Bell Telephone Company had its greatest year of expansion in 1956, according to the Company's Annual Report, which was released by Mr. O. W. Norton, manager.

Mr. Fred J. Turner, Chairman of the Board of Directors, revealed that the Company added 462,000 telephones in its nine-state areas and was operating 5,358,000 telephones at year's end The company connected 1,558,000 telephones, including 456,000 moved from one local address to another.

In Alabama the report showed 45,000 telephones were added, bringing the total to 552,000. In Clanton alone 340 telephones were added.

Mr. Turner said in the report that the company spent over $1,000,000 each working day last year in constructing telephone facilities, or almost $312,000,000. On an average day last year, about 767,000 long distance calls and 33,000,000 local calls were handled.

Employees increased to over 69,000 and the company paid southerners a total of $266,000,000 in wages—almost $32,000,000 more than in 1955.

As a result of increased costs and the increased investment per telephone, "telephone rates paid by customrs in the overall do not adequately meet today's costs of providing the service," the report declares. Consequently the overall company earnings in 1956 were not what they should have been and were lower than those of businesses in general in the South, the report said.

1957 growth is expected to be as great, according to the report.

Good Dish for a Blustery March Day

FNS

If you're a devotée of the Old Farmer's Almanac, you know that March can be expected to bring "seasonable, meaning miserable, weather, snow and rain together."

Northerners, dreaming of sunny climes, might well settle for a right generous serving of DIXIE-STYLE CHICKEN AND HAM SHORTCAKE. Featuring chicken a la king, this warming and hearty dish speaks with a decidedly Southern accent.

On top of each square of crusty, fragrant corn bread goes a slice of ham. Over this is spooned rich, creamy canned chicken a la king (the 10½ ounce size), delicately flavored with sherry if you like. Topping it all, there's a generous sprinkling of shredded sharp cheese. Then into the oven it goes until the cheese is meltingly good.

Not a bit complicated when you use superb canned chicken and corn bread mix. [illegible] the a la king recipe. See how easy!

Dixie-Style Chicken and Ham Shortcake

6 squares corn bread (1 package mix)
6 slices boiled ham
2 cans ([illegible]) chicken a la king
1 tablespoon sherry (optional)
[illegible] cup shredded sharp cheese

Place each corn bread square (split in half if too thick) in a buttered individual casserole or skillet; lay slice of ham on top. Combine chicken a la king and sherry; spoon over ham slices. Sprinkle cheese on top. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) for 10 minutes. Serve to 6 lucky people.

IT'S A JIGGS SPECIAL

He never had it so good. Jiggs, that is. Try this new version of corned beef and cabbage made with a creamy sauce of frozen condensed cream of potato soup. You'll love it too! Heat slowly 1 can (10¼ ounces) frozen condensed potato soup with 1 soup can milk, stirring often. Add 1 cup cubed, cooked corned beef and 1 cup finely shredded cabbage. Cook over low heat until cabbage is tender. Serves 4.

Beta Sigma Phi Held Open Meeting March 11th

Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. Clair Norris Monday night, March 11.

The meeting was called to order by the vice-president Mrs. Edna Higgins in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ed Blackmon.

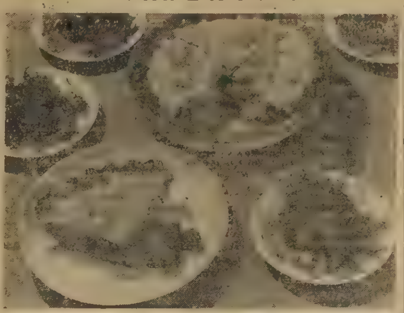
Roll call and minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Odell Headley.

During the business meeting one of the topics discussed were new By-Laws and plans for the new year. This was also an open meeting for prospective members.

The purpose of Beta Sigma Phi was given by the hostess, Mrs. Clair Norris. After the business session the meeting was turned over to the program chairman Mrs. W. B. Crowe, Jr. Mrs. Crowe and Mrs. Edna Higgins presented a most interesting program on the subject "Conversation As A Mean of Enjoying People".

During the social hour delectable refreshments were served to the following members; Mesdames, Erskin Wyatt, W. B. Crowe, Jr., Milton Mims, Howard J. Maddox, William Hicks, Edna Higgins, Margie Messer, Odell Headley. The honored guests were: Mesdames Herbert Salter, Charles Wade III, Wilson Maddox, Charles A. Price, and Miss Margurite Rainey.

Tuna Fish Pie



Steaming hot wedges of Tuna Fish Pie and individual tomato aspic salads team up for a tempting Lenten menu.

A meatless main dish pie can be the star of an outstanding Lenten lunch or supper. Tuna Fish Pie is a hearty and satisfying substitute for meat during the pre-Easter season.

Cheese added to the pastry gives a glamorous touch to Tuna Fish Pie. You can use the same good self-rising flour to make the pastry that you use for quick breads. The baking powder in the flour will make a light, airy pastry. The flour contains salt, too, so you won't need it in the recipe.

Interesting main dishes and hot home-made breads can make your Lenten menus appetizing and appealing. Use self-rising flour to save time and insure good results when you bake biscuits, muffins and nut breads.

TUNA FISH PIE

1/3 cup shredded American cheese
1¼ cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1/3 cup shortening
3 to 4 tablespoons cold water

Stir cheese into flour. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Cover or wrap in waxed paper. Place in refrigerator while preparing Tuna Filling.

TUNA FILLING

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/3 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons enriched self-rising flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups drained, flaked tuna (two 7-ounce cans)
1 cup cooked, drained peas

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add onion and cook 2 minutes, stirring frequently. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Gradually stir in milk and cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Blend in Worcestershire sauce, tuna and peas. Remove from heat. Divide pastry in half. Roll one-half to circle ⅛ inch thick and fit into 8-inch pie pan. Roll remaining half of dough for top crust. Pour Tuna Filling into bottom crust. Arrange top crust over filling. Trim and flute edge. Prick or slash top pastry to allow steam to escape. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 40 minutes. Cool a few minutes before cutting into wedges. Makes 4 servings.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

HINT OF THE WEEK—

Slightly soiled wallpaper can usually be cleaned with a clean cloth dipped into dry powdered borax and then rubbed over the dirty spots.

A good test to use before investing in a new carpet is to put small samples of the material under the legs of a chair overnight. The next day move the chair away and see if the indentation disappears.

New leather conditioners with silicone added help make shoes water repellent. Like other leather conditioners they also contain waxes and oils to keep leather supple.

Simple gold or silver metal pieces of costume jewelry go better with sports, tailored, or casual clothes than complete sets of earrings, necklace, and the like.

Use a hairbrush to help clean your hair during your shampoo. It not only brushes the soap throughout your hair, but also stimulates the scalp.

Keep handles of cooking pans and pots on the stove turned so that children cannot grasp them and cause painful accidents.

Buttered scissors make cutting marshmellows easier. The butter keeps the marshmellows from sticking to the scissors or sticking together.

Mrs. Samuel Johnson Hostess To Circle 3

Circle III of the WSCS met on Monday, March 11 with Mrs. Samuel E. Johnson at 3 p.m. with the following members presest: Mesdames Joe Campbell, Ervin Dailey, Omar Reynolds, Hollis Jackson, T. C. McSwain, R. M. Tucker, C C. White and one guest, Mrs. J. J Mullins

The devotional was given by Mrs R. M. Tucker and Mrs. Joe Mullins presented a most interesting program.

Following a short business session refreshments were served by the hostess.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE ANT BEING ATTACKED FROM ALL SIDES

The Alabama Cattlemen's Association has extended an invitation to a sub-committee of Congress and experts from the United States Department of Agriculture to visit Alabama and inspect first hand the tremendous damage that is being done by the imported fire ant.

Mortimer Jordan, president said that he had been informed by members of the Alabama Congressional Delegation that the Research and Extension sub-committee of the House Agricultural Committee will hold hearings on March 18 and shortly thereafter that committee and experts from the U. S. Department of Agriculture are planning to inspect infested areas.

Congressmen and Senators from the Southern States affected by the fire ant will meet in Washington on March 12, to discuss plans for an immediate program for the control and eradication of this pest.

Jordan, in a letter to Alabama Senators and Congressmen stated that the cattlemen of Alabama are anxious to assist them in obtaining first-hand information of the damage that is taking place as a result of the imported fire ant and offered the facilities of the Alabama Cattlemen's Association in conducting this inspection.

Jordan expressed appreciation to the entire Alabama Congressional Delegation for the efforts they are making to secure federal assistance in combating this most serious problem.

FROM WASH.—

SPECIAL BULLETIN---

Rep. Armistead Selden has introduced legislation in the House of Representatives that will authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to establish a fire ant eradication program under the provisions of a section of the Department of Agriculture Organic Act of 1944.

The present law lists the specific insects and plant diseases which can be attacked by the Agriculture Department, such as the Japanese beetle, peach mosaic, Dutch elm disease, and others. Congressman Selden's bill amends this provision by including authorization for a program to eradicate "insect pests . . . such as imported fire ant".

The measure has been referred to the House Committee on Agriculture, and Rep. Selden is urging the committee members to act on this legislation at the earliest possible date.

Alabama Industry Days Coming Soon-

Alabama Is Gaining New Attention With Oil Output

The total oil production in Alabama in 1956 topped the combined output for 1954 and 1955 according to noted authorities.

A total of 3,213.731 barrels was produced in Alabama during 1956, 1,789,205 of which were turned out in the Citronelle field. During the year a total of 47 new wells were added, most of them at Citronelle. In December, Alabama had its best oil month in history with 361,988 barrels being produced.

The oil industry is the youngest industry taking part in Alabama Industry Days, April 29 - May 4. Not until 1944 was the first producing well completed—that being the 351 well to be drilled. Additional discoveries of oil and gas fields are continually being made.

Recent discoveries coupled with the fact that three-fifths of the state is favorable to prospecting for oil and gas indicate that Alabama should become a major oil producing state in the near future.

The crude oil from Alabama is bringing about $3.00 per barrel.

The first oil field in Alabama was the Gilbertown field discovered in 1944. Production was begun in February, 1944, and from then until May, 1957, the field had produced a total of 777,575 barrels. The Citronells field for three months in 1956 produced more oil than did the Gilbertown field in three years. This indicates growing fields and growing oil interests in Alabama

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

YOUR FIRST BABY

When the first baby arrives, the new parents are often confronted with fears that they will do something wrong in caring for the infant. This is a naural feeling, but it is the physician's job to render adequate advice to the mother so that she will have assurance in handling her baby.

With the new baby being the center of things, very often it is difficult for the mother to adjust herself to the change in routine. This is an emotional affair and can be worked out effectively, once the mother recognizes that she should not be too concerned about small disturbances in the old, well-managed routine of her previous life.

The baby's cry is an important signal, since this is the only way of expressing himself. For this reason the mother must understand the infant's need, whether he is hungry, wet, cold, frightened, or whether his arms and legs are restrained forcibly in any one position. Very often, the cry will indicate sheer boredom.

Many new mothers are inclined to feed the baby every time it cries. This is not wise, for the baby's gastrointestinal tract becomes distended with air and food. The result may well be constant colic.

In general, most mothers are inclined to overdress their babies. Actually the clothing varies with the season, but the infant should not be kept too hot. Cotton garments next to the skin are advisable, regardless of the season.

In some infants, a brownish crust appears on the top of the head. This condition is referred to as "Cradle Cap" and is an allergic manifestation, indicating that the baby is sensitive to either some food or a substance with which he is in contact. It may even be caused by the mother's hair, scented soaps or perhaps the wool in clothing or blankets.

Give the baby comfortable surroundings, proper food and love. A calm and happy environment will do much not only for the baby, but for the parents, too. A baby needs a great deal of attention; but once the adjustment in household routine and living has been set, he will make his own contribution of enjoyment to the family.

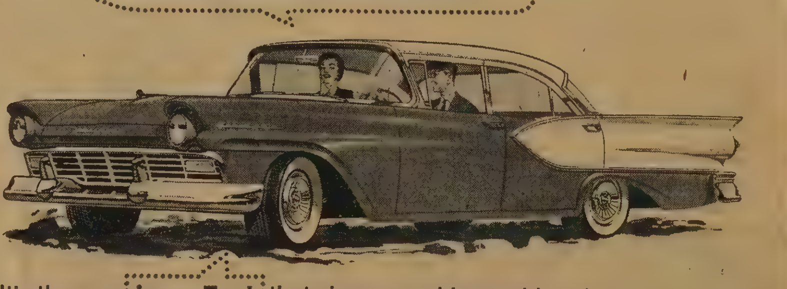
How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?

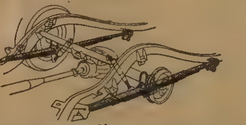


It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

● Folks just naturally love Ford's lower, sleeker silhouette. And they love Ford's new Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that's really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new ride. In the new kind of Ford, vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. For example:

More weight and length
Head for the roughest road in the new kind of Ford. Notice how the biggest bumps lose their "thump"! One reason is that this biggest, longest, heaviest Ford has the extra "beef" to give a smooth, road-hugging ride.

Better balance
One of Ford's nicest back-road habits is to make believe the rough spots aren't there. Proper weight distribution and precise balancing let Ford iron out bumps for better than many of the higher-priced cars.

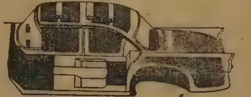


New automatic variable-rate rear springs
Going from a highway to a byway in a Ford, is like going from satin to silk. New design allows Ford's rear springs to "soften" or "stiffen" depending on road conditions. You get a smooth ride all the way!

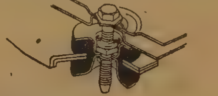
New swept-back Ball-Joint front suspension
Ford's new, stronger front suspension is designed to soak up the shock of rough roads. The new swept-back design lets wheels "roll" with the bump and absorb it going away . . . for far smoother, steadier sailing.

New lower-pressure tires
Even Ford's tires are new for a better ride! Although they require less air pressure, they hold about 17% more air for cushioning the car. This means a softer ride—without sacrifice of Ford's good handling characteristics.

More comfortable seating
There's no sag when you sit in a Ford . . . even on long trips. Comfort-contoured seats, rigidly anchored, have advanced springing for greater comfort and longer life.



More body insulation
Ford has more body insulation—protection against weather, dust, and noise—than any car in the low-price field. You ride through city traffic in library-like quiet.



No metal-to-metal chassis and body contact
Only Ford in its field uses 20 Cushion Quiet rubber body mounts . . . more than any other low-priced car. It all adds up to a smoother, quieter riding car.

Try the new kind of ride in the new kind of FORD

PENSION BOOST FOR AGED IS PROBABLE

State Pensions and Security Department officials are estimating that Commissioner J. Sam Snoddy will be able to authorize an average Old Age pension check this month of about $45, it is reported. The official average for the January pension checks was $39.52. At the same time, aid being given to the totally and permanently disabled, and dependent children will also be raised, it is stated, thanks to a special release of conditional funds for this purpose authorized by Gov. James E. Folsom.

CORINTH NEWS

The attendance for Sunday School and Worship Services was rather small this week due to the flu in so many families. We truly hope all of you are feeling better and will be back in the church services next Sunday.

Both the morning and evening worship services were especially good. Bro. Nichols chose the subject, "Remember Lot's Wife", taken from St. Luke, the 17 Chapter for the morning service and "Men With God-Touched Hearts", from 1st Samuel the 10 Chapter for the evening service.

Again we urge you to come worship with us if you live in this community.

Remember the Training Union and the Wednesday night Prayer Service. These services are an inspiration to every Christian and good spiritual food to make one do more for the building of God's Kingdom.

We were happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Robinson in our Church Sunday.

The GA's met Saturday, March 9th and held their week of Prayer program. The program was very good and the GA's were happy to have three RA boys as visitors.

After the program, the GA's went on a Community Mission trip to visit with Luther Jones. The girls brought cakes to fill a beautiful basket which they gave to Luther. He enjoyed the visit and fruit basket very much.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Clayton Anderson will go to a Birmingham hospital to undergo surgery Thursday morning.

Mrs. Wiley Barron is home from the hospital and would enjoy a visit from you.

Miss Sadie Gore of Howard College was home for the week-end.

Sue Brown was the Saturday night guest of Mary Lou Jones.

Mr. Alfus Jones was the Sunday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones.

Bro. Nichols was the Sunday guest of Mrs. Callie Morris.

CHRYSLER WINS FOURTH CONSECUTIVE CHAMPIONSHIP

A Chrysler 300-C driven by Robert "Red" Byron of W. Palm Beach, Florida, streaks past the finish flag at Daytona Beach to win Chrysler's fourth consecutive NASCAR National Speed Trial Championship and the coveted McCahill trophy for the fastest flying mile set by any car in any class. The 300-C traveled 138.996 mph on the south run and 129.590 mph on the north run for an average of 134.128 mph. Another 300-C won Chrysler's third Women's National Speed Trial Championship in a row when driven by Mrs. Vicki Wood, Detroit housewife and mother of three children.

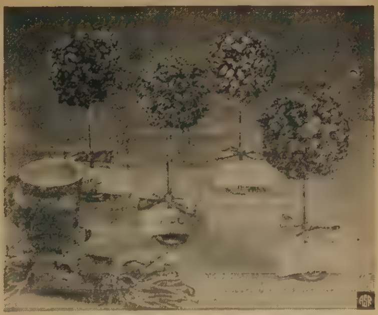
Cereal Apples-on-a-Stick



Big, ripe apples dipped in syrup and covered generously with honey-flavored wheat cereal make intriguing, tasty place-cards for a children's party. Place a wooden skewer in each apple. Then stand the stick in a small flower frog holder. Tie a ribbon bow on the stick and place a name card in the frog holder for a gala double-duty party favor.

CEREAL APPLES

6 medium sized apples
1 cup maple-blended syrup
6 wooden skewers
1 cup sugar
4 cups honey flavored wheat cereal

Wash and dry apples. Insert wooden skewer in each apple. Put cereal in large bowl. Mix syrup and sugar in small deep saucepan. Stir over heat until sugar is dissolved. Cook, without stirring, until candy thermometer registers 270° F. or small amount of mixture dropped in cold water forms a hard ball. Meanwhile, put cereal in large bowl. Dip apples quickly in hot syrup, twirling to coat apples completely. Roll at once in cereal. Cool. Makes 6 cereal candy apples.

Chilton School Children To Have Dental Inspection

Chilton County has been selected as one of the nine counties in Alabama, in which a dental survey has been planned for school children.

A survey aimed at finding out how much dental attention Alabama school children need is being launched this month.

D. G. Gill, state health officer, said the survey would be conducted during March and April. It is being sponsored by the Alabama Dental Assn., the State Department of Education and the State and County Health Depts.

"School Enrollment is so large that it would be impossible to inspect the teeth of every child," Dr Gill said. The survey will be done by sampling, he explained. Schools and classes to be inspected have been selected at random from each geographical area of the state.

Dr. Gill said the survey will provide the first accurate picture of the extent of the tooth-decay problem among Alabama children.

He warned parents of children in the sample classes that this inspection will not take the place of the regular examination by their own dentists.

TWO SUMMER FESTIVALS IN ALA.

Two of Alabama's long-established summer festivals are in active preparation for this year's events

They are the Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo in Mobile, South Baldwin County area, with headquarters on Dauphin Island, and the annual Boat Race Regatta at Guntersville, on the great TVA lake there.

The State Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo has been scheduled for July 26-28 and this year more and larger prizes will be offered.

Guntersville officials say the date for their two-day festival will be decided "very shortly" and that several national champions have already notified of their intention to compete this year.

Both events are sponsored by the respective local Junior Chamber of Commerce and each year attrac thousands of visitors and additiona wealth to the State.

Pillows --- How And What To Buy

Pillows, hard or soft enough to suit any taste, may be bought in stores. And to help shoppers make a wise selection, here are a few suggestions:

Good pillow buys are those that are lightweight, standard size, properly filled, resilient, odorless, dustfree, not lumpy, and covered with closely woven fabric. A well-filled pillow will hold its shape when balanced on the forearm. A resilient pillow will spring quickly back into shape after pressure is removed

'RIDGERUNNERS' JEEP Club members of San Diego, Calif., demonstrate how they could rescue and transport victims trapped under debris of buildings shattered by war or earthquake. The four-wheel-drive vehicle club is the only one of its kind known to have joined local civil defense in a group as a rescue outfit. In addition to their regular civil defense rescue classes, the 60 club members conduct runs into nearby desert and mountain country to practice search and rescue of plane crash victims, lost tourists and other emergencies. LABORERS MOVE equipment from a Federal Civil Defense Administration emergency hospital into a school, similar to other preselected sites which would be utilized in outlying areas after an attack had blasted major target cities. The self-contained hospital can be unloaded from trucks and be in operation in five hours. These units are strategically stockpiled near most of the nation's critical target areas. (Providence, R. Fun for a Rainy Day!

"MARCH WINDS and April showers make way for sweet May flowers" . . . but they also make time go oh, so slowly for the youngsters who still can't get out to play. Here's an afternoon's diversion that will be great fun for them, and will also deliver a rewarding result! Just get a box of marshmallows, some long gumdrops, small round candies, food coloring and a can of tender-thin flaked coconut. With these supplies on hand your youngsters will have great fun making cute Easter Bunnies in their gay green coconut nests, like the ones pictured here. And what a treat they'll be to serve at a rainy-day tea party for the neighborhood small-fry!

EASTER BUNNIES IN COCONUT NESTS

1 can Baker's Angel Flake Coconut
Green food coloring
16 marshmallows
16 long pink gumdrops
Tiny round candies
Toothpicks

Place coconut in glass jar, filling the jar not more than half full. Dilute about ¼ teaspoon green food coloring in a teaspoon of milk or water and sprinkle over coconut. Cover jar and shake vigorously until coloring is evenly distributed. Arrange the tinted coconut on small plates or coasters for the bunny nests. To make Easter bunny, stick the side edge of one marshmallow onto top side of a second marshmallow with a toothpick. Cut one end of each gumdrop to a point and then push the gumdrops into place for bunny ears. Use the cut-off slivers of gumdrops for bunny whiskers. Put on tiny round candies for eyes and nose. Repeat to make 8 Easter bunnies.

Cherokee County Gets Tourist Minded

Taking note of the importance of tourists to the economy of an area and the entire State, Cherokee County and Centre City officials, local legislators and civic leaders, have invited the State Publicity Director Geoffrey Birt to meet with them this week end to help plan promotion of Lookout Mountain as a vacation and tourist point of interest.

This is the latest example of a quickly awakening interest throughout the State in the tourist trade, which is America's largest single industry.

Vermont School

The Vermont PTA met in Mrs. Robinson's room on Tuesday night of last week. In the absence of the president, Mrs. O. C. Roseberry, vice-president Mrs. Leslie Robinson presided.

The meeting was opened by singing, "Standing On The Promises" led by Sue Robinson, and Linda Price.

The devotional reading was given by four fourth grade students, Gail Brasher, Shirley Smith, Sue Robinson and Linda Price, with prayer by Sue Robinson. A number of songs were sung by the girls and Lyndell Robinson of the first grade. Mrs. B. C. Sutton and Mrs. Leslie Robinson gave two interesting parts on "Becoming Better Citizens" and "Good Citizenship".

The Rev. W. E. Robinson made a very inspiring talk on "Spiritual Experience of Everyday Life".

The business session was held with the minutes read, reports, etc. of the previous meeting and the chicken supper recently held.

Nothing of importance was planned. Mrs. Bice and Mrs. Wells rooms tied for the most parents present. Both classes received a free play period.

Basketball—

Vermont basketball teams played in the tournament in the gymnasium at Chilton County High School on Thursday of last week.

The boys team played Thomas Jr. High at 9 a.m. The score was in favor of the opponents.

The girls team played Mt. Pleasant Junior High at 9 p.m. The score was 26 to 19 in favor of Vermont.

On Saturday, March 9th, Vermont girls played Concord girls at Clanton with the score being in favor of Concord.

Vermont School is proud to report winning third place in the basketball tournament.

Plans are being made now to begin softball practice.

Safety Has a Smell—to Baby

HE CAN'T FOCUS THOSE LITTLE BABY BLUE EYES; he can't say anything more sensible than "ga ga." But he can pick up a scent as sharply as a blood hound.

The latest eye-browlifter in the realm of child psychology holds that infants are born with a remarkably acute sense of smell—which they later lose. Presumably baby recognizes his mother by her odor. He knows his beloved old teddy bear in the same way—by his scent. Just pull a slight of hand trick and substitute another toy Junior smells right through this shifty maneuver and howls his bloomin' head off. The toy, it seems, takes on the aroma of the home and symbolizes security So countless kiddies drop off to sleep with their clean scrubbed little cheeks nestled against grimy old teddies.

Obviously youngsters should not bed down with dirty toys. But will a bath destroy Teddy's smell and baby's feeling of safety? Querying a child psychologist, the Tide Washing Clinic learned that it is better to wash a toy than replace it. In fact wash it often, with the same sudsing detergent used in laundering baby's clothes and crib blankets. This clean smell becomes his symbol of safety

Over 70% of cuddly toys are washable, Tide Clinic reports—even machine washable.

Washability depends on the fabric covering and type of stuffing. The most washable stuffing is a new product called polyurelthane isocyanate. It does not absorb water—permits it to run off and the toy dries quickly. Foam rubber is also used. This too is machine washable but takes longer to dry. Cotton batting, often found in toys, is machine washable when the batting is tightly packed. Kapok is also washable but should not be dried in a dryer. Here's a good check list for washing:

1. Rip opening to see what's inside. Then mend rips before washing. Painted faces may run but can be touched up afterwards. Glued trimmings may come off so pull them off first and paste on later.

2. Pre-wash dirty spots first by brushing in Tide granules.

3. Wash in luke warm water and rich active suds. Pink, light blue and gray toys can be washed together. Wash dark colors separately—whites alone.

4. Put three toys at a time in washer; agitate a few minutes. If stuffing is loosely packed, wash by hand.

5. If dried in dryer, add heavy towels to protect them. (ANS)

MT. CREEK NEWS

The Rev. Herman Lowery, pastor

Last Wednesday night the church held its monthly business meeting. We elected a new Training Union director, Mr. Driver, who will serve until the new church year begins.

The Sunday School attendance was good last Sunday. Everyone enjoyed a wonderful sermon. All visitors are encouraged to come again.

The Training Union attendance was about the same as usaul. We are hoping more will come next week.

The choir began practicing for Easter last Thursday night. We are going to have a Special Program which will last about 45 minutes.

There will be a singing, the 4th Sunday, March 24th at Mt. Creek. The chairman, Mr. Driver, urges everyone to come and enjoy the singing. The new books will be used.

Please pray for all the sick in our community that they will soon be back in church.

Sardis

Several in our community have colds. We hope to see a better attendance out for Sunday School and preaching services next Sunday. Our attendance was off some this week.

Our Spring Revival will begin the fifth Sunday in March and continue through the following week. Our goal for Sunday School that Sunday is 55. Why not make the goal before that Sunday?

Bro. Batson will be with us Wednesday night for the Prayer Service.

Sunday morning and night is our regular preaching dates and if you have no other place to worship, we would be happy to have you come and be with us.

Sunday School is at 10:15 and preaching services at 11:00 a.m.

Chilton Countians Taking Advantage of States Fast Growing Forest Industry

Some of the fastest growing forests in the world are located in the South. They have played a large role in providing the raw materials for some of the region's most productive industries, pulp and paper, lumber, furniture, plywood, rayon textiles and many others.

Forest industries in Alabama are the state's third most important, exceeded only by primary metals and textiles. They employ 50,000 people and furnish an annual payroll in excess of $150 million.

One person in every seven employed in manufacturing in Alabama earns his living in some form of the forest industry.

Alabama Industry Days, April 29 - May 4, highlights these statistics to show the contributions of the industry to the state.

The timber crop reached an estimated $450 million in 1956. Industries dependent upon forests such as lumber, furniture and paper products account for 14.5 per cent of the per capita income from manufacturing in Alabama.

Alabama has 4.1 per cent of the nation's commercial forest area. In Southern pine alone, it is one of three ranking states in volume of output producing more than a billion board feet annually.

The South, as a region, leads the nation in production of forest commodities. It produces 38.7 per cent of the total lumber output and over one-half of the pulpwood. Alabama has led in lumber production and has ranked third in pulpwood production in the South.

The South's large production of forest products contributes to the nation's economy in many ways. For instance, in one year the railroads in the South carried over 50 million tons of these products amounting to $121 million in freight revenue.

The large economic contribution of the forestry industry to the continued prosperity of Alabama makes forest conservation an item of major concern. For this reason the industry sponsors the Keep Alabama Green program and is carrying on vigorous reforestation.

The first five cities in Alabama to get telephone service from the Bell System were Mobile, 1879; Montgomery, 1880; Selma, 1880; Birmingham, 1882; Gadsden, 1883.

During 1956, Southern Bell Telephone Company filled 104,854 applications for service in Alabama.

Navy Band Will Be In Concert At State Coliseum March 15th

The U. S. Navy Band, conducted by Commander Charels Brendler, will give two concerts in the Coliseum at Montgomery on Friday, March 15th.

The matinee will be at 2:15 p. m. with the evening performance at 8:15.

This is the annual tour of the Navy band and its first performance in Alabama. In recognition, Governor Folsom has officially proclaimed March 15th as "Alabama High School Band Day".

Except for the World War II years the Navy Band has toured each year since its official designation in 1925. The band today is composed of nearly one hundred individual artists, each of whom could take his place with the world's greatest symphony orchestras.

The Navy Band contains within itself a complete symphony orchestra, which presents the works of the great masters as skillfully as any group in the country. On the other hand, its ultra modern "swingphonette" section gives sparkling personality to light operas and the latest "hit" tunes.

CDR Charles Brendles, who has conducted the Band since 1941, is the first Navy musician to attain the rank of Commander in he Regular Navy. He has conducted the Band before tremendous audiences throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama Jamaica, Haiti and the Virgin Islands.

The Navy band has a broadcast, "The United States Navy Band Hour", which you can hear over your favorite radio station

The entire net proceeds will go to Alabama Sight Conservation. The performances are being sponsored by the Alexander City (Ala.) Lions Club in co-operation with Alabama Lions.

Tickets may be purchased from Lions Clubs. Matinee prices are: Students—50c, Adults—75c. Evening prices are: Students—$1.00, Adults—$1.50.

A First For Alabama—

On Dec. 31, 1956 there were 45,159 more Southern Bell telephones serving Alabama than at the end of 1955.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

IF THE CARPET RUNNER on the stairs or in the hall is so badly worn in spots that it calls for replacement, it needn't be a total loss. Sections in the best condition can be cut with a shears into useful scatter rugs, which are easily bound with "iron-on" adhesive-backed binding tape, available in several colors at hardware stores and elsewhere.

TO SPEED SERVICE at our teller's window (which is to everyone's advantage including your own), do these things when making a deposit in your checking account: Make sure all checks are properly endorsed; list the amount of each check separately on the deposit ticket, writing in the bank's transit number (the hyphenated number printed on the check); add all the items on the ticket — silver, currency, and checks—and be sure the total is correct. We, of course, will verify your figures. Incidentally, be sure to keep a list for yourself of all the checks you deposit, and from whom they came. This can be an invaluable record.

AUCTION SALE March 30, 1957

At Auction — Beautiful Wilmont Gardens — 144 Choice Residential Lots, located at Montevallo, Ala. in Shelby County at the West edge of the City Limits, belonging to Mrs. Ethel L. Rogers.

These 144 lots located between Wilton, Alabama and Montevallo, Alabama on highway 25, also within a short driving distance of Clanton, Columbiana and Centreville and 35 miles south of Birmingham. approximately 6 miles from highway 31, a through Federal Highway from Chicago to Miami.

Due to the growing population and increase of industry in Montevallo and one of the largest colleges, Mrs. Ethel L. Rogers, looking to the future, decided that the housing situation in Montevallo and other towns in this area were short on housing projects and suitable sub-divisions, so with all this in mind Mrs. Rogers developed beautiful Wilmont Gardens and is offering the same at public auction to investment seekers, home-owners and land speculators.

This sub-division joins the sub-division that Mrs. Rogers sold not too long ago consisting of 135 lots and is connected by Bearden Street to Wilmont Gardens and it is now just beginning to be developed with one home finished, one under construction and ten more in the planning stage.

All lots in Sub-Division are well-drained and all lots in Wilmont Gardens are 50 ft. wide with iron stake at each corner of lot. A person wishing more than one lot may have as many as he wants by buying adjoining lots. There are lots that are level, rolling lots and others with shade.

Restrictions:

Mrs. Rogers in selling the sub-division put certain restrictions so that it would satisfy all home-owners whether they be large or small. The restrictions are as follows:

These lots are sold to the Caucasian race only and no home may be built under $5500 and all lots sold for residential homes only.

Wilmont Gardens, located at Montevallo, Alabama, the home of beautiful Alabama College, a four year co-educational college of Liberal Arts. Also Montevallo is noted for a large plant of Westinghouse and two large cement companies. Most of the residents of Montevallo are home-owners and due to the increase in population and with the addition to Alabama College and enlarging of all manufacturing plants around Montevallo the shortage of lots for home-owners to build homes has become acute.

Mrs. Rogers with an eye to the future and her heart in Montevallo is opening Wilmont Gardens to the public at a small down payment so that any person may own a lot.

Two choice lots to be GIVEN AWAY day of the sale — So you may be the LUCKY PERSON. Must Attend The Sale and be there to WIN.

Terms and Conditions:

This survey was made by Mr. H. W. Cannon and all lots are sold with good titles. The terms will be 10% on sale day; one-third down, the balance in 1 and 2 years at 6% bankable note or cash.

COUNTY CONTROL BOARD. . .

Chilton's portion of the cost on this $93,000 road will be only $23,000 due to the Federal and State Aid.

Bids Found Below Specifications

While it was over-loked at the Board meeting on February 25th, it was brought to light this week that three of the bids on a motor grader read at the February meeting fell short of the advertised specifications.

These bids were read to the Board by the Clerk as competitive and eligible bids while in reality they lacked, in some manner, to come up to the minimum specifications prescribed in the invitation to bid.

Lonnie Cost, Member from District One, proposed a resolution to be inserted in the minutes of the February meeting stating that these three bids were found to be below specifications.

Engineers Examine County Courthouse

A report was read to the Board on the findings of the Harbert Construction Corporation who sent consultant engineers here to examine the Courthouse structure.

In the report it was stated that the visual inspection by the engineers showed no indication of a major structural failure, but that the findings could not be conclusive until actual structural stress and strain tests were made.

A motion entered by Lonnie Cost and seconded by Reedie Hilyer authorized the firm to proceed with their tests at a cost of $800. If the present building is found to be sound, the firm will offer a list of necessary repairs for an additional $250.

The resolution was passed with a 3-to-0 vote, as Herold Smith did not vote.

Work To Begin On County Jailhouse

Invitations to bid are being prepared in reference to repairing of the plumbing and sanitation facilities at the jail.

The Board decided to have all the electrical work done by a local electrician with the County furnishing the needed fixtures and material.

According to the County Engineer, a representative of the locking system is due here at any time to go over the system and see what will be necessary to make the jail safe.

Two Hospital Board Members Named

Filling the three remaining posts on the Hospital Board, Lonnie Cost and Sherman Motley named new men who were accepted with a vote of 3-to-0, Smith again declining to vote.

Sam Woodley and B. G. Glenn of Jemison were named by Cost to replace Cliff Walton and E. C. Lecroy respectively. Motley named Barnie Adams of Maplesville to replace Hughey Taylor.

Walton, Lecroy and Taylor were three of the five members who recently resigned.

Land Sought For Chilton County Park

With the unanimous approval of the Board, Judge Tingle was empowered to take immediate action to acquire 45.73 acres of land on the Coosa River for the purpose of making it a County Park. This land is being released by the Federal Government and is located near the Ferry Sight on U. S. 22, bordering the River.

Land Bank System Observes 40th Year

The value of the Federal Land Banks to the farmers of this country was emphasized this week by John L. Ryan of New Orleans, president of the bank.

In a staten[illegible] o: Marion [illegible] urer of the Ca[illegible] Farm Loan Association, in reference to the bank's fortieth anniversary, Mr. Ryan declared that "Not only the 1½ million farmers who have used the land banks, but all other farmers as well, have good reason to be proud of the land bank system. The system has helped to provide farmers with the money they greatly needed to achieve farm and home ownership and to develop American agrciulture. The system has made vast savings to farmers in lower cost money and provided loan terms suited to farm needs. The sale of consolidated farm loan bonds on the money markets of the nation to obtain low-cost money; the development of the normal agricultural value concept as a basis of sound lending; the pioneering of the amortized loan, which makes it easier to meet loan payments; the constant changes made in the system to adapt it to the changing credit needs of agriculture; and the ownership and control of the system by the farmers who use it, mark the land bank system as a unique American institution that has rendered a monumental service to agriculture."

The Canebrake NFLA serves farmers in Bibb, Chilton, Dallas, Perry and Wilcox Counties.

How Laboratory-Controlled Plant Foods Help Farmers

M. H. LOCKWOOD, Vice-President In Charge of Plant Food Division

To keep pace with modern farming methods, International is now producing premium Rainbow fertilizer in all sections of the country served by our 27 fertilizer plants.

Modern fertilizers such as Rainbow are needed to meet the challenge in today's farming—more production of higher quality food and fiber from fewer acres—at a greater profit to you the producer

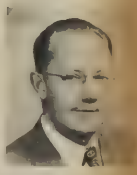
International's new Rainbow is quality controlled at all stages of production and is backed by 45 years of continuing research in the production of high-quality fertilizer.

Rainbow is the result of the most modern processing possible, starting with the selection of primary plant foods produced at International's own phosphate and potash mines. These materials are compounded with other needed and essential plant foods. Laboratory checks and controls are your assurance of quality.

Rainbow is our guarantee to you of increased yield and highest quality—more cash dollars at harvest time

ONE OF THE LABORATORIES at International Minerals & Chemical Corporation's General Research Laboratory, Skokie, Illinois. Continuing research here helps to develop better plant foods for America's farmers

Research by International Produces Better Plant Foods



DR. R. P. THOMAS, Technical Service Supervisor, Plant Food Division

Today, due to increased population and fewer farms, it is necessary to gain as much production from usable acreage as possible. Soils that have decreased in productiveness must be rebuilt through the use of modern fertilization with chemicals.

Many important changes are being made in the fertilizer industry to keep pace with the growing knowledge of agriculture. New materials are being introduced to increase quality, as well as quantity, of your crop yields. A well balanced fertilizer reduces deficiencies that rob you of extra profits

Our research staff is constantly working on new ideas and formulations in the most modern of scientific laboratories to guarantee our customers the best product money can buy. Rigid testing of new formulas is conducted on many types of soils, and compared with the results of other premium fertilizers before our product is approved and ready for use. Every "batch" produced thereafter is sampled and must meet the full requirements of this approved formulation. This is your guarantee of continuous quality in every bag you purchase

We feel confident in urging you to use Rainbow this spring, and compare the free-flowing action, uniform growth, and improved yield against the results of other fertilizers you have used in previous years. We know you will be satisfied at market time.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

Our friend W. W. Barron asks that we express his and Mrs. Barron's thanks to the hundreds of friends who have been so kind to them during her illness. Mrs. Barron was taken to St. Margaret Hospital on March 11th and underwent two operations. Mr. Barron stated that the fear of cancer was disproven after tests were made. The Barrons asks also that they be remembered in prayer for her speedy recovery. Mr. Barron says there are no words to express their feelings towards the good friends who came to offer help and sympathy in their hour of need.

A soldier being discharged from the Armed Forces was at the coffee shop the other morning. He said he was going back home and get him some billy goats and start selling milk and raising goats. The young fellow was deadly serious and his intention was to make enough money to go to college. The trouble is that if that young man thinks that he can buy some billy goats and start selling milk and raising goats—then he needs to go to college n.o.w.

The City is getting along with their program of off-street parking lots. Another has been completed next to the News office. To date the City has secured three or four for this purpose and it will do much to relieve the parking problem. The City fathers are to be commended for their good work.

Tom Efurd just liked to have become Mayor of Avon, Alabama, the other day. He used to be manager of the market at the A & P and made many friends here during his short stay. Avon is a newly incorporated town in Houston County and boasts a population of 50 registered voters. Tom got 24 votes in his race for mayor and his opponent got 26. Everybody in town voted. Cecil Ramsey wired Tom when he heard the vote count to contest the election.

"I simply can't stand my husband's nasty disposition," wept the young bride. "Why, he's made me so jittery that I'm losing weight.'

"Then why don't you leave him?" asked the aunt.

"Oh, I'm going to," the bride assured her. "I'm just waiting until he gets me down to 120 pounds.

"Way Down Upon The Suwanee River," that's where R. W. Lowe was last week fishing. He and the wife returned Monday after a two weeks visit with their daughter at Lake City, Fla. Reubin says the fishing was fine and the weather beautiful most of the time. Reports a swell time.

Sam was much disturbed when the girl he was to marry married another and he told a friend that the light of his life had gone out. A year later he ran into the friend and to the friends surprise he learned Sam was married. "How come?" he asked. "Well, you see", answered Sam, I found another match."

Scout Troop 57 "Camps Out" On Coosa

Friday afternoon the boys of Scout Troop 57, Clanton left for a week-end camping trip on the River. The camp site was the future camp site of Asst. Scout Master Herb Salter. All but three of the scouts attended.

Those attending were:

Milton Adams, Alex Hayes, C. C. Craig, Jr., Larry Buckner, Bobby Little, Jimmy Boockholdt, Pete Johnson, Tommy Wyatt, James Byrd, Charlie Patterson, Jr., Jimmy Harris, John Sutley, Tommy Tiffin, Joel Hunter, Harry Adkins, Walter Gowan.

A fine time was reported by all including three tired and dirty scout masters: Leland Hudson, Howell Glenn and Herbent Salter.

The Crop Reporting Board estimates that on January 1st, the number of horses and mules in the country stood at 3,558,000—a drop of 370,000 over the year before. The average value of horses and mules on January 1 was estimated at $71.60 per head.

Marbury Lions Plan Rodeo, 5th

April 1st-2nd Named School Visiting Days

Patrons and friends of the Chilton County Schools who plan to visit on the specially arranged tours of schools on April 1 and 2 are given the following information regarding schedule:

A school bus will leave Jemison School shortly after 8:00 a.m. for Clanton. A stop will be made between the traffic lights in Thorsby.

A bus will leave Maplesville School at or soon after 8:00 a.m. A stop will be downtown at the Baptist Church.

A bus will leave Isabella School soon after 8:00 a.m.

A bus will leave Verbena School at or soon after 8:00 a.m. Stops will be made at the Depot in Verbena, at the intersection in Cooper and at Thomas Jr. School.

Transportation will be provided from Enterprise and Concord at 8:00 a.m.

Persons living in feeder school communities are urged to meet the buses at these larger schools, come to Clanton or stop the buses along the routes listed. The buses will stop for persons wishing to make the tours.

Persons living in Clanton and adjoining communities are asked to meet at Chilton County High School. All buses will meet here and routes will be arranged that will enable visitors to choose the schools they wish to visit.

The Board urges interested persons to make every effort to make this tour and see our schools in action.

Heart Disease Took Seven Chiltonians During December

Diseases of the heart accounted for nearly one-third of Alabama deaths during December, 1956.

The State Health Department said this week that provisional reports of its Bureau of Vital Statistics show that of the total of 2,519 deaths in that month, 812 were caused by heart disease.

The Department said that of the heart disease deaths reported by every County, seven occurred in Chilton.

These figures may vary slightly because of delayed reports.

WKLF Presents Radio Series For Blind

Radio Station WKLF of Clanton, in coperation with the American Foundation for the Blind of New York, is playing a new series of radio shows, "20|200", (the legal definition and sight-limits which means blindness-. The series was produced and directed by the American Foundation for the Blind and features Dave Garroway and Leon Pearson of NBC, as well as other famous commentators.

In its efforts to create a more realistic attitude toward blindness and blind people, the American Foundation for the Blind sent its Director of Public Education and Leon Pearson all over the country to make these shows.

They set up their tape recorders in homes, schools, factories offices, research laboratories, vending stands, organizations for the blind, everywhere, and anywhere that blind people might be found leading their normal, everyday, useful lives.

More than 150 recordings were made, out of which were culled the interviews which makes up the series. Leon Pearson and Dr. Ziemer led the discussion with blind people and workers for the blind, with Dave Garroway doing the narrating.

The Series began playing over WKLF on February 4 at 7:00 p.m. (Mondays.- It is a 'must' for sighted people who want to know and understand the problems of blindness and blind people.

Canebrake NFL Assn. Holds Meeting Here

The Canebrake National Farm Loan Association will hold its annual meeting at Clanton in the Chilton County High School lunch room, on March 23rd, beginning at 10 a.m., G. B. Auburtin, secretary-treasurer, announced this week.

The Canebrake NFL Association and the 62 other national farm loan association in the fifth farm credit district, which includes Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama, this year will join with the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans in observing the bank's fortieth anniversary.

The Federal Land Bank of New Orleans was chartered on March 8, 1917, under terms of the Farm Loan Act passed by the Congress in 1916. "For forty years the Federal Land Bank has been making long-term, low-cost loans to farmers. During this time the bank has made 134,514 farm loans for a total of more than $359,517,860."

During the time the land bank has been operating agriculture has made many revolutionary changes and great advances in all phases of farming. The land bank has contributed much to the development of agriculture and the improvement of rural life

"The land bank has pioneered practically every improvement made in long-term credit and provided many thousands of farmers with the money they needed to buy farms, purchase additional land, build houses and barns, make all kinds of farm improvements and for many other purposes."

The officers and directors urge the participation of all members in attending this important meeting. It is hoped to be the biggest and best in the land bank's history.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

Character is not determined by one act, but by habitual conduct.

Don't put off a sure thing today for an uncertainty of tomorrow.

Some people think they can't be independent without being abusive.

A shrewd diplomat is a man who knows just how far to go too far.

Ability is measured by what you finish—not by what you begin.

Conceit is what keeps you from seeing your personal defects.

Sympathy may help a little, but it will never take the place of ready cash.

Play it safe—give the other fellow credit for being just as smart as you are.

Can't Say "Whoa" Now--

An all-star cast of Teamster union officials, uneasy public servants, informers and underworld characters of both sexes, supported (or vice versa) by lie-detectors, secret tape recordings, the missing papers, the Fifth Amendment and even the FBI, has been presenting a melodrama unequaled in the long history of Senate investigations.

While the nation awaited the supboena of Teamster President Dave Beck, as promised by Chairman McClelland of the Select Senate Coccittee investigating racketeering, F. B. I. Agents arrested Vice President James R. Hoffa, teamster number two and arch rival of Beck in a Washington hotel lobby. He will be tried in Federal court on a charge of bribing a Government counterspy to steal Committee records.

The Teamster playlet is merely the curtain-raiser we are told. But it may be moving further and faster than expected—and provide a feature length show. In fact, it better!

A Crying Need--

Regularly we receive letters from young folks in school and business people who wish to know if we can furnish them with some information on Chilton County.

There seems to be a crying need for such material and our Chamber of Commerce, Civic Clubs, etc., would do well to make this one of their projects during the year.

A letter came a few days ago which stressed this point:

"Editor Chilton County News

Dear Sir:

I am trying to find material for a research paper I am writing in my English class. I would appreciate any free information you can send me on the history of the County. I have a history book on the history of our County, but I need as many more sources of information as I can receive.

If you have any information that will be of help to me, will you please send it to my return address.

I'm very thankful for any time and help you can give me.

Yours truly,
Patricia Champion"

This is just one of many requests received regularly by us and certainly the Radio Station, Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber, Clubs and others receive like requests.

That we are unable to furnish the school children, the strangers who would enter our County, the visitor, and others in search of such material is no compliment to our County.

Steps should be taken by some organization or the County governing body to prepare such material for use when needed.

Send the Hometown Paper to THOSE IN SERVICE!

AMERICAN YOUTH
URGENTLY NEEDED!— SCIENTISTS CHEMISTS ENGINEERS

WE MUST NOT WASTE THIS NATIONAL RESOURCE!
BETTER SCHOOLS AND IMPROVED EDUCATIONAL METHODS MUST BE DEVELOPED AT ONCE!!
AMERICAN CITIZENS

On The Local Level--

Our nation faces a grave situation due to inadequate supply of competent scientists and engineers, because of the failure to develop and support science and mathematics education in our elementary and secondary schools.

Such programs of education in many of these schools are inadequate due to an insufficient supply of competent teachers, largely because salaries are too low to attract them. A concern of every community, and particularly of its industry, should be to provide adequate salaries for teachers.

American industry believes there should be better support of schools on the local level, and holds that companies employing scientific and engineering manpower should utilize all available techniques to support school authorities in the provision of adequate education in science and mathematics.

Certainly more qualified students would consider science and engineering if given a better understanding of the opportunities in these fields, and if given more stimulating and inspirational teaching.

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

Things we see Believe;
Things we hear, Consider

It being such a beautiful springy day this past Sunday, yours truly and family took a trip and toured the neighboring countryside. One stop we made in particular was Oak Park in Montgomery. You'd be amazed at the beauty of the place at this time of the year.

Flowers of all kind and color grow in abundance on the green well-kept carpets of the premises. They have improved greatly on the eye-appeal and overall attractiveness of the place since years past.

One fault we did find, however, and speak of it we must.

We appreciate the beauty and abundance of nature in the raw and we appreciate the fact that it's there for us. But we do not appreciate the apparent way in which the resident animals are treated in the zoo there.

It may yet be off-season as far as tourist attraction is concerned, but we feel certain that these dumb animals care little of tourist attraction, or the tourists themselves for that matter. They deserve better treatment or better nourishment one.

Some of the animals confined in the zoo should not be confined anywhere. They are in a bad way. We are soft-hearted in the first place and it makes us a little sorry that we're part of it all to see animals confined in unnatural (to them) places.

Assuming that it is educational as well as entertaining, we will accept the fact that animals must be confined. But, if confine them we must, the least we can do in return is give them the best possible treatment for their offering to humanity.

God made man over all other animals of the world, but he did not give man the right to mistreat his co-inhabitants. He gave him a conscience though, and using it, man should at least let his heart have its say.

We feel that some of the organizations, or better, whoever is now responsible, should do something in behalf of the animals at the Oak Park Zoo. Not only for the good of the animals, but for the good name of the Park and the City.

A good zoo at Oak Park is very desirable and we'd want to be one of the first to endorse it, but we feel that if the zoo cannot, for some reason, keep its standards up and keep the animals up, then the zoo should be done away with. It is a feature attraction, and we think it should stay.

We are not a crusader for animals and their rights, but as a bona fide member of the human race, we feel that animals have their rightful places here, and if we can't leave them in thei place, then we must try to make them comfortable in new surroundings. We doubt if any animal has ever volunteered for a job in a zoo. How many of us would?

Congratulations are in order again. This time for Billy DeVaughn and the Mrs. They have been blessed with a little James DeVaughn born at the local hospital Monday, March 11. We saw them on their way home Sunday morning and Mama and all 7 and some odd pounds of little Jimmy were doing fine. Understand Daddy had a rough time of it, but you know how that is. Billy, you know, is with the Holsum bread company in this neck of the woods.

The Alabama Highway Patrol, second to none in our opinion, was doing a marvelous piece of public relations work last Sunday. Between Clanton and Montgomery, and no doubt throughout the State, Patrolmen were setting up road blocks, stopping every car that came by. Conversation went something like this: "Good afternoon, just wanted to remind you to be careful on the remainder of your trip home. We've lost five lives this week-end and we don't want you to be next." They did all this in a way which made us proud that they belonged to us and our State. No doubt, many "foreigners" went home that day with a good taste in their mouth about the Alabama Highway Patrol. Alabama itself for that matter. We were kinda glad that anybody cared whether we got home or not, anyway.

Some people, instead of practicing what we preach. . . start

Across The Editor's Desk--

An Open Letter To Senator Knowland On "So Called" Civil Rights Bill

Honorable William F. Knowland
United States Senate
Senate Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:

Ten days have now passed since my certified letter of February 25, 1957, inviting you to Alabama, was delivered to your office. Therefore it is assumed that no answer will be forthcoming.

This so-called Civil Rights Bill which the newspapers indicate you have been induced to sponsor is a deadly blow aimed by the "Hidden Force" at the Bill of Rights, the very heart of the Constitution of the United States. "Civil Rights" is simply a semantic smoke-screen designed to conceal "Federal Police Control."

For instance, and for your information, within the past few years very complete and expensive so-called National Guard armories have been constructed with 75% federal funds and located at control points on the arterial highways leading to the major communication and population centers of Alabama. Local citizens see the distinct possibility in the event of forced racial integration that these armories may be used to house and provide headquarters for the Federal Police Force included in your Civil Rights Bill. Also informed citizens view with serious misgivings any effort on the part of Federal Forces to absorb the functions of the National Guards of the several states.

Already the dictatorial pattern of federal violation of the constitutional rights of White Christian Citizens of the United States has been revealed very clearly at Clinton, Tennessee.

Now, Senator, let us reduce this discussion to its lowest denominator; politics.

It would appear that the financially powerful American Jewish Committee and its affiliate, the Anti-Defamation League coupled with Mrs. Eleanor Rosevelt's so-called Americans for Democratic Action have used the promise of the White House as bait, and directly or indirectly influenced you, willingly or unwillingly, to sponsor this infamous Civil Rights Bill.

Was the same bait, the promise of the White House, used by the "Hidden Force" to trap the late Honorable James Forrestal, into ponsoring unification of the Armed Forces on July 17, 1947? Mr. Forrestal, a patriot, was discovered a pulverized corpse on the roof of the third floor of the Naval Medical Center, Bethseda, Maryland on May 22, 1949.

Was the same bait, the promise of the White Mouse, used by the "Hidden Force" to trap Mr. Louis Johnson, another Secretary of Defense, into sponsoring on April 23, 1949, cancellation of construction of super aircraft carriers, vital cogs in national defense? The United States Navy now has five super-carriers but "Where is Louis Johnson?"

Was the same bait, the promise of the White House (vice-president for 1952) used by the "Hidden Force" to trap Senator Millard Tydings into sponsoring the second unification act of August 2, 1949, which established a supreme chief-of-staff over the Armed Forces? This act was opposed by ex-President Herbert Hoover, for I heard him voice his opposition. "Where is Millard Tydings?"

Let us not say in 1960, "Where is William F. Knowland?"

For, if William F. Knowland will stand on the floor of the United States Senate and tell the American people the character and extent of the "Hidden Force" or "Invisible Government" and name names and describe the Zionist Conspiracy and the use of the Anti-Defamation League in the World Communist Offensive and blow the lid off the communist infested fraud called the United Nations, then he can be assured of the undying gratitude of the one hundred and thirty-seven million White Christian Citizens of the United States, and William F. Knowland will then take his rightful place alongside the great Presidents, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson.

If William F. Knowland persists in his sponsorship of the infamous Civil Rights Bill, it is a position alongside Louis Johnson, Millard Tydings and oblivion.

It must be said again "It is not too late." Senator, let us remember the oath you and I took as officers in the military service of our country, "to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic."

Sincerely,
-s-Jno. G. Crommelin

Across the Editor's Desk--

One Citizen's Opinion

H. Calby Smith

Every thinking citizen is more or less worried about the National Budget, and particularly the Middle East Bill.

In a hot war, the one that gets there first with the most has two strikes on the enemy. It may be that this well-known rule applies to a cold war, especially where Communism is involved.

At any rate, the President sent a committee of men, well qualified for the job to study the situation. Their report agrees in general with the authority given our Chief Executive to pour money into the area.

The public should have been given the pro and con of this necessity. What bothers us so much are the billions that we have already given to people that still hate us.

A large newspaper in the West Indies recently said in an Editorial that it is high time that the United States realizes that it cannot buy friends with dollars. Another point not clear is just how long we can keep this practice going before we become a second rate power and our dollars join the inflated currency of many other nations. Surely our Senators and Representatives know the answers. Let's ask them!

Every good citizen, as a matter of civic duty and pride, should and does take a reasonable interest in County affairs. County people tell me that there have been cases of malfeasance in office or alleged derelictions prior to the current allegations. Too, we have noticed in the press what appears to be a definite lack of harmony for the common good of efficient administration. On the other hand, we know several capable officials and employees who are doing fine jobs.

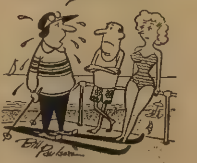
The point is, that there is a clear need for a permanent committee composed of men and women of high standing and impeccable character to protect capable and honest elected officials and employees, settle disputes, investigate rumors, and weed out and eliminate dishonest personnel before they become a huge defifcit of misappropriated funds or bad publicity. Such an unpaid citizens committee would provide protection to the efficient and honest personnel who, due to the human fallacy of judging people in groups, suffer when one or two apples in the barrel are alleged to be rotten. Continuation of the status quo could deteriorate to such an extent that men of high caliber would not be candidates for election or re-election. In jest, we might add that even Republicans or Democrats might qualify for this committee.

There used to be a little ditty, that said in rhyme:

The grasshoppers at the farmer's crops;
The black ants ate his honey.
His bedbugs lived in a bed of grass,
The merchants got his money.

Now the Fire Ants have moved in and taken over his land. And if something is not done about it, collectively and quickly, the ants in his pants will send him to a hospital bed and he will not have any money.

My Neighbors



"So, after paying my income tax, I didn't have enough left to buy a swimming suit!"

Farmers in several Alabama areas are afraid to put nitrogen top dressing on grazing crops because they fear nitrate poisoning. But it is said that careful checks and tests show that the danger of nitrate poisoning from grazing crops that have been top-dressed with nitrogen is so slight as to be of little concern.

preaching. . . right off.

Some folks do the same thing so differently that you can hardly tell it's the same thing. No doubt, either of two could learn something from the other.

Some folks fish for fun. Some fish for food. The second is a bit ironical isn't it? That's what the fish was doin' in the first place.

Certainly glad to see Buddy Williams home safe and sound. He's just returned from Korea and he left there the same day the big plane crashed. Well, naturally his folks have been mighty concerned about him since they haven't heard from him. He's home now though, and will be for a spell. His next stop is Boston. Hope that "blue-nose" country doesn't rub off on him. You'll get a much better picture of Buddy by turning to the Social Page in this issue.

A man devoted to a good cause is a happy man; why not start with your family.

Trees are budding, some in bloom. Beautiful red birds and blue birds visit my house each day. People tell me that the fish are biting. Farmers are getting ready to plant their crops. Baseball is getting lined up. People in sleek new automobiles pass on their way to old-fashioned singings. Nearly everybody has television, radio, freezers and modern conveniences. Surely this is God's country where every man is a King in his own right. Chilton County has her share of these bountiful blessings. It should have an abundance of game birds. The people working together can make it a Bird's Paradise, for it has the natural cover which is a first requisite.

What the farmers need most is markets for their produce on which Mr. Farmer fixes his prices in a manner similar to that practiced by merchants. He must have a reasonable profit above the cost of expensive farm equipment and high priced fertilizer. No one questions the right of business men to include his overhead and a reasonable profit on his mark up. Subsidized farming is not good business either for the farmer or the government. This Utopia will never come about from wishful thinking. It takes cooperation, intelligent administration, and hard work.

Staggering are the figures of traffic accidents that kill and injure our people. It is time we face this situation and take remedial action. It will not get better as population and cars increase. We worry about cold wars and rumors of hot wars and do nothing about a situation that is killing and injuring more people than the wars have in the past. Several years of traffic safety work leads me to believe that there are many ways to reduce and eliminate this useless waste of human life. Safety people are doing all they can. They need the support of the people and tools in the form of laws to work with. Many people driving cars today are potentially more dangerous than a rattlesnake in your bedroom.

We like "folk" music and songs. We like good piano, violin, or symphony. We also like waltz music, polka, rhumba, calypso and Hawaiian numbers. Every time you turn on the radio, all you can get is "folk" or "hill billy" numbers. A limited amount of this is good and entertains. However, to us "variety is the spice of life". Imagine a child growing to maturity without ever having heard a beautiful waltz or violin solo; or a daughter walking the highway after midnight in imitation of a current popular folk number of that title.

The lesson subject, "Perils of Wealth" from Luke 18:18-27 was led in reading and taught by Mrs. McGhee. Expressions from others. Prayer for the sick by Mrs. Sarah Hudson. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Ida Mae Henderson, Sarah Hudson, Odett Chappell, Doris Ware, Beatrice McGhee and Miss Polly Terry.

There will be a Talent Program Sunday at 11:00 a.m. at the Union Baptist Church, Mar. 24th. Everyone is invited to come, so please don't fail us.

Sponsors for this program are the members of the Baptist Training Union.

Services Sunday, March 17th at the Union Baptist Church: Sunday School at the usual hour. At eleven a.m. Music was furnished by Choir No. 1 with Miss Beatrice Pearson at the piano. The devotional was by the officers, scripture by the pastor, the Rev. S. W. Wilson. Mission Prayer by the Rev. Henry L. Parker. The pastor spoke from Acts 3:1-8 using as his them, "Look Up And Hold On".

On Sunday night, the ordination services of the Rev. Henry Parker were held. The devotional by the officers and Mr. Dave Dejernitt was followed by a selection by the choir. Those taking part in the ordination were: scripture by the Rev. E. W. Burt, Matthew 28:11-20; prayer by the Rev. F. K. Dudley. Seated with the Rev. Parker were his mother Mrs. Serlena Parker and Mrs. L. M. Draper.

Closing prayer was by the Rev. G. E. Smitherman. Rev. Wilson spoke from Matt. 20:17-18.

The Rev. L. A. Billups and his congregation from the Cherry Street A.M.E. Church of Dothan, Alabama worshipped Sunday at the Hopewell Baptist Church. Following the morning services with Rev. Billups in charge, he and his two choirs and the Intermediate choir of the Lily Baptist Church of Birmingham rendered music. Dinner was served to the visiting group including twelve cars from Dothan and six from Birmingham.

At 3:00 p.m. Rev. Billups Junior Choir presented a pageant entitled, "The Challenge of the Cross". This was indeed a wonderful scene. Every heart did burn within as they presented the pageant. At the close of the program, the Cherry Street Church showered the Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Smitherman with useful gifts and money. Also, the Hopewell Gospel Chorus and Junior Choir presented them with a cash donation and little Robbie Mae Williams, president of the Sunbeam Band presented a donation of $2.00 which the little group had raised.

The Smitherman's are grateful for the kindness shown them by the different groups and churches.

Besides the group from Dothan and Birmingham that worshipped at the Hopewell Baptist Church, the Rev. Charles Johnson, Jr. pastor of the Unity Baptist Church, of Billingsley, Mrs. Mary Ella Parker, mother of Mrs. J. B. Parker and her aunt, Mrs. Josephine Davis also of Billingsley worshipped Sunday night at the Hopewell Baptist Church.

The Rev. G. E. Smitherman is conducting his Spring Revival this week at the Lily Baptist Church in Birmingham. You are welcome to come and worship.

Miss Romie McDaniel was the guest speaker on Sunday, March 17 at the Shady Grove Baptist Church of Verbena, of which the Rev. James O. Cooper is pastor. Miss McDaniel spoke on "Law". A very inspiring address was enjoyed by all.

By Miss Dorothy Hill

The Rev. Roy Hornsby, pastor

Bro. Hornsby again brought another wonderful message Sunday morning and night from the second chapter of Romans. We invite everyone to come and hear his messages from the book of Romans on Sunday night.

We also invite you to join us in Sunday School and Tarining Union every Sunday and Sunday night. We are happy because our attendance for both services were somewhat better Sunday, but we are not satisfied; we want the attendance to continue to increase.

We are sorry that several of our people could not be with us Sunday due to illness. We missed them very much and hope that they will be able to come back soon.

Several of our members attended the Youth Rally at Union Grove last Saturday night and enjoyed it very much. We hope to continue to support the Youth Rally and hope also, that more of our people will become interested in the programs.

Our Revival will begin March 31. Remember this in your prayers. We will be having a series of Cottage Prayer meetings, beginning next Monday, March 25th.

Remember Family Night next Wednesday night, immediately following the Prayer Services.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gramatas and son, Mrs. Carrie Foshee, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Glenn visited Mr. and Mrs. E. J Grand Saturday.

Mrs. John Cox visited Mr and Mrs. Wallace Cox in Whitehall Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mueller of Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Williams of Birmingham visited Mrs. Cox and Lee during the week-end.

The Rev. Hornsby and several other friends enjoyed a birthday dinner for Barbara Traywick at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Traywick Sunday.

We were happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Joe Popwell of Auburn visit us in our services Sunday night.

We are sorry that our pastor's wife and son coulds't be with us this week-end due to the illness of his son. We hope and pray that they will be able to come next week-end.

75th Annual AEA Convention 28-29

Beginning its second century of service to public schools of Alabama, the Alabama Education Association convenes for its seventy-fifth annual convention in Birmingham, Thursday and Friday, March 28 and 29. Dr. David W. Mullins, Auburn, president of AEA, announces that programs for the two-day convention will feature an internationally known lecturer, prominent State officials, and leading State and National educators.

The major address of the first general session Thursday morning will be given by Governor James E. Folsom.

Mrs. J. H. Rutledge, State President of Alabama Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be the first speaker for this general session.

Following Governor Folsom, Dr. David W. Mullins will give his presidential address. Music will be presented by the Alabama Polytechnic Institute Octet.

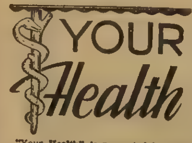
Second general session is scheduled for Thursday evening. Internationally known lecturer, Dr. John H. Furbay is the featured speaker. Nell Rankin, Metropolitan Opera Star will persent a musical program.

The convention will be concluded with the third general session Friday afternoon. Lawrence G. Derthick, newly appointed U. S. Commissioner of Education, will address the convention at this time. Also speaking will be Dr. Austin R. Meadows, State Superintendent of Education. The Jones Valley High School Band will provide a short musical program.

Meetings of the four AEA Divisions will be held Thursday afternoon.

Following the Thursday evening general session, members are invited to the President's reception. Immediately following will be the annual dance sponsored by the Birmingham News. Both of these activities will be held at the Y.W.C.A.

Affiliated departments have scheduled interesting programs for Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. The greatest number of outstanding speakers ever scheduled have been secured for these programs.



"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

ROTECTION AGAINST SMALLPOX

Through vaccination, over the last century or so, particularly in children, the terror of smallpox has been minimized.

Smallpox is a contagious disease, which is controlled thru vaccination and isolation. The disease is caused by a virus. It is a foul and disfiguring disease and frequently fatal. In the typical case, chills, high temperature, vomiting, aches and pains begin ten to fourteen days after exposure. The characteristic eruption, consisting of blisters filled with pus, appears during this period.

Carelessness and ignorance are responsible for anyone dying from smallpox today. The one dependable step to bring about immunity to the disease is vaccination. Now most schools in the United States require a child to present on his first day of school a certificate showing that he has had a recent and satisfactory vaccination against smallpox, as safe a procedure as is known to medicine and one in which the complications are rare.

Protection to the infant should be given before the end of the first year. At a young age the vaccination is usually milder and leaves less scar than later. Re-vaccination should be carried out thereafter every few years.

Because the disease seems to be rare, many parents become neglectful in seeing that they and their children are immunized.

It must be remembered that many diesases are spread through carriers and a person unwittingly exposed to smallpox can start an epedemic.

New Social Security Laws Affect Landowners As Well As Sharecroppers

Farm landowners as well as sharecroppers may now be self-employed for social security purposes. The income a farm landowner receives from a share-farming agreement is covered by a recent change in the social security law if the rental arrangement calls for the farmer to take an important part in the operation of the farm and he actually does so, according to J. W. Overstreet, Jr., manager of the Birmingham social security office.

This provision of the new law is met if the farmer participates to a material degree in the production or management of a crop or livestock on land he rents. Sharecroppers have been covered as self employed since the beginning of 1955. The new law covering landowners applies to all types of farm rental and share-farming arrangements.

The landowner who materially participates in the operation of his farm should report his net earnings for 1956 for social security purposes at the time he files his income tax return after the close of the year.

Farmers who would like more information regarding this new phase of the law should contact their nearest social security office.

Sparkman Bill Declares War On Fire Ant

WASHINGTON—Senator John Sparkman (D., Ala.) cooperating with State and local groups waging war on the fire ant, announced sponsorship today of a bill to provide Federal aid in eliminating the pest.

The bill was offered in view of the growing concern in Senator Sparkman's home state of Alabama over the fact that he fire ant is becoming Alabama's number one farm insect problem. Senator Sparkman said that Senator Lister Hill also joined in sponsoring the bill.

Hearings are underway on a similar bill in the House.

"Alabama is the number one victim of the fire ant," Senator Sparkman observed. "Of the 22 million acres now under fire ant attack in the nation, 12 million of those acres are in Alabama."

Presently the Department of Agriculture does not have authority to assist in stamping out the fire ant. The bill introduced by Sparkman allows for this authority.

"Forty of Alabama's counties are suffering because of this ant, and it is estimated that at least $25 million worth of damage is being inflicted this year on Alabama's farmers," Sparkman said. If remedial action is not taken all counties will be infested by 1960, and damage could run as high as $100 million yearly."

Senator Sparkman said the Department of Agriculture was studying the idea of a cooperative Federal-State fire ant elimination program.

This program would consist of three phases:

1. Confining the ant to present infested areas.
2. Eradicating the ant in these areas.
3. Preventing future ant infestation.

Present estimates, according to Senator Sparkman, ar that the ant can be eliminated at a cost of $5 per acre.

Senator Sparkman recalled that the fire ant entered Alabama through the Port of Mobile in 1925 by boat from South America. According to the senator the ant's hitch-hiking ability accounts largely for its ability to expand areas of infestation.

"The fire ant hitch-hiked to Montgomery and surrounding counties and just a few weeks ago made its first appearance in North Alabama's Limestone County," Senator Sparkman said.

"This ant, which has been known to kill newborn calves in Alabama, has a painful sting capable of making man quite sick," Senator Sparkman declared, pointing out that the Department of Agriculture has found a counter "sting" in the form of the chemical, dieldrin, which gives assurances of killing the fire ant.

ISABELLA NEWS

MRS. J. H. WELLS

On Sunday afternoon we had the pleasure to ordain three men of our church into the deaconship of the church. Bro. M. Lockhart, our Associational Missionary gave the charge to the church and Bro. J. W. Jones gave the charge to the Deacons. Bro. J. B. Lucas, pastor, brought the Ordination sermon. Bro. Burk, pastor of the Thorsby Baptist Church brought the Scripture reading and Prayer.

Sunday night after church the Young People had a Fellowship meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Smith. At this fellowship, the president, secretary and visitation chairman were elected for the Young Peoples Choir.

The Young Peoples Choir will meet at 5:30 p.m. before church services on Sunday.

We are proud that the Veazey Trio of our church won first place in the Talent Show at Birmingham Saturday night in the Gospel Singing Group. We have other young people in our church like these and we are thankful to God for them.

Our Adult Choir will be meeting on Wednesday nights immediately after Prayer Services.

We are proud of our Choirs and think they are doing a fine job.

Plans are in the making to purchase new robes for our Choir.

Everyone is invited to attend Sunday School. We are making plans to attend the Vacation Bible Clinic Monday at the Liberty Hill Baptist Church. All of our Vacation Bible Workers are urged to attend and make preparation for our school.

There were 53 present at Mulberry on Monday night for the first night of our Study on Alcohol Education. We hope to keep this record and add more to it each night. The teachers are: Adult—the Rev. J. B. Lucas; Young People—Mrs. J. B. Lucas; Intermediates—Mrs. J. T. Williams; Juniors—Mr. R. C. Veazey; Primaries—Mrs. J. H. Wells and Mrs. Mac Hayes.

Spend-The-Day Party—

Mrs. Ara Calfee entertained her Sunday School Class at a spend-the day party at her home on Saturday of last week. The girls enjoyed the day playing ball, other games and eating. At noon, hot dogs, ice cream, cake etc. was served by the hostess. Those enjoying the day together were: Audrey Baker, Charleen Cummings, Geraldine Fox, Mary Elizabeth Sexton, Novie Jean Veazey, Betty Gail and Tommie Louise Lecroy, Sally McCraw, Nancy Carter and Annette Veazey.

They all reported a grand time.

Coming And Going—

The Veazey Trio attended the Singing and Gospel Music Talent Contest at the Temple Theatre in Birmingham Saturday night, Mar. 16th. The Trio, which consists of Randall, Mary Nell and Novie Jean Veazey accompanied at the piano by Annette Veazey won first place in the contest. Congratulations to them.

The Veazey Trio will appear on TV, Channel 6, Wally Fowler Gospel Singing Saturday, Mar. 23rd at 4:00 p.m. On Saturday night, March 23rd they will be in concert at Reeltown High School near Tallassee.

Mrs. Emma Manning left on Monday of this week to spend a week or two with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Little in Winchester, Tennessee.

Mrs. Ethel Cummings returned home Sunday after spending some time with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Stephen in Alexander City.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin White and two children of Oneonta were Sunday guests of the former's mother, Mrs. W. T. White.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jones' late Sunday afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jones and children of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones of Tuscaloosa.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davenport, Jr and children of Montgomery were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davenport.

Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold Bryant were Sunday dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jones and Judy Ann of Pensacola, Florida were week-end guests of his mother, Mrs. Bessie Jones and sisters, Mrs. E. C. Lecroy and Mrs. James Langston. They attended services at Mulberry Sunday morning.

At Home From College—

George White, Leslie Smith and Charels Calfee from Auburn are home for three days of Spring Holidays.

Ophelia Ann Conway from State Teachers College, Jacksonville and Emogene Cummings from Alabama College, Montevallo also were home for the week-end.

Hospitalized—

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Chester Mizzel is in the Highland Baptist Hospital in Birmingham. She underwent surgery there on Friday of last week. She is doing nicely.

Home Demonstration Club—

The Isabella Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Jeanette White on Monday afternoon of this week with eight members and Miss Jean Porter present. Mrs. J. M. Bryant read the scripture. Mrs. White led in prayer. A trip to Auburn was discussed.

The demonstration was on "Meals From Your Freezer", and was given by Miss Porter.

SARDIS NEWS

We had very good attendance at our worship services Sunday morning and night. Bro. Batson preached two very inspiring messages that were enjoyed by all. During the Training Union Hour we enjoyed looking at some pictures shown by Mr. Richard Thompson. These were taken while he and his family were overseas. They will show some more on Wednesday night at Prayer Services. We were glad to have the visitors worship with us and invite them back anytime.

Our Revival begins the fifth Sunday in March and will run one week.

Our goal for Sunday School on Revival Sunday is 55, so be sure and come and invite someone to come with you. We want to remind each one to pray for our Revival and our Church that God will send us blessings to our community.

Don't forget the ones that are sick in our community when you pray. Go by and see them every chance you get.

Come to Sunday School Sunday. You may be missing one of the greatest blessings of your life by not attending church regularly.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Bernice Cummings, president, invites all our ladies to join the Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Ethel Cumming's Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs Douglas Fox and children of Alexander City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McGee and children spent Friday night of last week in Greenville, Alabama. Mr. McGee was in business there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells Sunday night supper guests were the Andrew Jones' of Birmingham. They were on a return trip home after spending the day in Montgomery with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wells.

Mrs. W. T. Tucker, Mrs Talmadge Short, Mrs Earl Clenner and children spent the day in Brunsville on Monday of this week. They visited Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hubbard there.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Tucker left for Tulsa, Oklahoma on Saturday of last week and Mrs. Hank Plemmons and Laura left on Wednesday for Jacksonville, Florida after visiting Mrs. W. T. Tucker for some time.

PTA Meeting—

Isabella PTA met in the School Auditorium on Monday, March 11. Mrs. Lilliam Wells, president, presided. The theme of the program was "Strengthen The Family Circle". The devotional was given by Glenda Wright. The Rev. J. B. Lucas gave an inspiring talk on the theme. A parody was sung to the tune of "Keep The Home Fires Burning", by the entire group. Reports were given on the progress of the lunchroom project and the amount of proceeds taken in from the supper and basketball games.

A Talent Show of pupils was planned for April 12th.

Refreshments were served.

The FHA and Beta Club girls are having a play on April 5th. The title is "There's A Man In The House".

They will be looking for you at the school on that night.

The play "When Sally Comes to Town" presented by the Junior Class of Isabella School on Friday night of last week was enjoyed by a large crowd. Every character part was well-played, and Ann Sansom kept the crowd laughing with her country sayings.

A gift of appreciation and a corsage was presented to Miss Loyce Baker from the class by Sue Culp.

The introduction, which included the statement of Purpose and Jurisdictional Standards, was given by Mrs. Morgan Reynolds.

Mrs. H. S. Day gave a review of the book of "Luke". Mrs. Omar Reynolds reviewed the Book of "Acts". Mrs. Ed Propst gave a most interesting talk on "The Life of Paul Until His First Missionary Journey". Mrs. G. H. Tucker reviewed his 1st, 2nd and 3rd Missionary Journey.

Mrs. Griffin Lloyd spoke on Jurisdictional Conference" after which Mrs. Propst completed her talk with "the Life of Paul In The Hands of Foes". Maps were used to illustrate the subjects.

Rev. Griffin Lloyd spoke on "Paul's Idea of The Churches".

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Morgan Reynolds.

The next Study will be on Monday, March 25th at 3:00 p.m. in the MYF room.

Danny Mullins Is Given Surprise Birthday Party

It was a thrilling moment for Danny Mullins at 2:00 p.m. March 16th when many of his little friends arrived unexpectedly to help him celebrate his Fifth Birthday. This was the time Danny's mother, Mrs. Neal Mullins had planned the surprise party.

Games were enjoyed by the children. Then Danny opened his lovely gifts.

The birthday cake, which was embossed in yellow and green, was white cocoanut and topped with five yellow candles.

After the group sang "Happy Birthday" to Danny, he blew out the candles and each guest was served a delicious party plate of confectioneries and fruit punch.

Those enjoying this delightful occasion were: Wynell and Gail Kendrick, Kenneth Patterson, Mack, Larry and Peggy Patterson, Don Owen, Mavis and Mary Jones, Carl, Buddy and Steve Baker, Linda Mullins, Fara, Mike and Richard Payne, Debbie Hamilton, William Thomas Carter, Hilda Griffin, Dianne and Linda Jones, Gloria Mims, the honoree's sister, Patsy, the honoree's father and grandmother, Mrs. Alcie Williams and Mrs. Gene Mullins. Several mothers enjoyed the occasion.

DeVaughn-Kicker Vows Are Spoken

Miss Chalice Mae DeVaughn became the bride of Thomas H. Kicker of Birmingham on March 14th at the Seventh Street Methodist Church there. The Rev. Thomas A. Edgar, pastor of the church officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Kicker and the late Thomas H. Kicker. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Irene McKay and the late Archie M. DeVaughn.

After the honeymoon the couple will make their home in Birmingham where Mr. Kicker is employed.

Glenda Daniel Has Birthday Party At Her Home

On Wednesday, March 13th, Glenda Daniel celebrated her eighth birthday when her mother, Mrs. Curtis Daniel, invited 12 of her playmates home with Glenda after school.

Several games were enjoyel by the group, the prizes going to Diane Carter, Pat Sharp, and Mavis Driver.

Following the games the guests sang Happy Birthday as Glenda blew out her candles, after which each was served sandwiches, cookies, cake, ice cream and a drink. Glenda then had the thrill of opening each lovely gift.

Those enjoying the party were Judy and Pat Melton, Sally Jane and Ginger Headley, Faye Williams, Sherrill Davis, Pam Wright, Diane Carter, Joann Davis, Mavis Driver, Pat Sharp, Cathy Wyatt and the honoree's little sister, Donna Faye Daniel.

Mrs. Lewis Headley assisted Mrs. Daniel with the serving. Little dolls were given as favors.

Good news for you dirt gardeners. Not long ago, weeds were a little like the weather. Everyone complained about them but nobody did much about them. Now we can grow vegetables or flowers through plastic without weeding or watering and with the expectancy that they will be stronger and more productive plants.

The new black plastic film comes in rolls 104 feet long and 40 inches wide — enough to cover a garden 18 feet wide by 18 feet long. It's called Kordimulch and is available through most hardware stores and some supermarts and grocery stores.

If the reports from famous agricultural centers like Cornell University, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Mississippi State College, Oregon State College and the University of Florida hold true, the canning job will be bigger than ever this fall.

Easy Car Wash

We read somewhere that the easiest way to wash a car is to add detergent to the water. That's fine if you don't let the wash-water-and-detergent dry on the car. If you do it looks like a zebra. Just keep the hose running and wash off the solution right after you apply it. Then let it dry. There's hardly a streak . . . and no wiping dry.

Moth Proofing Winter Clothes

Harking back to plastics, our cleaner is sending Jim's suits back in neat plastic bags. You can tell what's in the bag without tearing it off or peeking underneath. And they can be sealed against air and moths with regular tape we use to seal bags of frozen food.

See you again soon.

Apple Pie With French Accent

"THE APPLE GROWS SO BRIGHT AND HIGH, and ends its days in apple pie"—but in this instance, the pie is interestingly French accented.

Lighter than the traditional two-crust pie, this new version is made with a crisp topping of Kellogg's Sugar Frosted Flakes that go from package to pie with no additional sweetening needed. Just crush the flakes slightly, sprinkle them over the sugar and spiced apples and bake, keeping covered for the first 30 minutes. If you serve the pie warm, add ice cream for an extra delectable touch.

FRENCH APPLE PIE

5 cups thinly sliced apples
1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 cups Kellogg's Sugar Frosted Flakes

Arrange apples in pie shell. Combine sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle over apples. Dot with butter. Crush Sugar Frosted Flakes slightly; sprinkle over pie. Cover. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 30 minutes. Uncover; lower heat to moderate (375° F.) and bake about 20 minutes longer. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Summer Revivals In Chilton-Unity Shaping Up; More Than 30 Churches Participate

More than thirty churches have planned for a Spring Revival in the Chitlon-Unity Association. Most of the churches will have their revivals during the two weeks prior to Easter, but some have planned their services for the first week of April.

Reports have it that churches at Concord, Chestnut Creek, Poplar Springs, Macedonia and Jemison will have their revivals the first week in April which would mean that they start on the fifth Sunday in March.

Mt. Pleasant will begin their revival March 24th.

The following churches will participate in the Simultaneous Revivals also, but particular dates are not, as yet, available: Thorsby, Bell Lane, Pleasant Valley, Collins Chapel, Floyd, Cane Creek, Mt. Bethel, New Cedron, Mineral Springs, Union Grove, Sardis, and Shiloh.

Bethsalem, Center Hill, Maplesville, Pleasant Grove No. 2, Corinth, West End and Maple Springs will hold their revivals April 7-14.

Mulberry, Providence, New Salem, Refuge, Ebenezer, First Church, Clanton, Rock Springs, and Pilgrims Rest will have their revivals April 14-21.

Some of the evangelists who will conduct the above-mentioned revivals are: Clanton First, Dr. Edgar Arendall; West End, Rev. Fred Lowery; North Side Mission, Rev. L. E. Daniel; Providence, Rev. Harper Shannon; Poplar Springs, Rev. Tom McCaskey; Maplesville, Dr. Strange; Corinth, Rev. F. F. Glidewell; Refuge, George Smith; Concord, Rev. Bruce Lucas; Maple Springs, Rev. F. F. Glidewell; Ebenezer, Rev. Harry Kirkley; Pleasant Grove No. 2, Rev. Lewis Marler; Pilgrim's Rest, Rev. L. M. Gray.

These are just some of the dates and evangelists taking part in the great Simultaneous Crusade. Others will be published upon reception of same.

Your reporter is Rev. M. Lockhart.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In the 1956 Agriculture Act, Congress established a 51-million acre national base acreage for corn, but required as a condition for price support that the equivalent of 15% of the farmer's base corn acreage be placed in the Soil Bank. The plan was to be effective in 1956 but would not remain operative in subsequent years unless commercial corn growers voted to continue it.

In a referendum held last December, less than the necessary two-thirds voted to continue the plan. As a result, national corn acreage for 1957 was set in accordance with the 1938 Agricultural Act at 37.3 million acres with price supports at $1.36 a bushel.

Agricultural experts predicted that commercial corn producers would forfeit federal aid rather than comply with such a small allotment, and corn surpluses would continue to increase as farmers overplanted to gain income.

Corn Legislation Defeated—

In an effort to remedy this situation, the House of Representatives last week considered legislation designed to grant emergency aid to major corn producing areas.

At one point during the debate on the bill, House members voted against sending the measure back to the Agricultural Committee for revisions—an indication the legislation would be approved. It was evident, however, that an increased corn subsidy program would be expensive. It was also felt by many members that, if the corn producers were to benefit, the legislation should be enlarged to provide subsidies to cotton, rice, tobacco, and wheat farmers who have diverted their acreage to other grain crops. As a result, the first farm bill of the session was finally rejected by a vote of 217-188.

While it is still possible for the Senate to approve a measure that will be acceptable, or for the House Agriculture Committee to make another try, the prospects for the passage of corn legislation this year is far from bright.

Budget Reduction—

For the first time in history, Congress has called on the President to recommend possible reductions in the national budget. House members adopted a resolution last Tuesday respectfully requesting President Eisenhower to "indicate the places and amounts in his budget where he thinks substantial reductions may best be made". This action came as a result of the President's inferences to the press that the budget he had presened to Congress in January was too high and should be reduced by Congress.

On the day following the passage of this unprecedented resolution, members of the House of Representatives voted to reduce the appropriation for the office of the President and several other executive agencies $4.9 million below the budget request.

Corporate Excise Taxes—

Also passed last week by the House of Representatives was a measure that will extend until April 1, 1958 the current 52% corporate income tax rate and certain excise taxes scheduled for reduction on the first of next month.

A'GIN 'EM!

Governor James E. Folsom has officially told his department heads what he said publicly some weeks ago: that he personally, will not seek any new tax measures when the State Legislature meets in May.

Interest in the Landrace breed of hogs has incerased rapidly in Alabama recently. Records show more than 100 farmers in the state now own purebred Landrace.

Fertilizer costs money, as every farmer well knows. In fact more dollars go into fertilizer for crops than for any other single item needed for good crops.

Farmers are advised not to take chances on getting poor returns from their fertilizer investments. These investments may seem high but after all fertilizer ranks second only to water in growing cash crops, feed crops, and pastures in Chilton County. Here are a few suggestions for making sure fertilizer dollars pay off:

In the first place, each Chilton County crop has certain soil needs. Therefore, it should be planted on the soil which best answers these needs. Even the best suited soils, however, call for good preparation if the crop is to flourish. A poor preparation job can kill the value of any good fertilizer.

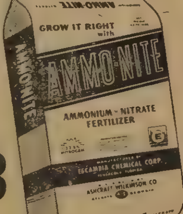
Acid soils prevent plants from making their best growth and giving good yields. Soil tests will reveal the extent of acidity and the amount of lime needed to correct it.

When it comes to the actual planting, use high quality certified seed. A fertilizer dollar is thrown away when scrub seed or untested varieties are planted. Of course crops do best when planted on schedule.

Fertilizer just will not measure up to expectations if it is not applied in the right way. For example on cotton, fertilizer is applied to the side and below the line of seed.

Mixed fertilizer and cotton seed going into the soil together result in a bad stand.

Finally do everything to get a good stand and try to maintain it through the growing season.



TWICE as MUCH NITROGEN in

AMMO-NITE

AMMONIUM NITRATE FERTILIZER
33.5% NITROGEN

SAVES YOU ALMOST 1/3

AMMO-NITE—with 33.5% Nitrogen—contains more than twice as much N as 16% Nitrogen materials. So by using "hard-working" AMMO-NITE, and liming occasionally, at a small cost, you get a better fertilizer that saves you money and work! See how you save in the chart below.

Based on a use of 2,000 lbs. of actual Nitrogen, here's a cost comparison example of AMMO-NITE (33.5%) and 16% Nitrogens.

	For 2,000 lbs. actual N you need	Cost	YOU SAVE
16% Nitrogen	12,496 lbs.	$374.88 (@ $60 ton)*
AMMO-NITE (33.5% Nitrogen)	5,968 lbs.	$262.56 (@ $88 ton)*	$112.32

Awards Presented To Deserving Members At Annual Banquet

Marbury High School held its Annual Mother-Daughter Father-Son Banquet on March 8. About 175 members and their parents attended. Guest of the Club was State FFA President, Ronald Rogers from Prattville.

Other guests who participated in the festivities were Mr. Thobe Warren, Mr. Lester Horn, Mr. Don Roberts, Mr. John Kent, Mr. Al Williams, Mr. Donald Grant. These men were selected as honorary members of the Chapter.

Other guests were Mr. W. W. Jackson and Mr. Marvlen Harris.

The Banquet got under way at 7:30 p.m. with Sonny Kolb giving the invocation and everyone enjoying a delicious meal (thanks to Miss Baker). The meeting was then opened by the Regular FFA Ceremony and afterwards the Master of Ceremonies, Charles Tatum, took over.

Awards were presented by Sonny Kolb. First awards went to the above-mentioned Honorary Members. Next awards went to Miss Melanie Richardson, FFA Sweetheart and awarded a check was Eric Thorne, Winner of the Chapter and County tractor driving contest.

Another award was presented to James Banks "Star Chapter Farmer" for his outstanding work. The Dekalb Honor Medal went to Chas. Tatum.

Our Chapter Program of plans and accomplishments was given by Leroy Richardson and the State Program was given by Ronald Rogers.

Next on the program was entertainment for all. Dianne Varner sang the first number. Then the ninth grade group of girls sang a number. They are: Linda Downs, Emma Jean Cook, Jeannie Wilson, Betty Ann Grant, Glenda McGalliard, Carolyn Manning, Janice Blackwell, Dorthy Bartles, Juanita Cox.

The FFA String Band did two numbers (Richard McConnell, Gerald Sanford, Sonny Kolb and Billy Davis). Bobby Hogan and Bobby McCord entertained with a rope act. The FHA Quartet had a number (Carol Carter, Janice Hunt, Melanie Richardson and Sherry Ann Pritchett.

The String Band returned and closed out the very successful 1957 Banquet.

DALLAS COUNTY

COTTON and CATTLE
The Two "C's" of Prosperity

While Dallas County has many pay-off crops, cotton and cattle still remain the two "C's" of its prosperity. Last year cotton and cotton seed products — and livestock and dairy products — amounted to $10,700,000.

This figure is sizable, and so are the taxes paid by the Brewing Industry in Alabama. In 1956, state taxes amounted to $2,317,879; county, $2,526,839; municipal, $1,561,197 — a total of $6,405,915.

The fact that beer pays its way so handsomely helps to equalize every Alabamian's tax burden.

Jemison FFA Urges Farm Home Safety

On the basis of 1,000,000 persons injured each year in farm homes, what will be the injury toll of our local community this year? Of the 6,000 deaths that occur in the farm home each year, falls are the main cause.

How can these deaths be prevented? Here are some suggestions:

1. Keep stairways well lighted, free from boxes, mops, brooms, tools, etc. Have treads a contrasting color from floors and landings.
2. Equip stairs with at least one strong handrail.
3. Keep stairways, steps and porches in good repair.
4. Fasten stair carpeting securely and keep unfastened throw rugs from the head and foot of stairways and landings.
5. Use a safe stepladder instead of a chair.
6. Provide safety gates at the head of steps to protect children.
7. Have a full stock first-aid kit located at a convenient spot.

This article by reporter Joe Pate is the first in a series on Farm Home safety.

EGG PRICE DROP MAKES CULLING IMPORTANT

As egg prices take the seasonal downward bounce, culling becomes a must if laying flocks are to show a profit this year.

About 20 percent of the hens in many Alabama flocks are loafers. These hens are cutting down the chances for profit and in some cases may be actually destroying all chance of profit.

Poultrymen are advised to cull these hens out of their flocks within the next two months. According to seasonal cycles, the price of eggs will remain low for the next two to three months, cutting the per-layer profits of the flocks.

Feed costs are high and it takes a lot of feed, cost-wise, to maintain the body of a non-layer.

According to results of recent tests, a hen must lay at least 178 eggs per year just to pay her own way. And with the high cost of feed taken into consideration, the hen must lay about 200 eggs per year—at least 60 percent production—to show any kind of profit.

Most birds now in egg flocks have been laying since mid-summer, or about eight months. For this reason, many hens have gone beyond the period when they lay enough eggs to pay their way.

Then too, the price of these hens on the market is expected to sink lower as the weather grows warmer and the demand for stewing hens decreases.

Polishing leather shoes before wearing helps to give them longer wear and prevents rain-spotting.

CROSSBREEDING CAN BRING YOU HIGHER BEEF PROFITS

Alabama beef cattlemen may find that a hybrid calf, resulting from a three-way cross, opens the door to higher profits. This calf is heavier and brings more money per pound on the market than other calves.

Successful crossbreeding, however, calls for a good, purebreed beef bull. The more closely inbred the bull is, the better. A bull not closely related to the cow herd will give the best results.

Crossbreeding is still a controversial subject among beef cattlemen, and every American cattleman has the right to manage his herd the way he likes and the way he believes will make the most profit for him.

Research work done in Alabama and other states, however, points to higher profits from the Crossbred Calf.

On one test run the following results on calves sired by the same Angus bulls were noted: A half Angus, half-Hereford calf was weaned at 437 pounds and sold for $16.75 per hundred weight; a half-Angus quarter-Hereford, and quarter-Brahman calf weaned at 486 pounds brought $19.57 per hundred weight.

While a half-Angus, quarter Hereford, and quarter-Shorthorn calf weaned at 470 pounds brought $19.69 per hundred weight.

All research seems to give the same answer—crossbred cows of any common cross will wean bigger, better calves than a straight bred cow of either breed going into the cross, provided a good purebreed beef bull is used.

COMPARE

• See the difference nitrate nitrogen side-dressing (left) makes on cotton. Nitrogen in Chilean Soda is 100 per cent fast-acting, efficient nitrate nitrogen.

and you'll choose
CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

Experience, they say, is the best teacher and 100 years of consistently satisfactory experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for side-dressing cotton, corn and other summer crops. It is a rare, natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the supply of available phosphate is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal among nitrogen fertilizers.

The side-dressing effectiveness of any nitrogen fertilizer depends very largely on its content of nitrate nitrogen. The nitrogen content of Chilean Soda is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen and this, together with its rich sodium content and minor elements, accounts for its remarkable efficiency in the field.

Sodium adds a great deal of extra value to the product. It destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and calcium when necessary, increases the supply of available phosphate, and helps the plant gain the utmost benefit from the nitrogen. In addition, Chilean Soda contains small amounts of needed minor elements to protect against hidden plant-food deficiencies.

If you have any question about your nitrogen side-dressing program this year, we urge you to use Chilean Nitrate, if only in a small way to begin with, so that you can see the difference for yourself. We are confident you'll find it the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used for side-dressing your crops.

Here in Clanton and all over Southern Bell's nine state territory, we have a constant, far-reaching safety training program that pays off. The telephone installers, the operators, and the service representatives in the Business Office are all trained to work safely and to protect your safety. I might mention that for five years Southern Bell has won the highest award of the National Safety Council for safety in industry. It's a record we're right proud of and we're going to keep at it.

BRINGING PEOPLE closer together is our job. So we like to feel we had a hand in bringing people of two continents closer together. I'm speaking of the new trans-Atlantic telephone cable, first of its kind, which was laid under the stormy Atlantic last year to link America and Europe. You know, Bell System scientists and engineers have been working 25 years to perfect this rugged new underseas cable. Now we figure it'll work 20 years without replacement. It carries three times the calls we used to handle over radio-telephone. Got a Dutch Uncle you want to call? Give him a ring. Only costs $12 to most European countries.

FACTS ABOUT YOUR AMERICAN RED CROSS

Red Cross was founded to meet human needs resulting from War and Disaster. The Red Cross, thru its adult and junior membership has developed a extensive service program that is largely carried out by volunteers. Its records have been written by the people—to whom Red Cross belongs. Red Cross is an International organization. It is people who join hands across the Nations in service as well as extends services right here at home.

Red Cross was conceived by Henri Dunant, a Swiss philanthropist who witnessed the Carnage at Solferino in 1859. Dunant's cause was taken up in the United States by Clara Barton. The American Association of Red Cross was incorporated in 1881. For many years this organization functioned primarily as a disaster relief agency. Then in 1905 a new Congressional Charter established definite duties and functions, and later expanded to include a wide range of human services.

Now, of course the primary obligation of Red Cross is to the men in the Armed Services and their families.

Your Red Cross gives voluntary help to the sick in time of war of our Armed Forces. Also, this organization serves as a medium of communication between members of the Armed Forces and their families—no matter where they are located. Red Cross also carries on relief to ease suffering from disaster—such as fires, floods and other calamities.

In more recent years the blood program has been added to Red Cross services. This program is a public service dedicated to serving you and your neighbors.

We are now in the midst of the 1957 Fund Campaign in Chilton County. Our goal this year is $5,026.00. Won't you please help us make this much needed goal. We again are urging all workers in the County to cover their territory and bring in their funds as soon as possible.

R. O. Williams Named Judge In Big Conservation Award

J. M. Cain, of Tuscaloosa, president of the Alabama Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors, has named judges to determine Alabama's winners of the 1956-1957 annual national soil conservation awards program, sponsored by Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. in Akron, Ohio.

Judges selected are R. O. Williams, chairman, of Clanton; Julian Brown, executive secretary, state soil conservation committee, of Montgomery; T. L. Faulkner, director of Vocational Agriculture, Montgomery, and P. O. Davis, director, extension service, of Auburn.

Outstanding district of the state for the year ending April 30 selected by the judges will receive a bronze plaque for permanent posession and the right to name one member of its board of supervisors and the outstanding farmer-cooperator. The two men they select will be guests of the program's sponsor on an all-expense vacation trip to the Wigwam guest ranch and Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Arizona, next November or December.

Scoresheets of Alabama districts entered in the program should be sent to Mr. Brown, state office building, Montgomery, postmarked not later than May 15.

Winners of the grand awards in the national competition will be announced from Akron during the month of July. The current program is the fourth on a national basis and the fifth annual program will begin May 1 and end on April 30, 1957, with similar awards offered.

Maplesville Area Phone Project At Halfway Mark

The Southern Bell Telephone Company's $36,000 rural telephone project in the northwestern section of the Maplesville exchange area is about 50% completed, It was announced this week by Mr. O. W. Norton, the firm's local manager.

When completed, the project will provide telephone service for about 60 families in the communities of Lawley and Active, and families residing on nearby farms.

ACS Urges Checkups For Chilton Residents

The Chilton County Unit of the American Cancer Society has today announced plans for a Community Wide effort to bring every adult in the County into a doctor's office or clinic for a medical checkup.

County ACS Education Chairman, Mrs. Hugh Jones, said the checkup campaign was aimed particularly at 17,000 residents. She said this figure was derived from a recent ACS survey which showed that roughly two-thirds of American adults have not yet acquired the checkup habit.

Although the number of Americans taking medical checkups has more than doubled since 1948, faster progress is necessary"; the County chairman quoted.

"The Medical profession fully supports the concept of the regular health examinations for adults no matter how well they feel," the ACS leader cautioned.

"The checkup offers three vital savings" she said.

The first saving the checkup offers is life itself. The earlier the disease is detected and treated properly the greater the chance of cure. Thanks to growing public awareness the meaning of early diagnosis, the number of Americans being saved each year from Cancer is now 30,000 more than was saved a decade ago".

The second saving is in money.

A disease like Cancer can be tragically expensive. Diseases, including Cancer, which can be nipped in the bud, through a checkup often costs considerably less to treat if detected early.

And the third saving. . . is in peace of mind.

While a checkup cannot guarantee well-being, there is little that can rival the satisfaction of knowing exactly how your health stands.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

We want to congratulate the Board of Revenue & Control on their stand Monday that something must be done at once in regards to our Courthouse. Let's hope they have decided to forget petty grievances and work together for what is good for Chilton County. Under the conditions which have prevailed for the past three months only the people of Chilton County are suffering. Let us hope that the signs exhibited here are good and will lead to an honest effort to serve the people of the County instead of being burnt offerings sacrificed on the altar of spite and vindictiveness.

Suburban Gas Company will have a new manager after May 1st. Bruce Barze will go back to Montgomery where he will be in the office of the Company and Johnny Vines will be manager of the local office. Johnny is known by, and knows, just about everyone in Chilton County so no introductions will be necessary. Barze gives Johnny credit for a great part of the advancement of the Company over the past year and expects him to make a good record here for the Company, the customers and for himself. We hate to see the Barze family leave us. They have made many friends here and are a credit to our community. Since they must leave, however, we think they have made a wise selection in the new manager. We wish him well.

Clanton was honored Tuesday by having the State's First Lady stop and shop for a while. Mrs. Folsom stopped at several places in town and then was on her way. We hope she goes back to Montgomery and tells them how much nicer it is to shop in Clanton than to shop there with all the hustle and bustle of a city.

We apologize to Kate Harris for not mentioning the Journal in our editorial last week thanking them for the good publicity our County has been getting. She is responsible, more than anyone else for the fine articles that have appeared about our agricultural, chicken raising, egg producing, etc. Another thing, while we're on the subject. Kate Harris is a fine person to know and has made many friends here and is very proud of them. Meet her and you will like her.

Little Mary was on a visit to her grandparents, and the old-fashioned clock on the wall was a source of wonderment to her. While she was standing before it her grandmother said to her from the next room, "Is the clock running, dear?"

"No ma'am," promptly replied Mary. "It's just standing still and wagging its tail."

DAIRY PRINCESS CONTEST TO BE HELD IN JUNE

WILL CHILTON COUNTY PRODUCE THE WINNER?

That question remains to be seen; for to have a winner, we must pick a winner. The proper organizations had better get busy if they want our County of Chilton to be in the running.

Plans were announced today by the American Dairy Association of Alabama for the state-wide selection of a dairy princess of Alabama. Each county in the State is eligible to enter one contestant in the State Contest to be held June 27th.

The winner of the State contest will represent the State of Alabama in the 1957 American Dairy Princess Contest at Chicago in October (4-13) this year.

Each Alabama county may enter one candidate. Each county may hold elimination contests to select their county representative for the State contest. Rules qualifying the contestants are available upon request. The county contest must be completed by June 16, 1957.

Counties entering the contest must notify the American Dairy Association of Alabama, 3428 Carden Drive, Columbus, Georgia, by June 1, 1957.

For further information on this contest contact the above mentioned address or your County Agent's office.

Youth Rally At Sardis, March 30

A Baptist Youth Rally will be held at Sardis Baptist Church on Saturday, March 30. The time will be 7:30 p.m. All visitors are welcome and Baptists are expected.

Refreshments will be served immediately following the meeting.

In Concert Here Next Sunday

THE DRESSLER FAMILY, widely popular for their musical ability in the accordian and piano as well as in singing, will have charge of the Evening Worship Services at the First Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, March 31. The Dresslers will also be guests at the Fifth Sunday, Church Family Night Supper at 6:00 p.m.

Mr. John Dressler, who is now Minister of Music at the First Methodist Church in Sylacauga, Ala. came to the United States in 1954 from Vienna, Austria, accompanied by his wife and two young daughters. Mr. Dressler's father is pastor of a Methodist Church in Vienna, Austria.

Mr. Dressler graduated from the Academy of Music and Fine Arts in Vienna and then taught accordian in the same school.

He has composed some 60 musical numbers including cantatas, organ selections and anthems. One of his Easter Anthems and a Christmas Contata have been published by Fischer and Sons. He has recently published a book on organ music.

All of the members of the Church, their families and their friends, are invited to bring a covered dish to the Church at 6:00 p.m. for the Church Family Supper. Boys and girls will especially enjoy seeing and hearing Doris, 11, and Renate, 8, in their native Austrian dress.

The public is cordially invited to hear the Dressler Family at 7:30 p.m.

Exhibits Asked For Local Arts Festival

The AAUW urges everyone in Chilton County to participate in the forthcoming Festival of Arts to be held April 6-7 at the Chilton County High School gym.

Anyone who draws or paints, does sculpturing, makes ceramics, carves, weaves, makes quilts are invited to display their articles of craftsmanship.

Listed below is a more complete list: textiles (handweaving, block printing, silk screening); crochet and embroidery; metalcraft; jewelry; basket weaving, photography; writings; musical scores; floral arrangements and others.

Articles for display may be left at the gym after 3:00 p.m. Friday afternoon (April 5) or Saturday morning (April 6).

For additional information call Mrs. Joe Campbell, chairman at night (phone Clanton 796).

In addition to the local work there will be featured several visiting exhibits, one of which will be from Alabama College and arranged by Prof. Huntley of the Art Department there. Also, there will be on display again this year the AAUW Traveling Exhibition of Paintings which include a new series of reprints of the old masters.

Watch for more about the Festival of Arts. Meanwhile, get your articles ready for display. Let's show the world how versatile and talented are the people of Chilton County.

Bus Schedule Given For School Visitation

Patrons and friends of the Chilton County Schools who plan to visit on the specially arranged tours of schools on April 1 and 2 are given the following information regarding schedule:

A school bus will leave Jemison School shortly after 8:00 a.m for Clanton. A stop will be made between the traffic lights in Thorsby.

A bus will leave Maplesville School at or soon after 8:00 a.m. A stop will be downtown at the Baptist Church.

A bus will leave Isabella School soon after 8:00 a.m.

A bus will leave Verbena School at or soon after 8:00 a.m. Stops will be made at the Depot in Verbena, at the intersection in Cooper and at Thomas Jr School.

• Transportation will be provided from Enterprise and Concord at 8:00 a.m.

Persons living in feeder school communities are urged to meet the buses at these larger schools, come to Clanton or stop the buses along the routes listed.

The buses will stop for persons wishing to make the tours.

Persons living in Clanton and adjoining communities are asked to meet at Chilton County High School. All buses will meet here and routes will be arranged that will enable visitors to choose the schools they wish to visit.

The Board urges interested persons to make every effort to make this tour and see our schools in action.

NEW COURTHOUSE?

Costs Run High On Adding To, Remodeling Old Courthouse

by Vernon P. Payne

With the recall of the County Grand Jury only two weeks away, the condition of Chilton County's ailing courthouse was the main topic of discussion at Monday's session of the Board of Revenue and Control.

Mr. William F. Edmonds, representing the Harbert Construction Corporation, presented a report of that Company's findings to the Board. In the report immediate action was suggested to do away with several hazardous conditions at the courthouse.

Also given in the report were the findings of the consultant engineers, the feasibility of repairing the present structure and the comparative costs of building a new structure.

Declared extremely dangerous in the report were the electrical system, the chimney and the stairways. The wiring was termed "inadequate and dangerously ovel-loaded". The chimney in question is practically in a state of collapse having begun to spread at the top.

According to the report this condition is "due to deterioration of the mortar joints.

The stairways in the courthouse "are not capable of supporting design loads" and the railings "are in hazardous condition".

A rough estimate as to cost of these temporary repairs was given as $1,000. These, and other minor repairs, would put the courthouse in a temporary safe condition if a few other precautions were used

One of the additional precautions stressed was keeping the number of people in the courtroom to a minimum at all times.

Also contained in the report was the engineer's opinion that it will be feasible to use the repaired building temporarily while a decision is being reached on remodeling or rebuilding. The report goes on to list at least eighteen other items of repair necessary if the building is to be remodeled.

In conclusion the report compares the two possibilties as to cost. Basically, a new building would run only $2.00 more per square foot than remodeling. This cost would include retaining much of the present material in the remodeling process and using all new material in the new building.

The report estimates the cost of a new building at $535,000.00 to $642,000.00 plus the cost of wrecking the old courthouse. A complete remodeling and the addition of the proposed annex would cost $456,475.00 to $545,500.00. The remodeled structure and annex would contain 6,150 square feet less than the proposed new buliding.

Even in this exacting report, in many instances, it was necessary to assume certain structural points since there are no plans of the old building and no way to get at the unexposed parts to check for stress, strain and exact location.

Board Tackles Report Analysis

Upon re-convening after lunch the matter of the report was again brought before the Board and lengthy discussion followed in an effort to evaluate the findings and find the most practical course to follow. Each Board Member was asked by the Chairman to state his opinions and ideas on the matter. The members had received a copy of the report earlier from the Engineer.

While no resolutions were made concerning the matter, much was accomplished towards reaching a decision on how best to serve the needs of Chilton County.

The County Engineer was given authority to begin at once the correcting of the three items listed as most urgent in the report. He, in turn, will contact local laborers to begin the temporary repairs to correct the imminently dangerous spots in the structure. The County Attorney was asked to look into the matter of holding a County referendum on the courthouse matter.

It was agreed by all present that immediate and positive action by the Board is necessary in order for them to comply with the responsibility they have in caring for property of Chilton County's taxpayers.

Baptist Revival Crusade Begins Sunday, April 2

The regular date for the Simultaneous Revival Crusade is drawing near, which is April 7-21. Most of the churches in the Chilton-Untiy Association will have their Revival during this period.

However, Chestnut Creek, Poplar Springs, Macedonia, Concord and Jemison Churches will all have their Revivals next week, or April 1-7.

At Chestnut Creek, there will be The Rev. Earl Chumlers in a Youth Revival. At Poplar Springs, there will be The Rev. Tom McCaskey who will bring the messages. The Rev. J. D. Kelly will be at Macedonia.

At Concord, will be the Rev. Joel B. Lucas and at the Jemison Baptist Church will be the Rev. Jimmy J. Chapman.

Also during the week of April 1-7, Sardis Church will have its Simultaneous Revival. The pastor, the Rev. Jerry Batson will do the speaking.

Cane Creek will have their Revival the week of 1-7 with the Rev. James Jones as evangelist.

The Northside Mission has just closed their Revival. The Mt. Pleasant Church is in the midst of their Revival this week (announced last week). They are having a different speaker each night. Public is invited.

Concord To Hold Spring Revival

Revival Services will be held at the Concord Baptist Church, beginning next Sunday, March 31, and continuing through the week.

The Rev. Joel Lucas, pastor of the Mulberry Baptist Church will be the speaker.

He will be with us for the Sunday night service.

Each service will begin at 7:00 p.m. We are expecting a great meeting, and sincerely urge everyone to attend.

G. H. Carroll is the pastor.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

Nowadays a car without a mortgage lacks one of our modern inconveniences.

The less some people have to say, the more difficult it is for them not to say it.

Nothing wrong with the dreamer who ets up and hustles when the alarm clock rings.

Man may be born free and equal, but the world sees to it that many changes are made.

This would be a finer world if we could buy experience on credit, too.

Some people try to change the straight and narrow path into a four-lane highway.

Too often the man on the road to success, gets off at the wrong station.

Ah, Progress----

SEVERAL MONTHS AGO we ventured to suggest a way in which to correct or at least alleviate the traffic problem at certain corners around Clanton. Obviously it has gone unheeded by the proper officials, so we will bring it to mind again, for it has yet to correct itself.

As we remember, the corner mentioned before in particular was the one directly behind the First Baptist Church at 4th Ave. and 5th St.

Now, our suggstion was that since here was no traffic or signal light of any type there. then other steps should be taken. It is the blindest of all corners and is well-traversed. The simple solution as we see it, is to make it unlawful (under any circumstances) to park within 10 or 15 feet of the corner on all four corners. And mark it as such. This would clear the corners to the extent that a motorist could see in all directions far enough to be able to pull out into the raffic lane without almost being overrun.

This problem is one which needs attention. Whether or not it is dealt with in the manner mentioned above, is unimportant. The important thing is to do something before it's done for us, in a way that we'd all remember for a long time as unnecssary.

Mirage or Miracle?----

With four cuts in appropriations acted upon by the House of Representatives and a fifth recommended by the House Appropriations Committee, total reduction of the Administration's 71.8 billion dollar budget presently in sight is somewhat less han 800 million. (With highway spending included, it's actually a 73.5 billion budget.)

This may be a good start, but we can hope the economy wave on Capitol Hill will receive fresh impetus shortly when Virginia's Senator Harry Byrd presents a budget of his own, 6.5 billions under the one that came from the White House!

With tax receipts estimated at 73.6 billions, a budget of only 67 billion leaves some margin for debt reduction and tax relief — even for miscalculation of the take. And if Senator Byrd, who is the soundest money-man in Congress, has his way, tax-cutting will start with small business. Which, if anybody should ask us, is where it will do the most good!

Only 38 Years----

NATIONWIDE CELEBRATION of the 38th birthday of The American Legion has doubtless reminded our readers that the largest veterans' organization in the world has become, in 38 years, a significant factor in the lives of all Americans. Looking back, we are impressed with the fact that what was started by a handful of doughboys (as they were called then) in muddy France in the first springtime of peace after World War I to memorialize and project the aims for which they had fought has grown to serve God and Country on so many fronts.

In as many separate birthday parties in thousands of communities over the nation our most illustrious citizens—civic, professional, business, military and spiritual leaders—paid heart-warming tribute to the steadfastness with which Legionnaires have kept faith thru the years and sustained he 1919 pledge of Paris: "For God and Country'. And in addition to the great and the near-great atending the parties held variously over the March 15th week-end, congratulatory wires and letters poured in by the hundreds from notables in every walk of life—from Legionnaire Dwight Eisenhower, from General Alfred Gruenther, the new chief of the American Red Cross, and from Basil O'Connor, head of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

From the two latter gentlemen came not merely congratulaions, but thanks for the millions of dollars the nation's Legionnaires have raised for both the Red Cross and the March of Dimes. And it might be mentioned that these contributions were in addition to the 135 millions the Legion has spent in its own children's aid program in the past 31 years—and the millions more required to sponsor 20,000 junior baseball teams, 4,128 Scout troops, a national high school oratorical contest, Boys' State and Boys' Nation!

This organizaion that originally met the challenge of protecting veterans' interests, that fought for a Federal Veterans' Administration and the GI Bill of Rights, is today a community leader, in almost every community. Its long-established and continuing campaigns for national security and Americanism provide inspired and tireless leadership in the fight against Communism from without and subversion from within.

Long live The American Legion! It has made America a better nation, a stronger nation, a safer nation. And it has made itself a recognized and respected force for good in America.

SUDDENLY...

it's Spring

THINGS WE SEE and HEAR

By "TUCK"

Things We See, Believe; Things We Hear, Consider

Our little 'dotter' is apparently wise in the ways of the pickpocket. A fact that we're a little skeptical about. Seems to us to be a little unusual she's only one year old. We've caught on to her now, yet she can still pick our pockets without our knowledge of it. We know some folks let their kids do things like that just for kicks, but we don't. We kinda figure if she'll do it to us, she'll do it to someone else and that might prove embarrasing (or even unhealthy). She does it on her own.

Anyhow, the other morning she woke up with indelible pencil from one end to the other and all over her face. (We've heard of blue Monday, but this was rediculous). Looked like a regular bluebeard. We had heard something fall in her room after she had 'retired' for the night, but we didn't think anything of it. Next morning we found the pencil on the floor; Terri had picked her old man's pocket when he kissed her goodnight and she must have had a rousing good time after that from the looks of her and the bedclothes. Yep, she'd pulled one on daddy. The joke's on her, though; she hasn't got the mess off yet.

Seems like every time we see "Doc" Wilkerson he's almost getting bumped by a bumper. He seems to have the uncanny ability to be in the right place at the wrong time when it comes to crossing streets and alleys. Why the other day, we saw him almost get bumped (to put it mildly) by an auto and before he clammered to the other corner, a lady tried to run him down in her pick up. Now listen you people, "Doc's" a nice fella, and we ask you, is that any way to treat a pedestrian? (Trans.: Jaywalker) You'll give the poor man a phobia. . . a broken one at that.

Edwin Culp, who is a good friend of ours, is having trouble with his tongue. If Ed was a woman, we'd say it served him right, 'cause he probably talked himself into it. Such is not the case with Ed, however. He has a malady of some undetermined nature which is very uncomfortable to live with. He is in the Osner Hospital in New Orleans this week getting treatments which we hope will satisfactorily clear up his trouble without any ill effects. Ed, you know, is employed by TVA and lives in Cleveland, Tennessee with his wife and two boys. Ed's parents reside about four miles west of Clanton on Rt. 3.

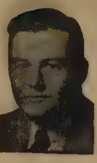
Enjoyed a visit from our good acquaintance Bro. B. B. Burks from Thorsby last week. Haven't seen him for some time and we got an opportunity to talk with him again. As we see it, the people of the First Baptist Church of Thorsby are among the luckiest in the world for having a man of Bro. Burks caliber guide them. He's among the most sincere men we know; easy to talk with and above all, easy to get along with. That last one there, is a quality which seems to be dropping in percentage every day and it is one of the most necessary of human needs. If you can't get along with the other fellow and you don't try to have the ability to forgive and forget, then just what is your purpose, my friend? Anyhow, Bro. Burks has a standing invitation to visit us at anytime he chooses. We are always glad to see him coming.

A 19-pound turkey indeed! Well, that's what the boys down at the post office claim that M. D. Foshee returned from a hunting trip with. A 19-pound turkey. Didn't say whether it cackled or gobbled or roared like a lion. Wouldn't even say where he bagged it. Hope they don't have any turkey farms across the river, there. One of their turkeys might of strayed. What did you do M. D. tackle it, shoot it, or did you have to lasso the crittur.

A shoe salesman was in to see us the other day. . . well, actually he came to see our tootsie. He showed us a picture (actual size) of a size 17 shoe. Bet you thought a lot of you was turned under, huh? Actually, we did too, until we saw this "heavy cruiser". Man, he must sell brogans to the Martians. We never in our life saw a footprint like that around here. And that ain't all, brother. . .

Yeh, maybe that's why there were three to a pair, we were wonderin'.

Report from Washington



BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Last Friday I met in Montgomery with two of my Alabama colleagues, Rep. George Grant and Rep. Kenneth Roberts, and we made an on-the-spot inspection of an area heavily infested by the imported fire ant. Earlier last week I had appeared before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture to urge approval of legislation that will give to the Department of Agriculture the authority the Department has stated is necessary before it can go forward with plans for the eradication or control of this dangerous pest.

Subcommittee Action—

In my testimony before the subcommittee, I discussed the history and the dangers of the imported fire ant and presented the members with up-to-date statistics showing the damage already caused by the insect in the State of Alabama, particularly in the Sixth Congressional District.

I also made available to the subcommittee members a number of excellent photographs that I had been able to secure from our State Commissioner of Agriculture. Several of the subcommittee members expressed to me real surprise that ants of this type even existed.

The Agriculture subcommittee has now approved the legislation in question, and the full committee will probably consider it this week. It should be pointed out, however, that the passage of this measure alone will not eliminate or control the imported fire ant. It will simply give the Department of Agriculture the needed authority to go into the problem, and additional legislation or appropriations undoubtedly will be necessary.

Progress Made—

Members of Congress from Alabama realize the urgent need for federal assistance to control the imported fire ant. Yet, we know that we must have the sympathetic consideration of Congressmen from other sections of the country before we can secure the legislation and funds that will be necessary.

Until Monday of last week most members of Congress were not even aware of the fire ants' existence. But, as a result of the hearings at which several of us testified, national publicity has been given our problem, and we are now more hopeful that some type of federal assistance can be secured.

Spain in NATO—

A resolution similar to one I introduced last year and again in January with reference to Spain's proposed membership in NATO received House approval last week. This resolution expresses the sense of Congress that the Department of State should "continue to use its good offices toward the end of achieving participation by Spain in the North Atlantic Treaty and as a member of NATO". Final approval of the resolution must be given by the Senate.

Its strategic importance to Western Europe's defenses against international communism has emphasized the desirability of Spain's addition to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Our country has already recognized the geographical importance of Spain and has constructed there a number of vital United States air bases.

One Citizens Opinion

By H. Calby Smith

Spring is here and the country is beautiful with the handwork of God. The dogwood trees are blooming and the honey-suckle is green. The hills and the lowlands are a panoramic vision of color. Christian people who want to be close to God can walk in the forests and fields and study the wonders of His world. Everywhere you turn you are confronted with the inexplicable miracles of nature.

Men and women who have devoted a lifetime to the study of nature in one form or another have learned many things about the world around us. In a life on the sea and the land we have encountered many awe-inspiring wonders that are a solid basis for a simple Faith. Man, with all his knowledge, has never been able to explain the miracles of the world around us. He has learned enough to destroy himself and the world, but still "only God can make a tree."

Many citizens think of our armed forces as a life of ease. During these past weeks of rough weather we have been thinking of these men and women who serve us on the land, the sea, under the sea and in the air. Flying our planes, all over the world, in all kinds of weather. Manning and cruising our ships and submarines through the storms and gales of the oceans of the world, they serve with whatever the public gives in equipment. They serve in the outposts and bases in countries where there is no comparison between their duty station and their home in the U. S. Every officer and man has a job to do every day and on many occasions, day and night. The competition for advancement is keen and some burn the midnight oil to stay in the running for limited promotion. Our officers and men today are extremely conscious of the current costs for the maintenance of the Armed Forces. Economy of operation is a matter of constant vigilance. No segment or unit of our Government is doing a better job either from the standpoint of efficiency or economy. No unit of the Armed Forces has more dedicated, loyal and efficient, men and women than my first love, the U. S. Navy.

The people of these United States of America learned a bitter lesson during the era of Prohibition. It was definitely proven that you cannot prohibit a man from drinking by law. Gangsterism flourished and hoodlums established the most powerful systems of organized vice the modern world has ever known. Public officials were bribed and bootleg liquor, prostitution, and gambling supported a considerable segment of our population. Men and women drank for pleasure, a kind of slow death. Eventually this wave of debauchery became so horrible that the people could not stand it any longer.

Today, in Chilton County, and the otehr dry counties of the State and the Nation, the same situation exists on a smaller scale. "Rot Gut" liquor produced by "moonshiners" is doing a heavy traffic, and the amount of liquor consumed is probebly heavier than it would be under Government control.

Our Government is denied the revenue it would receive from liquor made by men who know what they are doing and inspected by trained specialists. Those of us who have lived in countries whre controlled sale of liquor exists know that there is less evil attributable to indulgence than in areas where it is prohibited.

Leadership, education, and example, may, in some distant future, eliminate he drinking of alcoholic beverages. There are not enough law enforcemen officers in the world to prohibit drinking. Two groups of people brought about this situation. They are, of course, the people who profit from the sale of slow death in the form of "moonshine", and the well-meaning members of religious organizations.

No one questions the spirit and intent of the latter group. However, in a democracy, Christians, and those citizens who live the best life we can, must face reality. If it can be assumed that prohibiting the legal sale of safe whiskey has not prohibited anyone from drinking that wanted to do so, and that the evils connected with violation of this law are greater than controlled sale of liquor, we must accept fully this responsibility which is ours.

If you want to know how you stand in your community, get a stranger moving in to check on you. In the natural questions about people with whom we had to transact business, we find that our reputation is based upon very flimsy, half-truths, hearsay evidence, and common gossip. Very few people will take the trouble of checking both the pro and con of the tales of good and bad about their neighbors.

However, with us the people of this community compare very favorably, and considering the many communities we have lived in, makes this comparison an even higher compliment.

Auburn and Lee Counties are other fine communities of polite and courteous folks in this great State of ours.

The Rev. Roy Hornsby, pastor

Even though the roads were muddy and the weather was bad, we had a good service Sunday morning. We are sure each one present enjoyed the wonderful message brought by our pastor, also the wonderful Sunday School lesson

We missed a number of our people at church Sunday. We hope and pray the weather will be better, the sick ones well and everyone who is not going to church some other place will come worship with us next Sunday and Sunday night.

Our Revival begins next Sunday, March 31. The Rev. Tom McCasky will be bringing the messages for us, so we especially invite everyone who is not in a Revival at their own church to visit us in ours.

We will be meeting in homes this week to have cottage prayer services, except Wednesday night, it will be at the Church Please pray that lost people will be won to Christ and Christians revived.

The attendance for Training Union was quite a bit off due to the bad weather and sickness. We pray that we may soon be able to have a large number attending both Training Union and Sunday School.

We hope and pray that the many sick people in our community, as well as others may soon regain their health and strength and be able to come back to church.

Mr. Lindy Hill of New Site, Ala. visited Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hill and family Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cox and son, Billy of Centreville, visited Mrs. John Cox and Lee Sunday.

MRS. J. H. WELLS

Next Sunday is our offering for the building fund. We are proud of our offering thus far, and hope that we can continue to add to the fund for further expansion in the future.

Our attendance for the study course during Alcohol Education Week was well-attended. We had 63 enrolled with 59 as an average attendance

Our Revival will be here before we realize it. Everyone is urged to be much in prayer for our Revival and be making plans for cottage Prayer Meetings over the community. It is our desire to have as many Prayer Meetings over the community each night of the week before the Revival as possible. We feel that this will strengthen our Revival.

The pastor will be in a Revival at Cc-cord Baptist Church with Ere. G. H. Carroll.

We were happy to see Mr. and Mrs. Bu-: Cobern in our service Sunday morning at Mulberry. We always welcome visitors to our Church.

Keep on reading the books from our Church Library. Reading good books is time well spent.

Isabella Community is proud of the Veazey Trio. Those who saw them on Channel 6 Saturday afternoon state that they enjoyed them singing and the Trio did real well.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Conway spent the day in Auburn on Saturday of last week. Mr. Conway carried a group of Isabella boys to the college in the interest of the Tractor Contest.

The Rev. and Mrs. Evan Johnson and two children of Mexia, Ala. were Thursday dinner guests of Mrs. W. T. Tucker and Friday dinner guests of Mrs. Lewis McGee. They were enroute to and from Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Conway and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Conway in Montgomery Sunday. They attended morning services at Ridge Crest Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. Frances Bryant and children in Birmingham Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinton White and girls of near Wetumpka were Sunday afternoon guests of their mothers here.

We are glad to report that Mr. E. C. Grooms is improving at the Veterans Hospital in Montgomery. He enjoyed the visit by Gordon, Claud and Jerome Conway on last Sunday afternoon. He appreciates all the cards and flowers he is receiving.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells visited Mr. and Mrs. Erby Dobbs and Mr. and Mrs. Joe James Wells in Montgomery the past week-end. Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Dobbs attended the Holiday On Ice show on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Wells visited Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Manning at Marbury on their return trip home.

Friendship HD Club Will Take Part In April Dress Revue

Mrs. Harvey Cox was hostess to the Friendship Home Demonstration Club, Friday afternoon, March 22nd. The president, Mrs. Ben Sims presided.

The devotional was by Mrs. J. D. Collins, Jr. with prayer by Mrs. Mamie Bates. The Musical program was given by Mrs. James Gillespie. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was given by the group.

The demonstration was on "Foods From Your Freezer" and was given by Mrs. Harvey Cox and Mrs. Ben Sims. Roll call was answered with members naming a favorite frozen food.

The secretary, Mrs. Harry Sims, read the minutes and the treasurer's report and also the secretary's report.

The Club hopes to have several entries in the Dress Revue in April.

The meeting closed with the group saying together the Club Collect.

Following a recreation period, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to ten members.

JEMISON FFA URGES TRACTOR SAFETY ON FARM

He had been driving a tractor since he was 10 years old. He was 13 now and an "experienced operator". There was much work to be done. He speeded up the tractor. He came to the end of the field.

He turned too short and fast. The 3000 lbs. of tractor tipped over and killed him instantly.

This is not a story of one boy. It is a part of the story of 1000 tractor deaths each year. Upsets cause two-thirds of these deaths. Excessive speed is the major cause of sideward tips. Forcing tractors from ditches when the rear wheels become anchored account for most backward tipping. Improper hitches and pulling heavy loads up steep grades are other causes.

The next four months are the months when most tractor deaths occur so everyone be careful and try to reduce this death rate.

This is the second in a series of safety articles released by the FFA.

NEW WAYS TO FIGHT ASTHMA AND BRONCHITIS

Of the diseases which have plagued man down through the ages, none have been more stubborn or caused greater anguish than Asthma. Old time medical practitioners dreaded to see Bronchial Asthma patients come into their offices because there was so little help or relief they could offer them. Treatments such as inhaling smoke from burnt chicken feathers and the wearing of amulets were common and as ineffectual as they were varied.

But in the past 20 years, science has moved the frontiers of knowledge a long way and over a broad front. Bronchial Asthma sufferers have a good share of modern drugs and techniques to alleviate their suffering. The physician has at his disposal, for emergency cases, intramuscular injections of adrenalin, the inhalation of epenephrine, or the administration of cortisone.

Drugs such as Mendaco, which is a new, safe and harmless formula and now available at most drug stores, without prescription, fight off the agony of Asthma attacks in many ways. The new, modern Mendaco treatment, which is in tablet form, has three prime functions. Each tablet contains: 1) Aminophylline—for bronchodilatation and bronchial relaxant effect. 2) Pyrilamine Maleate for its antihistaminic action. 3) Potassium Iodide for liquefaction of thick, sticky mucus.

CEDAR GROVE

(Received too late for last week)

This community was saddened last Thursday in the passing of one of our most faithful members, Mr. Rube Riggins. He leaves to mourn his passing, his wife, four children, a number of grandchildren in addition to a host of other relatives and many many friends. We send deepest sympathy to the family and other loved ones. May God comfort you in your hour of grief is our prayer.

Several from this community attended the singing at Providence Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Green Melton returned home Friday, March 15th from Fairhope, Mobile and La Belle Florida where they had been visiting for two weeks.

Mrs. Grady Melton and little Ramona and Grandmother Hilyer visited relatives at Pensacola and Atmore for a few days last week.

Latest word from some of our service boys is that John Eiland has been transferred to Biloxi, Miss. Larry Thornton was to be discharged from the base hospital at Lackland AFB Texas last Sunday.

Billy Bean is still stationed at Lackland where he is in basic training.

Mr. an Mrs. Connie Smith of Jemison had as their Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Neeley.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dale and family visited Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hamby in Opelika during the week end. Their Monday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Foshee of Calera.

The Sunday guests of Miss Avoline Eiland was Miss Dorothy Comer.

Miss Martha Harris spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smitherman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Scott were in Selma, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl West were in Birmingham Saturday. Visiting them Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Klie and children and Mrs. George Klie of Birmingham. Their Sunday dinner guests were the Rev. and Mrs. James Jones, Mr. and Mrs. West's visitors on Monday were Mrs. Jimmy Ward, Mr. D. E. Moore, Mr. Danny Moore and Miss Betty Kincaid of Macedonia.

Mrs. Cubby Jones of Birmingham visited Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jones Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Melton and family attended a fish fry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Melton Saturday night.

Mrs. Bluthie Crowe is hospitalized at St. Margaret's Hospital in Montgomery. We wish for her a very speedy recovery.

Mrs. R. B. Cole and family were in Talladega during the week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hindman and Mrs. Clyde Morgan.

We are glad that Mrs. Clarence Jones is doing nicely after a few days illness.

To Hold Charter Night—

LI'O'NING IT UP WITH LIONS INTERNATIONAL

This is for Lions and their wives—no kiddies this time.

"Wreck" Scott advises that International Councillor Aubrey Green will definitely be with us for our Charter night and District Gov. Carl Hall is going to try to work this into his busy schedule.

Also the presidents of the Maplesville and the T-J Clubs will be with us as well as many of the original members of the Club who are no longer active members (maybe some should be back with us!).

We're gonna sell light bulbs, folks. Look for details in this column at a later date.

The Lions will sponsor a musical Comedy in late April. Watch for it in your paper.

Remember! The time and place of the above mentioned important get-together is the Dixie Cafe, at 7:00 on Friday night, March 29.

Or to make it a little clearer for some of you "Lions", tomorrow night!

How Good Is Perfect?—

Oaks Shows Schoolers How To Become Scholars

ALMOST 12 YEARS OF SCHOOL; NO ABSENCE

Clarence B. Oaks, Jr., a senior at Jacksonville State College, has set an unusual record in attendance. He missed his first college class when he went to Fort McClellan recently for his physical examination for military service—almost four years without an absence!

When he receives his degree on May 27 he will also receive a commission in the regular army as second lieutenant. He is a cadet major in the ROTC; a member of Scabbard and Blade, Kappa Phi Kappa and the Science Club. He has majored in chemistry.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Oaks of Clanton and a graduate of Chilton County High School. He had a perfect attendance record for five years in elementary school and three years of high school.

Red Cross Disaster Aid In Chilton County

Twenty-Five years ago in March of 1932, a terrible Tornadi hit Chilton County in the communities surrounding Jemison.

At that time, the following assistance was given by the Red Cross:

For Rescue, transportation and shelter	$ 674.00
Food, clothing and maintenance	$ 1881.00
Building and repairs	$20097.00
Household furnishings	$ 5277.00
Medical and nursing	$ 6656.00
Livestock and farm equipment	$ 1137.00
Occupational supplies and equipment	$ 241.00
Family service	$ 3091.00
Administrative and accounting service	$ 219.00
TOTAL Expenditures	$39,273.00

There have been other smaller storms in and around this same vicinity since 1932. In March 1952 the local chapter made a survey of the number of families effected by a small tornado on Rt. 2 Jemison and nine families were assisted in some way.

The total expenditure on this storm by Red Cross was $1 484.27.

In April 1953 a Tornado occurred at Mt. Creek, which cost the Red Cross $105.57.

In December 1936 a Tornado caused emergency assistance to be required and the financial expenditure was $782.00

April of 1956 a small wind storm struck Oak Hill and Oak Grove Communities and after a careful survey in these communities it was found Red Cross would spend a total of $453.00.

In a Disaster where four or more homes and families are effected your Red Cross is always on the job to take care of those families who are not able and do not have sufficient insurance to cover their losses.

Each year after the Fund Campaign your local Red Cross Chapter sends a percent of the total funds received to the Area Office where this amount is held in an emergency fund along with amounts received from other chapters in the Southeastern Area, until such time when and if we have a storm in our County. We are given funds then to take care of the families in our County needing emergency assistance due to such a disaster—no matter how much money is found to be required. Of course, a survey is made after each disaster to determine how many families and how much funds will be required; that is, by The Red Cross.

We are urging everyone to give and give generously in your own community to enable your Red Cross to take care of all services, which include disaster, home service in your local chapter, blood program, etc.

Crossbreeding tests at Iowa State College showed that the Landrace hog crosses exceptionally well with American breeds, but should not be used more than every third or fourth year in a market hog crossbreeding program.

LOOK FOR ALA. TOURIST ADV. IN "HOLIDAY" ISSUE

LAKES, GULF COAST AND VULCAN FEATURED

Fresh and salt water sports are featured in the latest of Alabama's tourist promotion advertisements being placed in national magazines, by the State Publciity Bureau.

This new advertisement is appearing in the April issue of Holiday Magazine. It's text draws attention to the Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo, scheduled July 26-28 at Dauphin Island, near Mobile and the annual Guntersville Motor Boat Races to be held in Mid-summer.

"Hush Puppies" and other southern coking is also mentioned.

Pictures show a girl surf casting on the Gulf Coast, boating and water skiing on Alabama's lakes, and Vulcan, America's second lergest statue, on top of Red Mountain overoloking Birmingham.

State Publicity Director Goeffrey Birt said that "more than $20,000 worth of these tourist promotion advertisements will be appearing in the big national magazines within the next 10 weeks," and that the number of inquiries from perspective vacationers throughout the nation now being received by the State Publicity Bureau "is up some [illegible] per cent over last year."

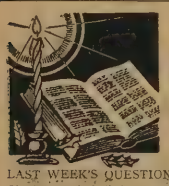
FOUR FROM CLANTON GET CAPS IN NURSING

Four young women from the Clanton community receive the cap from the Sylacauga Hospital School of Nursing in Sylacauga March 29 at special exercises to be held in the Presbyterian Church. The capping of the student nurses indicates that they have successfully completed the first six months of the educational program of that school of nursing.

Those from Clanton are: Dorothy Lawrence, Betty Jean Milford, Frances Mizell and Virginia Wagoner.

A reception following the program will be held at the School of Nursing. Those interested in this program are invited to attend.



Bible Quiz

LAST WEEK'S QUESTION—

Give one Scripture reference from St. Luke, which indicates that Jesus wanted to know whom the people thought Him to be, or that He was interested in public opinion.

ANSWER: Luke 9:18. "And it came to pass, as He was alone praying, His desciples were with Him; and He asked them, saying, "Whom say the people that I am?

LAST WEEK'S WINNER: Mrs. W. T. White, Maplesville, Alabama.

Other contestants were: Mrs. Clyde Carter, Stanton; Mrs. Nellie Easterling, Clanton; Mrs. C. C. Gay, Stanton; Mrs. J. M. Bryant, Maplesville and J. E. Watters, Stanton.

NEW QUESTION: What happened to Let's wife?

RULES—

1. Anyone may enter except employees of the Chilton County News and their families.
2. Answers must be clearly written and must be complete. Postal cards are preferred, however, letters will be accepted. All entries must be postmarked not later than 10 a.m. each Tuesday. This method will be used so that our rural subscribers will have an equal chance to win.
3. No answers will be accepted by telephone.
4. All correct answers will be dropped into a large box provided for this purpose and will be kept in the News office.
5. One entry will be drawn from this box at noon on Tuesday of each week. The person whose name appears on this entry will win one dollar ($1.00) in cash. Judges decisions will be final.
6. Names of all persons sending in the correct answer will be published. Only one prize will be awarded, however.

Following the meeting, the hostess served dainty refreshments to Mrs. B. F. Williams, Mrs. Reuben Wyatt, Mrs. J. Hance Alred, Mrs. Lessie Lowery and Miss E. Barton.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

HINT OF THE WEEK—Flowers for bouquets when cut in the afternoon last longer. At this time of day the stem has more of the nutrients needed for long life than at any other itme.

Since children outgrow shoes faster than they wear them out, the wise mother buys a medium priced shoe at frequent intervals, changing sizes with the child's rapidly growing feet.

The basic tools needed in the kitchen for everyday food preparation include kitchen knives, forks, mixing spoons, measuring spoons, measuring cups, spatula, egg beater, juice extractor, strainer, grater, sifter and mixing bowls.

A god way to get rid of onion odor on hands is to rub them good with an unpeepel raw potato under cold, running water.

To remove hard water stains from glassware, fill it with sour milk and let stand 24 hours; then wash in the usual way.

"Elvis" Martin Wins--

Civitan Talent Show Howling Success; More Shows Likely

By Mrs. Bob Tucker

The Civitan Talent Show, which was held on Saturday night, March 23 at the New Wadesonian Theatre in Clanton, was very well received (to put it mildly) by the citizens of Chilton and surrounding counties.

The folks turned out in surprising number to view this spectacle despite rain and bad weather. The show went on.

And on it did go, too, with the emcee for the evening, Billy Childress getting the show under way. Childress is formerly of Thorsby and now with Reynolds Tobacco Co. in Selma. Many comments have been made on the commendable job he did as Emcee of this local "Extravaganza".

Assisting the Emcee was Charlie Price of Clanton who is employed by Alabama Power Co.

Those who displayed their talents in the Show were Jimmy Martin, singing; Pat Lewis, acting; Vicky Matthews, singing; Judy Childress, singing; Ann Guy, pianist; Judy Mae Davis, singing.
